COLORS
radiant as the Rainbow

Spring beckons! And Buick owners will greet the season in cars which take first place in rich, alluring beauty. Glowing colors—colors that rival the exquisite hues of the rainbow—colors as distinctive as the fleet, low lines of Buick bodies by Fisher.

Not only in beauty, but in performance, too, Buick leads the way. Its famous Valve-in-Head six-cylinder engine provides the thrilling abilities so highly desired on tempting Spring days.

Visit the Buick showroom and see the most colorful cars Buick has ever produced. Their beauty will captivate you—and a demonstration will make Buick your choice.

A Community Easter

Easter is rightly identified with the churches. It is to be celebrated next Sunday. Easter awakens a dormant chord in many a life.

But those who will get the most out of Easter, in fact those who really experience it, will be those who have prepared for it. Lent prepares for Easter, and those who have kept Lent in the spirit will be richly renewed as the memorable day dawns. The "old" man must be cast off if the "new" man would evolve.

It is so with a community. We all long for a new day of awakening. We sometimes appoint a day and in a feverish burst of enthusiasm we make ourselves believe it has arrived. But it is very perfunctory and soon passes. No real awakening of community life will come unless we prepare for it.

If constantly we let private interest sidetrack public good, if we refuse to give our time to community endeavors, and sacrifice nothing for the common weal, if we put inclination above duty, a community awakening will be as superficial and transitory as a Lenten-less Easter.

But if we sacrifice for it, it will materalize. It will follow as certainly as dawn follows night. Nothing can stay its coming.

Grange Notes

The first and second degrees were worked on a class of about 20 candidates, Tuesday evening. The regular officers worked the first degree while the men's degree team worked the second degree.

The refreshments were furnished by the men, by reason of losing in the Ladies'-Gentlemen's night contest. C. H. Sanford, in a few "unusual" remarks, in which he made application of that word to features in the contest, proclaimed "unusual" refreshments of peanuts, which were produced in profusion.

A card party will be held next Tuesday evening. Paul Aldrich reported on the last party.

Inspection will take place at the next meeting, April 17.

Sunrise Meeting

An Easter sunrise meeting will be held in the chapel on Sunday morning at 7. This is a union service under the auspices of the young people of the Methodist and Congregational churches and inaugurates the Crusade with Christ campaign, a world-wide movement, interdenominational in aspect.

Revs. Cato Dick and F. C. Rolls will be in charge. The meeting will be informal and will last about one-half hour. Old and young are alike invited.

Program at St. Francis Church

The remainder of Holy Week and Easter Sunday will be observed at St. Francis church as follows:

Friday
8.30 a. m.
Mass of Pre-Sanctified
Adoration of the Cross
7.30 p. m.

WINTER'S OVER

CHANGE YOUR OIL TODAY

"IS your crankcase ready for spring?" That is the question every Socony man is asking the motorists at his station.

It is a vital question, for winter driving means diluted, dirty oil. Diluted, because the use of the choke in cold weather lets excess gasoline seep down into the crankcase. Dirty, because dust from the air gets into the oil through the air intake.

Let the Socony man drain the crankcase now. Let him flush it out with Socony Flushing Oil, and refill with Socony Motor Oil. It takes only a few minutes and costs only two or three dollars, depending on the amount of oil you need. No charge for the service; you pay only for the oils.

Important. Your car represents an investment of hundreds of dollars. Poor gasoline or motor oil can ruin that investment. Standardize on Socony, backed by fifty-four years of refining experience.

Socony Motor Oil and Gasoline must pass 13 rigid tests before they reach your car.

How to Catch 'Em

(on a hot day)

He was only a little shaver—a single digit would tell his years. Big, brown eyes looked up at you from beneath the visor of his somewhat shapeless cap. The topic of conversation was fishing and Dad suggested to his young offspring that he tell how he went fishing. The youngster smiled and revealed a missing front tooth. "O yes, tell 'em about it," urged Dad.

A shake of the head was the only reply, but finally in answer to the insistent question, "How did you catch your fish?" the young fisherman said, "With my shirt." Amid the general laughter Dad explained that the boys took off their blouses and two held the garment while a third steered the unlucky sucker into the improvised net. "And I catch shiners with my cap," volunteered the small boy.

First at the get-away First on the straight-away

No car in the Victory price class can match the all around brilliance of Victory performance.

The Victory is first at the get-away and first on the straight-away—faster on the hills, faster in traffic—smoother on rough roads.

And accelerates as no other car at the price has EVER done: 5 to 25 miles in 7¼ seconds! 10 to 45 miles in 13½ seconds!

The public discovered all this even as the stop watch proved it.

More power per pound of car weight made it possible. Rugged Dodge construction made it practical. And the Victory's unusual design made it SAFE.

For the Victory gravity center is lower and there is no body overhang .... The chassis frame is the full width of the body—and the body sills are eliminated.

Exceptional charm of line and more headroom and seat width are further vital results of this unique construction.

Drive the car today and make your own comparisons!

Park Association Meeting

President F. D. Walker and Secretary H. A. Hopkins of the Park Association were not in their accustomed places at the annual meeting, Wednesday evening. Death during the past year had removed them from the scene, but gathered in the room in which these men kept the wheels turning, were four times the usual number who heeded the silent call to come in and "carry on."

The meeting was called to order by vice-president Guy C. Allen, who read the by-laws, the organization's charter and sections of other doucuments.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Guy C. Allen; vice president, M. C. Baggs; secretary and treasurer, L. H. Blackmer; executive committee, E. C. Howard, Dr. J. L. Collard, L. G. Warren, H. F. Peck, J. J. Kempkes.

Due to the Eastern Star dance at 8, the meeting was adjourned till Monday evening at 7.30 in Memorial hall, when future plans will be considered.

Y. P. B. Supper

On Wednesday, April 18, at 6.30 p. m., in the M. E. vestry, the local Y. P. B. will serve a public supper. The menu will include the following —baked beans, salads, rolls, pickles, cake and coffee. The branch will have on sale during and after the supper home made candy and pop corn.

C. R. Green, recently returned from a trip to Florida with "Ad" Moore, will tell something of the trip during the entertainment hour. Mr. Green does not pose as a public speaker and at first refused to be advertised, but later consented, evidently realizing that he might help the young folks the more by so doing.

Mr. Green acted as scribe of the house car that eventually went up in flames.

The proceeds will go towards sending delegates to the State Encampment, June 15-20.

Supper and Reception

The Home Department of the Congregational Sunday School hope for a large attendance at the supper to be given in the chapel tonight at 6.30. The menu has already been announced. Price is 35 cents.

The newly-called pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Rolls, hope to be present for the event. It is planned to give them an informal reception following the entertainment.

Easter Observances

Belchertown did not miss Easter. The townspeople took advantage of the inviting spring weather and came out in large numbers to hear the Easter music and the messages of hope.

About 35 attended the union young peoples' service in the chapel at 7 a. m. Rev. Cato Dick opened the meeting. Scripture was read by Miss Marie Baggs. After remarks by Rev. Dick, Rev. Rolls took charge and explained, as did Mr. Dick, the Crusade for Christ campaign. The committee in charge of the meeting were Miss Marie Baggs, Miss Maxine Fuller of the Christian Endeavor society, and Mrs. Lafayette Ayers and Miss Carrie Atwood of the Epworth League.

High mass was held at St. Francis church at 9.30 with special music in charge of Mrs. J. C. Bothwell. St. Francis church had observed the special days during Holy Week with the customary services. In a helpful discourse on Friday evening Fr. Dunphy put new meaning into Christ's last words on the cross.

At both the Congregational and Methodist churches, Easter morning messages and music were given.

Double Surprise

Sometimes the suprisers are themselves surprised, and that is what happened at the shower tendered Miss Margaret Moriarty last Saturday night. It had all been deftly planned. Miss Moriarty and her friend, Edward R. Dostal of Ludlow, were lured to Grange hall under pretext of hearing Ad Moore tell of his Florida trip, and not until they were on the stairs and heard the strains of "Here comes the bride," did they guess what they were getting into. Mrs. Charles Sanford continued playing the wedding march which finally ushered in another wedding party led by Charles Sanford, minister. The dignified groom was Paul Aldrich, while the blushing bride was J. Howell Cook.

And then to think that it wasn't "Miss Moriarty" after all. It was "Mrs. E. R. Dostal" and had been since last summer! The shock of the announcement reminded one of the zero hour in a thunder storm, but equilibrium was soon maintained and proceedings proceeded. The only reason that the event was not announced at the time was because of the death of the bride's aunt.

The long table loaded with silver, linen, glass, and other gifts, told of the esteem in which the bride is held, which was further emphasized by words of appreciation by Miss Mary E. King.

Mrs. C. A. Foss gave several piano selections following refreshments which were served by a committee from Union grange, with Miss Emma Stadler in charge of arrangements. Mr. and Mrs. Dostal will make their home in Ludlow.

Eastern Star Ball

The annual Easter ball of Mount Vernon chapter, O. E. S., given at Memorial hall Wednesday evening, was a very successful affair. There was a large attendance, guests being present from Enfield, Amherst, Ludlow and other nearby towns. Jack Delaney's 13-piece orchestra of Northampton furnished music for dancing, which was preceded by a concert from 8 to 9.

After Ashes—A New Life

It is difficult to make the heart believe in utter destruction. A great fire wipes out the business section of a city. All the buildings are leveled to the ground. All is disaster and ruin. And yet out of the ashes there arises a new business section and the city is fairer and prettier than ever before.

A forest is cut off. Not a tree is left standing. The only thing the eye can see is the stumps of the old trees. A desolate looking sight. But it is only a few weeks before out of the old stumps are seen green sprouts and thin saplings, and one reflects that in time another forest will take the place of the old.

A big flood swept Vermont. Bridges were washed away; railroad trains ceased to run, towns were laid low, many businesses were totally ruined, many farms were a total loss, and there was wreckage everywhere. And yet a new and a better Vermont is already coming into existence.

A big war came over the world. Wherever it touched, it left desolation and poverty and suffering and mourning. And yet it was not long before the poppies were growing in Flanders field and beautiful flowers were growing in great profusion where ugly looking shell holes had been. And if one visited England or France or Germany today, it is doubtful if one could detect from the faces of the people that the World War had swept over the land.

The only thing that saves us from cynicism is this belief that destruction is not total and that out of the ashes there will come forth new life. We can work with enthusiasm so long as we can believe that a new world is in the making.

THE DODGE STANDARD SIX

GETS AWAY QUICKER AND GOES FASTER THAN ANY CAR UNDER $1000 STAUNCH AND DEPENDABLE

Flashing suddenly into the American market, the Dodge Standard Six has swept instantly forward to spectacular success . . . . . Not alone because it is the fastest Six in the world selling below $1000, but also because it possesses more style, luxury and roominess.

And because it is Dodge-staunch and Dodge-dependable; built to carry one horsepower for every 47 pounds of car weight! A fact that explains its amazing speed, pick-up and power on the hills.

Drive this remarkable car today and you will understand why its performance is the talk of the country.

IS YOUR CRANKCASE READY FOR SPRING?

Socony dealers will save the motorists of New York and New England many thousand dollars this week by asking courteously, "Is your crankcase ready for spring?"

CARS are ruined every spring because owners merely add a little clean oil to the dirty, diluted oil that has been in the crankcase all winter.

Winter driving demands repeated use of the choke. Raw gasoline seeps down and dilutes the crankcase oil—and diluted oil is almost as bad as no oil at all.

Every automobile engine accumulates dirt, and some of it eventually gathers in the bottom of the crankcase as sediment. Dirty oil ceases to be a good lubricant and tends to become a grinding compound. And grinding compounds are worse than no oil at all.

Tell the Socony man to get your crankcase ready for spring. He will drain your crankcase and flush it with Socony Flushing Oil. This cuts out all the sediment and leaves in place everywhere a thin protecting film of lubricant. Then he will fill up with Socony Motor Oil.

You pay only for the small cost of the oil. There is no charge for the service.

Socony Gasoline and Motor Oil must pass 13 rigid tests before they reach your car.

Summary of Basketball Season

By Noel

As the basketball season has practically come to a close in this vicinity, it might be well to know the record of the local high school team, which brought its season to an end quite recently. Considering the fact that the home team was represented by one of the lightest quintets in the state, the local boys certainly deserve great credit for the fine showing that they made against their opponents. The support of the team was much better than it has been in recent years, for there was a large attendance at all home games.

Although the team lost the majority of its games, the local players certainly played a fine brand of basketball, losing a few games by very small margins. Among the players who have played their last games for B. H. S. are Capt. Walter Camp, Paige Piper, Willard Segur, Louis Austin and Joe Ferenz, for they will be graduated in June. With these players leaving school, it looks now as though an entirely new team will have to be formed for the 1928-29 season.

Piper, who has been one of the best players ever developed at B. H. S., was easily the star of the team. He scored a total of 225 points in 13 games, an average of over 17 points per game. In the first game with South Hadley High, he scored 29 points, which is nearly the highest total scored in any game in this vicinity.

Following is the record of games and players:

Congregational Home Department Supper

If anyone failed to realize what the proceeds of the Congregational Sunday School Home Department supper in the chapel last Friday night were to go for, then it wasn't the committee's fault. Pasteboard chairs protruded from the posters, miniature ones were at each place at the table, and when it came time for the entertainment, there was the usual "lugging in" of chairs from the dining room. But $42 was cleared, so it won't always be thus.

But it wasn't wholly a money-making affair. The ladies gave value received and then some. Dishes that were novel, yet tried and true, were served and there was music to go with it—Paige Piper, saxophone; Clifton Graves, violin; and J. Raymond Gould, piano. This trio also contributed several numbers at the entertainment following the supper.

Other numbers on the program were: Piano duet, Misses Dorothy Blackmer and Esther Squires; reading, "Tom," Miss Frances Sauer; vocal trio, Miss Maxine Fuller, Mrs. R. O. Baggs, Miss Marie Baggs; singing by the audience, led by C. F. Aspengren, with J. Raymond Gould pianist.

After the program an informal reception was tendered the newly-called pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Rolls.

Mrs. W. S. Piper had charge of a table of home-made candy, and Mrs. Hattie Taylor was in charge of the successful supper and program. She desires to thank most heartily those who assisted.

Entertainment at State School

Assembly hall of the State school was the scene Wednesday evening of another entertainment put on by the pupils of the institution, assisted by the employees' orchestra.

The program opened with a selection from "Sally," by the orchestra. One of the boys then sang, "Down by the Winegar Woiks," and a girl, "Among My Souvenirs." Next came a sheaf of songs, "Drink to Me only with Thine Eyes," "A Capital Ship" and "Break O'Day," sung by a group of girls.

A playlet in two scenes, "At 12 Midnight," formed the main part of the program. This play was written by Dr. A. E. Westwell with apologies to the author of "The Ghost Train."

The interior of the railroad station was realistically depicted. Ticket office, express sign, station stove—all were there. In came the exasperated party, stranded for the night because one of the members had pulled the bell rope when he lost his hat, thereby making the train late at the junction. Then came the announcement that at 12 midnight the Ghost train was expected on the anniversary of the wreck 20 years earlier when the train leaped into the open draw. Prefaced with thunder storm, lightning and pelting rain, cleverly carried out, the hour of 12 drew near and, sure enough, the screech of the Ghost train was heard and out through the station windows, the lights from the spooky special as it passed by were clearly seen, while the ghost of the fireman, as was feared, walked the platform with a red lantern. Then came the arrest of the desperado by the "plain clothes" bell ringer, who laid the plot.

This is the first show of this type put on at the institution and seemed to take, with plenty of warning beforehand. Practise on the performance began just two weeks ago. As usual, the younger pupils saw the show at a dress rehearsal, Tuesday evening.

Inspection at Union Grange

Union grange held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening. The third and fourth degrees were conferred on a class of 23 candidates, one of them being from Ludlow. The third degree was conferred by the Ladies' Degree team led by Mrs. Amy Witt as master, while the regular officers worked the fourth degree under the direction of the master, Wilfrid Noel. Donovan Tiffany of Easthampton, Deputy of the Massachusetts State grange, inspected the work and spoke briefly. There were also short talks by Past Master I. N. Day of Amherst grange, Walter Pease, Master of Ludlow grange, and Lyne Townsend of Ludlow.

There were over 100 grangers present, including visitors from Amherst, Ludlow, Enfield and Easthampton. Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Frank E. Austin, Mrs. Edward Randall, Mrs. Myron Ward, Mrs. Winslow Piper and Mrs. Carl Aspengren.

Hampshire County Pomona grange will meet in Sunderland, Thursday evening, May 3, 1928. Supper will be served at 6.30 by Sunderland grange, followed by the conferring of the fifth degree on a class of candidates. Any local grangers wishing application blanks for membership may secure them from Charles H. Sanford.

There will be a military whist party in grange hall next Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. Dancing will follow. Don't fail to come. There will be a good time for all. The committee in charge is Mrs. William A. Kimball, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Noel.

Y. P. B. Supper

People did not exert themselves greatly to attend the Y. P. B. supper in the vestry of the M. E. church Wednesday evening, although over forty came before the feast was over. Feast it was, as it usually has been, even though some who attended their last supper—when the organization was stampeded, may think otherwise. The young folks also took pains to make flowers with which to deck the tables, and had pop corn on sale.

At the entertainment which followed, Miss Esther Squires gave a piano solo, and a girls' trio consisting of Montiel Roode, Esther Squires and Nellie Rhodes, sang, "In the Garden." Then the president of the organization, Bartlett Green, after stating the object of the supper, which was to send four delegates to the Sharon convention, introduced "Mr. C. R. Green", better known as "Clate Green", as the speaker of the evening. He gave a talk on his trip to Florida, as advertised.

Mr. Green took his hearers with him for the full round trip and gave Dies in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. Leila Shumway Curtis has received news of the death Tuesday of her brother, Dr. Edgar S. Shumway, at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y. Although in failing health for the last two years, his condition was not known to be more serious than usual and the end came unexpectedly while he slept. He was planning to come here in a few weeks to visit his sister at her home on South Main street, as he had often done.

Dr. Shumway was born in Belchertown in June, 1856, the only son of Solomon and Susan (Perry) Shumway. He graduated from the High school here and from Amherst college, later continuing his studies in Germany. He was a teacher all his life, beginning in the district schools in Ludlow, Belchertown and Granby before his student days were ended. For many years he was professor of Latin at Rutgers College, New Bruswick, N. J., and resigned only two years ago in June from his last position as headmaster of Latin at the Manual Training High school at Brooklyn, N. Y. For some years he published a Latin Journal, the only one of its kind, and he also published a number of Latin text books. For some time he was lecturer on Roman Law at the University of Pennsylvania.

His wife was Florence Snow of Worcester, who survives him. He also leaves four sons, Waldo, professor in the University of Illinois and acting Dean; Lowell, of Brooklyn, Conrad, of Glens Falls, N. Y., and Eric, at home. All the sons are graduates of Amherst college and during the war every member of the family enlisted in war work of some kind.

A short service will be held at the Congregational chapel this afternoon at 2.30. Burial will be in the family lot at Mt. Hope cemetery.

Trout Pond Planned

The Metacomet Fox, Rod and Gun club plans to put in a dam on the brook near Arthur J. Aldrich's thereby making a pond for the rearing of trout. Permission has been secured of the owners to post the property. The work of putting in the dam will be carried out under the direction of David Warner, who has had considerable experience in this work.

The club feels that there are plenty of people perfectly willing to go out and get their string of fish, who do not contribute to the stocking of the streams. The organization hopes to do something along this line, not simply for its own enjoyment, but that others may share the benefits.

Clean-up Day

There are tired bones and muscles in town today, but there's a reason. A glance at the slick looking common and adjacent public grounds reveals it. About thirty of the strong sex, ranging in years from about 8 to 80, Joseph Kempkes, Jr., being at one end and E. A. R. Fairchild at the other, betook themselves to the happy raking grounds at varying hours and worked with a will. Three trucks were on hand and were ever close behind the flying rake handles.

Noon found fully half the common raked and about 25 of the folks waiting for the call to march to Grange hall, where the Community Service committee of Union grange were ready with a free dinner. And what a feed! It was the chief subject of conversation the remainder of the afternoon. One man nearly swore in trying to express adequately his appreciation of the women of Belchertown.

Work on the common done, the workers hied to the Methodist church, then to the town hall, Congregational church and St. Francis church.

White collar men dabbled in leaves, brush and rubbish, trying to get the youngster's view point when he said, "This isn't work. It's play."

T. J. Ferriter furnished soda to the group. That sight of the bunch backed up against the maple trees, looking up into those gaudy soda bottles, will linger.

The Belchertown Farmers' and Mechanics club began painting the grandstand in the afternoon.

The clean-up work was in charge of the Park association, the Board of Trade cooperating.

close-ups of some of the most interesting experiences. Like some of the flyers, they were tempted to turn back at the start (by reason of colds) but like them, they kept on.

Life and customs along the way were interestingly described. There was the small town in New Jersey, with its fire alarm system where wagon tires were suspended in the streets with hammer handy with which to relay the alarm. At Allendale, Pa., 25 or 30 people went through the car. This place had a tax rate of $11 to $12 per $1,000 and would extend to new industries the courtesy of being tax free for five years.

There were narrow plank roads where "it paid to be sober" and there were roads through Virginia and the Carolinas that were of cement and the finest imaginable. The construction of the latter was made possible by the gasoline tax which ran from two cents to four and a half cents per gallon.

Some of the southern towns and cities were hard hit, among them Savannah, where white labor was $1.50 a day and colored $1.00. Here they had hard work to get a $5 bill changed. Inter-ocean City was one of the boom towns gone "dead" in the midst of its upbuilding. Sarasoto was also hard hit.

The travellers found out how many of the manufacturing processes are executed. The veneer mill was described by Mr. Green. Here logs were steamed, then sawed off in narrow slices, and then the ribbon of wood literally unraveled to the center. This thin material eventually goes into crates for oranges, pineapples and berries.

Wherever they camped, all along the way, they always seemed to be only a few rods from a railroad and had music all night long, for it was neither the B. & M. nor the C. V.

At Tampa Bay they saw five hydroplanes. The alligator farm furnished an interesting story. Here they had them seven feet long and the oldest specimen was 800 years old. "No one seemed to be around," Clate said, "that had known it in its infancy." It was described as "safe enough for a child to sit on its back and ride." Rattlesnakes and lizards were seen in confinement but were not disturbed.

In Plant City, strawberries were being prepared for shipment north. The growers received 47 cents a quart and the carriage charges are 16 cents. In an orange factory one man could pack a box of oranges in two and a half minutes. In some southern cities, curb service is given on orangeade as well as on soda, the travellers not having to leave their cars.

The audience's mouths watered when Mr. Green told of buying that bushel of luscious oranges and the 12 grape fruit for $1.25. Mahogany honey with its "varnish" taste, did not sound as inviting.

Daytona, with its famous speedway beach was mentioned, also St. Augustine where stands the fort that was 106 years in building. Silver Springs was where glass-bottomed boats revealed in the clear water a dime 80 feet below. The fish were described as "great" as well as "cheap". Trout sold for 10 cents to 15 cents a pound. Beef cattle were almost thin enough to see through.

The travellers passed through places where the northern cotton mills have gone, "where labor is cheap, no unions are allowed and everybody is happy." For the most part the tourists were treated squarely. On occasions they were taken advantage of. Three young fellows demanded $2.50 for touring the house car about three rods, and as it was three against two, they paid it.

As one listened to Mr. Green, he was reminded at times of the radio programs, for sandwiched in were these expressions, "where the Danbury hat is made," "where they make the Bull Durham cigarettes," and "Greensboro, where they make overalls." But it was an honest-to-goodness program and we are glad to put it on the air.

Mr. Green followed the story till the last chapter when the gas man ran over the gas tank, which was probably ignited by the red hot exhaust pipe, heated by having to run in low through traffic.

Mr. Green is thoroughly "sold" to the house car idea and while he talked quite a few minutes, his tank of experiences had by no means run dry, as after the meeting had closed he still reeled off interesting stories of the memorable trip which, to say the least, was economical. Some woman's organization would do well to engage him to speak from the subject, "How to get a meal for fifteen cents."

The audience was appreciative of Mr. Green's efforts, giving him a hearty round of applause both before and after.

PROBATE COURT

To Nellie A. Garvey, Patrick H. Garvey, Michael J. Garvey, Margaret Carmody, and Ella Garvey, all of Belchertown in said County, and the estate of Timothy B. Garvey, late of said Belchertown, and to all other persons interested.

Whereas James R. Garvey of Belchertown in the County of Hampshire, has presented to said Court a petition, representing that he is the owner of a present undivided legal estate in land, not subject to redemption, and not an estate by entirety, situated in Belchertown in said County of Hampshire, and briefly described as follows: Being the same property conveyed to James Garvey and John Garvey by deed of Jacob G. Foster dated Dec. 5, 1865 and recorded in Hampshire County Deeds, book 231, page 519, containing one hundred and seventy-five acres more or less with the buildings thereon standing,— and praying for a division of said land, or for the sale thereof, either public, or private, of all or any part thereof, which the Court may find cannot be advantageously divided.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Northampton in said County of Hampshire, on the first day of May A. D. 1928, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by serving a copy thereof on each person interested, whose address is known, either personally or by registered mail, fourteen days at least before said Court, and, if any party is not so served, by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Belchertown Sentinel, a newspaper published in said Belchertown, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing a copy thereof to the last known address of such party, fourteen days at least before said Court.

Witness, Henry P. Field, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-eighth day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight.

New Pastor at M. E. Church

The New England Conference has appointed to the M. E. church pastorate the Rev. F. M. LePage. Mr. LePage is at present professor in Ottowa University, Kansas. He is a member of the New England conference. His last appointment here was at Arlington Heights, but for the last four years he has been in college work in the west and will be here at the close of the college year in June. The Rev. Wilbur Dunbar of Springfield will supply the pulpit on Sunday.

It is not known definitely whether there will be an evening service or not.

REV. CATO DICK GOES TO REVERE

Rev. Cato Dick, who has served as pastor of the M. E. church for the past two years, has been assigned to the church at Revere, which, due to the greater opportunity, represents a promotion on which his friends congratulate him.

Rev. Mr. Dick has rendered conscientious service to the local church and always combined dignity with scholarship in his pulpit presentations.

Death of Mrs. Kate B. McPherson

Mrs. Kate B. McPherson died at the home of her son, Dr. George B. McPherson, on Monday, after an illness of 16 months.

Mrs. McPherson was born at Nashua, N. H., December 30, 1850, and spent a large part of her life at Foxboro.

Besides her son, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. D. P. Kimball, of Athol; a sister, Mrs. John P. Sherman, and a brother, Jarvis Williams, both of Foxboro; also five grandchildren and numerous other relatives.

Funeral services were held at Foxboro Wednesday, with burial in the family lot at Rockhill cemetery.

New Train Schedules

In bulletins just issued by the B. and M. railroad, the outstanding feature is that crack trains have been speeded up. But Belchertown boasts none such, and, in fact, it is getting perilously near the place where there will be no trains to be speeded.

One passenger train a day is all the Boston and Maine will run each way with the advent of daylight saving time which goes into effect Sunday. This train will leave for Boston on week days at 7.32 a. m., daylight saving time, and return at 8.57 p. m., d. s. t. The mid-day train which always seemed to carry a good many passengers through the town, has been discontinued.

In the old Board of Trade days, the town boasted 16 trains a day—10 on the B. and M. and 6 on the C. V.—and told the world so.

But people can still get in and out of town. They are simply going on rubber instead of on metal.

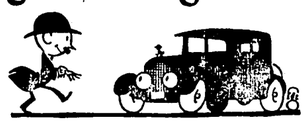
"good morning, motor"



"MORNING, Boss. Just a minute, please, before you step on the button. I need a drink. I wish the family would remember that I am not air-cooled. Otherwise okay. Bill changed the oil yesterday and that good gas you have been buying lately keeps me as free of carbon as a demonstrator's motor. My pep and pick-up will please you today, Boss."

"BACHELOR" MOTORS AGE RAPIDLY

HABITUAL DINERS-OUT are bad insurance risks.

So are motors which are habitually fed anything and everything in the way of gasoline and motor oil that the roadside offers. It's a short life and not always a merry one for the unfortunate owner.

This company operates a fleet of several thousand trucks and automobiles. They all lead regular lives and get nothing but Socony Gasoline and Socony Motor Oil. Some of them have run more than 100,000 miles and are still on regular duty.

We have been refining for fifty-four years. We test our products thirteen times before they reach your engine. This ensures uniform quality at all times and wherever you may buy it.

Nothing succeeds like a good habit. Prolong the life of your car by standardizing on Socony.

Do you know the Socony Touring Service

Its address is 26 Broadway (Room 26S), New York, and it will help you to plan your trip by supplying full information concerning roads and detours. The service is free and always at your disposal.

Optimism

There are two kinds of optimists, a shallow kind and a deep kind, and there is a deal of difference between them. The shallow optimist sees things only on the surface, the deep optimist sees beneath the surface. The shallow optimist is subject to great fluctuation. Today he is up in the sky, for everything seems rosy and fair. Tomorrow he is in the dumps, for everything rosy has departed. The deep optimist is stable, no matter what happens. His optimism does not depend upon the state of the weather or the fluctuation of the markets. The shallow optimist builds on the sand, the deep optimist on the rock. The shallow optimist, therefore, is of no comfort to us when the tempest is raging and the floods are doing their work of devastation.

The shallow optimist is likely to be ignorant of history. The deep optimist knows history. He does not get discouraged when intrenched evils are not overthrown in a day, or when age-long problems are not solved in a night. Knowledge of history keeps him from believing such will ever be the case. The shallow optimist finds it difficult to wait. He lacks vision. The deep optimist is willing to wait and to wait undisturbed. He does not go into hysterics because at times a backward step seems to be taken or some old evil breaks forth with unwonted vigor. The deep optimist is the only kind which is of value to us when we find that our own faith is weakening.

The Girl Scouts of troop 2 enjoyed a party at the Scout rooms Tuesday afternoon as a substitute for the hare and hound chase which had to be given up on account of the weather. The committee in charge of he supper were Scouts Marion Shaw, Roberta Brown and Myrtle Baggs, while acting lieutenants Alice Hussey and Gertrude Knight had oversight of the whole arrangements.

The Ladies Social Union will hold a supper and entertainment on May 9.

The fire department was called to a brush fire along the canal on Saturday, making a week of at least one call every day from the Mt. Lincoln lookout. All of the calls have come from the Turkey hill district and no great damage has resulted from any of them, although one at Leon Williams burned over 12 acres. This district is not as heavily wooded as the East Hill section which has suffered from fires in other years.

Three round trips to Springfield, four to Amherst, and two to Holyoke practically offset the dwindling train schedule, which now reads as below. Agent Bothwell has received no new C. V. timetables, but has been advised as to changes noted.

The bus schedule remains the same under the new time, save that, as usual, the last Sunday night trip is one hour later.

Joseph Skribiski, 59, died at his home in Dwight at 3.30 a. m., Monday, after an illness of five years. He leaves besides his widow, Anna Skribiski, four sons, John, Frank, Walter and Joseph, three of whom live at home and one in New York, two daughters, Blanche and Stella, both in the home and a brother, Paul in Europe.

The funeral was held from the home, Wednesday morning at 10. Church services were held at the Holy Rosary church, Hadley, Rev. Fr. Julien Jaworek officiating mass. The bearers were Stanley Skribiski, Victor Petritas, Stanley Yukabaitis, Boleslaw Kisielewski, Peter Mitchell and Peter Couche. Burial was in Holy Rosary cemetery, Hadley.

Grange Notes

Lecturer's Night was observed at Union grange Tuesday evening. A program of timely interest was presented by Mrs. B. E. Shaw, lecturer, the opening number being a piano solo by J. Raymond Gould. The lecturer then spoke of the day being National Child Health day and its significance, following which the May queen, Eleanor Marie Shaw, was escorted in by two pages, Robert Shaw and Sherman Gould, with Josephine Lincoln as train bearer.

A ladies' chorus of 15 voices then

Annual Meeting of Historical Association

The annual meeting of the Belchertown Historical Association was held in the Stone House last Saturday evening at 7, J. W. Jackson, president, presiding. Although no program was put forth to attract the membership at large, still the passing in review of the activities of the year preceding was such as to make an interesting evening of it.

The report of the custodian, Mrs. H. F. Curtis, not only told of a constantly augmented collection, but also revealed the public's contact with and reaction to it, which determines in large measure the association's usefulness. In this respect the response has been most gratifying. Not only have people visited the Stone House in increasing numbers, but they have for the most part possessed that fine appreciative sense that has made the work doubly rewarding. The custodian's report is appended.

While no effort has been spared on the collection itself during the past year, much thought and attention has been given to the setting of the House and Ford Annex. Through the courtesy of Gaston Plantiff of New York, a picket fence now surrounds the grounds which have been beautified. In response to the invitation of the president, the Girl Scouts of troop 2 collected pines, native shrubs and flowers for transplanting. For their willing contribution in this particular, the association tendered them a vote of thanks.

While the unique work of the association is in connection with its historical exhibit, it is also interested in Holland Glen and some of the discussion centered around this project. During the past year this property was surveyed.

The Longley estate, which in large measure enables the association to meet its maintenance expense, was reported on by Mrs. Mary E. Spencer, trustee, who gave in detail the cost of improvements made during the past year on the Maple Street dwelling.

But back of every project there must be people. And here again

O. E. S. Public Supper and Entertainment

Mt. Vernon Chapter, O. E. S., will serve a public supper in the chapel tonight at 6.30. Price is 50 cents. This admits also to the entertainment following which is a real play, entitled, "Please Stand By," which is said to be alone worth the price of admission. There are around a dozen characters, and the production is said to be "coming along fine". Of course to judge, one must see it.

May Day Plans

Plans are under way in the local schools for the annual May day which is observed throughout the country, and which is sponsored by the National Child Health association.

Three phases of health are being stressed with the children, 100 per cent clean mouths, good posture and standard weight requirements. A tag, furnished by the State Department of Health, will be given for each item in which the child qualifies, besides a special tag for those who have taken the toxin anti-toxin treatment. Part of the program of May day will be a parade of the school children with banners, those having all four tags coming first, then those with three, and so on. There will be further special awards to those having all four tags.

Buses will bring the children from the districts to the center for the program, which will be open to the public. It is hoped that the chances for good weather will be increased by waiting until a little later in the month.

Ladies' Social Union Supper

The Ladies' Social Union will serve a supper in the M. E. vestry next Wednesday evening at 6.30. First on the menu is "baked chowder." Then come the more ordinary items such as baked beans, pickles, coffee, rolls and cake. Price is 35 cents.

CUSTODIAN'S REPORT

In presenting this, our fourth annual report, the custodian would take occasion to thank the other members of our Association for their patience and consideration, and for the ready response to all calls for extra help for special occasions.

Our record shows that interest in the Stone House has been well sustained during 1927. The whole number registered is 495 which is an increase over last year. In fact, the register shows a steady increase in the annual number of visitors since we have occupied our new home. It may be well, however, to remember that the register is a somewhat imperfect record, as not all visitors sign.

As usual our visitors have come from all over the United States, besides one from Nova Scotia and two from Ireland. The banner months were June, bringing 107 visitors, and August, with 121. The house, although not opened every Wednesday to the public during the winter, has been opened and heated one day every week but one. We have received at least one out-of-town visitor every month but one.

We still receive many kind words about our "home-like" quarters. This especial feature of the Stone House arrangement seems to meet with general approval, and it is a matter of regret that as the house cannot grow with the collection, we must more and more take on the museum appearance.

Many, perhaps the majority of our visitors, are those who come because of genuine interest in the relics of former days, and students of the home life of an earlier time, rather than those drawn by idle curiosity or simply to be entertained for a passing hour.

Especially interested are the descendants of former residents of this town, some of whom have this year paid their first visit to Belchertown, the home of their forefathers.

One of these was Mrs. Edith Burke (Bardwell) Barrow of Lawrence, Kansas. Mrs. Barrow is descended from Jonathan Bardwell, one of the early and prominent settlers of Belchertown, who came here about 1732. Her father, Frederick Bardwell, who was born in Belchertown, became an educator of note and at the time of his death was a professor in Lawrence University. A copy of the arithmetic of which he was the author may be found in our book room. An added interest in Mrs. Barrow's visit comes from the fact that her home is in Lawrence, Kansas, so named in honor of Hon. Myron Lawrence in whose memory we have our Lawrence Memorial hall, and that she personally knew Mrs. Robinson, whose bequest made possible the hall.

Mr. W. C. Dwight of Chicago, a descendant from Col. Samuel Dwight of this town, visited here in September and was so much interested that he made a gift of twenty dollars to the association. Miss Harriett Grace Scott of Brookline, after two visits to the Stone House, placed with us interesting relics of one of her Belchertown ancestors; and at her third visit took out a life-membership in our association.

During June, Mrs. Shaw (of the Center Grade schools) came with 20 members of the 6th grade who were studying local history and geography. Later we received a manuscript, "History and Geography of Belchertown," prepared and attractively bound and decorated by one of the class who visited us. Each member of the class prepared similar copies, the whole showing much care and genuine interest on the part of both teacher and pupils.

In June, too, Miss Towne from the Junior High school paid us a second annual visit with 24 members of her class. So we may feel encouraged to think we are carrying out one of the stated objects of our association.

In July the camp leaders of Camp Pomeroy in Greenwich again brought their camp girls. As this was their third annual visit, I think we may conclude that they consider our collection worth while.

In October the one hundredth anniversary was very successfully observed. This has been reported by the secretary.

We hope many other social gatherings may be held here from time to time. For this purpose some provision should soon be made.

We have received several additions to the collection, either as gifts or loans. Mr. Stebbins has placed two new cases in the library. One of these is being filled and arranged by Mrs. Bathie and Miss Ella Stebbins with an interesting exhibit.

In the barn have been placed two large cases of early models of patents obtained from the Patent Office in Washington. This was accomplished also by Mr. Stebbins. To his effort do we owe the purchase of the old "John Spears" hearse which is now housed in the Ford building. Time does not permit mention of all the acquisitions of 1927.

We are glad to speak of the excellent appearance of our grounds the past summer. This was due to the oversight of our president, J. W. Jackson, and not only to his oversight but to many hours of actual labor.

Perhaps the largest individual gift is the picket fence which encloses our grounds, giving to the whole place the old-time look. This has received many favorable comments from visitors to the Stone House. It is the gift of Gaston Plantiff of New York, whose love for his native town he has been happy to show in this way.

Mr. Plantiff thinks with us that this place is of real benefit to the town and should be a source of pride to our citizens.

sang, "Love' Old Sweet Song," and responded to an encore with the round, "Three Blind Mice." The next numbers were a reading by Mrs. Frances Moore and a saxaphone solo by W. Paige Piper, both of which were encored. The ladies' chorus then rendered more of the old songs.

Previous to the meeting Mrs. Dora Wesley had distributed questions to different members who gave their answers at this time. George Booth's question was, "Which would you prefer to have, a wooden leg or a glass eye?" Another one was, "What is the age limit on bobbed hair?" A piano duet by Mrs. Julia Shumway and Mrs. Ellen Sanford closed this part of the program.

Refreshments consisted of cup cakes and cocoa. Children in white brought in a big May basket from which they gave out in individual servings wrapped in basket-like pink and white napkins. One hundred two were present at this May day meeting.

O. E. S. Supper and Play

Mt. Vernon Chapter, O. E. S., served supper to nearly a hundred patrons last Friday evening in the chapel. Flowers, lighted candles, electric lights, a mid-afternoon sun and a menu starting off with colorful fruit cup, made it a dazzling event. The ladies could have served more people, but hardly any better for the money.

People stood by for the play, "Please Stand By," and had no desire to get any other station.

Mrs. Guy C. Allen was touchy Pa Hawley, who couldn't stand the radio of which ma (Mrs. Raymond Goodell) was so fond, but did think it would be bliss to see the unseen performers. Honeysuckle, the colored maid (Mrs. Julia Shumway), by her incantations, made this possible, to the delight of all. The curtain parted, and to be sure, there was the "WBZ" announcer (Miss Nannie Howard), asking them to "Please stand by" for the program which ran thus:

Violin solo, Miss Corelli (Miss Parker); solo, Lambert Murphy (C. F. Aspengren); orchestra, J. Raymond Gould, piano; W. Paige Piper, saxaphone; Miss Parker, violin.

Milton Chamberlain, dressed as a black cat with a very long tail, conducted the Krazy Kat Kiddies' Klub, and read interesting letters from members, including one from little "Jake" Cook, who had reached the required age of six years, and another from Roy Shaw, who was fast approaching that longed-for day.

A reading, "Weather," was given by Mrs. Emma Shaw. A specialty feature by Nell Cantsing (Miss Marie Baggs) and Joe Joy (Miss Maxine Fuller), was jauntily presented in costume.

Barre Wins First Game

The first baseball game of B. H. S. was lost to Barre Tuesday afternoon, at Barre by 16-10. The game was lost by errors, due mostly to the fact that the B. H. S. players had not had the opportunity to play on a regular diamond.

Brewer, the opposing pitcher, was wild and could not get the ball across the plate, but he tightened up in the pinches. Piper pitched good ball, allowing only 3 or 4 earned runs. The rest came in on Belchertown's 13 errors. Dorey, Ostafienski and Zitka played their first game. Barre was out-hit, but bunched their hits when they were

Weds in Pittsfield

Miss Elizabeth Emma Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Wright of Pittsfield, and Alvin E. Michel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Michel of Maple street, were married Monday at high noon at the home of the bride's parents at Pittsfield. The officiating minister was Rev. H. V. Blackford, and the double ring service was used. The bride was given away by her father.

The couple were attended by Miss Blanch Wright, sister of the bride, and W. Paige Piper of this town, as best man. The bride wore white satin-backed crepe with veil and carried pink sweet peas; the bridemaid wore pink chiffon voile and carried pink tea roses. William Adams, Jr., played the wedding march and also gave selections before and after the ceremony.

The bride's gift to the bridemaid was a vanity case of white gold. The bridegroom's gift to the best man was a pair of white gold cuff links.

Following the luncheon the guests were invited to inspect the new home of the bridal couple where, without anyone suspecting it, they found themselves locked in, while the bride and groom speeded on their way to Washington, D. C., to spend a two weeks' honeymoon. Upon their return they will make their home in Pittsfield, where the groom has a position with the General Electric company.

Social Union Supper

Over half a hundred attended the Ladies' Social Union supper in the M. E. vestry Wednesday evening, although anyone passing by afterward would have taken oath there were four hundred playing "Jenkins". Daylight Saving and the "flu" are not conducive to supper attendance, even though baked chowder is on the menu. This last item, the recipe for which was imported from another state, came through gloriously. Special colored paper creations adorned each table.

The ladies were disappointed in the entertainment which they expected to provide. Then they planned a community sing, but it turned out to be a carnival chorus with the noisy games that materialized, the men in their corner and the women in theirs.

The supper committee were Mrs. Mabel Stebbins, Mrs. Lillian Kelley, Mrs. Lottie Trainor, Mrs. Bertha Conkey, Mrs. Estelle Sanford, Mrs. Jennie Wood.

Fire on North Main St.

Belchertown's water system was vindicated quite conclusively for a second time Tuesday evening, when a blaze starting in the building occupied by Lincoln Cook and family was extinguished after it had gotten a good start. The fire occurred about 11, part of the family having retired. Mrs. Cook smelled smoke first, while the alarm was rung in by Herbert Langworthy of Northampton, a member of the party that had taken supper at the chapel. He rushed across the street and sounded an alarm on a bell which he found at the fire station. Help soon arrived and the blaze was under control within half an hour.

The fire evidently started in the wood shed, a small ell to the north of the main building. This was completely gutted, roof and all. Fire simmered into the main part, damaging a few articles of furniture. Part of the cornice in front was burned. A large part of the damage to the house was by water.

The building only a few feet to

May Day Celebration

Next Wednesday is May day in the Belchertown schools, when a health day program of interest will be presented to the public, each school being represented by one or more numbers. But the special feature of the day will be a parade of school children marked with tags showing that they are up to weight, that they have 100 per cent clean mouths, correct posture, and have received the toxin anti-toxin treatment which renders them immune to the onslaught of diphtheria. In the latter class are 13 children of preschool age, ten teachers, 275 pupils, besides eight others who had had the treatment before. These children will receive a special tag prepared by the school department, besides tags for weight, oral cleanliness and posture which are provided by the state department of health.

The children are much interested in this health campaign and it has taken courage in some cases to meet the requirements for certain tags. It is expected that there will be a good number among those at the head of the procession with four tags.

Miss Kathryn Mansfield, school nurse, in her report for April, shows a varied line of activities. She made 40 visits to school rooms and three visits to homes of pupils. She assisted Dr. Collard in the toxin antitoxin treatment and Dr. Sullivan in the dental examinations which have been given every child in the schools. Tooth brushes obtained from the Prophylactic Brush company have been sold to the pupils at a nominal price. Miss Mansfield also attended the health lecture given in Enfield by Dr. Andress. She reported seven cases of contagious diseases.

the north was badly charred.

The fire had gotten under headway remarkably quick as only a few minutes previous to the discovery, local people had been at the premises and had just gotten home.

The lower floor was used as a pool room and the upper as a tenement. Damage is said to be $1,000 to the building and $500 to the contents.

Spectacular features of the fire were the ignition of a tall tree nearby and the hasty exit of members of the household, scantily clad. The family is now residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Cook.

The Gold Dust Twins, black as night, in orange attire, were also there to bulge the eyes of "pa" and "ma." These were personified by Harold Cook and Albert Schmidt.

The program was completed by a saxaphone solo by W. Paige Piper and a character song in which Miss Myrtle Green in quaint costume, carrying a basket of flowers, sang of the Old Fashioned Garden.

There were just enough local puns to flavor the program nicely.

The committee in charge of the supper were Mrs. R. O. Baggs, Mrs. M. C. Baggs, Miss Esther Jackson, Mrs. F. L. Gold, Mrs. H. F. Duncan.

The salad dressing was contributed by the Hellman Blue Ribbon Salad Dressing Co.

Independent Baseball Team

Independent baseball goes by fits and starts in Belchertown. There is great interest some seasons, and then things lie dormant. After such a period, we are now informed that this is to be one of the live years.

The following men have reported for the positions named below.

Pitchers	Dewey, Fairchild
Catcher	Stubby King
First	Herbert Story
	Hank Ayers
Second	Connie Lynch
Shortstop	Paige Piper
Third	Guy Allen
Right field	Kenneth Bristol
Center field	Robinson

Others desiring to qualify for the team are requested to report to Edward Parent, business manager, who will give them an opportunity for a try-out.

The idea is to run twilight games, which daylight saving permits.

Always.. a square USED CAR deal from the Buick Dealer

The Buick dealer is in business to stay. His future reputation depends upon his treating used car buyers fairly.

He wants to please used car purchasers because he knows that satisfied used car customers are prospective new Buick buyers.

The man who buys a good used car—honestly represented—at a fair price—receives splendid value in transportation.

In his enthusiasm for the car he has bought, and the value he has received, it is only natural for him to look upon the dealer as his friend.

The Buick dealer has many such friends because he represents the true condition of the used cars he offers for sale.

And that is good business—for the Buick dealer, as well as the used car buyer.

The funeral of Charles Munsell of Orange, who died Saturday evening, was held at his home Tuesday afternoon. He was a native of Belchertown, having been born in the old Reddington Munsell home 66 years ago, the son of Ambrose and Elmina (Wilson) Munsell, and spent his boyhood days in Enfield. He has been a patient sufferer for two years and will be greatly missed by all who had the good fortune to know him.

He leaves a widow, Jennie Foskett Munsell. Those attending the funeral from this vicinity were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hurlburt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newcomb, Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Giles, Emory Munsell, and Mr. and Mrs. George Blair, all relatives.

The floral tributes, which bespoke the high esteem in which he was held, were both profuse and beautiful.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Noel and family spent the day with Mr. Noel's sister, Mrs. Frank Legrand, of South Hadley Falls.

Eugene Prevost of St. Chrysostome and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Prevost of Hemmingford, P. Q., returned to their home Saturday after spending the week with their sister, Mrs. Joseph Noel.

Mother

By Rev. C. H. Smith of Granby

How much she loved us,
Mother Dear!
What Comfort brought us,
Mother Dear!
Her smile so bright
Made dark days light
Along life's childhood way.
Her songs of cheer
Dispelled our fear,
Like to some angel's lay.

How much she helped us,
Mother Dear!
And great souls made us,
Mother Dear!
Time may grow old,
Our warm hearts cold
Beneath life's toil and fret,
But mother's love
From Heaven above,
We never can forget.

TOMORROW

Big Attraction Tonight

A full program is scheduled for tonight at Memorial hall at 8 under the auspices of St. Francis church. Mr. Snyder, Miss Helen Shea and Miss Dorothy Fitzgerald will furnish music. Miss Bourassa and Mrs. Callahan of Holyoke will also render musical selections.

The big feature of the evening will be a minstrel show given by the K. of C. of Palmer. This splendid production, "Minstrelsy," has been given in Palmer, Holyoke, Springfield, Westfield and at the Leeds Veterans' hospital.

Sandwiched in somewhere will be military whist.

A beautiful door prize will be awarded the lucky number out of those handed patrons as they enter.

Neighbors' Night at Union Grange

"Neighbors' Night" was observed by Union Grange Tuesday evening. South Amherst and Wilbraham granges were invited to spend the evening with the members of the local order. After a short business meeting, a very pleasing and entertaining program was presented by the visiting grangers.

The following program was given by members of South Amherst grange.

Reading	Irving Hendrick, master
Song	Fred Adams
Duet	Mr. and Mrs. Fred Adams
Songs	Robert Hawley
Reading	Mrs. Slaney
One-act play, "The Rev. Peter Brice, bachelor."

Members of Wilbraham grange gave their program as follows:

Song	Mrs. Edson
Song	Young Men's Chorus

Park View Hotel Burns

Park View Hotel, the local hostelry known over a wide area, burned to the ground late Sunday night, and nothing but uninviting ruins mark the spot. While the loss was a large one, the fire ranking in size with the Center school conflagration, the saving of so many buildings in close proximity has tempered the situation with a spirit of thankfulness that it was no worse.

All are agreed that the big factor in this was the town's water system. This met its supreme test and it fulfilled every expectation. No well on the hill-top could have furnished 180,000 gallons of water, which it is estimated, came out of the hydrants to beat back the flames on that eventful night.

The community had settled down peacefully to its rest when the alarm was rung in. At that time, around 11.30, the fire was confined to the north side of the hotel, near the kitchen, and it seemed at first as though the blaze could be extinguished. Fire showing through the windows was deadened, but smoke emanating from the top of the structure, indicated that fire was eating its way through the partitions. When it broke out this time, it was realized that the most that could be done would be to fight it back as much as possible and save adjoining property.

By this time all available hose lines were in play and streams turned on vulnerable points. The roofs of the houses occupied by J. C. Bothwell (on the northeast corner of the former hotel lot), Raymond Goodell (on the southeast), and Roy O. Baggs (the former Nathaniel Dwight place) were deluged with water. Meanwhile as a precautionary measure, the furnishings in all three houses were removed to places of safety.

Nothing was saved from the hotel. In fact Thomas Ferriter, the proprietor, had all he could do to get his family, who had gone to bed, from the building. It seems that Mr. Ferriter was serving a customer with gas, when Frederick Williams went to the kitchen, only to find it

May Day Celebration

It was with the roll of a drum that the school children of Belchertown marched on to the common Wednesday afternoon in the heat of a June sun to render their May day program, but there were no trappings of war to indicate that here was a future army ready to deal death or to meet it. Rather did it reveal a younger generation in training to cope with life. Instead of stripes and medals to indicate bravery in a field of activity slowly being outlawed by an enlightened humanity, here were children tagged in varying colors indicative of their application in the matter of health rules.

As the vanguard reached the bandstand, the rear of the procession was just entering the park, and they were all heavily laden with the tags above mentioned. First came the fours, then the threes, then the twos and then the ones, and all were proud of what they had been able to win.

The column turned at the grandstand and marched back to the south end of the common where townspeople had gathered to witness the program, the opening number of which was the crowning of the May Queen, Miss Mary Romaniak of Franklin school, transferred from Liberty school. Miss Romaniak was chosen for this honor not only by reason of her being a four-tag pupil but because of her scholarship as well. She was attended by six little girls in white.

Other pupils to receive honors for health attainments and scholarship were James Collard and Julia Gubola who led the procession with banners inscribed, "Better Children for the Nation" and "Better Nation for the Children." Another four-tag pupil, Francis Quinn, assisted in the announcement of the numbers by displaying placards.

Supt. Knight announced that Cold Spring school, Miss Bridget Fitzgerald teacher, had the honor of being a 100 per cent T A T school, all having had the toxin anti-toxin treatment.

Power

Man hungers for power. He pants for it. He labors diligently to get it. He is willing to try to move heaven and earth to have it.

He yearns for physical power and is willing to undergo hard training and discipline to secure it. He longs for intellectual power and studies early and late to be an intellectual giant. He longs for moral power and spiritual power. No matter a man's circumstances, he wants power to make money, or power to heal, power to persuade, or power over men and circumstances.

There are two kinds of power. There is a power over people and there is a power with people. If one desires to have power over people, then his aim will be to get money or position or social standing. Money gives a man power over people; so does office; so does education. Let a man secure a position of authority in community or school or church or state, and he wields great power.

But there is another kind of power and that is power with people. If this is what one is seeking, it comes from kindness and helpfulness and brotherliness. Many have had mighty power who have been denied wealth or education or position.

If one would have power with people, let him cultivate good will. Good will, for example, is certain to break down the mightest foe and to conquer the bitterest enemy. Opposition will melt away in the presence of good will. War will die a natural death wherever there is good will. Good will is one of the greatest forces in the world.

Few persons can occupy positions of power and so have power over men, but all men can have good will and so have power with men, which is greater.

Baseball News

By Noel

With the B. H. S. nine already playing fine baseball and the Independents fast rounding into shape, it looks as though local baseball fans are in for a fine treat during the coming summer months. Candidates for the Independents' team are working the kinks out of those "sore" muscles rapidly, and with present indications, Belchertown will again be represented on the baseball diamond.

For their first real workout the the Independents traveled to Granby last Sunday and swapped bats with the St. Hyacinths Seminary, a team composed entirely of former high school and college players. George Dewey, former B. H. S. player, started on the mound for the local team, but the Saints soon took a liking to his offerings and after getting a few exra base hits, aided by the Independent's ragged fielding, had scored 11 runs. Then Capt. Jack Fairchild went on the mound and with the other players playing better ball as the game went on, played on practically even terms with the Saints. Fairchild's best work was in the fourth inning, when he retired his opponents on two strike-outs and a pop fly to the catcher.

The following players made up the Independents' team: Capt. Jack Fairchild, p and cf; Ray King, c; Herb Story, 1b; Jack McCain, 2b and lf; Ed Kosky, 3b; Paige Piper, ss; Simon Surabian, lf and 2b; G. Dewey, cf and p; Andy Sears, rf; Ed Harnish, rf.

McCain, Kosky and Harnish are Granby players. Score by innings:

B. H. S. WINS

B. H. S., after losing a hard fought game to Barre High recently, won two games within the past week. Williamsburg High was defeated last Friday 5 to 3. A 2-run rally in the 9th inning won the game for B. H. S. Paige Piper hurled a four-hit game and fanned 14 men.

Epworth League Supper and Social

The Epworth League drew a good patronage at its supper and old-fashioned social in the vestry Wednesday evening. The young people had made elaborate preparation for the event. The color scheme was green and yellow, appropriate to the season. The metal columns were twined with the colors, the electric lights were betassled similarly, the napkins ran true to form, as did also the ice cream table. Even the flowers and salad savored of the same colorings.

There was just as much food as "fixings" and the young folks gave good service.

At the social afterward, Harold F. Peck was master of ceremonies. The sale of ice cream followed. George Booth was in charge of this department, while Mrs. L. W. Ayers was chairman of the supper committee.

Junior Prom

The annual junior prom was held at Memorial hall Friday evening and proved to be one of the pleasantest social events of the school year. The hall was decorated with streamers of red and white, the class colors, and confetti and streamers were thrown out. "Happy Harrington's" orchestra of Springfield furnished excellent music for dancing which lasted until 12. About 80 couples were present. The committee on decorations was Misses Katherine Dressel, Anna Shuttleworth and Roberta Lisk. The refreshment committee was the Misses Anna Lego and Sylvia Damon and William Barry. Miss Marie Baggs is president of the class and Miss Ruth Parker was the faculty member in charge.

Readings Mrs. Green, Mrs. Files
Mrs. Crossett

There were brief remarks by Milo Green, master of Wilbraham grange, Irving Hendrick, master of South Amherst grange and F. E. Buss, master of Enfield grange. About 160 members were present, there being grangers from Wilbraham, South Amherst, Enfield, Greenwich, Palmer, Amherst, Ludlow, Northampton and Springfield. Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Frank Austin, Mrs. Edward Randall and Mrs. Myron Ward. Dancing followed.

"good morning, motor"

"SORRY, BOSS, but it's not good morning for me. I'm sick. If you take me out today, you'll drive in second most of the time. I warned you. It's that cheap gas you've been buying. I'm as choked up with carbon as a kerosene lamp in a country store. My valves are about as tight as a broken sieve. Can't you grasp the idea that I'm as delicately adjusted inside as a watch? I get really peeved at the stuff you dump into me. Where do you get it, anyway? How much do you save? A few pennies—and then pay dollars to get me back into shape. And while I am getting this grouch out of my system, I want to say a word about oil. If I don't get a crank case full of good oil pretty soon, you'll be walking. I've been working for a week on nothing much but mud and gasoline. A wheelbarrow wouldn't stand for it. My bearings feel like sandpaper. I haven't enough compression to blow up a toy balloon. Treat me right and I'm good for another twenty thousand miles. Give me good gas and oil, Boss, please."

HAVE YOU TRIED SOCONY SPECIAL GASOLINE?

IF you haven't, it's probably because of the stiff competition of the Socony Gasoline pump right alongside it.

It's pretty hard to convince a man who has been using Socony Gasoline for years with never a snort nor a splutter from his carburetor that he ought to pay a few cents more a gallon for something different.

However, if you have an old car or a new high compression motor and want to test the capacity of your engine on a particularly creamy cut of anti-knock gasoline, Socony Special is worth trying. It gives you a little better pickup in traffic, a little finer silk in the purr of your engine, and a stronger, more dogged flow of power on hills.

You may get along perfectly well without these "extras" but you can scarcely help enjoying them, and you surely will appreciate the absence of knocking.

Fill up your tank with Socony Special today. Like Socony Gasoline and Socony Motor Oil it's tested thirteen times before it reaches your car.

Let your motor be the judge

THE PARK VIEW, AS MANY REMEMBER IT impossible to enter by reason of smoke.

As the fire progressed it was a weird sight with the various householders removing their goods to the street and vacant lots, trees and service poles catching fire, while over Park St. soared sparks that set the roofs of one building after another on fire, as far as and including the Congregational church. Only slight damage was done to each. On this street, members of the Amherst department, summoned in the emergency, did good work, attending to each blaze as it started. The pumper which they brought, was attached to the mains near the old town house. This machine greatly increased the pressure which at times taxed the hose lines.

Fully as dangerous a period as any was when the fire reached the eastern and western ends of the hotel. The wind was carrying the flames and consequent heat to the house vacated by Raymond Goodell, but the stucco finish and the asphalt shingles met the resistance. To the west, firemen back of doors taken from the Baggs' house, threw streams of water that kept the fire from getting a hold on that structure, which is of wood.

By one, the danger was past and citizens began carrying the household goods back into the homes. Considerable of the material was much the worse for its transfer, being either wet, soiled, torn or burned in spots by hot cinders.

Great numbers of people have viewed the ruins since the conflagration, and more than one has recalled some happy occasion in which he or she participated in the village hotel.

Of late years it has had a checkered career, many of its owners changing frequently. To go back to the real "palmy" days of the hostelry, one must at least revert to the proprietorship of L. W. Dillon. Then, in the summer time, the hotel was not large enough for its patronage, and some guests had to sleep in private homes. Those were the days when to spend a week in a country town like this was quite the fashion.

This hotel not only boasted a bowling alley and a dance hall, said to be the finest in New England, but also Park Island and Lake (then Dorman's pond), were offered as auxiliary attractions. Many, too, remember the old mountain wagon in which guests ambled over the Belchertown hills that were considered mecca enough for anyone.

In descriptive booklets sent to prospective patrons, mention was also made of the pleasant drive to So. Hadley, where trollies could be take to Holyoke. Similarly the drive to Indian Orchard was held out as an allurement, where trollies could be taken to Springfield.

In those days the dance hall was on the second floor and to the rear on the east end. Later this was cut in two, part being made into the Bothwell house, while the main part was moved to the west end for a dance hall.

Many at the fire Sunday night recalled the fire in 1899 when Chamberlain's house (now H. F. Shaw's) burned, then Scott's store (now the engine house), then the Dwight place (now R. O. Baggs'). No town water supply was available then, but the citizens formed a bucket line from the well at the north end of the common to the top of the west ell of the hotel, which was endangered, where in the forefront was L. W. Dillon, owner of the property, deluging the roof with water.

To go back to an even earlier date one finds that 100 years ago the Belchertown Classical school was just opening its doors at this location.

What the future will bring is problematical. No such heavy investment would be warranted by the patronage of recent years, which has been mostly transients, while since the erection of Lawrence Memorial hall, few dances have been held in the ancient hostelry. Either something exceptionally inviting must be presented or else something decidedly meagre will answer.

The doll drill by the center school carrying dolls, was quite distinctive and brought out not only correlated action, but pleasing expression.

The play by the Junior High school had its health message like the other numbers. Four young people in costume, representing visitors from England, China, Italy and Arabia, were guests of Uncle Sam on Health day and planned to take back ideas to their respective countries, incidentally giving a few health hints themselves.

"Around the Clock with Tommy" showed what a boy should be doing at given hours of the day.

"Out in the Garden" was a play replete with children in green caps representing different vegetables and all visited by a boy and a girl and also the Health Queen.

"Fourth of July" was a safety-first message cast in The-House-that Jack-Built phraseology.

Health rules and recitations by Cold Spring pupils gave the recipe followed by the boys and girls in their health work.

The relay game, gymnastic, wand and flag drills were carried out with precision, as was also the May Pole dance that formed the climax of the ceremonies.

An interesting feature of the exercises was the interest and determination manifest by children of foreign extraction.

In awarding the blue arm bands, Dr. J. L. Collard, school physician, said that he was proud of the children and called attention to the fact that they had in their program given the rules for getting 100 per cent health records. He expressed the wish that tags might also be awarded the elders on a given day each year, thinking it would make for a more healthful community. He said that in the last fifteen years the average life of man had been increased by five years.

Dr. Collard said that he looked forward to next year's Health day, when he hoped that instead of one school achieving 100 per cent in regard to the toxin anti-toxin treatment, all would come in under that classification. In gaining this goal he felt the need of cooperation on the part of the parents.

Piano accompaniments for the various songs and dances was made possible by an instrument brought to the park by willing hands.

Credit for the presentation as a whole should go not only to those who actively participated, but to the teachers of the grade schools who did the training, also to Miss Inman of the High school and to Miss Conklin who assisted with the costumes. Miss Mansfield, school nurse, likewise incurred much responsibility in connection with the program.

Much appreciation is due Dr. Sullivan who gave free dental examinations to all the pupils and made possible their attainment of one of the four health tags. Appreciation has also been expressed at the hearty cooperation of sundry citizens who so willingly took hold and assisted in moving the piano to the park and returning it and the chairs to the school buildings.

Unifying all these activities and co-ordinating them into one pleasing whole was Supt. H. C. Knight, whose interest in the health work of the boys and girls of the schools is keen and who considers this a vital phase of the school curriculum.

B. H. S. Baseball Hits

On May 15 the B. H. S. nine went to Bernardston and had little difficulty in defeating Powers' Institute. Our team scored enough runs in the first inning to win the game. We collected fourteen hits off Bernardston's three pitchers, Herbert Foley of the Big Twins, Corkins and Atherton. Bernardston was not so fortunate, only collecting three hits, these being very short. Piper fanned twelve Bernardston batters. Krol featured at the bat with four doubles. The outfielders made a few errors. Ostfienski, our first baseman, featured in a double play.

The team will go to Petersham to play the High school there today, May 18. Owing to the fact that Petersham always has a strong team, a lot of opposition is looked for.

B. H. S. will play its first home game, Tuesday, May 22, on the park. The opposing team will be Powers' Institute of Bernardston. A good game is expected and interest runs high. This being the first home game, a large crowd is hoped for.

Camp Arcadia Burns

Camp Arcadia in Shutesbury on Swift River, where several Belchertown men have spent many a happy vacation of greater or lesser length, burned last Saturday. This camp was acquired some years ago by Dr. S. P. Hopkins of Brooklyn, N. Y., and the late H. A. Hopkins of this town and year by year conveniences had been added so that it was almost as ideal in equipment as it was in setting. With the death of H. A. Hopkins, ownership passed to his brother.

A strange coincidence was that M. C. Baggs and Guy C. Allen, Jr. were fishing below the camp last Saturday and only chance occurance kept them from being there in time to save the building.

Records of many a fishing trip and outing, recorded in a "log", painstakingly kept by H. A. Hopkins, were consumed by the flames, but those who shared the events still recall much that happened there.

Now the A. A. 's

The Independents reorganized last night as the Belchertown A. A. (for Athletic Association) team and chose Wilfrid Noel, secretary; A. J. Sears, treasurer; Edward Parent, manager; and Simon Surabian, captain. A meeting will be held in the Legion rooms Monday evening at 8 at which time a president (preferably a business man) will be elected. All interested in baseball, whether players or not, are invited to this meeting.

Wednesday night the A. A.'s will meet Ludlow on the common at 6. On Memorial day the Holyoke cubs will be the opponents.

Fire Department Meeting

J. Howell Cook, fire chief, has called a meeting of the fire department and interested citizens at engine house hall, Monday evening at 7.30. Officers will be elected at this time and discussion as to equipment will be welcomed. With so many fires of late, there should be a good turnout, to offer constructive ideas.

Two More Fires

The fire department was called to two fires this past week. Last Friday night the Frank King place at Dwight burned to the ground. The furniture as well as the building was lost. There was no insurance. Mrs. King, whose husband died some time ago, was the owner, but was not living there at the time. The fire was reported by a Ludlow man passing by.

Last Sunday noon the department was called to a chimney fire at W. S. Piper's which did no damage.

B. H. S. Wins

The third straight win for B. H. S. was made last Tuesday, when Powers' Institute came down to be defeated by the same score, 17 to 6, as they were defeated by, a week ago on their home diamond.

The contest was not close at any time, and remained scoreless until the seventh inning when a change of pitchers for Belchertown let in six men for Powers' Institute.

Piper played his usual excellent game, both in the pitcher's box and at bat. Zitka featured with the first home run of the season for the team —a fast hit to right outfield. Ostafienski fulfilled the expectations of the home fans who were eager to see his first home game. Dependable and sure on first base, a heavy hitter, he is easily one of the best on

Light Opera at State School

It was a gay sight that greeted the pupils at the State school when the curtain was rung up on "The Toreadors", Monday and Tuesday evenings in the auditorium of the institution. Spanish in setting, the stage was a brilliant spectacle with the chorus and dancing girls attired in dazzling colors of delicate patterns, typical of that picturesque land. Hand-made pink flowers at the sides and apple blossoms overhead added to the scene, while the background was painted to represent a Spanish walled-in garden with quaint doors and windows in the walls.

There was action as well as gaiety, finding expression principally in the bevy of dancing girls with tambourines.

As far as the characters were concerned, there was the Senor Dictorio with twin daughters, and their lovers whom the Senor dictated must give place to gallant toreadors; there were the two beggars who volunteered to pose as toreadors for their real admirers; there was the arranging of the bull fight and the consequent dilemma; there was the entrance of the animal that had broken loose and the instantaneous exit of the "brave" men of the road; and there was the righting of things at the end. The poor, hungry beggars and their hair-breadth situations brought down the house time after time.

This was a light opera production in two acts and was an innovation at the school. About every other type of show had been staged, but this had escaped.

While the effect was brilliant, there was practically no expense, as most of the costumes were made by the pupils as a part of their daily work—or play. This time the pupils were asked to bring in pictures of Spanish costumes, so that there was an added interest in the making of the colorful creations.

The State school employees' orchestra furnished music, while Dr. A. E. Westwell coached and directed the production with his customary proficiency. This is probably the last indoor entertainment of the season at the school.

Entertainment, Whist Party and Minstrel

An entertainment, a minstrel show and a whist party aren't usually crammed into a single presentation in one evening, but this was the offering at Lawrence Memorial hall last Friday evening when St. Francis church provided the combination which attracted a good audience.

Local talent figured in the preliminary program which opened with an instrumental musical selection by Mr. Kearns and the Misses Corinne Giguere and Helen Shea. Little Helen Stacy gave a dance number, also Nannie Ahearn in the Charleston. A violin solo with piano accompaniment was contributed by the Shea sisters, and songs were given by Miss Regina Graton and Miss H. Bourassa. The Fun Makers, comprising comedians and musicians from South Hadley K. of C., added merriment to the occasion.

First Game a Tie

By Noel

The Belchertown A. A. opened its season Wednesday evening on the common with the Ludlow A. C., and after playing nearly six innings the game was called off on account of darkness by umpire Thomas Allen, with the score tied at 5 all. As the local team had scored two runs in the closing inning and there were no "outs," it looked as though the A. A.'s had a great chance of winning their first game of the season. But nevertheless, the game will go down on the records as a fine start.

As it had been poor baseball weather during the day, it looked quite doubtful whether the game could be played or not, but, as the time approached, the teams were practising and then the game started. The A. A.'s could not seem to connect off the slants of Alan Thompson, the Ludlow pitcher, but in the second inning, hits by Jack Fairchild and Connie Lynch and McCain's fielders' choice netted the first run of the game. The third inning saw the visitors land on Dewey's offerings for two runs, which were scored on Gagne's two-base

The program concluded with a minstrel show presented by Palmer Council, K. of C., comprising 45 men. This show, which had been given by them in several cities and at Leeds Veterans' hospital, made a hit here, especially by reason of its local adaptation. Numbers presented were:

"My Operation" Dan Sugrue
"There's Alway to Remember" William Barrett
Dance specialty Chic Cyer
"Songs my Mother Used to Sing" William Costello
"I-Scream" Jap Bresetter
"Rock Me to Sleep in an Old Rocking Chair" John Donahue
"When the Robert E. Lee Comes to Town" Pete Brouilette
"The Song is Ended" Henry Sullivan
Grand finale

The music was directed by Joseph Tierney of Springfield, the accompanist being Bernard Tierney, also of that city. John Donahue of Palmer was interlocutor. The end men had the large supply of local "cracks" all down pat and performed to perfection, especially the large, luscious darkey who was a whole show in himself.

A military whist party was enjoyed after the minstrel, a large number remaining. This was in charge of parties from Ware. Ice cream, cake and home-made fudge were on sale. The guest cake (with a cork inside) was won by Michael McKillop, who guessed its foreign content. Miss Mandy Eskett won the door prize of a silk umbrella.

The entertainment committee having in charge the evening's program was Miss Gertrude Riley, Mrs. Wells Stacy, Mrs. Thomas Flaherty and Miss Alice Flaherty. Rev. J. A. Dunphy had general charge and made the announcemets.

Holyoke Cubs to Play Here

By Noel

The Belchertown A. A., after their six-inning tie game with the Ludlow A. C. Wednesday evening, are practising for their big holiday game with the Cubs of Holyoke next Wednesday afternoon at 3.15 o'clock. The A. A.'s have plenty of pep and, with good support behind them, should provide local fans with a fine ball team. The Cubs, members of the City League of that city, boast a fine collection of ball players, such as Kisky Feldman, Sam Feldman, Bot Gansauage, Mackley, D. Clark, J. Clark, Frank McCain, Fisher and others.

It is hoped that a large crowd will turn out to cheer the A. A. on to victory.

Noah's Ark Club Notes

On May 17th, the Turkey Hill chapter of the Noah's Ark club gave a miscellaneous shower to Mr. and Mrs. James E. Clain at the home of Mrs. Clain's mother, Mrs. J. J. Archambault. Both Mr. and Mrs. Clain were considered members of the club but were automatically dropped at marriage. About 25 neighbors and friends congregated at Mrs. Archambault's at 7.30 and enjoyed games and dancing, followed by a mock wedding.

After the presentation of the gifts by the committee in charge of the affair, the captain announced the aim of the Noah's Ark club, To have the young and old of Turkey Hill, especially the young, better friends. He also announced that the Noah's Ark club wished to have Mr. and Mrs. Clain consider the club as their friends.

The committee in charge of the shower were Barbara Sears, First Mate, and Madeline Lemon, Second Mate. The older folks kindly helped in preparing the refreshments consisting of cake and lemonade, the latter being furnished by the hostess.

An interesting meeting was held at the home of Lillian Blanchard May 21st. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held June 1st at Donald Terry's at 7.30.

A party of about 30 attended a surprise shower given to the recently married Mr. and Mrs. James Clain at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Archambault, by the Noah's Ark club of Turkey Hill last week Thursday evening. A mock wedding was a feature of the affair in which Marie Hubbard was bride, Madeline Lemon, groom, Barbara Sears, maid of honor and Donald Terry best man, with R. Bartlett Green, officiating clergyman. Mrs. A. J. Sears represented the wedding bell and Mrs. Clarence Hubbard and Mrs. Robert Blanchard took the part of the floral arch. Out-of-door games were played and refreshments served. A clothes basket loaded with other gifts was presented the guests of honor.

Anyone with Morgan Memorial bags or those having material of any sort for that institution may leave word with H. F. Peck at Phillips' store and a truck will call for their donation, probably next Monday. Old clothing, newspapers and magazines, worn shoes, discarded furniture, almost anything except broken glass and tin cans, can be utilized by this institution which makes over cast off material into articles of usefulness and at the same time helps old and disabled men and women to be self-supporting. Thus discarded men and materials are redeemed at the same time.

Alterations are being made at the Ford Annex, a second floor being installed at the west end to enlarge the space for antique vehicles, etc. Caspar Ranger company of Holyoke have the contract.

Renewal of the college entrance certificate for three years has been received by the High school authorities.

Plans for Memorial Day have not yet materialized. Chauncey Walker Post is doing nothing as an organization, but individual members are planning to put flags on the graves on Sunday and to decorate the graves on Wednesday, probably in the morning. An effort is also being made to secure a speaker. There will be no band, as the town appropriation was cut to $100.

In previous years the local Post has pulled itself together for Memorial day, but divisions have put it in a bad way just now.

"GOOD morning, Boss. Say, could you spare me for an hour down at the garage? I don't feel just right. Shouldn't wonder if the gear shift or diffy needed some grease. Or maybe the clutch is slipping. Those birds never have much to say for themselves, but they do a lot of work and get awful mean when they don't feel right. When you have two pieces of steel working together, they are like a couple of strange bull terriers if you don't feed them plenty of oil and grease."

A NEW PLEASURE IN MOTORING FOR A FEW CENTS MORE A GALLON

WATCH those cars that draw up beside the Socony Special pump—new cars with high compression motors and veterans still going strong despite their carbonized cylinders.

Their owners are paying more a gallon—for what?

Not for transportation exactly. They could save the few cents, get Socony Gasoline, be absolutely protected against fuel troubles, and match mileage and upkeep records with anybody. No, the owners of these cars are looking for something different, and getting it. They are getting a perceptible improvement in the pick-up of the motor in traffic, a little more silk in the sound of its purr, a little more power on the steep hills, and a gratifying absence of knocking.

They're getting, in brief, a new and exciting pleasure in motoring, worth far more than the few extra cents they pay. Like Socony Gasoline and Socony Motor Oil, Socony Special is tested thirteen times before it reaches your car.

hit, A. Abair's sacrifice fly and another two-bagger by Ney.

The A. A.'s scored a run in the fourth, making the score 2 all. As it had been decided to play a five-inning game, both teams were planning to rally in the final inning to win the game. The visitors, batting first, scored a run and, as the local team did likewise, the teams were tied at 3 all.

Both teams then decided to play another inning. Ludlow again scored when, with Paluch and H. Abair on bases, Garrow's hit and Gagnes' out on first brought in two runs. Then came the feature of the game. Capt. Surabian reached first on an error, but having injured his left leg in running, King was substituted. Jack Fairchild then knocked a home run, thus tying the score at 5 all. Umpire Allen then called the game owing to darkness. Summary:

Belchertown Athletic Association News

By Noel

Carl F. Aspengren was elected president of the local athletic association at a meeting held in the Legion rooms on Monday evening. Plans are also under way to raise funds for purchasing equipment for the ball team, and membership cards have already been printed for that purpose. Anyone wishing cards may secure them from Secretary Wilfrid Noel. New uniforms have been ordered for the players and it is hoped that they will arrive in time for the holiday game.

Simon Surabian, Howell Cook and John Fairchild were elected a committee in regard to locating a new baseball field, while the following were elected a committee on by-laws: Jacob V. Cook, Andrew Sears and Wilfrid Noel.

The association is one of the best ever organized here and will probably plan to promote other sports in the future.

Another meeting will be held in the Legion rooms next Monday evening at 8 o'clock. A large attendance is expected.

Manager Eddie Parent of the Belchertown A. A. requests all the players to report for practice tonight.

Annual Fashion Show

Exquisite daintiness characterized the third annual fashion show of the Household Arts Department of B. H. S., held in Memorial hall, Tuesday evening at 8. It was evident in the invitations, in the way in which the hall was decorated, in the refreshments and the manner of their serving, in the program, in the fashion parade and in the showing of fancy articles on exhibition on the table in front of the hall.

The walls of the room were festooned with pink, while on the stage, by the means of a rose covered bower and small standing pines was depicted an Old Fashioned Garden, one of the musical selections. Amid such surroundings the guests gathered, being seated by fours at tables arranged on the main floor. The table coverings were of white trimmed with pink, made by the pupils. Waitresses in garb of like color, served, while the school orchestra played.

The next number was a song, "In An Old-Fashioned Garden," sung by six girls.

Following a saxophone, violin and piano number by Paige Piper, Miss Parker and Miss Maxine Fuller, came the fashion show. About 30 girls came down the hall and wound in and out among the tables so that all might see the clothes which they wore, the work of their own hands.

In introducing this feature, Prin. Allen commented on Paris fashions and Parisians, calmly asserting that neither outclassed the costumes and maidens passing before their eyes. The audience, by their applause as the girls passed in review, evidently thought likewise.

The program closed with a minuet by six girls in costume representing ye olden days, and a selection by the orchestra.

Following the entertainment, guests took the opportunity of examining the articles on display, which although not numerous were of exceptional quality. One article that attracted attention was a curtain of heart anchor work by Josephine Eurkus. Mr. Allen had explained, earlier in the evening that by reason of emphasis on home nursing, not as many articles were on display.

To Miss Martha Conklin, teacher of the department, goes great credit for the presentation.

Memorial Day Observance

Not with the roll of stirring drums, but rather by three strokes on the town bell, the Memorial day ceremonies started Wednesday morning. The exercises took place at the monument and opened with singing by High school pupils. Then followed the address by Rev. F. C. Rolls, pastor of the Congregational church, who carried the assembled citizens back in thought to the memorial ceremonies commemorating the escape of the Israelites from the oppression of Egypt, and the consequent question, "What mean ye by this service?", which might still be asked concerning the monuments of today, the closing of our stores on May 30, the laying of wreaths and the placing of emblems.

Going to the root of the trouble in all ages, he said that few people are capable of ruling justly, wisely and well, and that in consequence we have had autocracy, lately designated as Kaiserism. It is found in all departments of life. In industrialism it is "bossism". In school and community it is the bully that causes trouble, but the speaker pointed out that while the oppressed one may not be able to cope with the enemy in combat, a combination usually develops that "shows him where he gets off." This thing came about in the World war, he said.

In contrast with oppressive autocracy, Mr. Rolls put democracy, best defined in Lincoln's words of government of, by and for the people, but called attention to the suffering

Volunteer Fire Department Meeting

The meeting of the Belchertown Volunteer Fire Department and citizens, scheduled to precede the meeting of the Athletic Association, Monday evening at Engine House hall, was held afterwards instead. But the static of the baseball meeting had not died away. Committees were still meeting in the room, and Chief J. Howell Cook, presiding, had all he could do to do business. It was as much of a job to get a hearing as to steal home in a tight ball game.

It seemed that the volunteer department, which has been in a dormant state for some time had some money in the treasury, and it was thought best to rejuvenate it sufficiantly to annex these funds. Most of the sentiment expressed at the meeting was in favor of a call department, rather than a volunteer organization.

The desire was also expressed that waterproof coats and hats be obtained for the firemen. There was no discussion as to the purchase of a pumper or concerning hose and other essential equipment.

Under the circumstances it was thought best to hold another meeting on an open night, at which time it would be known just what funds are available. J. J. Fairchild was chosen treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the death of F. D. Walker.

May Basket Party

The members of the Ladies' Social Union had not the slightest idea of picnicking at either Brown's Beach, Aldrich Lake, Forest Park or Mt. Tom last Friday afternoon, and a May basket party was about as remote from their thoughts, but both materialized, the first figuratively and the second realistically. The surprise was due to the initiative and ingenuity of the hostess, Mrs. George Davis, at whose home the party was held.

The preliminary literary program consisted of a piano solo by Mrs. C. H. Sanford, an Everybody Sing, soit had cost in precious lives, whose memory we commemorate.

Speaking of the Civil war, the two vital questions were stated as, "Should slavery predominate and spread through the nation?" and "Should the nation be divided?"

We commemorate the brave men who sacrificed their lives, he said, because we are apt to forget the pit from which we have been drawn, and also because the work they began is not yet complete. While the Kellogg approaches are a source of great hope, it is still a difficult problem to get everybody in line. The idea of being "biggest", "best" and "first" predominates still.

In closing he said that we should determine that this thing shall not rest until liberty is perfectly won, not only in our own country, but in all the countries of the world.

At the close of the address the school gave another selection, after which Rev. Mr. Rolls offered prayer and pronounced the benediction.

The graves had been previously decorated by Legion men, and the wreath to the unknown dead was placed by H. L. Hadlock, the only G. A. R. man at the ceremonies. In fact only one other local Civil War veteran survives, S. W. Roode, who is ill. Mr. Hadlock carries his years remarkably well, standing in line with World War veterans during the exercises.

Four American Legion men placed a wreath at the honor roll: Roland M. Shaw, William Kimball, Lincoln Cook and Herbert Story. Edward Parent was instrumental in arranging for the ceremonies. Other American Legion members present were George Severance and Melvin Ayers.

While the Memorial Day observance was not as elaborate as usual, one feature of the day was not affected. Belchertown's sons and daughters came home as of yore. They were to be found in the cemetery tenderly placing flowers on the graves of those who have departed, and they were to be found on the village streets renewing friendship's ties in the spirit of "Lest we forget."

los by Mrs. Bert Collis, piano duet by Mrs. E. F. Shumway and Mrs. C. H. Sanford and readings by Mrs. Amy Witt. In the guessing game, "Bridal of Flowers," Mrs. H. F. Putnam won first prize of a wall vase; Mrs. R. A. French, second prize of two roses, and Mrs. Charles Trainor, booby prize of a toy frog.

At the conclusion of the program came the big surprise when May baskets, painstakingly constructed, were handed the guests. The baskets contained refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and cup cakes, with instructions to eat at some familiar resort—which might have been in China for all they knew, so badly were the letters transposed—in the next room that had previously been barred to the guests. Here was revealed a veritable fairyland. There were four tables, each with a May pole, in varying color schemes. At "Aldrich Lake," yellow and green predominated; at "Forest Park," pink and white; at "Brown's Beach," an assortment of colors, while "Mt. Tom," for the kiddies, was red, white and blue. At the "resorts" it was found that the baskets matched the May pole colors, and not only that, but salads, cake, coffee and favors of mixed nuts were in waiting.

The event was one long to be remembered by the 31 who attended (the tables were all filled). Mrs. Mabel Stebbins and Miss Myrtle Green assisted in entertaining. Mrs. Ayers accompanied at the piano.

"Some Small Gain"

The saying, "There's no geat loss without some small gain," has a timely local application. Everybody realizes the economic loss of the Park View property, but the water commissioners report that since the conflagration there has been renewed interest in connecting with the water system for regular service. In fact six applications have been received. Some of these services have been installed and others will be shortly, so let's capitalize the "some small gain," and hope that it will increase.

Annual Meeting of the Library Trustees

The annual meeting of the trustees of Clapp Memorial library was held Wednesday evening. Reports were submitted and officers elected.

The librarian, Mrs. Doris Squires, reported a total circulation of 10,343 books during the year, an increase of 42 over last year. The library received during the year 266 books from the collection of the late Rev. D. L. Hilliard, 75 presented by Miss Dorothy Holland of Ardmore, Pa., besides 50 from the state and other donors. New books also were purchased by the library.

Arthur F. Bardwell, treasurer, reported total receipts amounting to $1,516.76, and expenditures amounting to $1,262.18, with a balance on hand of $254.58. Several unusually large items were included in this report, $550 for repairs on the stained glass window at the south end of the building, and $525 for a new furnace, part of the latter, however, having been paid direct from the appropriation by the town. The sum of $115 was also spent in masonry repairs on the chimney and coping.

It was voted to extend the appreciation of the trustees to the Hilliard family for their gift of books. It was also decided to change the library hours to Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons from 2.30 to 5, and Saturdays evenings from 7 to 9.

Thomas Allen was elected president of the board of trustees, and A. F. Bardwell, treasurer. Officers are elected for a term of two years, two being elected every alternate year, so that the term of the vice president and secretary does not expire until next year. Mrs. Doris Squires was elected librarian and Miss Marion E. Bartlett assistant librarian. The committee on purchasing books consists of Thomas Allen, Mrs. Doris Squires, Miss Marion Bartlett and Mrs. Louise Sherman.

Death of George E. Claflin

George Elmer Claflin, 74, died at his home on Jabish St., Thursday morning at 7, after a long sickness and several years of ill health. He was born in South Barre, Vt., Oct. 4, 1853 and after residence in other places, including Boston, came here to live some 30 years ago.

Mr. Claflin leaves two nephews, W. S. Piper of this town and Arthur Piper of Spokane, Washington, also a niece, Mrs. Dean Brown of this place.

The funeral will be in the chapel, Saturday afternoon at 2, Rev. F. C. Rolls, officiating. Burial will be in South cemetery.

Home Talent Play Tonight

"How the Club Was Formed" is the title of a 3-act comedy to be presented in the chapel tonight at 8 by the Social Guild. The stage has been temporarily enlarged to care for the 14 characters in the play which is said to be a dandy. There will be music by an orchestra and also violin and saxophone solos. Adults will be charged 35 cents and children 25 cents, while "special rates to large families" hold unknown possibilities.

State School Superintendent Honored

Dr. George E. McPherson, superintendent of the State school, was elected president of the American Association for the Study of the Feeble-minded at the annual meeting held last week Thursday to Saturday at Atlantic City.

Dr. McPherson gave an address at this meeting on the early treatment of the feeble-minded and traced its evolution to the present time.

Dr. A. E. Westwell gave a paper on recreation in a state institution. He spoke not only from his own experience here, but also summarized data which he had gathered from like institutions in the country.

Home Economics Meeting

Tuesday evening was Home Economics night at Union grange. The program opened with a roll call, the members responding to the question, "What labor-saving device, indoors or out, appeals to you most?" This was followed by a discussion on, "What are the Essentials of a Modern Farm Home?" Another discussion in a somewhat lighter vein, which was entered into by nearly all present, was, "Which Helps More, a Woman Outdoors, or a Man Indoors?" Carl Aspengren contributed a vocal solo, and Mrs. Pearl Green and Mrs. Clarinda Shaw a duet.

The grangers then sat down to a supper furnished by the members, each one contributing the family's favorite dish. With no pre-arrangement as to what others would bring, the supper was nevertheless well-balanced as to desserts and the more hearty dishes and was considered an unusually fine feast. About 45 were present.

The committee in charge of the evening were Mrs. E. F. Shumway, chairman, Mrs. H. H. Ward, Mrs. H. F. Curtis and Mrs. J. R. Newman.

The next meeting will be Children's Night, June 19, in exchange with the Home Economics meeting of Tuesday evening.

Cultivating the Spirit of Brotherhood

An event in New York City on the evening of April 19 has not received the attention it deserves. That evening 50 men of the Men's Brotherhood of the Central Synagogue, and a like number from the Catholic Parishes from New York were guests of the Men's Club of the Broadway Tabernacle Church at a dinner which was called "A Triangular Goodwill Dinner." Fifty Congregationalists, fifty Jews and fifty Catholics ate together. And at the close the 150 men declared that the stock of "Goodwill" had been increased. They found that they had many things in common, and that benefit was derived by discussing very frankly their many differences. Rabbi Wise in his address impressed his hearers with his firm belief that they were brothers because they all worshipped the same Father. And Father Duffy, speaking out of his war experiences as Chaplain, declared that when men faced a common experience, they found themselves brothers. And Doctor Jefferson clearly pointed out that the final test was not in unanimity of opinion or belief (differences were often quite acceptable) but whether men holding different views could live together in the community in a neighborly fashion. One pleasant feature of the evening was that before each address selections of music appropriate to the faith presented were rendered.

This is an illustration of the way the whole world is being drawn together. Dr. Grenfell tells of the penalty he inflicted on two people who had a quarrel. He bade them drink tea together for a week. How much better this is than separation and hatings and finally war!

Clinic for Pre-School Children

Dr. J. L. Collard, school physician, and Miss Kathryn Mansfield, school nurse, will conduct a clinic for children of pre-school age at the several grade schools next week.

Following is the schedule:

Tuesday afternoon from 1 to 2 at the center grade school

Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 3 at Union school

Wednesday afternoon at Franklin and Cold Spring schools

Thursday afternoon at Liberty and Washington schools

Parents with children who will enter school next fall are invited to bring them to these clinics where they will receive a thorough physical examination so that any physical defects may be detected in time for correction before school opens next fall. It is the hope of the school authorities that every child may begin school with 100 per cent physical condition.

Second Shooting Case

The second shooting case of the year in town took place Saturday night when Emil Gauthier of Ludlow was fatally wounded as a result of the discharge of a shot gun in the hands of Joseph Parent at his shack on the old Springfield road near John Stadler's. Parent returned from town early in the evening after purchasing groceries, and found Gauthier and four others, said to be hangers-out at his place, occupying the premises. He immediately ordered them away, but to no avail. In a melee which followed later, Gauthier is said to have grabbed the threatening gun in the hands of Parent, whereupon it was discharged.

The injured man was taken to the Holyoke hospital by Dr. J. L. Collard and died in a few minutes. Parent was arrested by Sheriff Allen and is held for murder. Parent is said to be a man of industry, but in the grip of poor companions.

The first shooting case of the year was at Dwight, which was a suicide case.

Word has been received through William Burr Hill of New York, of the death on May 22 of Mrs. Hill after an illness of six months. Mrs. Hill was Illie Clapp, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight P. Clapp and with her parents spent her summers here for many years. Her father is remembered as one of the donors of Clapp Memorial library and Mr. Hill is still one of the trustees. The library is named in the will as one of the legatees under certain contingencies which, however may not develop for some time. Mrs. Hill spent much of her life abroad on account of her health, and after her father's death the summer home on South Main street passed into other hands.

Miss Champagne of Holyoke was the guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright of Maple street.

The quarterly meeting of the Board of Trade will be held in Memorial hall next Monday evening at 8.

Miss Alice Randall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight C. Randall of Blue Meadow, was one of five girls out of a class of 65 to receive her diploma Monday from the Stockbridge School of Agriculture at Amherst college.

The post office at Dwight was discontinued June 1, patrons now being served from the Amherst office.

A meeting of the teachers in town was held Wednesday afternoon for reports and discussion.

"Bound to Rise"

The youth of Belchertown may well take note of an outstanding instance of perseverance close at hand that came to light Wednesday with the visit of Harold Shaw on his former school superintendent, Alvan R. Lewis. Shaw came to Enfield as a state boy some years ago and later lived in the home of R. A. French of Granby. After completing a high school education, he joined the army and for the last three years has been stationed at Honolulu.

It had always been the goal of his ambition to enter West Point. For three years he has taken examination after examination, only to fail, but each time returned better prepared. At last he has won out and will enter West Point this fall. So if at first we don't succeed, let us remember the challenge of this exploit.

Our Liberty Pole

We have on our common, I've been told,
One of the most lofty flag staffs in the state,
And like many of us, it's getting old —Deserves attention e'er it's too late—
So the officials of the B. F. & M. Club, loyal and true,
As we had painted the band stand, painted the pole too,
So now when our flag floats on the breeze,
Up towards Heaven, way above the trees,
Those dear old veterans who have gone, will know
We still honor and protect Old Glory here below.

A. A. Baseball Notes

By Noel

The Belchertown A. A. Baseball team was defeated by the Ludlow Whippets in a game played in their town Sunday by a score of 13 to 5. With the exception of the fatal 7th, in which the local team "cracked," Jack Fairchild, the veteran slinger, pitched a wonderful game. Although touched up for 12 hits, he struck out 10 men and issued three passes. The hitting of King and McCain were features of the game. The former also played a fine game in left field, catching two difficult flies. Bushee and Thompson took care of the mound work for the Whippets and kept the local team hits well scattered, while Walls featured at the bat, getting three hits in as many trips to the plate.

Manager Eddie Parent of the Belchertown A. A.'s has booked two games for the coming week. On Sunday afternoon the local nine will play the Hatfield town team in that town. Next Wednesday evening the A. A.'s will play the Ludlow Whippets on the common in a twilight game at 6 o'clock. The local nine is in hopes of turning the tables on the Ludlow team which recently won from the A. A.'s and a large crowd is expected to see this game.

Discuss Fire Equipment

The Board of Trade meeting of Monday evening turned out to be a conference with Mr. Falt of Springfield, representing a company dealing in fire fighting equipment. He also assisted in forming the East Longmeadow fire department, so the discussion did not wholly concern the sale of equipment. He was willing to assist in reorganizing the local department and training the men and he was also willing to sell the town a siren with which to give an alarm.

He ventured the opinion that it takes central three minutes each to call up the several department men, and didn't think the method compared at all with pressing a button, which would give an instantaneous alarm.

Mr. Falt advocated a double head type affair of 5 horse power with a guaranteed penetrating radius of 1½ to 2 miles. This would cost about $450. A one-way 3 horse power outfit would be about $100 less, but with a radius of only ¾ of a mile. He was willing to put one in on a thirty-day trial. It was pointed out that variation in signals could designate the type of fire—whether brush, house, etc.

Play at Chapel

"The Samantha Matilda Jones Optimistic Club" shone in all its glory at the chapel last Friday night when a play, "How the Club was Formed" was put on under the auspices of the Social Guild. There were 14 members of the "club" who joined one by one, determined to get some relief from the drudgery of their monotonous lives. But the determination of Mrs. Jones (Mrs. Louise Sherman) in forming the club did not end there. She was determined to name it, to be its president and to run it—and she did. They submitted names but she had named it; they submitted officers, but she officered it; they submitted "compositions" but she censored them; they protested, but she persisted, and when busting seemed inevitable by reason of bickering and backbiting, she busted it. She was the leading lady, all right.

But they all led as to costume, for the club wasn't formed in 1928. Long skirts, broad hats with ample arrangement of attire, and even the pictures of revered ancestors on the wall at the rear of the stage betokened an earlier day. Even the club idea was imported from Boston.

Other members of the cast were Mrs. G. E. Scott, Mrs. W. S. Piper,

Children's Day Concert

Children's day at the Congregational church was the usual auspicious affair, only more so, if anything, by reason of the Junior choir of 23 voices which rendered two anthems. Forty-five children marched in and later appeared on the platform in varied numbers. The program follows:

Demonstration at State School

The program at the State School Wednesday evening might well be classified as an entertainment, but it was more than that; it was a demonstration of the work of the Music and Physical Education classes at the institution. A glance at the program shows not only the scope of the work carried on, but the tone and character of it as well, revealing the fact that the instructors are not simply passing the time away.

The offerings were by the younger pupils. The girls figured large and made a neat appearance on the stage in their white dresses. The boys, too, received their round of applause, especially in their gym performance, which was well executed by nine of their number, and proved entertaining as well.

One of the daintiest numbers was the minuet staged by three couples (6 First Class girls). The "boys" wore attire indicative of other days, while the maidens were fair indeed in their sweet bonnets and long, flowing dresses. The doll dance was another special feature.

Miss Deatheridge was in general charge of the presentation. Miss Dray assisted at the piano and also with the program.

Receives Letter of Commendation

Mrs. Marion K. Shaw, teacher of the 5th and 6th grades at the center, recently carried out a fire prevention project which included a visit of the pupils to the engine house where J. Howell Cook, fire chief, gave a practical demonstration of that end of the work. The project began with the early history of fire making, the flint lock, the seven-day match, etc.

The following letter has been received by Mrs. Shaw from Miss Somers, of the state department of education.

Mrs. Marion K. Shaw
Belchertown
Massachusetts.

My dear Mrs. Shaw:

I cannot tell you how pleased I was to receive the fire prevention project on which your pupils have been working for the last month. It is a perfectly splendidly worked out project and has many interesting and unique features to it. I am most anxious to have a chance to show it to our committee which meets about the middle of May.

Please extend to your pupils my appreciation of the work and again I thank you very much for your part in it.

Very sincerely yours,
Florence A. Somers,
Asst. Supervisor of Physical Education

B. A. A. News

The A. A.'s lost a close game to the So. Barre nine in that town Sunday afternoon, 5 to 2, in a 7-inning contest. The game which was scheduled to have been played with the Hatfield town team was cancelled by the latter and the management immediately arranged for this game. Poor base throwing coupled with a few errors lost the game for the local team. The only earned runs scored by So. Barre were the 2 runs which they scored in the first inning. The two runs scored by the A. A.'s were the result of some timely hitting by Robinson and Fairchild. Harnish played a fine game at 1st base for the A. A.'s. J. King pitched good ball for So. Barre, being touched up for only four hits.

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
So. Barre	2	0	0	1	1	1				— 5
B. A. A.	0	1	0	0	0	0	1			— 2

Batteries: So. Barre, J. King and Barnot. B. A. A., Fairchild and McCain.

The Ludlow Whippets defeated the B. A. A. on the common Wednesday evening 13-3. Although the A. A. took the lead by scoring three runs in the 1st inning, the visitors came back strong in the 4th and scored 7 runs on five hits, a base on balls and three errors. This rally broke up the home team's chances of a victory for Bushee kept the A. A. hits well scattered.

Innings,	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Whippets	1	1	1	7	3	0				—13
B. A. A.	3	0	0	0	0	0				— 3

Batteries: Whippets, Bushee and Abair; B. A. A., Surabian, Dewey and McCain.

Manager Eddie Parent of the B. A. A. has booked the present A. C. of Willimansett to play here next week Friday evening at 6. The A. A. is not having much success as yet, having won only 1 game in 5 starts, but the season is early yet and local fans are still looking forward to a winning team.

The A. A. is represented by a fine group of players, and if the infield, which has been the weak spot of the team, can be shifted around, the local team will soon be a winning combination.

The association will hold an important business meeting in the Legion room next Monday evening at 8 o'clock. All members having membership cards which are not sold are requested to report at the meeting.

"good morning, motor"

"MORNING, RED. Say, Red, help me to put up a job on the Boss, will you? He isn't going to use me today—just drove down for some gas. Tell him you'd like to give me the once-over. Offer to drive him up to the house and then bring me back. The point is, the Madam bought some cheap oil last week and it's nearly killing me. If I don't get rid of it and dose up on some of your good old medium, I'm going to be sick. Already my crank shaft is rheumatic and my bearings are squealing. If the boss starts to argue, draw a little of the oil from my crank case and show it to him. Ask him how I'm taking the hills. That'll make him blush. You are the only one who understands my innerds and how much I need the best gas and oil. Go to it, Red."

YOUR SPEEDOMETER DOESN'T TELL YOU THE HALF OF IT

MILEAGE? Yes, but that's the least important of several good reasons for stopping at the Socony pump and nowhere else. Motors stay young on a regular diet of Socony Motor Gasoline and Socony Motor Oil. Some members of our own big automotive fleet have run 90,000 and 100,000 miles with only minor repairs. Any car owner who standardizes on Socony Motor Gasoline and Oil can do as well and many do.

Try Socony Special

If you drive one of the new high compression motors, or an older model with carbon in the cylinders, try Socony Special Gasoline. It eliminates knocking, improves pick-up and gives you an extra lift of power on the steep hills. It works as well in spring and summer as in winter. Like Socony Gasoline and Socony Motor Oil, Socony Special is tested thirteen times before it reaches your car.

Senior Class Trip

Early on the morning of June 13, the Senior Class of 1928, through a veil of fog, started on their class trip to Boston.

We rolled along regardless of traffic until we neared a small lake in a suburb of Boston. There, feeling hungry and in need of exercise, we stopped and ate our lunch that the girls had put up the day before. Then, collecting the remainder, we continued our trip to the big city.

The first place of interest was the Public Gardens. We walked through the common to the State House. Here it was our privilege to be ushered into the Governor's Chamber. Francis W. Aldrich, councilman from Springfield, personally greeted each pupil. We were honored by having Capt. Foster, the head State House guide, as our escort. We visited the Hall of Flags, House of Representatives where we saw the "Sacred Cod." Senate room, reception rooms, etc.

We then visited King's chapel and the old King's Chapel burying ground that was used first in 1630. Continuing on, we visited Faneuil hall. Here we signed the names of the Senior class of 1928. We then went through the Quincy Market, the largest single market in the world.

On our way back up town, we saw the Old State House on Washington St. We continued toward the Common. As we passed along, we saw Filene's, Jordon Marsh's, Gilchrist's, Shepherd's, Stearn's, Slattery's, etc. We also saw the Park St. Church.

We then visited the Public Library. While at Copley Square, we saw the Copley Plaza hotel and Trinity church, also Boston University, just around the corner.

It took five taxis to convey us back to the Metropolitan. Here we saw a very beautiful theatre, one of Boston's finest. The class secured seats together in the first three rows of the balcony.

The Belchertown bus was ready at the theatre door at five o'clock. Needless to say, it picked up twenty-three happy but tired Seniors. We felt revived, however, by the time we reached Worcester. During the lapse of time, all traces of our lunch vanished. We stopped at the White City at Lake Quinsigamond. All enjoyed themselves, some on the roller coaster, some on other features of amusement, and the rest enjoyed a hot dog or a cold drink.

In a half hour we were ready to continue our trip home. The class joined in singing popular and school songs. When we reached Enfield, a cheer—"Yea Martha, Yea Conklin, Yea, Yea, Martha Conklin," was led by Paige Piper.

Much of the success of the trip is due our genial bus driver, Mr. Ketchen, who did all in his power to make it enjoyable from start to finish.

A STATEMENT

RELATING TO THE FUTURE OF THE CHRYSLER CORPORATION and DODGE BROTHERS, INC.

The widespread public interest in recent events affecting the Chrysler Corporation and Dodge Brothers, Inc., deserves an authentic and official statement and an assurance regarding the future of these two corporations.

Subject to the approval of stockholders, Dodge Brothers, Inc., will be acquired by the Chrysler Corporation, the plan of amalgamation having been recommended by their respective boards of directors.

Each of these great institutions will retain its identity, and will continue, as heretofore, to produce and market its own product in accordance with the high and progressive standards from which motor car buyers the world over have previously benefited.

Each will benefit from the consummation of a plan which unites such tremendous resources in material, manufacturing facilities, financial power and manufacturing genius.

Dodge Brothers will continue to be Dodge Brothers, and Chrysler will be Chrysler. Their products will be separate and distinct and will be continued in production without interruption. Their sales organizations will be unrelated except as they shall mutually share in the advantages of the consolidation.

Both public and dealers may look forward to the greater benefits which the consolidation of such tremendous resources will produce—and the men identified with these businesses may be assured of a stable and definite future, inspired by the progressiveness which has been responsible for this uniting of two great companies.

Springfield Fire Department was present and contributed much to the discussion by occasional observations concerning that department which he has served for the last 32 years. He told how men are trained in Springfield, and invited any here who were interested to witness the work done there.

His comments as to fire fighting and the use of equipment were quite enlightening. Both Chief Felton and Mr. Falt had sincere words of praise for the way the North Main St. fire was stopped, calling it a fine piece of work. The visitors also thought the town fortunate in saving the buildings around the hotel.

In discussioon concerning the worst fire hazards in town, the Congregational and Methodist churches were spoken of as the most dangerous by reason of their height.

Chief Cook of the Fire Department was present and participated in the discussion. He spoke in favor of getting a trained set of men out quickly rather than a larger number who would not be needed.

Chief Felton saw no reason why the town could not have a department to be proud of and called it working for glory and not for money.

It was 11.30 before the fire-y discussion was over and Chief Cook "carried from the burning building" (this stunt being a demonstration of how to carry a person to safety, leaving one arm free).

The meeting developed nothing but words, but action may be the result from it some day. As intimated at the start, the regular Board of Trade quarterly meeting got sidetracked by reason of the conference.

Children's Night at Grange

Children's Night at Grange has always been considered a banner night and the presentation Tuesday evening will make it none the less so in the future. Everyone marvelled at the full bill of fare provided. The three-act play was the main feature and it was an entertainment all in itself. About a dozen children participated. Buster Black, the negro youth was the conspicuous member of the cast, perfectly willing to shut his mouth (or nearly so) for ten cents and to lend the amount to a fellow youngster, making him sign an alleged note which really bought him body and soul. In fact he was able to do most everything but fill up his stomach. He even begrudged the space taken by the hole in the doughnut. This part was played by Phyllis Rawson.

Other parts not as prominent, were creditably taken. The program was as follows:

Songs Edith Putnam, Josephine Lincoln
Songs Robert Shaw, Kenneth Collard
"Just Plain Dot" First Act
Piano solo Betty Ketchen
Song Ruth Chamberlain
Violin solo James Collard
"Just Plain Dot" Second Act
Songs Sixth grade children
Piano solo Myrtle Baggs
Violin solo James Collard
"Just Plain Dot" Third Act

Ice cream was served at the close of the program, the children coming in for their share free. Miss Orlando was in charge of the evening's entertainment and deserves credit for its excellence.

Class Banquet

Wednesday evening the last purely class function of the class of 1928 was a banquet held in the High school auditorium. The table was attractively decorated with the class colors, blue and gold. Miss Rose Menard, president of the class, was toast-mistress. Mr. Allen and Mr. Surabian responded with after-dinner speeches. Both speakers placed emphasis on the value of an alumni and stated their hope that the class of 1928 might become active alumni of B. H. S. Mr. Allen suggested that a similar banquet might be held in following years at reunion time.

The banquet, the first of its kind in the history of the school, was a success in every way. The faculty and Mr. Jackson were guests of the class. The girls of the Junior class were the waitresses. Much of the credit for this initial event goes to Miss Conklin, Senior teacher.

Children's Day at M. E Church

Children's Day was observed at the Methodist church last Sunday. Although several members were unable to be there because of sickness, quite an extensive program was carried out. The children marched in singing, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," and up to the platform where they sang, "The Master's Garden."

The following program was then rendered:

Scripture reading and prayer Pastor
Welcome John Collis
Flower Children Five children
Song, Daisies in a Row Four girls
Little Robins Edith Putnam, Ruthella Conkey and Ruth Chamberlain
Lullaby Ruth Parish
Song, Little Builders Three boys
Some of the Boys of the Bible Charles Howard, Junior Kempkes and Clifton Witt
Recitation Arlene Matska
Song, Tell Me, Pretty Robin School
The Queer Preacher Lillian Upham

Junior High Graduation

Parents and friends visited the Junior High school yesterday afternoon to witness the graduating exercises by the pupils of the eighth grade in charge of Miss Edith Towne, teacher. Certificates of promotion were presented the members of the class by Supt. H. C. Knight with a few words of congratulation. Rev. F. C. Rolls was also present and spoke.

Following is the program as given by the pupils:

Song, On Venice Waters School
Recitation, Paddle Your Own Canoe Amelia Gubola
Recitation, The Man Who Sticks Ray McDonald
Essay, Lindbergh Madeline Lincoln
Recitation, The Lilt of a Laugh Oscar Olson
Song, A Perfect Day Eighth Grade
Recitation, The Psalm of Life Ethel Bruce
Essay, Bremen's Flight Austin Warren
Recitation, The Inchcape Rock Evelyn Sessions
Essay, Mary Lyon Barbara Baggs
Recitation, Keep On Going Laura Butler
Recitation, The House by the Side of the Road Francis Quinn
Essay, Harvard University James Collard
Song, America, the Beautiful

The motto of the class at the front of the room was, "Nothing Gained Without Work."

B. A. A. Notes

The Belchertown A. A. defeated the Spartan A. C. of Indian Orchard on Nutting's Field in Granby last Sunday by a 10 to 6 score. George Dewey, acting captain of the A. A., elected himself to pitch the game and hurled one of the best games of his career. He allowed his opponents two hits, these coming in the 8th inning, gave a base on balls and struck out five of the Orchard lads. Billy Blaine, the visit-

Perfumes

We are told that in Japan they play a perfume game which is something as follows: They will have in a room some twenty different kinds of incense. Some one will mix two or three kinds of incense and then the people by smelling the mixture will guess what ingredients it contains, and the one wins who has the largest number of correct answers.

Some one has boasted that he could tell blindfolded the kind of an apple that might be handed to him, by the senses of touch, taste and smell. This suggests amusing and profitable games for us to play. Blindfold the members of the party one by one and see how many perfumes they could guess correctly, simply from a sense of smell, or how many kinds of flowers, or different odorous plants. We probably would find that we had not cultivated our sense of smell as we have our sense of sight or sound.

What a great variety of perfumes there are in nature! Ralph Waldo Emerson speaks of inhaling the "violet's breath." But each flower has a different breath. What an infinite variety of perfumes there is in a flower garden!

But trees have perfumes as well as flowers. There is one perfume of the root and another perfume of the bark and still another perfume of the leaves. There is one perfume from a pine tree, and another perfume from the cedar tree, and still another from the balsam tree. The writer will not forget the fragrance of the balsam pillows found in the Adirondacks.

A forest is a great aggregate of perfumes, from mosses and roots and plants and fruits and the ground itself. Even the air of the snow capped mountain has a "sweet smell."

These perfumes are all for man's enjoyment. We ought to cultivate our sense of smell.

ing pitcher and brother of Mickey Blaine, well-known Indian Orchard boxer, also pitched a fine game, allowing six hits, three in the first inning and a like number in the 7th.

The A. A. scored five runs in the first inning. With one out, Piper singled. Robinson was sent in to run for him. McCain hit a two-bagger, scoring Robinson. Fairchild's single brought in McCain. Dorey was out, Blaine to G. Barron, Fairchild advancing a base. Story reached first on Therrien's error, Fairchild scoring. King walked. Robinson hit a grounder, which E. Gagne mussed up, and reached first safely, while Story and King scored. In the seventh, with one out, Harnish singled, Piper reached first on an error; Robinson was again sent in to run for him. McCain got another two-bagger, scoring Harnish. Fairchild hit a hard grounder to first, Robinson and McCain scoring. Dorey walked. Story's single scored Fairchild, while Dorey reached third. King hit to short, but reached first safely, Dorey scoring.

The Spartans scored five runs in the eighth. G. Barron got to first on Harnish's error; Therrien and E. Barron singled, G. Barron scoring. Blaine was out on a fly to Story. Robinson muffed Hackett's fly and Therrien and E. Barron scored. J. Gagne reached first on Dorey's error. Cherusciel hit to left field; King believing it to be a foul ball, did not attempt to field the ball and Hackett and J. Gagne scored. The visitors scored their final run in the ninth. McCain's hitting, a nice running catch by Piper, and the fielding of Story and Blaine were features of the game, the latter handling ten chances.

Manager Eddie Parent of the B. A. A. announces that he has arranged to use Nutting's Field in Granby and that there will be Sunday ball games for the remainder of the season. Plans are also being made to have a bus for transportation of local fans to the grounds at 30 cents for the round trip. The local players certainly played a fine game last Sunday, for the Spartans are the best team they have played as yet.

Tonight, the B. A. A. will play the Crescent A. A. of Willimansett on the common at 6 p. m. The probable batteries for the game are: B. A. A., Dewey and McCain; C. A. A. Stevens and Wuench.

The well-known North Brookfield nine will furnish the attraction on Nutting's Field in Granby on Sunday, the game being scheduled to start at 2 p. m. A large crowd is hoped for at these games to cheer the B. A. A. on to victory.

At the meeting of the Belchertown Athletic association in the Legion rooms Monday evening, Simon Surabian, captain of the baseball team, resigned, as he is leaving town. Mr. Surabian gave a short talk and wishes the association the best of success in promoting athletic teams in town. George Dewey was then elected captain of the A. A. for the remainder of the season.

Baccalaureate Service

Rev. J. A. Dunphy, in his baccalaureate address to the class of 1928 at the union service at Memorial hall Sunday night, impressed upon the graduates the responsibility that would be theirs in the days that lie ahead. He called attention to some of the ills of the time—the difficulty in getting a jury to bring in a just verdict, the breakdown of authority in the home, and the disrespect for law, especially evidenced in connection with the Volstead act. He spoke of the rise of class discriminations and distinctions, with the resulting social ostracism indulged in by those who call themselves 100 per centers, who classify others according to their own "whimsical fancies" and "vivid imaginations", allowing no equality or liberty of conscience and flaunting the fact that they were here before others.

In the face of these conditions, Fr. Dunphy called upon the class of 1928 to be another Moses to lead the people out from the land of special privilege, to the ideal of one country, one flag and one God.

The speaker laid emphasis on the spiritual qualities of life, stating that love preserves its object while hate destroys it. He called upon the class to be careful not to be ensnared by the ways of the world and become derelicts of human society on the great sea of life. He spoke of the observations of the New York judge, who maintained that many young people come to a sad ending by the path of smoking and drinking and other excesses, all in the attempt to be "good sports".

His advice was to consider the sacred heritage handed down to them by their ancestors and to pass on intact to posterity the values thus acquired by a strict adherence to the principles they had been taught.

In concluding, Rev. Dunphy quoted from baccalaureate messages at nearby colleges and academies, from men and women of note, and called attention to their emphasis on moral and spiritual qualities, with the need of living godly lives and recognizing others' rights. He termed education as something external, while the greatest test of their lives would come, he said, with the opportunity to demonstrate the moral qualities they possessed.

Nineteen of the 25 members of the class were present and rendered four musical selections, Miss Parker accompanying at the piano. Fr. Dunphy read the scriptures and Rev. F. C. Rolls offered prayer and pronounced the benediction.

Invitation from Greenwich

Mrs. Dora Wesley, secretary of Union grange, is in receipt of the following letter, which is of interest to grange members.

Union Grange No. 64
Belchertown, Mass.
Worthy Secretary:

Greenwich Grange No. 245 extends an invitation to the members of your Grange collectively and individually, collectively if possible, to attend the Fourth of July celebration at Greenwich July 4th, 1928.

This event is of considerable importance as it is the last public gathering we hold before the Valley will be taken over by the Metropolitan Water Commission.

The Hon. David I. Walsh, U. S. Senator, and several other notables will be with us, and Alvin T. Fuller will designate an orator to represent the Commonwealth.

If possible, try to bring enough members to participate in the parade which will start at 10 o'clock A. M.

Fraternally,
Lillian S. Johnston, Sec.

Ed. Note—We might add that members of the Greenwich celebration committee have requested us to extend through our columns a general invitation to Belchertown people to take in this event.

Starrett's band will be there for the day. Sports and baseball are afternoon features. On Sunday, July 1, at 3 p. m. at the Greenwich church, a union service will be held to which neighboring communities are invited.

To Form Camp Here

All sons of veterans of the G. A. R. and others interested in the organizing of a Camp in Belchertown for the purpose of carrying on the work previously done by the G. A. R., are invited to meet at Engine House hall, Wednesday, June 27, at 8 o'clock.

There will be two speakers from the Amherst Camp which is interested in the situation in Belchertown. In fact the report had gotten to Amherst that the graves had not been decorated and flagged here this year and they were thinking of taking over the work.

H. L. Hadlock, the only active local G. A. R. man remaining, and sons of veterans see no reason why it cannot be attended to without outside help and think a local camp of veterans the logical heir to the duties of the G. A. R.

Investigation has revealed that there are 24 sons and grandsons of veterans in town eligible to membership in such an organization. It is said that 15 can secure a charter. In some camps, associate membership is permissible.

In view of the near non-observance of Memorial Day in town this year, and in all due respect to the thousands upon thousands who died to save the republic, it is hoped that there will be an active interest manifest in the effort to save the day.

Town Items

The quarterly conference of the M. E. church will be held Sunday afternoon at 3. Rev. Dr. L. A. Nies of Springfield will preside.

Death of Mrs. Jennie S. Hockenhull

Mrs. Jennie S. Hockenhull, 78, died at her home on South Main St., Sunday afternoon at 1, after a confining illness of many years. She was born in Jacksonville, Ill., the daughter of Robert and Matilda (McMackin) Hockenhull. Her father came to this country from Cheshire, England, and afterward married Miss McMackin of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Hockenhull was a teacher of art at the college of Jacksonville at the time that Miss Mary L. Allen of this town was teaching music at the same college. Mrs. Hockenhull spent several summers here and about 30 years ago took up her residence in this town with Miss Allen. She gave lessons in drawing here and at one time conducted a large class free of charge. She was a member of the Episcopal church.

Besides her devoted friend, Miss Allen, she leaves a sister, Mrs. Harsha of Colorado, and a niece, Mrs. Robert E. Chamberlain of this town, also nieces at Atlantic City. The

The funeral was held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the home. Rev. Arthur Chase of Ware officiated, assisted by Rev. F. C. Rolls. The bearers were Thomas Allen, Roswell Allen, Harold F. Peck and William E. Shaw. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Speaks to Sons of Veterans

Com. Cook of the Amherst Camp of Sons of Veterans spoke to the sons of veterans of this town in Engine House hall, Wednesday evening, relative to the forming of a camp here, Fifty-three belong in Amherst, and there is a hearty cooperation between them and the American Legion, for whom he had a cordial word.

Com. Cook said that if nothing was done by local organizations, the Amherst camp positively would see that Memorial Day exercises are held next year in this town.

Those present wanted very much to swing an organization of their own, but not enough were present to form a camp. Another meeting is called for July 10. In the meantime definite solicitation will be made to round up a constituency. The initial fee of five dollars is compulsory but dues can be determined locally.

At the meeting there was a keen sense of responsibility for perpetuating Memorial Day and a lamenting of the fact that the local Legion post was not functioning.

B. H. S. Graduation

Twenty-five more young people have gone out into the world with diplomas from B. H. S. The graduating exercises were held in Lawrence Memorial hall last week Thursday night. Those unable to be present can easily visualize the scene—the crowded hall, many standing, the expectant faces, the school orchestra playing the opening march, the entrance of the underclassmen, escorted by George Dewey, the splitting of ranks, the coming in of the graduates—the largest number ever marching to the platform for their diplomas, the motto, "Onward is our Aim," in letters of gold on a field of blue, over all, and the stage front decked with mountain laurel.

The program was rendered as printed last week, save that the invocation was given by Rev. F. C. Rolls, in the absence of Rev. J. A. Dunphy.

The essay, "China and Japan," by Eunice Doerpholz was enlightening as to conditions in the Orient, while the reading, "Repeated History," by Persis Ritchie, a production of her father's, was a gripping paraphrase of "Hiawatha," of especial interest to those leaving their homes in the Swift River Valley. "Run out your hit," by Robert Camp, and others in similar vein, were of real graduation aspiration. These served with declamations and other numbers to make up a well-balanced program.

The short skit by Stanley Krol and Joseph Ferenz was a popular feature and W. Paige Piper's saxophone solo, the last of many in his B. H. S. career, brought an enthusiastic encore. The one-act play, entitled, "Who's the Boss?," served as a hilarious intermission in the program of the evening. The Class Will by Miss May R. Menard, president, was also in lighter vein, likewise the prophecy by Miss Alice Pratt.

Clifton Graves, in the Class History, told of 64 entering the school four years ago and of activities in which it had engaged.

Before presenting the class to Supt. Knight for their diplomas, Prin. Allen gave the list of typewriting awards and presented to the audience the following freshmen who had attained an exceptionally high average in scholarship (none below 90): Dorothy Fairchild, Dorothy Fitzgerald, Vivian Gilpin and Lillian Upham.

Supt. Knight, in presenting diplomas, expressed cognizance of the fact that parents had sacrificed much, but had made a contribution

Class Reunion

The class of 1926, B. H. S., had a pleasant reunion at the home of Mrs. Donald Hazen, a member of the class, Wednesday afternoon and evening. The supper was a hot dog roast near the old Howard homestead. Following the repast, games were enjoyed. Including guests, about a dozen were present. It is planned to have a reunion next year and the following committee were selected: Miss Beatrice Smith, Miss Frances Sauer and William French.

M. E. Pastor Arrives Tomorrow

McKinley H. Warren of Yonkers, N. Y., who has been appointed pastor of the M. E. church, will arrive in town Saturday and conduct the services on Sunday. Rev. F. M. LePage had been appointed to the parish, but an opportunity to go abroad this summer led him to cancel the engagement.

Greenwich Celebration

For the benefit of those who may desire to attend the Greenwich celebration, H. B. Ketchen will run a special bus to that place Sunday afternoon at 1.15, and on the Fourth at 9.30 a. m. and 10.30 a. m. Provision will also be made for return.

The Sunday afternoon service begins at 3. There will be a brief sketch of the early history of the church established in 1749 when the town was a part of Quabbin, piano and violin duets, men's quartette, ladies' quartette, remarks by former pastors and an address by H. M. Brown of No. Dana.

On the Fourth, there will be a parade at 10. Prizes offered by the town consist of $10 for most artistic float, $5 for most comical float, $2.50 for most comical individual. In addition, five garages in this section offer prizes. Among them, H. B. Ketchen offers $10 credit on the purchase of a Firestone tire for the best decorated Dodge.

Speakers will be Hon. David I. Walsh, and Major Ernest D. Hatch, Ph. G. M. D., medical officer of the governor's staff, designated by Gov. Fuller to represent the commonwealth.

There will be a baseball game and field day sports with nominal prizes. A caterer from North Dana will serve a chicken dinner. Starrett's band of Athol will furnish music.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

PURSUANT to a warrant directed to me by the Probate Court for the County of Hampshire and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, on the fifth day of June, A. D. 1928, as commissioner to make partition of certain real estate owned by James R. Garvey, Nellie A. Garvey, Patrick H. Garvey, Michael J. thereby to the town, state and nation. In the words of one of the orations, he told the class, "If you 'run out your hit,' you'll be heard from."

The chorus singing was directed by Mrs. Clough, supervisor of music, and was of the usual high order.

The night following, the class of '29 tendered the graduates the usual Senior reception. A large number were present.

Belchertown A. A. Wins Again

By Noel

The Belchertown A. A. defeated Kilmore A. A. of Holyoke in a 6-inning twilight game Tuesday on Nutting's Field, Granby, by a score of 7 to 4. This is the second straight win for the local team and the A. A. played fine ball considering the wet ground.

Both teams scored in the first inning. The Kilmores scored a run when, with two down, O'Brien singled and scored on Chanpigny's triple. B. A. A. tallied three runs. Piper reached first on Moran's error. McCain singled, but Menard hit a sacrifice. Robinson was safe when Chanpigny lost his grounder and Piper scored. McCain and Robinson advanced a base on Stack's passed ball and then were placed in position to score on Jack Fairchild's two-bagger.

In the third inning Piper's two-base hit was responsible for the scoring of two runs by the A. A. as Germaine and Lynch had both received a base on balls. The other runs scored by both teams were not earned but due to loose fielding.

Piper featured at the bat for the B. A. A., getting two hits in three trips to the plate, one of them a two-bagger, and scored a run. Fairchild played great ball, allowing only four hits, two bases on balls, and struck out eight.

The B. A. A. have two games to play over the week-end. Tonight the Crescent A. A. of Willimansett will furnish the opposition, this game being postponed from last week on account of rain. On Sunday afternoon at 2, the A. A. will cross bats with the St. Hyacinths of Granby. This team defeated the local nine by a wide margin in an early season practise game, but the A. A., with two straight victories to its credit, is out to add to its winning stride. This game is played on Nutting's Field as the local players enjoy playing on the new field.

There will be another important business meeting of the Belchertown Athletic association to be held in the Legion room next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Town Items

The Christian Endeavor society will hold a social on the parsonage lawn at 6.30 tonight, each one to bring a basket lunch. All Endeavorers are cordially invited.

Mrs. Ella Conkey of Cottage St. is moving to the home of Mrs. Mary Dodge.

The grange meeting next Tuesday evening will be the only meeting of the month and will take the form of a "Sock Social". A large attendance is hoped for, as the proceeds are to go towards the lecturer's fund.

Mrs. Hattie Dickinson attended the wedding Monday of her son, Earl Dickinson, and Miss Ellen Doreen, at Somersworth, N. H.

Work has begun on the house to be erected by H. Morgan Ryther at the corner of South Main street and the Springfield road.

House painting isn't a matter of prejudice—it's a matter of business and common sense.

Paint isn't like an apple—you can't tell by looking at it or by biting it—how good or bad it is.

It takes weeks, perhaps months, and maybe a year or more to tell whether it was worth what you paid.

A glimpse of the Sharon convention by one who went

The convention was opened June 16 by president Angelo Bertocci. Reports of department directors were presented in play form. Saturday was the day of days for all Branches. It was the day of the annual circus. Each Branch put on an interesting stunt; there were 18 in all. Belchertown's presentation was considered the best.

In the evening a song service was held, followed by a devotional service conducted by an eighteen year old boy. The main event of the evening was the address given by Clarence De Mar (Marathon champion) on "Keeping Fit."

Sunday was rather a free day with the exception of a church service conducted by a former Y. P. B. member, now a minister.

It might be of interest to the townspeople to know that the local president, R. Bartlett Green, presided at the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday meetings.

Monday was the day the new officers were elected. Monday evening an aviation banquet was held in the dining hall at the camp. Among the speakers were the Hon. Samuel H. Wragg of the Massachusetts Senate, Mrs. Lena W. Greenbacker, member of the Connecticut House of Representatives, and Mrs. Ethelyn H. Roberts, president of the W. C. T. U. of Rhode Island. R. Bartlett Green also spoke.

On Tuesday the main feature was an instructive talk by Mrs. Jessie Leonard, director of Massachusetts motion picture department and editor of the Winthrop Sun, her subject being "Publicity." In the evening, the new state officers and director were installed. R. Bartlett Green was elected 2nd vice president for the third successive year, and Miss Esther Squires was for the third time appointed director of the state flower mission department. Other officers would not be known to local people.

Wednesday was the closing day with more reports and lots of songs.

Exactly 200 Y. P. B.'ers from all over Massachusetts were registered, some from Connecticut, Rhode Island, Delaware and New York. It is hoped that the young people of the town will take more interest in the Y. P. B. and find out the truth about it, rather than believe stories started by those who do not know what they are talking about. The age limit is 30 years down to High school age. The Belchertown Y. P. B. would like it known by the general public that the organization as a whole contains a larger proportion of young men than is the case in the local group where about one-fourth of the membership are boys.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Shumway observed their 61st wedding anniversary Wednesday. The day previous Mr. Shumway raked and got in two loads of hay, which not everyone is doing at his age. Mrs. Shumway is in a comfortable condition.

"good morning, motor"

"GOOD morning, Boss. Say, talking about horrible examples, you ought to look over that car next door. He was just coughing the sad tale across the hedge. Seems that his boss is a bargain hunter—drives all over town looking for cheap hobo gas. Whenever he sees a pump with a cut price, he fills the tank. Buys his oil at the same places. If ever a motor had the T. B. that poor car has it. He's so choked up he can hardly inhale his gas. His bearings are so worn and loose, it sounds like a milk wagon going over cobbles even when he's idling. Says his cylinders are in terrible shape. When he was new a year ago, he did eighteen to the gallon and only gets about seven now. Ain't it a pity, Boss? There ought to be a law against abusing motors."

ANY CAR OWNER CAN DO AS WELL—

AND MANY DO

OUR own big automotive fleet is fueled with Socony Motor Gasoline and oiled with Socony Motor Oil exclusively.

Some of these hardworking trucks and cars have gone 90,000 and 100,000 miles without needing overhauling.

Any car owner who standardizes on Socony products can do as well—and many do.

Socony Special will silence that knock

If you have a new car with a high compression engine or an old car with carbon in the cylinders, try Socony Special—a particularly creamy cut of the world's best anti-knock gasoline. It gives you better pick-up, more power on hills, and a lot of extra comfort. It's equally good in cold and warm weather.

Standpipe Being Painted

The scenic value of Belchertown center bids fair to be greatly improved by the painting of the standpipe. Heretofore this necessary evil in its black ugliness has been very unsightly as one approached the village. Now with two coats of aluminum paint, the effect will be more pleasing. The work is being done by the Shrewsbury Tank Co., specialists in this kind of paint. The contract calls for scraping and the application of two coats of paint to the inside, as well as the outside work. When this is done, as a result of arrangement with the State School, a connection will be made with their system by means of a hose, as the permanent connection had to be taken out when the town installed its own pumping plant. The Shrewsbury Tank Co. also has the contract for painting the State School tank and is doing that work at the same time.

Fr. Dunphy Transferred

Rev. J. A. Dunphy, pastor of St. Francis church, has been transferred from Belchertown to Brookfield, and will begin his duties there, July 15. Fr. Dunphy came to this town from Blackstone Jan. 25, 1925 and was the first resident pastor of St. Francis church. During his pastorate, the rectory of which he was the designer, has ben completed, and a fine road put in to the south and rear of the building. Recently, St. Mary's chapel was fitted out in one of the rooms on the first floor. Ground for the rectory was broken June 18, 1925, and was ready for occupancy in November of the same year.

The cost of all this work has been in the neighborhood of $15,000. By entertainments and subscriptions, Fr. Dunphy has been instrumental in raising about $4,000.

But apart from any material work he has accomplished, he has made many staunch friends, and has by his ability and catholicity of mind, found a wider friendship. His unsolicited tribute to the late Rev. D. L. Hilliard, was commented on most favorably by the Congregationalist as a noteworthy instance of representatives of two faiths living together harmoniously.

In Brookfield, Fr. Dunphy will have an assistant to help him in his work.

Rev. L. T. Rock of Holyoke has been appointed to the parish here.

Death of William E. Killmer

William E. Killmer, 80, died at his home on Main street Monday morning, exactly three years from the day he suffered a paralytic shock, since which time he has been an invalid.

He was born in Claverack, N. Y., Mar. 2, 1848, the son of Jacob and Mary (Harris) Killmer. Dec. 25, 1868, he married Sarah Wilkin who survives him. From Hudson, N. Y., the couple moved to Waltham where they spent 20 years. After a short residence in Athol and Enfield, they came to this town in 1919.

Mr. Killmer early entered the insurance business in which he continued for 30 years. He was a member of the Methodist church and a faithful attendant at all its services, into which he entered with marked fervor and devotion. For 15 years he was superintendent of the church Sunday schools at Hudson, N. Y., Stottville, N. Y., and Waltham, At one time he was president of the men's class of the Federated church here. He was a Past Noble Grand of the Hudson City Lodge of Odd Fellows. He belonged to the Sons of Veterans, and was an honorary member of Union grange. In politics Mr. Killmer was a Republican. He was an ardent prohibitionist, and in his earlier years an active member of the Sons of Temperance and Good Templars.

He leaves besides his widow, two children, a son, Rev. Harry A. Killmer of Springfield, and a daughter, Mrs. Warren Upham of this town, also a sister, Mrs. Etta Van Deusen of Hudson, N. Y.

The funeral was held at the home Wednesday afternoon at 2, Rev. F. C. Rolls officiating. The bearers were Charles Trainor, Herbert F. Curtis, A. R. Ketchen and Edgar C. Witt. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Class Reunion

The classes of 1888 and 1889 of the Belchertown High School have made plans for their triennial reunion. The date is permanently set for the second Wednesday in July, which comes this year on July eleventh. The classes are invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron G. Ward at 4 o'clock, where they will enjoy a "good old fashioned visit together" and elect their officers for the next three years. At seven o'clock they will go, by auto, to Northampton for a banquet at Beckmann's. Transportation to

The Fourth at the State School

The Fourth at the State School was the usual pretentious event, whether viewed from the inside or out. The following was the program for the day:

6.00 A. M. — Flag Raising: Pledge of Allegiance — School boys.
7.30 A. M. — Distribution of horns and noise makers.
9.30 A. M.—Parade.
10.30 A. M.—Track Meet.
12.45 P. M.—Picnic Lunch under the maples with music by the orchestra.
2 P. M.—Baseball Game (girls).
3.30 P M. — Baseball Game (boys).

The parade was the outstanding event of the day. This was at 9.30. First came the small but "big" drum major in red and white, importantly wielding the baton, then stars and stripes and state colors, followed by the band. Next was a decorated truck in red, white and blue with a spread eagle on a pedestal near the cab and "Liberty" appropriately posed at the center back.

Then came the float, "The Three Bears." Three children dressed as bears were voraciously eating from bowls on a table. On the farther side of a picket fence was the wide-eyed girl, while at the rear through the pines was the representation of a cottage. It was easy to see the story here.

Following this float were the happy footmen, clowns, "Happy Hooligan," in red and yellow, and Huckleberry Finn" with pole and line.

"In Sunny Spain" was a float with gay musicians and dancers aboard, in costumes indicative of that colorful country. Back of this float marched six maidens in similar attire, with tambourines.

Then came more footmen, "Old Mother Hubbard," "High Hat," and "It Won't Be Long Now" (a barber ready to cut a Chinaman's cue).

The Pirate Ship passed the stand next. Here was a full rigged ship built over an auto, replete with roughly hewn cross bars, wierd flags, (one, skull and crossbones), mammoth helm (wagon wheel), manned with "rough" tattooed men, holding in their hands or between their teeth cruel looking knives and swords.

Back of this float walked members of the school's baseball teams, (18 boys in all, attired in their uniforms.) Then came the "Kandy Kids" and other specialties.

A miniature auto with tin can headlights etc., (older than the

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bruce of Federal street announce the marriage of their daughter, Hazel Eunice, to Edwin C. Wunsch of Greenfield. The ceremony took place Tuesday evening at Springfield at the home of Rev. Whitney, the double ring service being used. The bride was gowned in blue, which was also her going away dress. The couple were attended by Miss Florence Wunsch, sister of the groom, and by Walter Wunsch, a brother. Mr. and Mrs. Wunsch are on a wedding trip through the White mountains and into Canada, coming back by way of Lake Champlain. Upon their return they will make their home in Greenfield where Mr. Wunsch is in business. Mrs. Wunsch has been employed at Johnson's Bookstore, Springfield.

Miss Catherine Ahearn is spending a few weeks of her vacation at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Justin Aubrey of Pittsfield.

Mrs. Hattie Taylor entertained the members of her Sunday school class, yesterday afternoon.

Building International Friendship

The five days' visit of 1,200 British gentlemen and ladies to America in June was an event of an unusual importance. Nothing like it had happened in the world before. They came, not on any business errand, nor for any pleaure excursion, nor for any political campaign. They did not come with howitzers. They came because they had good will in their hearts and they wished to express that good will. They came to bind two great countries together. They came to increase the stock of good will in the world.

Reports on every hand state that our English cousins were very warm in their words of appreciation of the hospitality they received at our hands. And as they scatter all over England on their return home, they will declare America's good will to them. They will have a more friendly feeling in their heart than ever before for us. After such a visit, a war is unthinkable between us.

It is well to think of what would happen if 1200 Americans of the first order made good will visits to every foreign country. No nation would have the heart to fight us after we had made them a friendly visit.

If one one-hundredth of all the money spent for army and navy (for other than police force) were spent in visits of good will, is it not probable that we would have a warless world long before now?

One of the surest ways to eliminate war from the earth is to make as large a number of friendly contacts as possible with other peoples. Then love and brotherhood will be built up and hatred will vanish.

Model T) was next in line. This was pushed along like a baby carriage. Next came two boys riding imitation donkeys (or rather walking in the center of the contrivances).

The float which followed was daintily tinted in yellow and was resplendant with representations of butterflies. Little girls, also daintily attired, were on this float.

Next in line were two girls in green with the placard, Dill Pickles. Then came three boys representing the "Spirit of '76."

The next float was a colorful creation. Three girls (one on a throne) were seated on top of mammoth terraces, studded with thousands of made roses.

Specialties following were three boys in red with long, braided wigs, labeled "Firecrackers", and an Indian canoe, pushed in wheelbarrow fashion by an "Indian" in feathered headgear. Another "Red man" was seated in the prow.

"Eskimo Land" was a unique float. Here was represented the snowfields of the arctic, the typical snow houses, and the Eskimos themselves. Dogs and a sledge were also in the scene, while occasional "snow flurries" lent realism to the characterization.

Behind this float came four girls, placarded, "The Seasons," and others.

"A Dutch Village" was a most artistic float in blue and white. There was the picturesque windmill and Dutch maidens, either carrying water or sitting on rocks nearby. A carpet of green with vari-colored tulips lent a natural setting to the scene.

More specialty numbers followed, including "Time to Re-tire" (a boy with a tire (Fisk?) and candle) and the hand organ man with a boy at his side dressed as a monkey.

The "Uncovered Wagon" was true to its name. Even the umbrel' carried aloft by one of the two youths was pretty well "shot."

"Maggie" and "Jiggs" in an old covered bus, in which stovepipe hats and antique head gear figured prominently, was a comic entry.

But the Razberry band (that name seems appropriate) took the prize for noise. Seated on red and white benches on top of the big "band wagon," these youths—a dozen or so, dressed and dolled up in twice as many colors, with screeching instruments, let loose a veritable pandemonium of noise.

Following this float, came the parade of the tin soldiers, six abreast, (the two on the end were real—the four between were dummies). Then came 8 negro girls in red and blue, the balloon man and 12 girls carrying flags. 6 young men, dressed as firemen, in red and black, drawing a hose cart, brought up the procession.

After passing the reviewing stand three times, the judges, Lawrence Parsons, Prof. Toll and Mrs. McPherson, announced the winners as follows: First, "Pirate Ship"; second, "A Dutch Village"; third, "Eskimo Land"; fourth, "In Sunny Spain." "The Three Bears" and the rose studded float received honorable mention. The awarding of banners was made by Dr. G. E. McPherson, superintendent of the institution.

Several of the employees each had charge of decorating a given float. Following the parade, athletic events (20 in all), were run off on the new field under the direction of Dr. A. E. Westwell (who also had charge of the parade), ably assisted by employees of the institution. All the events were interesting. The boys made 4 ft., 3 in. on the high jump, the farm boys lost twice in two scrappy tugs of war which awakened much interest, while the girls in their rope pull dragged one another all over the lot.

The pie eating contest, the last on the program, was the most popular. More Kodak film was used up on this event than on any other. Those juicy berry pies dripping from the chins and occasionally down the throats of those four boys and four girls were of tremendous human interest to the employees who made the most of it.

At the conclusion of events, prizes were awarded and then came dinner and the rest of the program as stated.

Ladies' Sodality Whist Party

A whist party and food sale was held by the Ladies' Sodality of St. Francis church, Mrs. James R. Garvey, president, at the parish house basement last week Friday night. The sale was successful, and the social hour was an enjoyable one.

The first prize for women, an embroidered centerpiece was won by Miss Eleanor Garvey. The men's prize, a pipe, was won by Thomas Riley. The booby prize went to Mrs. Thomas Flaherty and Mr. Sampson. The entertainment committee in charge was Mrs. Wells Stacy, chairman; Mrs. Lapolice, Mrs. Flaherty, Miss Alice Flaherty and Mrs. Fitzgerald.

July and August grange meetings do not draw the crowds that attend during the winter, although an interesting program was carried out at the July meeting Tuesday night. The lecturer, Mrs. Clarinda Shaw, assisted by Mrs. Dora Wesley, had charge of the numbers, which included a series of questions pertaining to community spirit and enterprise, a poem, and a radio stunt.

Mrs. Marion K. Shaw went to North Adams Monday where she will take a course at the Normal school. Misses Ruby Knight, Irene and Madeleine Orlando are taking courses at Fitchburg Normal.

Belding F. Jackson is taking a course in English at Middlebury college this summer. Mrs. Jackson is at her home at Ryegate, Vt., where Mr. Jackson will join her in August.

Much sympathy is expressed for Mrs. A. E. Dodge by reason of the death of her sister, Mrs. Emma Woods in Springfield, Monday evening as the result of an automobile accident. Mrs. Woods was born in Warwick and lived in West Springfield for 30 years. A year and a half ago she moved to Belchertown, but last September returned to the city.

Rev. McKinley H. Warren of Yonkers, N. Y., is expected to arrive tonight with his wife and son to begin his resident pastorate of the M. E. church.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

PURSUANT to a warrant directed to me by the Probate Court for the County of Hampshire and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, on the fifth day of June, A. Fr. Dunphy Transferred

Fr. Dunphy has a fine word to say of the new pastor, who it seems, was assistant to him while in Milford. Fr. Rock was an army chaplain in the World war and saw some of the hardest fighting, being one of those stationed at Death Valley. He entered the service, and three weeks from his receiving his commission as lieutenant, he was in the front line trenches. Fr. Rock studied in Louvain University, Belgium, and was a student under Cardinal Mercier, the noted professor. He speaks French and Italian fluently. While a student, Fr. Rock travelled extensively on the continent.

Fr. Dunphy commends the new pastor as a most lovable character, and anticipates a happy pastorate.

Fr. Dunphy's transfer is a promotion, and his parishioners and many friends, although they are sorry to have him leave, are, nevertheless, pleased to learn of his advancement.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Seitz of Maple St. have returned from a trip to Cape Cod, having been visiting Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Angus at their summer cottage at Barnstable.

The morning northbound train on the C. V. R. R. was derailed on Monday at Mansfield, Conn., and as a result was six hours late in arriving here. As the same train comes back from Brattleboro in the afternoon, this was also equally late.

Miss Montiel Roode left Tuesday for New York City where she will visit her aunt and Mrs. Arthur Phillips of Flushing, L. I.

The social which the Christian Endeavor society had planned to hold on the parsonage lawn last week Friday night, was held at the chapel on account of rain. A basket lunch was eaten in the dining room and games were played afterward. The committee in charge were Miss Esther Squires, Mrs. J. V. Cook and Jessie Orlando.

Lightning Does Damage

Henry H. Witt of Federal street lost seven of his herd of nine cows by lightning in the severe storm of Wednesday afternoon. They were found beneath a large oak tree. The two surviving animals were evidently a little apart from the others. The loss is a large one, even though there is insurance, as the herd was one that the owner had patiently built up, and the most valuable ones were killed. Before the shower of Tuesday afternoon, the animals had been driven to the barn, but Wednesday's shower came up so suddenly that this was not done.

Mrs. Mabel Stebbins's house on North Main street, occupied by B. A. Butler, was struck, the lightning evidently entering on the ground wire of an aerial, which, however, was not connected with the set inside. Four panes of glass were blown in and the window sill was the worse for the experience, while inside, the plastering was taken off beneath the window seat. A strange prank was played here. In the pantry, two or three rooms removed, the wooden handles of a potato masher and a knife grinder were shattered, while nothing else was disturbed.

Attention! Scouts

A meeting for all boys interested in Scouting will be held on Saturday afternoon, July 14th, at two o'clock in front of the town hall under the direction of Mr. M. H. Warren, to plan a program for the summer. Although boys must be twelve years old to be enrolled as Scouts, those from ten to twelve may become "cubs".

Married at Burlington

Announcements have been received of the marriage on the 5th of Osborne Davis of this town and Miss Pearl E. Grow of Milton, Vt. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage by Dr. Adams, pastor of the Congregational church at Burlington, Vt.

Mr. Davis is a son of Mrs. Carrie F. Davis of Jabish street. He was educated in the schools of this town, graduating from the high school in 1920. He graduated from the Massachusetts Agricultural college in 1925 and specialized in psychology at Yale summer school in 1927. For the past two years he has been assistant principal of the high school at Bloomfield, Ct., where the couple will make their home.

Mrs. Davis is the daughter of Mrs. Frank B. Grow of Milton, Vt. She has been employed as local switch board operator at Milton and central office operator at Burlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis are spending their honeymoon at South Hero, Vt., on an island in Lake Champlain.

Second Attempt to Organize

Probably no such set of "die hards" ever came to town in the interest of any cause as showed up Tuesday evening in the effort to start a Camp of Sons of Veterans. Officialdom came from Northampton, Holyoke and Amherst, while the Agawam camp had heard of the meeting and sent a delegation. No one in town is going to take the pains to look up the records of the sires and grandsires of these visitors of Tuesday night, for certainly they fought like their forebears (only with argument and persuasion) and apparently didn't know when they were licked.

For the local turnout was a small one, and the eligible "Sons" few indeed. Some of these squatted on the grass-tips and vehemently declared there was not enough interest to start a camp, much as they would like to have one. But the rejoinder was that about all the successful camps they knew about started in just that fashion.

Another local ventured the opinion that if there was a "feed," probably a crowd would come out. At that, offers to get the auxiliaries of Northampton and Amherst to transport a feed here free gratis were promptly made and some other excuse had to be tried.

When the locals said that they'd canvassed eligibles all they cared to, the visitors came back with the proposition that they'd personally see the folks if someone would introduce them. When there was no evident response to this, all they asked was to be told the houses where they lived.

To all intents, they were all inoculated with the same spirit. Occasionally the visitors would be taken apart singly, back of some tree, and calmly told that it was no use, but the lines held tight; not a one would budge. Each one simply laughed it off.

To repay the delegations for their interest in coming, the keys to engine house hall were finally traced up and the company adjourned to that place for a little "speechifying."

District Commander Chester White of the Northampton Camp No. 48 presided and made introductory remarks. He expressed the opinion that there was no need for discouragement; in fact there were as many out as he expected, and calmly went on to relate the work carried on by the order, including flagging and decorating graves, care of surviving soldiers, providing bearers for funerals, etc., besides the fostering of social life through regular meetings. He dispelled the suggestion that there is large overhead to the organization by stating that most of the money stayed in the local treasury and that his efforts and those with him were voluntary in character.

Past Department Commander Charles Moran of Holyoke was then introduced. He was the spellbinder of the group with his emphasis—

'88 and '89 Reunion

The triennial reunion of the classes of 1888 and 1889 of B. H. S. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron G. Ward Wednesday afternoon, where good old B. H. S. sociability was enjoyed.

The sixteen present were: Edgar H. Parkman, Thompsonville, Conn., a former principal of the High school; Mrs. Frank Hamilton and daughter, Mrs. Brown, of West Pelham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Randall of Lowell, Arthur E. Pease of South Hadley Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Allen, Mrs. Cora Morse, Mrs. Iva Peeso, Mrs. John R. Newman, Jr., Henry R. Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Allen and Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Mard, all of this town.

The following officers were chosen at this time: President, Guy C. Allen; executive committee, A. E. Pease, Mrs. Capitola Demond, Mrs. A. W. Stacy, Mrs. M. G. Ward. At a previous meeting, Mrs. Iva Peeso, '88, and Mrs. Thomas Allen, '89, were chosen secretary and treasurer of their respective classes for life.

At 7 p. m., fourteen of the sixteen went to Beckmann's at Northampton where a private dining room all trimmed with pink, was put at their disposal for the climax of the day's proceedings—the banquet, which was a grand affair.

After the repast, speeches were in order, the following responding: Thomas Allen, "B. H. S. of 1928 Compared with 1888"; Mrs. C. L. Randall, "Women's Clubs as I have Observed Them"; Guy C. Allen, "Work and Duties of a Sheriff"; Mrs. G. C. Allen, reading, "The Red Schoolhouse"; Edgar H. Parkman, reminiscences; C. L. Randall, "What I Have Found in Forty Years." The proceedings closed with a verse of Auld Lang Syne.

M. Watson Bardwell has accepted a position with the New York Power and Light Company of Albany, N. Y., and began work Monday. He is temporarily stationed at Schenectady.

George M. Kelley has sold the Holland Glen pavilion and roadside stand to Paul M. Kugler of Easthampton. Mr. Kugler took possession Monday and will continue the dances as formerly.

Perhaps—But

Belchertown figured prominently on the first page of last week's Ware River News, both by reason of the new Belchertown-Ware road to be started next year, and the possible free-for-all race for representative, in view of the fact that Mr. Sawyer is making a bid for the governorship. The suggestion that Belchertown may have a candidate to put forth sounds spooky. A whole generation of boys has grown up with aspirations to sit beneath the gilded dome, but in response to their wistful queries, fond parents have simply put their finger to their lips to invoke silence on this forbidden subject, with wincing thoughts of Ware.

"The paper that spills the beans" mentions the names of Thomas Hanifin and J. C. Bothwell as possible Democratic candidates, but is silent as to Republican possibilities. So far, we know of none ourselves who feel the customary urge to rush in and save the district, but that's not the kind needed.

M. E. Church Notes

Beginning tonight, the prayer service at the M. E. church will be held Friday evenings instead of Thursday evenings, as the new pastor is liable to have to be out of town on Thursdays. A series of studies of interesting characters will begin at this time.

At 8.15 tonight the Sunday School board will meet. A full attendance is desired.

Rev. Mr. Warren's Sunday evening talk will be based on an essay by the poet-preacher, "Woodbine Willie," the Rev. G. A. Studdert Kennedy of England.

A. A. Wins

By Noel

The Belchertown A. A. added another victory to its win column Sunday on Nutting's Field by beating the fast North Brookfield nine 11 to 8. The home team enjoyed a good lead during the greater part of the game, while the visitors fought an uphill battle, but staged a rally in their final inning, which came within three runs of tying the score.

Three North Brookfield pitchers, Tourtellott, James and Grit, faced the Belchertown batters, who hit their offerings for a total of 12 hits. Grit proved to be the visitors' best slabman. Paige Piper, former B. H. S. star, was elected to work on the mound for the local team and pitched a wonderful game, allowing nine hits, which were well scattered, and struck out eight Brookfield batters, thus winning his first game for the A. A. Harnish's batting for the local team, with four hits in five trips to the plate, one of them a two-bagger, and the hitting and fielding of the Grabert brothers for the visitors were other features of the game.

The A. A. scored five runs in the first two innings. In the first, with one out, Harnish singled and went to second on McCain's out, Nealon to H. Grabert. Bissel reached first on a fielder's choice, the play being made on Harnish at third, who was safe. Fairchild was hit by pitcher Tourtellott, and King got to first when his grounder was fielded too slowly by the shortstop, Harnish scoring. Piper's single brought in Bissel and Fairchild. In the second, McCain's single scored Cook and Harnish for the two runs made by the local team.

Both teams scored in the fifth inning. North Brookfield batting first, scored two runs. McCarthy and Buckmaster reached first on errors and were brought in by White's two-bagger.

The A. A. just about won the game in their half of the inning by scoring five runs on three hits and three errors. King singled and Piper got to first on an error, King going to second. Story struck out. Robinson singled, scoring King and Piper. Cook also reached first on an error. Harnish's two-bagger scored Robinson, and Cook pulled up at third, scoring on McCain's out, McCarthy to H. Grabert. Harnish scored, when Bissel reached first on Tourtellott's error. This ended the rally of the home team. Although North Brookfield scored in each of the final three innings, the A. A. was never in danger of losing its big lead.

Reception to Fr. Dunphy

About 50 members of St. Francis parish gathered at the Moriarty homestead Wednesday evening to tender Fr. Dunphy a little surprise as he was leaving the next day for his new parish at Brookfield. Andrew Sears, president of the Holy Name society, presented him with a purse of $210 as a token of the great love and esteem of the members of St. Francis for their pastor and in appreciation of the many kindnesses shown them since he came here three years ago.

Fr. Dunphy responded by reviewing his 25 years of priesthood, and said that never before had he met, nor did he expect to meet again, people so loyal as he had found in Belchertown. He expressed deep regret at leaving. He said that at his new home in Brookfield, the doors would always be open to anyone from Belchertown, and not only his doors, but his heart as well.

Rev. James Deery of Palmer spoke in appreciation of the many pleasant memories during his past two years in Palmer and of always looking forward to the hospitality which ever awaited him in Belchertown. Fr. Deery said, too, that through Fr. Dunphy he had made many new friends which he still hoped to retain after Fr. Dunphy had left.

Fr. Dunphy left yesterday afternoon for Brookfield and with him go the best wishes of his parishioners for his success.

sis on the sentimental side of keeping green the memory of the men of '61-'65. He said it was touching to think of an overseas' veteran on crutches, decorating the local graves, but that it ought not to be necessary to have an incapacitated man do it. Mr. Moran said he paid seven visits to Ware before he even got a start there.

Commander Cook, who was here two weeks ago, and true to his word, brought along a strong Camp coterie, was called upon. He said that he was willing to put in some personal work here, and drive one mile or fifty as was needed. He spoke of the cooperation among the patriotic organizations in Amherst. He said that it will not be long before the Legion will have all the work it can attend to in caring for its own members. Commander Cook also spoke of the help which a formation of an auxiliary always affords.

Commander Morton Robinson of the Agawam camp spoke of the fine observance of Memorial Day in that town and emphasized the fine cooperation between the Sons of Veterans and the Legion. In Agawam, 80 per cent. of all eligibles have joined. Mr. Robinson at one time lived in Belchertown, on the Landers' place.

The note sounded by all was that if only a start is made, everything will come along fine. It was pointed out that if 20 join at the prescribed fee of $5 each, making $100, $75 of this amount remains in the Belchertown treasury, after paying for charter and paraphanelia. Of the $3 dues per yer, $2.20 will remain in the local treasury.

With 29 known eligibles in town, the visitors saw no reason why there shouldn't be a strong camp. Dist. Comdr. White said that it will not be many years before men will be scouring records to see if they are not in line for membership in this organization, the same as is the case with the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Conditional upon getting the full membership, E. O. Stebbins, R. G. Shaw and Frank Rhodes signed the application for a charter and were constituted a committee on organization and will introduce Comdr. White and Past Dept. Comdr. Chas. Moran to. eligibles on a scouting trip for members next week.

If a camp is formed here — but Comdr. White says there's no such word as "if"—the credit will be due to the persistent pleadings of these politely polished people.

The Guild is planning for a silver tea August 15 at the parsonage.

With Our Subscribers

Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Wilder filled so unique a niche in Belchertown's life, that we were glad to receive a letter recently from the doctor, framed in his characteristic style. We hardly think he will censure us overmuch if we quote from it.

I get the paper every Saturday, usually on the way home to dinner. I have to take the wrapper off, crumple it up and toss it in a convenient place so that I may peruse the paper all the way up the street; because when once I get it home, friend Wife captures it. I was, or rather we were, in Belchertown just long enough to have the place get under our skin a little, and naturally the Sentinel is the bridge by which we get back once a week. And we surely do enjoy it. I read all the news it contained while in Belchertown, sometimes skipping some of the ads., but here everything is carefully gone over. Your slogan is right. I live in Belchertown for the space of time that it takes to peruse the sheets.

I had a request while I was in Belchertown for a copy of my book, "War Experiences," for the Imperial War Library in London. I recently sent them a copy, and yesterday I received what looked at first like a diploma from an accredited college, except for the gold seal, and the degree. By gum, I just got it and find a seal in the upper left hand corner. It follows:

Imperial War Museum,
South Kensington, S. W. 7

Sir:

I am directed by His Royal Highness, The Prince of Wales, President of the Board of Trustees, to thank you for the gift mentioned overleaf which you have presented to the Imperial War Museum. I am to assure you that your generosity is greatly appreciated by the Board of Trustees.

I have the honor to be
Your obedient Servant,
Charles H. Wilkes
Curator and Secretary

Dr. F. C. Wilder.

(On the overleaf it reads)

Presented to the Imperial War Museum
Book: War Experiences, F. C. Wilder.

I often think of some little thing I would like to write for you to put in the Sentinel, but at that time I am busy, and when I have the leisure, the ole spirit just won't move.

Yours sincerely,
Dr. Wilder

Boy Scout News

The Boy Scouts will meet at 10 a. m. Saturday, at the Scout room, to go for a short hike and lesson in first aid. Those wishing to stay out over the noon hour may bring a lunch.

Ten boys attended the first meeting last Saturday and manifested much interest. A good summer's program is in prospect.

All boys of scout age are welcome to take part. Mr. M. H. Warren is acting as master.

To Contribute Short Pageant

Attention of grangers is called to the State Grange field day at Amherst, July 21-23. From 8 to 9 o'clock Saturday evening at Stockbridge hall, each of the ten towns of Hampshire County Pomona grange will put on a six-minute history of the town with a pageant in connection.

New Teachers

Miss Ruth Linderholm of Belmont, a graduate of Tufts college, has been appointed teacher of Latin and other subjects at B. H. S., in place of Miss Higgins, resigned. Mr. Surabian, resigned, is succeeded by Henry R. Foster of Belmont, a graduate of Boston University. Miss Muriel Goodenough of Ware has been appointed to the position at Union school.

Farewell Party

About fifteen friends of Miss Marjorie Peeso tendered her a farewell party at the home of Mrs. L. W. Ayers last evening. Guests were present from Amherst, Williamsett and Fairview. A wardrobe bag was presented Miss Peeso. Music, games and refreshments were enjoyed.

Miss Peeso plans to leave town the 26th to spend two years with her aunt and uncle in California.

Athletic Association Notes

By Noel

The Belchertown A. A., after making a false trip to Amherst last Sunday to play the Cushman nine, are now preparing for their game with the North Brookfield team, to be played on the latter's grounds on Sunday at 2 o'clock.

The local team with several new players in its lineup, is out to meet any fast team and hopes to down the Brookfield team for the second time this season, having defeated that team recently by a score of 11 to 8.

Several local fans are planning to make the trip Sunday to cheer the A. A. to victory.

There will be a business meeting of the Belchertown A. A. next Monday evening at engine house hall at 8.

Repeated History

Given by Persis Ritchie at B. H. S. Graduation, and written by her father.

On the top of old Mt. Quabbin
In the state of Massachusetts
Where the Indians built their wigwams
In the long, long years ago.
If was there they hunted turkey
And the red deer was a victim
Of their arrows on Mt. Quabbin
In those days so long ago.
'Neath the shadows of Mt. Quabbin
Winding through the pines and birches
Flowed a silvery stream of water
That was called the river Swift.
And up this river swam the salmon,
Charming king of all game fishes.
And the speckled trout were leaping
In the river and its branches.
But the white man drove the Indians
From the top of old Mt. Quabbin,
Drove him from his hunting grounds
On plain and hill and dale.
So to-day we stand on Quabbin,
Looking north across the valley,
See the silvery ribbon river
Winding out among the hillsides;
See a change rise up before us
Since the red men left the forest;
See the churches, farms and dwellings
Where the mighty oak once stood.
Yes, we love this dear old valley,
Happy days they have been many.
Yet, perhaps the Indians loved
It just as much.
So again are deeds repeated.
We, its people, are defeated.
We must take the road the Indians took
So many years ago.
Quite some change between evictions:
Those red men, they fought the victors
When the white man took the river
And drove them far from off their hills,
Now the white man sits and ponders,
Counts his dollars and then wonders
If his neighbor's shack is bringing more than his.
White man's first love is his dollars
Sentiment will sometime follow.
Yet, the red man loved the trail,
He fought for it his place to roam;
So the day is not far distant
When the natives will be shifting;
They must do as the Indians did
So many, many years ago.
As the drillers drill for ledges
That will furnish sites for damming,
The poor paleface sits and ponders
As the fatal day is pending
When the dwellings that are burning
Send their white smoke upward curling,
And the pictures in the clouds
Are dimly seen by white man's eye
On the top of old Mt. Quabbin.
Ghostly figures slow are weaving
In and out among the campfires
As they did long years ago.
See the Indian spirits showing
In the smoke clouds on Mt. Quabbin;
Faces bronzed show happiness,
The red man's day has come.
So old Enfield is demolished,
Gone are spots which once we cherished.
Gone forever, yea, forever
Are the red man's hunting grounds.
Let us climb again up Quabbin,
Just once more before the parting,

"good morning, motor"

"GOOD MORNING, Boss. Say, would you mind speaking to the Madam? She was fooled yesterday by the one cent price lure of that pump across the street from Red's. You know she loves a bargain and never has understood that all gas isn't alike. Only last Monday, I was telling Red that his regular customers appreciated his honesty and would stick by him, and there I was across the street taking on a load of the poorest apology for gas that ever choked my cylinder heads. I felt like a dog and Red looked as if he'd lost his best friend. I know the Madam thinks a lot of me and if she realized how hobo gas and oil hurt me, she wouldn't any more buy them than she would give you bad eggs for breakfast. Put it up to her straight, Boss—and fix it up with Red. He's a good friend of ours."

RENEW YOUR OIL INSURANCE TODAY

LUBRICATION is only 2% of the cost of running your car. Changing the oil at regular intervals is the cheapest car insurance you can buy.

Have you driven 500 miles since your oil was changed? Are you planning summer tours?

Stop at a Socony station and renew your oil insurance today.

Oil is thinned after 500 miles, by gasoline that seeps down into the crankcase. It is black from dust and dirt. A fresh filling with Socony Motor Oil costs you only a few minutes in time, and very little in cash. Give your car this protection.

The Socony Laboratories work in close contact with the automobile manufacturers, and are constantly adapting Socony Motor Oil to meet the changes in engine construction. Thirteen tests insure the quality; fifty-four years of refining experience stand back of every gallon.

Why gears go wrong

Gears go wrong when the rear-end is neglected. Have the old lubricant flushed out twice a year. Refill with Socony Transmission Lubricant or Gear Oil. You'll get an appreciable increase in power; and the cost of this sensible trouble-insurance is very little.

TOURING THIS SUMMER? Let Socony Touring Service help you plan your trip and advise you of road conditions. The service is free. Just fill in the coupon and send it to Socony Touring Service, Room 58, 26 Broadway, New York City.

Repeated History

There is water in the valley,
And the silvery river's gone.
Gone are churches, farms and dwellings,
Gone are trees and fertile meadows,
Where the red man's feet once trod.
So the moral of this story,
All man's deeds will not bring glory.
Let our lives be for each other,
Let us love one another,
From this day and evermore.

Making the Summer Count

The writer knows an individual who plans each summer to conquer a new realm. One summer he made a study of ferns, another summer a study of birds, a third summer a study of rocks, and so on. If an individual will do this for a period of years, think of what a store of knowledge he will secure. Here is an education all in itself.

This is only an illustration. If an individual studied each summer a different poet and read some of his writings, he would gain a good knowledge of the poets in a few years.

Another individual takes the summer to see different sections of the world. One year he tours the Adirondacks, another season he goes to Yellowstone Park.

Still another individual we know takes one vacation to make a survey of the negro schools of the south land. And when we heard of him last he was spending his vacation studying the Indian in the country.

What marvelous opportunities the summer brings to us to enrich our life and develop our personality, so that we will have an ever enlarging personality to give to others.

The summer may be a great blessing and it may be a great curse. We may look back upon it with joy, or we may remember it with bitterness. Each summer goes into our lives and makes us better or worse.

Union Picnic Next Wednesday

Committees representing the Methodist and Congregational Sunday Schools met at the chapel Monday evening and decided to hold the union picnic, previously agreed upon, at Brown's Beach, next Wednesday, August 1.

It is planned to leave the common at 9.30 and return when the spirit moves. It will be a basket picnic. Transportation will be provided for those desiring it. The committee requests that all such come prepared to make the matter known at their respective Sunday schools on Sunday.

The committee hopes that it will be a church as well as a Sunday School picnic, and in fact take on a community aspect. Everyone is invited. If stormy the picnic will be held on the next fair day.

Committees are as follows:

Sports
H. F. Peck
Francis Allen
Rev. M. H. Warren
Miss Eleanor Bardwell

Transportation
E. E. Gay

Carriage industry in Belchertown, represented by a beau and belle of the '60's, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Cook
Belchertown Cattle Show, a section of the midway led by E. F. Shumway with poster

The pageantry was in charge of Mrs. E. F. Shumway, while Mrs. H. F. Curtis was reader.

"The Terrible Meek"

At the M. E. church, Sunday evening, the Epworth League service and the evening service will join in a service at 7, at which time the pastor, Rev. M. H. Warren, will read "The Terrible Meek," the striking play by Charles Rann Kennedy.

This brief play, with only three characters, depicts the most outstanding event in the world's history with such force that from the time it was first given, before an audience of thousands in London, until now it has made a profound impression. It is hoped that all who can do so will attend.

Calendar Party

The Ladies' Social Union calendar party will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Witt, Saturday afternoon, August 4. All the ladies of the church are invited, and those taking calendars last year please bring them in at this time or leave them with Mrs. Conkey or Mrs. Peeso. A large attendance is desired. Refreshments will be served and there will be an interesting program.

Several Accidents Yesterday

Three accidents occurred in town yesterday morning. L. G. Cressman of Blue Meadow district fell off his mowing machine and received a broken collar bone, while Charles Ayers of North Main St. fell off a roof he was painting. Mr. Ayers was in a state of semi-consciousness yesterday. Dr. Collard attended the cases.

Harry Dodge was also bitten on the wrist by a dog while on the way to get his cows.

Death of Alanson Wells Stacy

Alanson Wells Stacy, 28, died yesterday afternoon at Leeds Sanatorium after a long illness. He was born in Belchertown, Apr. 7, 1900, the son of Avery W. and Maude (Fairchild) Stacy and was the fourth A. W. Stacy in line. With the exception of a few years spent in Waterbury, Conn., he has always lived in Belchertown. April 17, 1922, he married Miss Elizabeth Flaherty of Waterbury, who survives him. He also leaves a little daughter, four-year-old Helen Elizabeth, besides his parents, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Fairchild, and a sister, Miss Adelyn Stacy of New York City.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. at the chapel, Rev. F. C. Rolls officiating. Burial will be in Mount Hope cemetery.

"America First"

Is this phrase which is much in use in these days to be commended or condemned? It all depends, as so often happens, on the meaning of the words.

With some of us "America First" means that it is first in our affection and allegiance. Just as it is quite natural for a man to love his own mother and his own wife and children the most, as it is natural for them all to have a higher love for their own lodge and church and community than for any other lodge or church or community, so it is quite natural for a man to hold in higher affection his own state and his own country than any other. All mothers take on a new meaning because of the special love for one's own mother. This means that the roots of the finest internationalism are found in a genuine nationalism. If this is what we mean when we say, "America First," we are unanimous that it is a beautiful expression.

Some of our daily newspapers and some of our popular magazines who claim to be 100 per cent American and are warm advocates of "America First," carry the following slogan, "My country, right or wrong." This means that a man puts his country first and his own conscience second. It further implies that a nation is infallible, and it is a man's duty to be ready to say and to do what his government directs. This teaching that a man should disobey his conscience is a dangerous one. The true patriot says, "My country, right to keep her right; my country wrong to make her right at whatever cost." We must speak out against any idea which would silence a man's conscience.

Other people when they use the phraze, "America First," lose all sight of other nations. They think that America is free to do as she will regardless of its effect upon other nations. Only her own interests need consideration. Only her own will is to be done. This is nothing more or less than selfishness and selfishness is to be heartily condemned always. America is only one nation among a family of nations, and a nation must consider how its action will affect other nations, even as a son in a home must bear in mind his brothers and sisters before he adopts a course of action. Humanity is always greater than nationalism.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Dennie J. Hawkins, of Springfield, Massachusetts, to N. Seelye Hitchcock, of Easthampton, Massachusetts, dated April 16, 1925, and recorded with Hampshire County Registry of Deeds, book 813, page 120, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises, on SATURDAY, the FOURTH day of AUGUST, 1928, at THREE O'CLOCK in the AFTERNOON, all and singular, the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:

The land in Belchertown, Hampshire County, Massachusetts: A tract of land with the buildings thereon, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the Southeasterly corner of land of Benjamin Phelps on the Westerly side of Swift River; thence Southerly along the bank of said river to land formerly of Elias Chapin; thence Westerly on land of said Chapin to highway leading from West Ware bridge to Bondsville on the Westerly side of Swift River; thence Northerly on said highway to land of said Phelps; thence Easterly on line of said Phelps's land to the place of beginning; containing ninety (90) acres, more or less. Also conveying all rights and privileges reserved to this property in a deed of W. W. Thomas to Ellen E. Clough, recorded in Hampshire Registry of Deeds, book 448, page 285.

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes and all other liens or encumbrances having rightful priority by law.

Terms will be made known at the time and place of sale.

N. Seelye Hitchcock,
Mortgagee and present holder of said mortgage

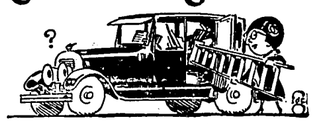
"good morning, motor"



"GOOD MORNING, ma'am. I see you've loaded in everything but the kitchen stove—guess we are headed for the Farm. Too bad the boss isn't going. No offense, but I always feel easier on a 300 mile trip if he is along to keep track of oil and water. By the way, if I were you, I would drive over to the garage now and let them change my oil. It's pretty thin and dirty. Only take a few minutes and I'll run more smoothly all day. Remember that I turn over 2000 times a minute—33 times a second. If it wasn't for a protecting film of oil, my bearings would burn out in a few minutes. Bad oil can't stand the heat, gums up bearings and gives me indigestion. And say, I know you won't think I am rude if I suggest that you buy good gas this trip. Last time you picked up ten gallons along the way, at a bargain, which pretty nearly did me in. I was panting like a truck in an excavation towards the end. I really am a delicate and nicely adjusted bit of machinery and I need good gas and oil."

SOCONY MOTOR OIL IS CONSTANTLY ADAPTED TO MEET NEW ENGINE NEEDS

WHEN the new Ford was announced, Socony was ready with the proper lubricating oil for it.

When the new high compression motors were planned, Socony was ready again.

Greater speed, higher compression and thermostatic control of the cooling system tend to increase motor temperature. Socony's Laboratories adapted Socony Motor Oil to meet these new needs.

You are not interested in "viscosity" or flash points" or other technical details. You are interested in the fact that Socony Motor Oil is tested 13 times. You are interested in the fact that 54 years of refining experience stand behind it, and that whenever a new automotive development creates a new lubricating problem, the Standard Oil Company of New York will have a motor oil to meet that development.

Standardize on Socony Gasoline and Motor Oil; and change your motor oil every 500 miles.

Thunder in the rear?

You will never hear thunder in the differential if you will have it flushed out and filled with new lubricant twice a year. Do the same thing with your transmission. Socony Transmission Lubricant and Gear Oil cost little. New gears cost a lot.

TOURING THIS SUMMER? Let Socony Touring Service help you plan your trip and advise you of road conditions. The service is free. Just fill in the coupon and send it to Socony Touring Service, Room 58, 26 Broadway, New York City.

That don't mean that nobody wants the place. There are plenty of potential candidates for representative, when the situation clears up.

It is hanging on Rep. Sawyer's plans, at present. While he is a candidate for Governor, there is a disposition to wait a little longer, and make sure that he is not going to change his decision and run for representative after all.

If he runs for representative, the chances are that no Democrat will oppose him for the nomination. As for any candidates for the Republican nomination, there is only one so far, Frederick Zappey of Enfield, formerly superintendent of the Hillside school in Greenwich. If Mr. Sawyer don't run, there is likely to be one or more Ware candidates for Republican nomination.

There has been some talk of Arthur L. Davis of Ware for the Republican nomination, but he insists that he does not want it in any event and will not be a candidate.

Death of Warren D. Upham

Belchertown was shocked this week by the statement in the daily press that Warren D. Upham of Cottage street had committed suicide in the town of Oakham some time last week, probably Friday, by means of a shot gun, the trigger of which was pulled with a thirty-foot cord. The probable reason, given by his family, is that he was despondent over loss of work, as his letters indicated.

Warren Delbert Upham was one of a family of sixteen children and was born March 22, 1877, in Elgin, N. B., Canada, the son of George and Elizabeth Lyons Upham. From there he went to Waltham and was married June 15, 1911 to Fannie B. Killmer. The family moved to Enfield, whence, after a residence of a year and a half, they moved to this town where they have lived for eight years. Mr. Upham was a carpenter by trade.

He leaves besides his widow, a daughter, Lillian, in the home and five brothers and four sisters, Charles Upham of Oak Bluffs, Robert Upham of Boston, Sanford Upham of Nova Scotia, James Upham of New Brunswick, William Upham, Mrs. George Goodall of Portland, Me., Mrs. Hiram Bishop of Salisbury, N. B., Mrs. James Ross of Salisbury, N. B., and Mrs. Archibald Leaton, N. B.

The funeral was held at the home Wednesday afternoon at 4 and was private. Rev. McKinley H. Warren officiated. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Union Picnic

The Methodist and Congregational Sunday Schools, plus the respective churches and the community at large, took Brown's Pond Beach by storm on Wednesday, by reason of the union picnic. Four public conveyances (all crammed to the limit) and several private cars unloaded their precious burden at the beach in mid-forenoon and took possession of the property, while one truck had to return for those still waiting to go.

While it was not literally true that the party took the place by storm, the storm did come later in the day and changed the plans somewhat, still all vouched for the fact that they had a good time.

What it meant was that those who took to the water in the afternoon (and there were probably a hundred of them) were not only submerged below, but sprinkled on top, that the sports had to be run indoors instead of out, and that people had to rub elbows a little closer in consequence.

The water sports were run off in the morning all right. At noon the sprinkling pot commenced to function, and those unloading their dinner baskets repaired en masse to the pavilion. When they got nicely located the shower subsided and twenty or thirty persisted in staying in the open.

Altogether about 200 sat down to dinner, making the total attendance considerable over that, as several came down just for the afternoon.

To settle the sumptuous fare, some of the men and boys pitched quoits, several couples tripped the light fantastic to the piano accompaniment of Norman Carter of Malden, (the guest of Bartlett Green) who furnished quite a running recital as well.

The quoit pitching had to be given up soon by reason of the setting in of a steady rain, but it was not long before H. F. Peck of the sports committee washed in from Belchertown with a car full of paraphernalia, whereupon the mental sky grew bright when it was soon announced that the sports would be run off on the north piazza.

So while the assembly lined the

Mr. Schmidt recently received from a doctor in that country a letter asking for inside information regarding his intensive methods. The letter is interesting, not only by reason of the imperfect English, but also because it reveals the outlook and psychology of the writer.

For Man's Enjoyment

Many things seem to have been created for no other purpose than for man's enjoyment. They have no money value and cannot be put to practical ends, nor are they even for the enrichment of the mind. Take a sunset, for example. It serves no financial purpose. If a sunset could be screened off so that no one could see it without pay, people would give big sums of money for a seat. But it is all free. What gorgeous sunsets! No two are alike. The same sunset is constantly changing. The delicate tints, the artistic colors, the infinite combinations of lights and shadows, what are they all for? I do not know unless it is that man may enjoy them.

What are landscapes for? Stand on a hill top and look. Beautiful! Stand on a mountain. More beautiful! Look at the streams and the rivers, the mountains and the valleys. Look up into the starry heavens. "Every prospect pleases." It is all for man's enjoyment.

What are colors for? Why did God paint the birds with such infinite variety of colors? If we wish to see exquisite colors and delicate shadings and gorgeous hues, we turn away from the factories and studios and look at the breast or wing of a bird, or feast our eyes on the flowers in the garden. Why such an infinite variety of colors? To please the eye of man.

What are the sounds in nature for? Why the music of the thrush and the katydid and the cricket? Why the sound of the babbling brook and the roar of the sea? Nature has a thousand instruments in her orchestra and they are all for man's enjoyment.

Think of the odors of nature. Again a countless variety. Each flower has a different odor and so does each fruit. What delightful odors from the smell of new mown hay to the fragrance of a rose!

Nature is constantly saying, "Come to me and I will give you enjoyment."

The C. E. Society will hold its annual lawn party on the chapel lawn next Wednesday evening, August 8. The public is invited.

Mrs. Harriet Dickinson of the State School is spending a two weeks' vacation at her home on Maple St. Her nephew, Roy Whidden of Barre is visiting her.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morris of Holyoke have moved to the tenement recently vacated by Prin. and Mrs. Thomas Allen.

Miss Rose Legendre of Turners Falls has been visiting Miss Catherine Ahern.

Rev. M. H. Warren, acting scoutmaster, announces that the Boy Scouts will meet at the Scout room at 9.30 Saturday morning to go on a hike, and that all should bring lunch.

A telegram received in town Monday noon announced the safe arrival of Miss Marjorie Peeso at Fullerton, Cal.

The Methodist and Congregational churches will hold union evening services during the month of August. Next Sunday night the service will be in the Methodist church and Rev. F. C. Rolls will be the speaker.

Miss Florence Gilmore of Bridgewater, Mass. was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Randall. Mrs. Randall returned to Boston with her to spend a few days.

All ladies of the Congregational church are invited to the Social Guild Silver Tea to be held at the parsonage, August 15, at 3 p. m.

Mount Vernon chapter. O. E. S., will hold a lawn party on August 22nd.

Neighbors and friends of Mrs. Bertha Reimann are planning a social affair in her honor Saturday evening at her farm on Allen street. There will be dancing at the barn with music by a graphophone, with all the ear marks of a barn dance. Mrs. Reimann has a position with Dr. Brown of Amherst, but has not yet sold her farm property.

sides and ends of the long building and bright colored caps bobbed on the surface of the bordering pond, the hand picked participants (it was impossible to escape the committee at such close range) furnished the program.

Sack races developed the fact that the piazza was a hard place to flop (and they all did it), while the dress-making race in which ladies dolled-up their partners with the aid of newspapers (some comic) and pins, showed that men can be made to look well and that women have individuality when it comes to taste, for no two were alike. (One man tried to give the technical names for each, but his enthusiasm soon outran his vocabulary.)

The eating of dry crackers and then whistling afterward developed the fact, alarming to some of the participants, that while they could eat crackers at a pretty fast rate, they couldn't whistle anyway. This was really quite serious. They would make a small aperture and then blow through it, but nothing materialized.

The rope pulls, one of the last stunts, indulged in by old and young, were also run off on the piazza. The losing side in each contest soon found that they had about as much chance of regaining their glory as though they had been standing atop a greased pig, so smooth was the floor.

At the finish the sports committee awarded tickets redeemable at the Beach soda department, and as a final token of appreciation, Mrs. Ains of the management passed out a box of "tootsie rolls" to her departing guests.

Everybody made for home in a hurry and in a huddle. The storm eased up for the process and the picnic was officially over when Ed. Gay's truck rolled into the center with "kids" showing from the sides, ends, and even looming above the cab top.

All the committees worked hard. The transportation committee certainly had its hands full, the lemonade committee certainly made a tub full, and the sports committee with its peppy stick-to-it-tiveness, literally saved the day.

Boy Scout Hike

A dozen boys with the Scoutmaster went on a hike Saturday, which turned out to be much shorter and much hotter than was expected. The idea was to spend several hours hiking to the "Counterfeiters" cave and doing scout stunts. The cave was reached, all right, but the weather was so torrid there was little inclination to further exercises.

It was voted to eat lunch, then go for a dip in the pond, after a rest to allow the food to settle. This program was carried out satisfactorily, all agreeing that water never felt so good. As the storm was rumbling, the troop came into town, glad they had gone, but glad it wasn't longer!

Those who went on the hike were: John Fairchild, Stanley Dunbar, Milton Chamberlain, Donald Sessions, Junior Kempkes, Raymond Menard, Gould Ketchen, George Roode, Louis Warren, Edward Schmidt, Albert Schmidt, LeRoy Nutting, and Mr. M. H. Warren.

The meeting Saturday, August 11, will be held in the Scout room at 8 p. m.

Barn Dance

The social and barn dance given by Mrs. Bertha Reimann at her farm was well attended, guests being present from Enfield, Palmer, Willimansett and Holyoke. The entertainment consisted of old fashioned dances. Music was furnished by E. R. Peeso, violinist, accompanied by his daughters at the piano. William Kimball was prompter.

The evening's fun started off with a mock marriage, Joseph Boucher taking the part of the officiating clergyman, and E. R. Peeso and Mrs. Alfred Hortie the part of bride and groom.

Refreshments consisted of sandwiches, cake, doughnuts, coffee and lemonade.

To Organize Tuesday

There will be a meeting of those who have signed up for the forming of a camp of Sons of Veterans in Engine House hall, Tuesday, Aug. 14 at 7.30 p. m., for the purpose of organizing. It is important that all are present. Refreshments will be served by the Northampton Auxiliary.

Interest in the camp is increasing and there are more eligibles than at first thought. Dist. Com. Chester White of Northampton and Past Dept. Commander, Charles Moran of Holyoke have been in town every week assisting in the formation of a camp.

Calendar Party

In spite of thunder showers, 31 ladies and children attended the calendar party at Mrs. Henry Witt's, last Saturday afternoon, and $62.80 was realized from the calendars brought, or sent in, with 18 yet to hear from.

The interesting program planned for the event, had only begun when a terrific thunder shower broke, and as near-by buildings were struck, the committee concluded to postpone the entertainment. When things quieted down, punch, sandwiches, cake and ice cream were served.

Pictures of South America

South America will be illustrated in a stereopticon lecture by the Rev. M. H. Warren at the union service Sunday night at the Methodist church at 7.30.

Mr. Warren and his family spent five years in Argentina, from 1920 to 1925, in the ministry and in cducational work. Since his return three years ago, Mr. Warren has lectured widely over the United States, on South America, discussing the political and economic situation, and the missionary work carried on in the South American republics. The pictures he will show Sunday night have been chosen from those taken by various travellers through South America.

An offering will be taken, to be divided between the missionary collections of the two churches uniting in the service. The public is cordially invited.

Death of Mrs. Zoe Patenaude

Mrs. Zoe Patnaude died last Friday night of heart trouble at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. F. Johnson, of Warner street. Mrs. Patenaude was born Oct. 15, 1849, at St. Hyacinthe, P. Q., the daughter of Louis and Marie Anne (St. Germaine) Desmarais. In 1864 she was married to George Patnaude.

She leaves four daughters, Mrs. J. F. Johnson of this town, Mrs. Louis Cote of Leicester, Mass., Mrs. Fred Blake of Gardner, Mass., Mrs. Anthony Amelotte of Jamesville, Mass; also three sons, Lionel Patenaude of this town, William Patenaude of Worcester, Mass., Walter Patenaude of Worcester, Mass. There are also two sisters, Mrs. Louis Belanger of Oxford, Mass., and Mrs. Cordelia Benjamin of Montreal, P. Q., besides twenty grand children and ten great grand children.

The funeral was held Monday morning at 9 at St. Francis church, Rev. Fr. Rock officiating. The bearers were the sons-in-law, J. F. Johnson, Fred Blake, Louis Cote, and grandsons Clarence Patenaude, Clarence Blake and Louis Cote, Jr. Burial was in Notre Dame cemetery, Worcester.

THE BENNETT REUNION

The 34th annual reunion of the Bennett family was held at Ludlow Center on Wednesday. A short program under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Reed of Pelham was carried out after the dinner hour. This consisted of a reading by Miss Ruby Knight, a poem by Mrs. H. F. Putnam, and a song by Edith Putnam. Mrs. Harriet Dickinson presided at the piano for community singing. The business meeting then took place, which resulted in the choice of Merton Bennett of Ludlow as president.

An indoor track meet was held in the upper hall, which was also under the direction of Mrs. Reed. Miss Lora Paine won the prize for the most points and received a silver loving cup (?) with appropriate verse attached.

Those attending from Belchertown were: Frank Clark, Mrs. Iva Peeso, C. R. Green and son, Bartlett, Miss Ruby Knight, Mrs. Harriet Dickinson, Mrs. J. R. Newman, Mrs. Leon Williams and son, and Mrs. H. F. Putnam and daughter. There were about 50 from Massachusetts, Connecticut and York State.

Andrew Sears, rural mail carrier, will begin his tenth annual vacation on the 15th. Herbert I. Story will serve as his substitute. Mr. Sears will spend a part of his leave of absense at Pittsfield and New York.

ed with waiting, left the ranks, but others immediately took the vacant places, peering over one another's shoulders for a glimpse of the lady with the gay apparel and bright decorations, and hoping to get a word or two of the fortune being dealt out in generous measure to the fortunate one within.

Hamilton's orchestra of Amherst, with J. Raymond Gould at the piano, furnished music all the evening except for an intermission when an entertainment in charge of Miss Eleanor Bardwell was presented. The audience first noticed that Mrs. Roy O. Baggs was singing and one and another began to hush the conversation around them. Then they slowly recognized that something was happening to the left of the singer, where an old grandmother sat with her knitting while her pretty granddaughter flitted about the room. The singer told the story and the actors put it into a picture. It was all very realistic: Matilda with her ironing and the old lady keeping a sharp eye on her all the time; the exit of the old grandmother and the entrance of young Timothy Trot, gay and debonair; the unexpected return of the grandmother and Matilda's hurried hiding of her lover in the first available place; the old lady's horror at the discovery of a tall silk hat on the table and her terrible wrath. Then she discovers poor Timothy beneath the table and drags him forth to vent her ire alternately upon her granddaughter and the lad. Then came the happy climax when Timothy brings out his bag of gold and the grandmother joins the hands of the lovers.

The parts were excellently taken by Miss Esther Jackson, the grandmother; Miss Eunice Doerpholz, Matilda; and Francis Allen, Timothy Trot. Miss Allen accompanied Mrs. Baggs at the piano.

Joseph Bothwell has withdrawn from the race for the Democratic nomination for representative, due to the announced candidacy of Rep. Sawyer, whom Democrats as well as Republicans seem to fear. As far as the latter are concerned, there is considerable resentment that the present incumbent has changed his mind as to his "last term".

Republican nomination papers are now in circulation for Alvan R. Lewis, retired school superintendent, who is widely known in fraternal circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Goodell have been spending the week at West Haven, Ct. Mrs. George Hussey has been substituting for Mrs. Goodell at the post office.

Miss Ruth Bartlett of East Longmeadow has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. A. H. Bartlett, of South Main street.

The Ladies Social Union has postponed its regular business meeting until Aug. 24.

The registrars will meet next Tuesday evening from 7.30 to 9.30 to give a hearing to those whose names are being taken from the voters' list and to register new names.

Thunder showers were the order of the day last Friday Saturday and Sunday. Theodore Johnson of Federal St. lost his barn and contents Saturday afternoon when lightning struck the building during a severe shower. Fred Purdy's house on Maple St. was also struck, and shingles and clapboards torn off. Another bolt in the shower of Saturday afternoon struck a tree near David Jepson's barn on North Main St. Mr. Jepson, who lives alone, was knocked down and stunned. Electric light and telephone men have been on the jump. As H. E. Sessions is away on his vacation this week, Northampton repair men have had the work in charge. Yesterday noon there were still fourteen telephones to be fixed.

Grange Notes

By Noel

Union Grange held its only meeting of the month in Grange hall Tuesday evening. It was voted to accept an invitation to neighbor with Ludlow grange on Aug. 20th. Plans are also under way to secure a State grange speaker for one of the September meetings.

The entertainment of the evening consisted of a question box in charge of the lecturer, Mrs. Bertram Shaw, a reading by Mrs. H. F. Putnam and a duet by Mrs. E. F. Shumway and Mrs. Bertram Shaw.

The annual field day of the Hampshire County grange will be held in Northampton, Thursday, Aug. 16. It is expected that several Mass. State grange officers will be present, including William N. Howard of North Easton.

Wilfred Noel, master of Union grange, urges all members to attend this event if possible. There will also be sporting events including a ball game, and any grange members wishing to enter the event may get full information from Charles Sanford.

Defeated Wednesday Night

By Noel

The Belchertown A. A. was at last favored with ideal baseball weather on Wednesday evening and was able to play its scheduled game with the East Street Nine of Amherst, second place members of the Twilight league of that town, on the common, but came out on the short end of a 7-3 score.

The game was limited to six innings on account of darkness and is the first of a three-game series. The home team played good ball, considering the several weeks' lay-off, but a few costly errors and misplays at in-opportune times figured in the downfall of the A. A.'s.

The features of the game were Wes Landry's pretty three-bagger in deep left field, R. Crutch's unassisted double play, and Piper's fielding at the hard corner, handling seven perfect chances.

The local team scored the first run of the game in the second inning. Dewey singled, took second on McCain's grounder, who was out, R. Crutch to H. Crutch and then to third, while J. R. Fairchild struck out and scored on J. J. Fairchild's single.

East Street scored a run in the third when Madden reached third on a fielder's choice and scored on two infield errors.

The visitors took the lead in the fourth when they scored two runs. Wes Landry hit a three-bagger and scored on Shumway's double. R. Crutch reached third on a fielder's choice, Shumway being put out at second. Chamberlain sacrificed, R. Crutch to second, scored when King muffed T. Landry's grounder.

The East Street team "sewed up" the old ball game by scoring four runs in the sixth inning. Chamberlain singled and then to 2nd, while T. Landry struck out and scored on E. Robinson's single. Madden flied out to Dooley, H. Crutch and Strange singled, Robinson scoring. W. Landry's second hit of the game scored H. Crutch and Strange.

The local team scored two runs in the same inning. King and E. Robinson reached first on errors, each advanced a base on McKane's out and scored on Dewey's timely single.

The Belchertown A. A. will play the second of the three game series with East St. of Amherst on Nutting's field, Sunday at 2.30 p. m. The local team was defeated by a four-run margin in the first game. The A. A. hopes to even the series Sunday and a large crowd is expected to be on hand for the contest.

Another twilight game will probably be played next Wednesday evening as a game is now pending with the Ludlow grange nine.

Old Document

An interesting document that has come to our attention is the contract for building the almshouse which with the real estate was recently sold to the state for use by the Belchertown State School. The document establishes the date of its erection as 1877, the contractor, H. D. Hoag, and the price $2,200. The contract reads:

MEMORANDUM that on this twenty-fourth day of April 1877 it is agreed by and between H. D. Hoag, carpenter and builder of Belchertown, Mass. and E. Burnett, Alonzo Randall, Samuel Allen, building committee on town Alms house for the town of Belchertown, Mass., Viz. The said H. D. Hoag agrees to build one building according to the plans and specifications prepaired for the same, to be located on the town farm at a place designated by the committee.

In consideration of the full performance of the same the above named Burnett, Randall and Allen agree to pay unto the said H. D. Hoag the sum of Twenty-two hundred dollars lawful money in the following manner, viz.

Seven Hundred dollars. When all foundations are in, the entire Building raised and rough boarded.

Five Hundred dollars when the entire outside done, chimney built and floors laid.

Five hundred dollars when partitions set, plastering done. The balance of Five Hundred when this contract is completed. To be completed on or before the first day of October 1877.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and seals the day and year above written.

Social Guild Silver Tea

In spite of above-summer heat temperature, about half a hundred ladies made their way to the Congregational parsonage on Wednesday afternoon to attend the Silver Tea given under the auspices of the Social Guild.

The program consisted of vocal solos by Mrs. Bertram Shaw and Mrs. Roy O. Baggs, accompanied by Mrs. W. E. Shaw and Miss M. L. Allen respectively, and the relating by Guild members of "How I Earned My Dollar."

Some of the responses were in rhyme, some were written, some impromptu, but all were of interest to the andience. The range of a woman's earning power extended from the picking up of a nickel to usingan electric washer, from selling cocoa to disposing of a stove, besides the more usual employment of cooking, making hulled corn, etc.

After the program a social half-hour was enjoyed, followed by refreshments. Mrs. H. F. Duncan, president of the Guild, and Mrs. G. E. Scott poured. The refreshment

Sons of Veterans Organize

The Department of Sons of Veterans of the Civil War has formed a camp in Belchertown, and Tuesday evening organized with the following officers:

Commander J. V. Cook
Senior Vice Commander Bert Fellows
Junior Vice Commander Frank Rhodes
Secretary William E. Shaw
Treasurer E. O. Stebbins
Camp Council
Clifford Cook
Frank Shaw
Roy Shaw

These offices we were compelled to fill in order to receive our charter. This organization is no longer known as Sons of Veterans Post No. 97, G. A. R., formed in 1872 with 17 members—this camp has 18 members, and will have more at the muster. There are now 62 known eligibles in this town and there is no reason why our organization cannot be one of the best in Massachusetts.

There were present Tuesday evening representatives from camps and auxiliaries in Amherst, Northampton, Holyoke and Springfield, who helped to make a very successful and enjoyable evening. They also brought a huge quantity of sandwiches and cake enough and to spare for all. District Commander Chester White of Northampton, Past Department Commander Charles Moran of Holyoke and Commander Cook of Amherst were present as usual, besides other commanders. The different auxiliaries deserve especial mention for their cooperation.

There are more officers to be appointed after the grand muster, which will be held August 28.

Water Takers Receive Notice

The Commissioners of the Water District are placing in the mail today notices to those in arrears more than 30 days for water rent. The final date on which arrearages are to be paid has been set for August 24. The commissioners will hold a meeting in the Selectmen's room in Memorial hall at 7.30 p. m. Thursday, August 23, at which time an opportunity will be given to those who are unable to reach their full obligation, to make satisfactory arrangements.

It is apparent that an unneccessary burden would be placed upon the commissioners to attempt to restore services on the day that advice has been received that arrearages have been paid. Notice is therefore given that service will be restored as early the following day as conditions will allow.

Stereopticon Service

There was a large attendance at the union service in the M. E. church Sunday evening to hear Rev. M. H. Warren give his stereopticon talk on South America, where both he and Mrs. Warren labored for several years as missionaries.

The pictures showed the customs of the people, the architectural splendor of the public buildings, and the products of that country, besides revealing the missionary activities carried on.

Cows being milked in the streets in front of the houses of the customers (thus assuring fresh milk, at least), banana trees with fruit in such quantity that one could eat a dozen as far as the cost was concerned, and inviting tropical scenes were among the unique slides shown.

Many of the pictures were of Argentina, the great beef producing country. It was stated that by reason of the United States' immigration laws, people from European countries are going in large numbers to the republic to the south. The influx is now about a third of a million annually.

The slides having to do with missionary and educational activity were of special interest by reason of the fact that Rev. and Mrs. Warren were in many of the groups, most of which were cosmopolitan in character.

Rev. Mr. Warren stressed the fact that athletics, with its emphasis on good sportsmanship is doing much to teach the people of that country how to play the larger game of life. Soccer is the popular game. The pictures were mostly of eastern So. America.

Rev. F. C. Rolls conducted the service. An offering was taken for the benevolent work of the cooperating churches.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CARS

-PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE

by

WALTER P. CHRYSLER

You, more than anyone else, are entitled to know the purpose behind our recent acquisition of the assets and facilities of Dodge Brothers, Inc.

For upon that purpose depends the security of your investment in Dodge Brothers products.

In acquiring Dodge Brothers, Inc. for the Chrysler Corporation, we have secured one of the largest and most modern automobile factories in the world and with it an organization of exceptional ability.

We intend that these facilities shall be utilized to increase the value and quality in Dodge Brothers cars and Graham Brothers Trucks and Motor Coaches.

We have secured, in addition, a dealer organization that has always been recognized as one of the finest in the industry.

It is our intention to deserve the continued loyalty of this group of substantial, progressive merchants by making it possible for them to enjoy increasing prosperity through the sale of Dodge Brothers products.

We have secured, moreover, that which transcends in importance either Dodge Brothers superb plant equipment or Dodge Brothers splendid dealer organization. For we have become the lawful heritors of Dodge Brothers Good Name, with all the solemn obligation which that inheritance implies.

We have become the trustees of Dodge Brothers good faith to their customers, and it is our purpose to execute that trust with fidelity.

The priceless identity of all Dodge Brothers products will be preserved — as well as the sound policies that have made the words Dodge Brothers synonymous with Honest Value and Dependability.

Dodge Brothers Works will continue to produce Dodge Brothers Motor Cars and Graham Brothers commercial vehicles. Dodge Brothers dealers will continue to sell and service them.

The men to whose capable support the success of the Chrysler Corporation is due, unite with me in pledging perpetuation of Dodge Brothers ideals, to the end that a Good Name may be made still better.

The Belchertown A. A., with its best lineup of the season, easily defeated the East Street Nine of Amherst in the second of a three-game series on Nutting's field Sunday by a 7 to 0 score. Paige Piper, hurling for the home team, pitched shut-out ball, allowing the visitors two scratch hits. With the exception of the first and third innings, when the local team took advantage of a few errors coupled with several base hits and scored their total number of runs, the game would have been one of the best played this season.

The A. A.'s scored three runs in the first inning. Krol, first man up, flied out to E. Shumway, Clark doubled and scored on Harnish's single, Landers and King singled in succession, Harnish scoring, but Landers, who tried to score from second, was nipped at the plate. Fairchild reached first on Goodrich's error, King scoring. In the third, five errors by the East Street and Fairchild's sacrifice were responsible for the four runs scored by the A. A.

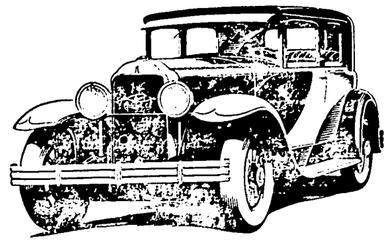
"Just plain wonderful" ..say all who have seen it



Amid all the fanfare of new car announcements, one fact stands out with shining clarity: Owners of cars in every price field are turning to the Silver Anniversary Buick with an eagerness which proves that they regard it as the greatest value ever offered in the motor world!

This radically new and different automobile is rolling up the biggest demand ever won by any new quality car. It is drawing more people to the showrooms, day after day, than any other automobile ever drew before. It is focusing the attention of America by quality-standards so new, so advanced and so epochal as to preclude any thought of comparison.

New Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher marking the highest degree of dashing, daring, debonair beauty — thrilling new abilities, as unmatched as they were unknown a few weeks ago — new appointments of luxury and convenience never before known to motor car practice!

America has seen plenty of automobiles. But America has never seen an automobile like this. "Just plain Wonderful" is the country's verdict on the Silver Anniversary Buick!

Thibodeau-Hubbard Wedding

The following from the Social columns of the daily press, tells the story of the Thibodeau-Hubbard wedding.

Miss Doris Clara Thibodeau, daughter of Mrs. Leonard Thibodeau of 120 Balis street, became the bride of Lyman Edward Hubbard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hubbard of Belchertown, last Friday night at 8 at Belchertown. Rev. M. H. Warren, pastor of the Methodist church there, performed the ceremony, using the double ring service.

Miss Helen Thibodeau, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Marie Hubbard, sister of the groom, was bridemaid. Hugh Hubbard served his brother as best man and Ralph Hubbard, another brother, was usher.

The bride wore a gown of orchid georgette crepe with picture hat in harmony, and carried a bouquet of roses and orchid sweet peas. The maid of honor wore a yellow georgette frock with hat in harmony and carried roses and sweet peas. The bridemaid's frock was of peach georgette with hat to match and she also carried a bouquet of roses and sweet peas.

O. E. S. Lawn Party

The annual O. E. S. lawn party was held Wednesday evening, only it wasn't a lawn party. Threatening skies upset the organization's plans to make it such and turned it into a house party at the chapel, instead.

Dazzling colored lights, however, hung out in the drizzling atmosphere, beckoning passers-by to the attractions within, which were little abbreviated by the transfer, although the attendance was smaller than a hot August night would have enticed.

The cafeteria was set up in the dining room and was manned, or rather, "womaned" by a large corps of ladies in waiting with salads and cold meat, hot coffee and hot dogs, kraft cheese and home made pie, ice cream, cake, etc. The presentation was such that it was hard to make a selection.

Small tables, distributed throughout the chapel, afforded happy eating grounds for all. Japanese lanterns hung overhead, while stands for the special features were touched with the national colors and also set with stars of vari-colored points.

Sept. 12
Annual chicken pie supper and lecture in M. E. vestry.

There was the candy table loaded with home-made candy which vanished with the evening, the lemonade stand that enticed the drys, the fancy work table that attracted those with aesthetic tastes, and the grab bag with its untold possibilities.

But most alluring of all was that evergreen bower to the right of the platform, where many a lad and a lass, and some almost too old to come within that classification, sought the little gypsy (Mrs. A. D. Moore) for a peep into the future.

There was a spontaneous round of applause when the lady with the bewitching shawl and accoutrements walked to the platform, where a steady stream of inquirers sought her for a "seance". The varied expressions on the faces of the patrons as they came out from this retreat of fortune was a pantomime that could not be reproduced.

And so the evening passed happily away, the surplus food was sold to those who were satisfied with the sample, and the party ended.

The committees were as follows:

Morse Reunion

There was an attendance of about 35 at the Morse reunion held at the home of Merrill E. Williams on Saturday, people coming from Detroit, Springfield, Northampton, Amherst, Pelham, Ware, Palmer and Proctor, Vt.

At the business meeting M. A. Morse was chosen honorary president, Mrs. Charles Buffington of Ware, acting president, George E. Williams, vice president; Ruby Booth of Brimfield, secretary; Mrs. Lillian Olds, treasurer.

Mrs. Olds, Mrs. Guy Reed and Mrs. Leon Williams were again chosen as entertainment committee.

The picnic dinner was partaken of on the lawn and a very enjoyable program was carried out, partly indoors because of showers, followed by sports.

An invitation was extended to the association to meet with Mrs. Guy Reed of Pelham for the next reunion.

To Compete for Swimming Honors

Mrs. Thomas E. Sullivan of Amherst, wife of Dr. Sullivan who has dental parlors here, will be in Toronto August 29 to take part in the Canadian National swimming exhibition. Seventy-two countries will be represented. The swim is for 10 miles with a prize of $1,000 a mile for women.

The course is triangular in shape and the contest will be visible from the shore. Mrs. Sullivan had the honor of being Canadian long distance swimmer for 1926.

Installation and Muster

There will be a muster and installation of offices of the newly formed camp of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Tuesday evening, August 28, in Memorial Hall at 8.00 o'clock.

A ceremony of initiation, which is, of course, private, wil take place at 7.30 o'clock. This must be attended by those who have signed up to join the organization. Those who wish to, may be taken in at this time by applying for blanks to be filled out at once. This installation is held under the auspices of Western Massachusetts Division and a number of camps and their auxiliaries are expected to attend.

Four Leading South End Farms Sold

There has been quite a turnover of real estate in the south end of the town during the past month, and in fact, week. Four large farms, most of which have long borne the names of their respective owners, have changed hands.

The M. P. Bowler place has been sold to a Mr. McLean of Springfield, the J. T. Geer and H. D. Geer farms to Felix Klys of Webster and Michael Krawiec of Palmer respectively, while the old Sykes place, recently owned by Robert Mullen, has been sold to a Polish family. All of the farms are of large acreage.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hobart of West Springfield and Mrs. John Peeso and daughter Anne of Springfield were guests of Mrs. Iva Peeso on Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Plantiff celebrated her 85th birthday Sunday at her home on Jabish St. Her daughter, Mrs. John C. Robbins of Waltham and husband were present and many callers from town were received. Her son, Gaston Plantiff, who was in Canada on business, could not be here but is expected later.

Mrs. S. W. Roode has returned from a trip to New York city, Flushing, L. I., Montclair, Garwood and Westfield, N. J.

Thirty-six members of Union Grange responded to the invitation of Ludlow Grange to neighbor with them Monday evening. The local Grange, in conjunction with Granby and Wilbraham Granges, furnished the program, a special feature of which was a pantomine, "Grandmother's Rose Jar." Mrs. J. W. Hurlburt was the grandmother, dreaming of her roses, while 6 girls dressed to represent roses appeared in person. Mrs. A. D. Moore was the reader. Following Mr. Forward's reference to the changes which 20 years had wrought, Mrs. Moore gave in pantomine a girl of 20 years ago getting ready for her beau, and in contrast a girl of today. Mrs. Julia Shumway gave a reading and the program closed with a community sing led by Mrs. B. E. Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Peeso entertained at dinner Sunday a party of 11, the occasion being Mrs. Peeso's brother's birthday. Guests were present from Rockville, Ct., Watting, Conn., and Springfield.

Miss Dora Blackmer of East Walnut street is spending the week at Dalton.

Arthur Ward, of Dayton, O., has joined his family at H. H. Ward's where they have been spending the summer.

Rev. and Mrs. Walter R. Blackmer of Saxtons River, Vt., arrived in town Monday for a visit at the home of his brother, Lewis H. Blackmer, of Cottage street.

The school houses of the town have undergone minor repairs during the summer vacation and the Union School has been painted, G. B. Jackson doing the work.

Rev. A. V. Dimock, Superintendent for the western district of the Mass. Anti-Saloon League, will speak at the Congregational Church Sunday morning.

Earl Fox of Bloomingburg, N. Y., is visiting his cousins, James and Kenneth Collard.

Announcement is made of two political meetings to be held August 31, the first at 2 p. m. in Enfield and the second at 3.30 in Ware. These are for the furthering of the candidacy of Alvan R. Lewis for representative. Further notice will be given later.

Dr. Thomas E. Sullivan will be absent from his office from August 24 till after Labor Day.

A Visit to the Ford Annex

The following article was put in type some months ago, and a visitor to the Ford Annex today would note some changes in the arrangement of articles as set forth here. They would also note a large stone sink recently discovered by W. A. Stebbins at an old house in Prescott and bought for the association. In fact, hardly a week goes by without evidences of growth in the collection.

The Ford Annex at the Stone House grounds has been enlarged to almost twice its original capacity by putting in a second floor. W. A. Stebbins of Chicopee, former president of the Historical association, brought the idea before some of the trustees and, with their approval, went ahead with the work. Caspar Ranger company of Holyoke received the contract, completing the work about two weeks ago. Since then the officers and members have been putting on the finishing touches and re-arranging the exhibits to better advantage.

The first floor remains about the same, the chief interest being the old-time vehicles, reminiscent of an early industry which made the town known far and near.

Arranged on the second floor are articles relative to other early industries. In one corner are the spinning wheels and swifts and reels, all easily recognized, although the demonstration of their use is not so easy.

In the opposite corner are the flax wheels. One of them still has the unspun flax upon it and fastened to it is the gourd which held the water to soften the material. Hetchels and cards and skeins of flax are on a table nearby.

On this table, also, is a bundle of palm leaf such as was used for weaving the "shakers", a kind of sunbonnet, and at the end of the loft, with the spinning wheels on one side and the flax wheels on the other, is a loom all ready to weave the palm leaf. Beneath it is a smaller loom used for weaving the narrow straw binding for the edge of the "shakers" and poised above the larger loom is a sample bonnet all ready to wear.

At one side of the loft is a cobbler's bench with its wooden lasts and wooden pegs, ready to do business. At the opposite side is a row of vehicles, reminding one of the exhibit down stairs except that they are in miniature. Here is the little sleigh made by one of the old carriage workers, Platt T. Slauter, in which he drew his children to church. This is dated "about 1862". There are a couple of other unique little vehicles, besides a row of ancient, leather-covered trunks.

Near the head of the stairs are several cheese presses, one of the old Dutch type. Anyone who knows can tell you all about them, and how to use the basket and the "followers" and the weights, etc.

At the other side is a charcoal basket and rake, several mortars and pestles, and an odd assortment of various tools and devices, among them a "crow" which is an odd instrument for cutting the grooves in barrel staves into which the head fits.

New adjustable front seats in all Buick closed models providing unrivalled comfort and driving ease for women and men alike

No more awkward driving positions! No more straining for pedals! No more need of cushions for feminine drivers! Buick has ended all that—ended it with a new comfort feature as unique and individual as the dashing beauty of Buick's new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher—a comfort feature obtainable only in the Silver Anniversary Buick!

The front seats of all Buick closed models are adjustable! A turn of the seat-regulator causes the entire seat to move forward or back at the will of the driver, thus assuring a natural, comfortable position for any man or woman who takes the wheel!

The new seat is easily adjustable even when fully occupied! A child can operate it! It is simple—positive in action—and together with Buick's adjustable steering wheel provides, for the first time in motor car history, a made-to-measure driving position!

This same fine convenience—this same matchless comfort and luxury—are apparent in every feature and appointment of the Silver Anniversary Buick.

See this epic car! Drive it! Test the new and exclusive adjustable seat! Prove to yourself that here, indeed, is the finest motor car and the greatest value America has ever produced!

Truck Goes Through Bridge

Two men had a narrow escape from injury or drowning just before 9.00 Tuesday night when a five ton truck crashed through the old wooden bridge which spans the Swift River on the back road leading from Palmer to Belchertown near Cosey Corner Farm. Waldo Bray of Amherst, the driver of the truck and Brooke Cover of this town who was riding with him managed to get out of the truck which was partially submerged, a good drenching being their only discomfort. The truck, which is owned by Frank L. Gold, was returning home empty.

The vehicle had almost reached the Belchertown end of the bridge, when the structure gave way, causing the truck to take a 20-foot drop into the river not far from shore. A fortunate circumstance for the men was that the accident occurred near shore, for the river is swift and deep at this point.

Wednesday by the use of the equipment of the Boston Duck Co., the truck was extricated about 8 p. m.

Dear Mr. Editor:

Sons of Veterans' Installation

The Alexander P. Cook Camp, No. 83, Sons of Union Veterans, was given a big send-off Tuesday evening on the occasion of the initiation of its members and the installation of its officers at Memorial hall. There were about 150 present, nearly all coming from neighboring camps and auxiliaries. They came from Springfield, Holyoke, Northampton, Amherst, Agawam and other places, all with the intent of putting the local camp on its feet and giving it something to remember.

Past Department Commander Charles Moran of Holyoke was the installing officer, while District Commander Chester White of Northampton was in general charge of the evening's ceremonies.

There were several surprise features in connection with the installation. The Holyoke and Springfield auxiliaries each presented small flags for use in the Camp's rooms, while the group from Springfield, which put on a special exercise in connection, gave the local camp a large flag which was presented by Mrs. Maybelle Walker Howard in memory of her brother, Chauncey D. Walker, who gave his life in the World War.

Then followed the speech making. Two G. A. R. men, A. P. Cook of Granby, for whom the camp was named, and H. L. Hadlock, occupied seats of honor on the platform and were called on for remarks. Although 85 years old, Mr. Cook spoke in a voice clear and strong, and expressed appreciation that the new camp is being named for him and wished it success. He said he was connected with the old G. A. R. post for about 40 years and was its commander for four years.

Mr. Hadlock spoke of the sacredness of Memorial Day and recalled experiences of the war, stating that he had tramped seemingly thousands of miles with his comrade on the platform.

Out-of-town speakers were Henry F. Weiler, Past Dept. Commander of Melrose; Wilfred F. Libby, Junior Vice Commander of Westboro,

Blackmer-Pike Wedding

Miss Dora Mildred Blackmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy M. Blackmer, and Walter Pike, son of Alton Pike of 158 High St., Dalton, were married Saturday, August 25, at the Congregational parsonage in that city by Rev. Ralph Tinberlake, pastor of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Pike left for a wedding trip to Canada, going by way of the New York line and crossing Rouse's Point into Montreal. While there they took sight seeing tours, visiting the Indian reservation of Coughnawaga and other points of interest. They returned by way of Grand Isle county, Burlington and Rutland, Vt., and Greenfield.

The couple will make their home in Dalton where Mr. Pike is employed by the L. P. Adams Co.

Ralph P. Jackson Wins Honors

"In the honor list of ten new members of the Y. C. Laboratory who received cash awards and national publicity for ingenious projects, Member Ralph P. Jackson (14 years) of Meriden, Conn. is the Constructor of the excellent Model Yacht with which he is shown in Illustration 6. The original of the Yacht is the famous 'Beaver', of which Member Jackson received plans from Councilor F. Alexander Magoun. Member Jackson is an experienced ship model constructor and has won Y. M. C. A. Hobby Show Contest prizes, not only with the 'Beaver' model but with a cabin cruiser of his own construction."

In addition to the cash prize received, Ralph P. Jackson, who is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson, also received a large engraved membership card which entitles him to all the privileges of the Y. C. Laboratory researches.

A careful consideration of this Article will show that a presidential election cannot repeal the eighteenth amendment or any other part of the constitution; that a new president cannot repeal it however much one might desire to do so; that a new Congress cannot repeal it, however large a wet majority may be; and that a speedy repeal of the eighteenth amendment or any other part of the constitution is not possible. Giving Your Skin the Air

Public Health Bulletin

"'Be good to your skin', is a fine hot weather motto" in the opinion of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

"Water bathing is more popular every year, and with good reason, for it happily combines benefit and pleasure. Water inside and out, fresh air inside and out—these are doctors who send no bills but do their part to prevent our ills."

On a hot day we shut our skins up in layers of clothing and expect them to work hard and keep us comfortable. Men are worse sinners than women in this respect now-a-days. Light and air are two of the best friends of health; let's use them freely. We do urge sun baths, but why wait for sunshine? Fresh air and skyshine have excellent health values if applied directly to our skins. They are practically always available while sunshine is often at a premium in some parts of these United States.

Start with the baby. See that he has a chance, at least twice a day, to lie and kick and squirm to his heart's content, clad only in his birthday suit. In a well-known hospital for children with bone troubles the little patients lie in the open air, wearing only their bathing trunks, so many hours a day summer and winter, and the results are excellent.

Daily air baths help to prevent that wholesale evil, the "common cold," by accustoming the skin to cool or cold air currents. It is the old idea of "toughening the skin" brought up to date and used scientifically. The well-aired skin grows indifferent to "drafts" and is never easily chilled.

Start tonight with your air bath. Don't hustle from day clothes into night clothes. Let your skin have a few minutes' freedom from all covering. Do your morning exercise in the nude, before you take your tub or shower. Keep the good habit up "when winter comes". If you find it a bit chilly as the temperature drops, have a very rough towel handy and give the whole body a vigorous dry rub-down night and morning. It is really surprising how refreshing this brief skin airing and skin exercise can be."

"Give your skin the air."

The assessors have determined the tax rate both for the town and water district. The former is the same as for last year, $36.80, while the latter is $7.00, 30 cents less than last year.

Lieut. Thomas Macdonough of the Brooklyn (N. Y.) police force, who is visiting relatives here, had the distinction of locating the state boy that ran away from his home near Lake Metacomet the first of the week. He was found the day following his disappearance, after quite a search, near a swamp bordering the lake, having had only a few berries for nourishment.

New high pressure fueling ... and New high speed carburetion

Supplementing the amazing abilities of Buick's improved Valve-in-Head engine—providing brilliant new efficiency and effectiveness at all engine speeds—are two wonderful new Silver Anniversary Buick features . . .

A new high-pressure gas pump—completely eliminating the old fashioned vacuum tank—assures a steady flow of fuel under all driving conditions; and a new high-speed carburetor—the most expensive employed on any motor car—produces unrivaled ease of starting, smooth operation and maximum economy.

The world-famous Buick engine—with these two new features—attains the highest degree of efficiency of any automobile engine . . . and attains that peak efficiency with any grade of fuel—low-test, high-test or in between!

Hair-trigger acceleration! Dazzling new swiftness! Matchless hill-climbing! Unrivaled ability to maintain a high pace hour after hour and day after day!

Take this new Buick out on the highway. Test it to the limit. Prove to yourself—it's the great car of the world!

Beach Party

Mrs. M. H. Warren entertained Tuesday evening with a beach party for Miss Anna Smith and Alexander Liebner, of Yonkers, N. Y., who are spending the week with the Warren family.

The guests gathered about 5.30 and motored to Ain's Beach at Bondsville where most of the group had a good swim. After the swimmers had swum a-plenty, and all others had had their fill—of lake water—a picnic supper was disposed of. All were particularly appreciative of the sun who put in an appearance for a couple of hours and left behind him a rainless, if humid evening.

Those who attended were Miss Anna Smith, Alexander Liebner, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ketchen, Misses Carrie Atwood, Edna Howard, Geraldine Howard, Lillian Upham, Evelyn Sessions, Mildred Ward, Montiel Roode, Messrs Harold Booth, William French, George McPherson, Harlan Davis, Alfred Putnam, Preston Atwood, George Booth, Louis Warren, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Warren.

M. E. Church Notes

The annual chicken pie supper of the Methodist Church will be given on Wednesday evening, Sept. 12, at 6.30 o'clock. Following the supper there will be a program, representing life in South America, consisting of a short play, a gaucho dance in which twelve children will participate, songs, and a set of stereoptican slides on the Inca Indians of Bolivia and Peru.

There will be no services at the Methodist Church on Sunday, as this is "Laurel Park" Sunday for the Springfield district. All who can attend the meetings at Laurel Park, Northampton, this week and until Sept. 3rd are urged to do so. The program for mornings, afternoons and evenings is made up of excellent talent.

Some of the outstanding speakers are Dr. H. E. Luccock, of New York, who preaches Sunday morning at 10.30; Bishop W. F. Anderson of Boston, who speaks Saturday evening at 7.15 and Sunday afternoon at 3.

The Epworth League of the District will have charge of the program on Labor Day, ending with a dinner.

There is good music at all sessions, Rev. L. E. Whitechurch of Shelburne Falls being in charge.

Parking space for cars is ample and the public is invited.

There was an old car with carbon inside, but now it gives you a wonderful ride. Why?

Speaks on Prohibition

Rev. A. V. Dimock, representing the Massachusetts Anti-Saloon League, spoke at the Congregational church Sunday morning. He said that liquor was once thought a food, then a beverage, then a stimulant and lastly a poison. He alluded to the passing of the prohibition amendment as the greatest emancipation, even greater than that of Lincoln. He urged his hearers to stand by their new liberty and to keep it by supporting the government and answering the challenge of the people by whom it was brought about. He said that it was done in the open and under God's clear sky; that the veterans helped elect a dry Congress before they went across. The majority for ratification was larger than for any other amendment, and it was ratified in two years instead of the allotted seven.

Mr. Dimock said that 80,000 bar tenders are still paying dues, hoping to get back their jobs. The speaker said that he was Canadian born and an American by choice, and went on to say that no more notorious humbug ever came into the life of any nation than government control, the very thing which is advocated by the wets here.

Speaking of enforcement, he said that it took 50 years to obliterate slavery and that it is only fair to allow prohibition 25 years.

He spoke of the fear complex that had induced Canada to let down the bars, and warned against it here. He stressed the testimony of Com. Booth of the Salvation Army, who is authority for the statement that instead of three out of four families receiving Christmas boxes because an alcoholic addict had brought on the resulting poverty, now only one family in ten is poor by reason thereof.

Mr. Dimock read the prohibition planks in both platforms, and let the people draw their own conclusions.

Turkey Hill Items

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hubbard entertained between 40 and 50 guests Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. James Lemon being the guests of honor. The party took the form of a miscellaneous shower.

Mrs. E. C. Roach of Hubbardton, Vt., and, Charlestown, N. H., returned Thursday to Charlestown after a week's visit with relatives in Palmer, Ludlow, Granby and Belchertown. She with Mrs. L. E. Williams and son, Bernard, and Mrs. H. F. Putnam and daughter, Edith, attended the Old Home day exercises at Prescott Friday.

Raymond Roach of Palmer spent the afternoon with his mother at H. F. Putnam's on Saturday.

Town Items

Attention is again called to the entertainment in the chapel next Wednesday night at 7.30. There will be songs, recitations, a dialogue etc., all in charge of Mrs. Hattie Taylor. The proceeds will go towards the purchase of a piano for the Congregational church auditorium.

At the C. E. meeting Sunday evening, Walter Roode reported the recent Christian Endeavor conference at Northfield, which he and his brother, George Roode, attended. In the test on "Progressive Endeavor," the former stood 88 and the latter 85. This is Walter Roode's third year at the conference and his brother's second.

Rev. F. C. Rolls has invited the newly formed camp of Sons of Veterans to be present at the evening service of the Congregational church on Sunday. As there will be no services at the M. E. church Sunday, an invitation has been extended to those unable to go to Laurel Park to attend the Congregational church. It was announced last Sunday evening that the union evening services would be continued as far as possible through September.

Supt. Knight announces that, following the plan of last year, those entering the freshman class of B. H. S. are requested to be at the school Tuesday of next week. The busses will make their usual trips, beginning on that day.

Miss Bridget Fitzgerald, teacher of Cold Spring school, who has been in the hospital where she underwent an operation, has asked for a leave of absence till October 1st. Miss Beatrice Huckins of Ashby, a graduate of Fitchburg Normal school, has been engaged as substitute.

Miss Emma Stadler has resigned her position as teacher of the Center Intermediate school. Miss Evelyn Smith of Fairhaven, a Framingham Normal graduate, has been engaged in her stead.

Dr. Daniel Coleman of Wellesley and Atty Robert W. Cumming of New York are guests of their mother, Mrs. Geo. W. Coleman of the Holyoke district.

Miss Jane Shumway and Miss Eva Ward are at Laurel Park for a vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Ward left yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ward and family on a motor trip to Dayton, O., where they will spend a month.

Miss Marion Carter of Absecon, N. J., is the guest of Mrs. William E. Shaw.

Miss Ethel Dewey of Worcester is visiting at her home in town.

Pomona grange meeting will be held next week at Leverett.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bachelder and granddaughter of East Providence R. I., are guests of Mrs. Eveline Squires.

Miss Esther Squires has returned from a few days' visit with relatives in Chester.

Rev. C. M. Tomblen of West Brookfield will supply the pulpit of the Congregational church Sept. 9, in the absence of the pastor. In the evening he will give a stereopticon lecture at a union service. Mr. Tomblen is well and favorably known in town.

and Mrs. Margaret Waters, National President of Auxiliaries, of Woburn. All the speakers gave words of God-speed, while emphasis was given the fact that camps that have auxiliaries are the most prosperous.

Rev. L. T. Rock, newly appointed pastor of St. Francis church and who saw service in the World War, gave remarks appropriate to the occasion. He said that our mission is now one of peace, that the world is one human family and that in reality we get very little out of war. He went on to indicate the qualities represented by the colors of the flag.

Rev. F. C. Rolls spoke of his son who went across in the World War and of its being true in his own case that although of English extraction, "Your flag" is "my flag", for which he expressed devotion and loyalty.

The visiting auxiliaries served refreshments of sandwiches, cake and punch in seemingly endless amounts. Dancing completed the evening's festivities, the visitors furnishing the music.

Dist. Com. Chester White, in the course of his remarks during the evening, commended E. O. Stebbins for his untiring labors in forming the camp, stating that, without him, it would have been impossible of accomplishment.

J. V. Cook, the commander elect, wielded the gavel during the latter part of the evening and entertained the guests with his usual repartee.

Anouncement is made that the charter membership will be left open till the next meeting, which occurs the second week in September.

Republican Women Organize

A group of Republican ladies gathered at the home of the Misses Bardwell of South Main street Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of organizing for the coming campaign.

Mr. Moody, a banker of Amherst, chairman of the Hampshire County Republican organization, Mrs. Wm. Dwight of Holyoke, chairman of the Women's division of Hampden County, and Mrs. John Streeter of Springfield were present and spoke.

Both Mr. Moody and Mrs. Dwight had much to say concerning Will Irwin's book on Herbert Hoover (obtainable at the library).

Mrs. Streeter, a classmate of Mr. Irwin's, was the organizer of the group, and patiently and persistently saw that the offices were filled.

By reason of illness in the home, Mrs. W. D. Randolph of Dwight was compelled to resign her position as chairman of the local group. Miss Marian Bardwell was chosen to fill the vacancy, and Mrs. J. L. Collard was elected vice chairman and Mrs. Louise Sherman, secretary.

Notice was given of the Republican outing at Riverside Park, Saturday, Sept. 8, at 3 p. m., when the Republican candidates for U. S. Senator, Lieut. Governor and Representative for Congress will speak. Will Irwin, previously referred to, will also speak.

The event will be held rain or shine, as there are seats under cover. Admission is free. Everyone is invited.

There were about 25 at the gathering Wednesday afternoon, which developed considerable enthusiasm for Herbert Hoover, the Republican candidate for president. Literature and auto campaign plates were given out.

Registration Dates

Oct. 20. Precinct B, from 2.30 to 4.30 p. m.

Oct. 24 Precinct A, from 12 M. to 10 p. m.—last registration before election.

Peeso-Gay Wedding

Mrs. Iva Peeso, daughter of Town Clerk George H. B. Green, and Selectman Edward E. Gay of Turkey Hill district were married Wednesday afternoon at 5 at the parsonage of the Methodist church at Warren. Rev. Walter O. Terry, former pastor of the local Methodist church, of which both bride and groom are members, was the officiating clergyman. The bride's gown was navy blue crepe trimmed with grey with hat and coat to match. The couple were unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. Gay are on a wedding trip toKeene N. H., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. James Hall and make a number of trips through the surrounding country. On their return they will make their home at Turkey Hill where Mr. Gay is a successful farmer besides running a regular express route to Springfield.

Chicken Pie Supper and South American Program

Following the chicken pie supper which will begin at 6.30 o'clock in the vestry of the Methodist church, Wednesday evening, September 12, there will be a South American program consisting of a play, songs, a gaucho dance and a stereopticon lecture.

The play is a comedy in one act, "At the Window," in which a gaucho, a student, and a Colonel have their troubles in courting their respective sweethearts. Taking part are Misses Carrie Atwood, Lillian Upham and Alberta Grindle, and Messrs George Booth, William French and Harlan Davis. The play was written by Mrs. M. H. Warren and was produced originally in a state high school competition.

The gaucho dance comes from the Argentine pampas. The children in their quaint costumes represent the gauchos and sonoritas.

"The Land of the Incas" will be shown by colored slides, the lecture being given by Mr. Warren.

The price of the supper and program will be seventy-five cents; children under ten, fifty cents. For those who wish to attend only the program, the price will be twenty-five cents; for children under ten, ten cents. The program will begin about eight o'clock.

Mrs. Mabel Stebbins, chairman, Messrs Clayton Green, R. A. French and Clifton Witt compose the supper committee, while Rev. and Mrs. Warren were named to direct the program.

Schools Reopen

The schools got under way this week, and while no specific figures are as yet available, some general conclusions may be drawn. There is a large registration at the south end of the town due to the recent purchase of farms by those with large families, which will necessitate some readjustment. It is thought that, owing to the number coming to the center from the south part of the town, two busses may be necessary instead of one.

As regards pupils from the Swift River valley, the number is keeping up. Four come from Prescott this year (instead of one as last year), more come from Greenwich (five or six Freshmen this year as compared with none last year) while the number from Enfield remains about the same.

All of which goes to show that our schools are our biggest industry and upon them much of our future depends.

The list of teachers follows:

Entertainment at the Chapel

The chapel proved an entertaining spot Wednesday evening by reason of the program in charge of Mrs. Hattie Taylor. There were songs, violin solos, recitations, two taking playlets and readings equally so, making a diverse program. The chapel was well filled with children and grown-ups, and both were alike entertained.

The proceeds will go towards the purchase of a piano for the church auditorium. The room was decorated with flowers.

Arouse Ye!

Arouse ye, Christian patriots,
Arouse ye, one and all.
Wake up from careless slumber,
And heed the nation's call.
The past has given the present
A glorious bequest.
But now to guard and keep it,
Let true friends do their best.
Our country's need is urgent
Of friends both strong and true,
Of friends it can depend on;
And that means me and you.
The past did well its duty;
Its victory was grand.
Now let it not be stolen
By any hostile hand.
Thank God for the Amendment;
It cheers the loyal heart.
But let no friend forget or fail
To do his present part.
Stand strong and true and steadfast;
On us let God depend,
And find right now in each of us
A loyal, faithful friend.
—Rev. C. L. Tomblen

The new Buick is the new Style

More than handsome · · · more than luxurious · · · a wonderful new type of motor car beauty · · a thrilling turning point in body design

It will be imitated, of course! The new, the fine and the beautiful always inspire emulation. But so great is the cost of building the magnificent new Fisher bodies for the Silver Anniversary Buick that imitation will be possible only to much costlier cars, and even these will find difficulty in following where Buick leads!

$1,500,000 has been expended in manufacturing the dies alone for the new Buick bodies; and the gracefully curving side panels which form one of their distinguishing characteristics represent the most expensive steel paneling work employed on any automobile in the world!

But it is not in the matchless grace and beauty of exterior design alone that the Silver Anniversary Buick eclipses other cars. In fleet, powerful performance too, the world holds no equal for the Silver Anniversary Buick with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher. And the motor-public, buying in such tremendous volume as to force the great Buick factories to work day and night to supply the demand, is elevating it to the prominence of a vogue!

LINCOLN

Mr. Frank Platz
Standard Oil Company of New York
370 Seventh Avenue
New York City

Dear Mr. Platz:

Beg to advise that since we have been using your SOCONY SPECIAL GASOLINE, which is now over a period of six months in all of our cars and trucks, we find that not once during this period was it necessary to send any of our equipment to the repair shop to have the carbon cleaned and valves ground.

In addition we are getting better mileage per gallon as well as considerable more power, and it is impossible to make any of our equipment buck while operating on the road.

In November of 1927 my own Lincoln Car was in need of having the carbon cleaned and was about to put it in our Repair Shop to have the matter taken care of, but due to the fact that we were very busy on customers' cars I let the matter ride and tried some of your SOCONY SPECIAL GASOLINE, and I am pleased to say that the carbon disappeared in a few days and the car has now run over thirteen thousand miles since November, and there is no trace of carbon in the motor and the car is functioning perfectly.

Everyone here is enthusiastic about the SOCONY SPECIAL GASOLINE, and we are recommending it to both our Ford and Lincoln owners every day, and we wish to take this opportunity to congratulate you on the quality of your product.

Yours very truly,

Fire Destroys Farm Property

A house, two barns and an ice house owned by Lewis Lyons on the Ludlow road, South Belchertown, were burned to the ground about 6 p. m. last week Thursday, causing a loss estimated at $20,000.

The fire started when a bolt of lightning struck the cow barn. As all the buildings were closely grouped, the fire spread rapidly. The fire departments of Three Rivers and Belchertown were summoned but were unable to do anything to save the buildings. They succeeded, however, in saving a house across the road, also owned by Mr. Lyons, which caught fire, due to the intense heat.

Three horses and three cows which were in one of the barns were led to safety, but most of the farm equipment and tools was lost. Nine tons of hay was also destroyed. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

This farm is known to the older residents as the Asa Smith place. It is understood that Mr. Lyons will rebuild the barn. The family are living in the small house across the road from the one which was burned.

Grange Notes

The first regular meeting of Union grange since the summer recess was held Tuesday evening. The program in charge of the community service committee, Charles H. Sanford, chairman, opened with a community sing and the reading of maxims in response to a roll call of those present. A piano solo by Mrs. Charles H. Sanford was followed by discussion of community service problems chief among which is keeping in a respectable condition the street in front of post-office row. Belchertown can ill afford to have two public dumps.

Union Grange, which recently cancelled an invitation to neighbor with Wilbraham grange, will again have the opportunity to neighbor with that grange next Wednesday evening, Sept. 12. Word has been received that Charles M. Gardner, High Priest of Demeter, will be the main speaker of the evening. It is hoped that a large number will be able to go from the local grange.

Mr. and Mrs. James Isaac motored to Fitchburg Sunday. Edward and Orin Stacy, who have been spending the summer here, returned to their home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson and child of Williston, Vt., and a cousin and two children spent the day recently at their sisters', Mrs. James Isaac's. William Thompson was also a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Boomhower visited their daughter, Mrs. Edward Isaac, over the week-end and holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Green, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Newman, Mrs. Mary Shumway and Charles P. Shumway, Miss Ruby Knight and Bartlett Green gave G. H. B. Green a surprise visit Monday evening. They spent the evening at cards and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Jennie Munsell and friend, Autley Quist of Orange and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Giles of Springfield, all of whom have recently returned from a vacation spent at So. Portland, Me., and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Williams of Amherst met at the Hurlburt homestead Sunday and reviewed vacation experiences.

Miss Lottie Squires of Pelham spent the week-end with Mrs. G. E. Williams.

Claims Record Here

In connection with a news story concerning the reunion of three boy pickets of the Civil war, a Boston paper stated recently that "John Potter, the 21-year-old son of Chas. Potter, is the youngest son of a Civil War veteran in New England."

Edward O. Stebbins, treasurer of the local camp of Sons of Union Veterans, takes exception to the statement, inasmuch as George Roode of this town is only 16—just old enough to join the organization, while his brother, Walter, is about a year younger.

Mr. Stebbins believes that Montiel Roode, 13, is the youngest daughter of a Civil war veteran in New England, although he cannot vouch for it absolutely.

AN AUXILIARY

Mrs. Fannie Beaton, organizer of Auxiliaries to Sons of Union Veterans, came to town yesterday and is endeavoring to form such an organization here. At the recent installation, stress was laid on the importance of such an organization.

Calls in Town

Representatives of a family long identified with the history of Belchertown, visited here Sunday in the persons of Alpheus Winter and Alpheus Winter, Jr., of Bridgeport, Ct. It seems that these visitors are the third and fourth generations in which that name has appeared.

First in the line was the Alpheus Winter who was born in this town in 1778 and died in 1847. He had 18 children, one of whom was the Rev. Alpheus Winter, born 1836, died 1903. Those here Sunday bearing that name were born in 1875 and 1918 respectively.

Among those in this vicinity belonging to this old time family are Frank Winter, whose father's name was Philo and who was in the grocery business, and Dexter Winter, ex-mayor of Springfield, whose father's name was Joel Winter.

Town Items

Stanley Peck was the guest this week at the home of his brother, Harold F. Peck.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Blodgett of Tampa, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blodgett of Southbridge and a nephew from Nova Scotia were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Warner. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Blodgett remained for a visit with their niece.

G. Theodore Johnson, who lost his barn on Federal street by fire a few weeks ago, has moved to Enfield where he is occupying the Thurston place.

Miss Ellen Jepson has returned to Springfield after spending several weeks in town.

Seventeen members of the Bartlett-Bardwell family held a reunion, Monday at the home of Mrs. A. H. Bartlett of South Main street. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. Edward P. Bartlett of Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. James Braim of Boston, Miss Eleanor Bardwell of Stoneham, M. Watson Bardwell of Schenectady, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Bartlett and family of East Longmeadow and Principal and Mrs. Thomas Allen of this town. Dr. and Mrs. Bartlett are remaining for a visit.

The advertised auction of the Park View grounds Saturday afternoon drew a good attendance, although no sale was made as there was only one bid, that of William Galvin, hotel proprietor at Enfield, for $1,000.

Irving Fuller of the Fuller Cattle company has bought the pasture near the railroad station, belonging to Henry R. Gould.

Rev. C. L. Tomblen of West Brookfield will preach at the Congregational church Sunday morning, and in the evening will deliver an illustrated lecture on The Prohibition Amendment in Memorial hall at 7.30. Rev. Mr. Tomblen lectured here along temperance lines some years ago. The evening service is a union one and all are invited. An offering will be taken to defray expenses.

Married in Amherst

An event of interest to Belchertown people was the marriage in Amherst on Saturday evening at 7 of Viola Irene Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, formerly of this town, and Joseph Beauregard of Ware. The ceremony took place at the bride's home at 77 East Pleasant St. and was performed by Rev. C. F. Luther, pastor of the Second Congregational church, the single ring service being used. The ceremony took place under an arch of pink and white trimmed with evergreen. The bride was dressed in white and carried a shower bouquet of pink and white asters.

The best man was Arthur Cavana of Ware, cousin of the groom, and the bridemaid, Miss Stella Beauregard of Gilbertville. The bride's gift to the bridemaid was a white gold pendant, while the groom's gift to the best man was white gold cuff links.

A luncheon followed the ceremony. Guests were present from Ware, Gilbertville, East Brookfield, Belchertown and Providence, R. I. The couple left for a wedding trip to New Hampshire and Boston. On their return they will make their home in Amherst.

B. A. A. Notes

By Noel

The B. A. A. lost a tough old ball game last Sunday on Nutting's field to the All-Stars of Holyoke, 8-5. Paige Piper, star local moundsman, was opposed in a pitching duel by Tom Cauley of the visitors, a former Rosary High pitcher. Paige had a little edge on his opponent throughout the entire game and certainly deserved to win the contest easily, but a few erratic plays by his teammates spelled defeat for the B. A. A.

Of course one cannot expect to have as good a defense when outfielders are stationed on the infield sacks, but such was the case that confronted Manager Eddie Parent and Captain George Dewey at the start of the game. As some of the regulars were absent, Jimmie Lemon was placed on 3rd, Stubby King on 2nd and Al Menard at short, and they deserve great credit for their showing in these positions. The game went along in great style until the 3d inning, when the B. A. A. sent 2 men across. With two down, Harnish and King reached 1st on an error, both scoring when Lemon's grounder went through LaFond and into the outfield.

In the 5th, Harnish's second hit of the game drove in Menard, who had reached a base on balls. In the 6th, the visitors scored two runs, the result of poor base throwing by the local infield. Both teams tallied once in the next inning, but the fatal 8th proved to be the undoing of the B. A.A., the All-Stars scoring 3 runs on 3 hits and an error. The local team tried hard to even the count in the final frame, but was able to score only one run.

Eddie Harnish, local first baseman easily proved to be the leading player of the game. Besides making some difficult put-outs at the initial sack, he ran out toward right field in the 7th inning to catch Lyon's fly. He also made 3 hits in 5 trips to the plate and drove in 2 runs.

Jack Fairchild also hit well, getting 2 pretty singles.

It appeared as though Cauley, the visiting hurler, did not like the appearance of Al Menard each time he came to bat for he walked him 3 times in 4 trips to the plate. The entire visiting team, which is composed of former Holyoke and Rosary High Stars played steady ball throughout the game. T. Shea starred at short, handling 6 chances out of 8, while Snyder, the backstop, was the heaviest hitter, getting 2 hits.

The game was attended by a good-sized crowd, which was also greatly entertained by our local comedians, "Al Schacht" and "Nick Altrock."

Dewey and Bullock McCain formed the battery for the home team while Quigley, star pitcher of the Milton Bradley nine of Springfield, and Ryan were in the points for the losers.

Quarterly Meeting of Board of Trade

The quarterly Board of Trade meeting Monday evening proved quite a clearing house for ideas. When E. A. Fuller, president, called for discussion, following the regular business, he found that most of the members had something on their minds.

One of the first things that came to light was the fact that some of the trees in the center are being used as bill boards in old time fashion. It was pointed out that their being put to such use is contrary to law, and that the offending scareheads should be torn down.

The next suggestion was that mail service, which has suffered badly by reason of the taking off of so many trains, could be materially improved if some arrangement could be made whereby the buses could be allowed to carry mail. It was pointed out that buses carry mail on other lines and it was thought that if there is a demand, something can be done here.

A committee consisting of E. A. Fuller, G. F. Bell and H. B. Ketchen were appointed to investigate the subject.

Supt. H. C. Knight introduced a matter which received the fullest consideration by the Board. This was concerning the safety of the school children at the times when the buses arrive in the morning and depart at night. Especially in front of Memorial hall is there congestion. It seems that Monday afternoon a child was nearly run down at this point, which called forth the question of what could be done. It was thought that if an officer could di-

Death of Mary Shaw Whidden

Mrs. Mary Shaw Whidden died Saturday night at 9 o'clock. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Shaw. She lived in Belchertown until her marriage when she moved to Bridgewater, returning to this town with her two children after the death of her husband, Henry Whidden. All through her last long illness, her thoughts were ever of the welfare of her children, Viola and Roy.

Three sisters and three brothers also survive her, Mrs. Harriet Dickinson, Mrs. J. R. Newman and Mrs. Guy C. Allen of this town, Clarence Shaw of Royalston, Roy G. Shaw of this town and Roland M. Shaw of Springfield.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at her late home, Rev. C. H. Smith of Granby, officiating. The bearers were four nephews, Guy and Harold Allen and Leon and Earl Dickinson of Amherst. Burial was in the family lot in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Temperance Lecture

Rev. C. L. Tomblen of West Brookfield gave an illustrated temperance lecture in Memorial hall Sunday evening at a union service sponsored by the Congregational and Methodist churches. Rev. M. H. Warren offered prayer and Miss M. L. Allen presided at the piano.

The pictures thrown upon the screen brought back former days with their gilded saloons and open doors, resulting in wretchedness and poverty to an extent unknown at the present time.

Many of the slides were educational in nature, giving facts and figures, while others were caricatures showing the fallacy of the arguments of the wets. He decried local option and maintained that others in the home were entitled to personal liberties as well as the drinking father.

Mr. Tomblen, who is a veteran temperance lecturer, gave his address with animation, and proved himself a real crusader. He maintained that the 18th amendment had proved its worth-while-ness and should not be tampered with.

Chicken Pie Supper

It's been a long time since such a jam has occurred at the M. E. vestry as was the case Wednesday evening, by reason of the chicken pie supper. But the committee was ready for them, and in spite of the onslaught, it was announced at the close that there was food on sale. The 150-odd people had pretty well finished the chicken pies, of which there were 14, but regular pies still remained. Some of the vegetables petered out, but who could wonder? All had their money's worth.

The folks weren't in any hurry to hurry home, either. The children had hard work to find a place for their dance and chalk lines had to be drawn. "At the Window," a play written by Mrs. Warren, had a setting of 100 years ago, and was typically Spanish. Both the play and dance were not only entertaining but instructive, depicting as they

"Ad's" New Creation

The house car in which "Clate" Green and "Ad" Moore went to Florida, went up in flames, e'er it reached home, but there hasn't been a day since that "Ad" hasn't owned such a vehicle. He couldn't always go out in the old cider mill and put his hands on it, because for some time he had to park it in the back of his head, but now he can go out and caress it to his heart's content. And it really does send that kind of a feeling through one, to look at it. As you cast your eyes on this blue palace of the road, trimmed with white, it fairly beckons you to come nearer to enjoy its loveliness.

For its appointments are indeed luxurious. You press the button and light appears, you turn the faucet and water comes, you tune in on the radio (the cabinet of which rests on springs) and music fills the air, while if you turn your back a minute, "Ad" will make more things come to light, where nothing was before, than any sleight of hand man ever dreamed.

He'll produce an ironing board, a card table, a bed—in fact, three of them, a bath tub, etc., and you turn your back again and they are gone.

Then there's the daintiest little refrigerator, a spick and span kitchen cabinet, an exquisite little cupboard for toilet articles, another specially designed cabinet housing cook stove, air tight heater, fire wood, and nobody knows what else.

You sit on the bed and you fairly go to sleep doing it, you look out of the plate glass windows in front and you wish your own at home were half as crystal clear, you sit down in the willow chair, where the driver rules the Reo and you don't wonder this is called a luxurious age.

But you'll miss something if you don't watch out. There are long, narrow ventilating windows all along under the eaves, all protected with bronze screening as are the five large windows, and there are shelves here and accessories there.

When you think you have seen it all, step out on the observation platform at the rear. There's a blue and white awning overhead, and similar material, waist high, round the sides, all hung with rollers and tension springs. "Ad" says the space is large enough for either a bed or a bath tub and he is right.

As you step back into the car, you'll notice things you missed before, a wardrobe apartment, chemical toilet, curtains at the windows and to partition off the rooms, hooks here and catches there and nickel work galore.

But you won't see it all. "Ad" has to explain that those braces, apparently of wood, are of metal, that the sides are of Upson board—two thicknesses with air space between and aluminum on the outside, and that those anti-rattling catches on those ventilating windows are of his own invention. Incidentally he says that it took him two months to make the first one and seven minutes the last. He'll tell of his trials with his pneumatic water system, of his experimenting with a Ford gasoline tank, that blew up on him, of his attempt to go into the bed business, only to find he could buy just what he wanted for less than what he'd paid in experimenting.

He'll tell of the air space beneath the floor, and the specially insulated top to resist both heat and cold, of catches to hold this thing in place and that. And his wife will inform you, and "Ad" will not deny it, that many of these features have been dreamed out in the dead of night. An idea would flash through his sub-conscious mind, and there was nothing to do but to get up, turn on the light, get a paper and pencil and, sitting on the edge of the bed, jot down the sketch or idea, that next day would blossom into reality.

When you think you have seen the car, taken up the floor board, and noticed the battery (the floor is covered with linoleum) and cast your eyes on the ingenious Indian bolt on the door, look beneath the floor, notice the endless space for suit cases, and finally clamber on top of the car for one grand view of it all and you'll see the antenna—100 feet of wire, strung back and forth on bakelite cross bars along the roof.

Only one thing is missing. No name appears on this queen of the road, but "Ad" will tell you that he named it long ago, and that some day, either on front or rear, you'll see the words, "Blue Heaven."

Next week Mr. and Mrs. Moore plan to take this car to the Eastern States Exposition, enjoy an outing, and incidentally meet folks that may be interested in just such a type of vehicle. For this car, it is hoped is only the first to come off the assembly line at the old cider mill. "Ad" knows house cars, he's been in those that have cost $30,000, but he thinks he's built into this car originality not to be found elsewhere, and to all appearances he is right.

An interesting sidelight on this creation is that it is largely Belchertown built. George Hussey was the head carpenter, while Charles Sanford was electrician, plumber, painter and general utility man.

And the price? "Ad" says the cost is $2,500. Not so bad, is it!

At a time when motor car beauty was practically standardized—when imitation was the vogue—when there was a glaring lack of originality in body design—Buick has swept far beyond the commonplace and achieved a style which the entire country is acclaiming as the most distinctive and beautiful ever shown!

Fisher, the world's foremost builder of automobile bodies, has cooperated with Buick, the world's foremost builder of fine cars, to create a new mode—a new fashion—and so luminous is the result and so eagerly is the public welcoming it that Buick's great factories have reached new production levels in an effort to keep pace with an ever increasing demand!

Inside and out, the new Buick bodies by Fisher are the most beautiful ever built. Together with the wonderful new standards of performance introduced by the Silver Anniversary Buick, they are winning the greatest demand and the greatest preference ever enjoyed by any fine car!

The new Buick is the new style! And by that is meant, not merely a new type of beauty—not merely a thrilling turning point in body design—but a great countrywide vogue!

Visited Town Monday

These occasional enticing fall days bring to town those interested in locating the old homestead of their forbears. Such was the reason why Mrs. Huntington Clark of Roxbury, Ct., visited here Monday. She came of the Phelps family, once prominent in this town, being the daughter of Charles Henry Phelps of New York, while her grandfather, Charles Wm. Phelps, was one of those who went to California at the time of the gold rush. His brother was the Rev. Fred Phelps, whose son, Dr. Charles Phelps is a successful physician in West Haven, Conn. The grandson, Howard Kelsey, has been appointed to the chair of English at Annapolis.

Dea. Daniel Phelps, whose picture is at the Stone House, and Elizabeth Stuart Phelps figure in her family tree.

M. A. Morse, the sort of Grover Whalen of Belchertown, guided Mrs. Clark to one of the old Phelps places, the farm known for some years as the Baggs place in Cold Spring district. Mrs. Clark is associate principal of Rosemary hall at Greenwich, Conn.

Dies in Monson

Mrs. Frank Williams, 70, for many years a resident here, died in Monson on Tuesday at 1 p. m. She had been ill for a long time, having suffered several shocks. Mrs. Williams served this town as school teacher for some years, teaching in Laurel, Blue Meadow and Liberty districts. From here the family moved to Granby.

She leaves besides her husband, three children, Earl and Edna of Hartford, and Clyde in the home, also a sister-in-law, Mrs. George Allen. The funeral was held yesterday at the home.

Quarterly Meeting of Board of Trade

rect traffic for a half hour in the morning and the same in the afternoon, the situation could be relieved and it was voted to recommend to the selectmen that this be done. While there is no money for the purpose in the police department, it was thought that the situation might well be termed an emergency, which would thus permit of money for its use. It was the opinion that if an accident should happen, everybody would be asking why something hadn't been done before.

In this connection, other lines of action were developed. One recommendation was that the selectmen cause to be installed at a point about opposite Jackson's store, an additional beacon light, to keep the cars coming from Enfield road and turning down So. Main St. from hugging the corner at Memorial hall in the face of oncoming traffic.

The other beacon light was installed on approval and was later bought by the town and it was felt that in this case the town would act similarly. The plan was also to paint directions on the bases of both beacons, thus eliminating the stalling of traffic by those bewildered as to roads.

It was thought best to carry out the previous suggestion to erect "school danger" signs on the approaches to post-office corner. Another recommendation was to paint street crossing lines in front of Memorial hall, with the hope that these would eliminate much of the present diagonal crossing by school children.

It was thought best to paint a sign, either on the curbing or elsewhere, forbidding parking in front of the post-office. Such a program was in vogue a while, but when the paint wore off, the old habits returned.

Another item considered was that of police protection. It was argued that it would be better for the town to have fewer constables, say two, with one of them a chief of police, who could have special police under him, and thus bring about a more centralized authority. It was pointed out that now each constable is a law unto himself.

It seems that the by-laws allow for a chief of police, but as there is no salary provided, there is no such officer. An interesting situation came to light Monday evening, when it was stated that the local sheriff is out of luck as to pay if he is called on a case and there is no necessity for arrest when he arrives, as is frequently the case. He commandeered an auto recently on just such kind of a trip. It is well not to find any serious disturbance, but such experiences create little incentive to investigate.

All the problems of the town were not settled Monday evening, but some were sent on their way. When the party broke up, they repaired to the street in an attempt to agree upon a location for the second beacon light. Oncoming cars were somewhat bewildered at the sight of 7 or 8 lighted cigar ends protruding from the mouths of the Board of Trade members and probably concluded that several beacons were already there and functioning.

As a last act of the evening, the party on spying a tree with posters glaring from every side, staged a real Boston tea party, tearing down the offending paper and cardboard, which soon went up in smoke, while the local fire warden cheered on the flames.

Make Out Separate Checks

D. F. Shumway, collector of taxes, has sent out the tax bills for both the town and the water district. Some people have paid already and in so doing have presented a single check to pay both bills.

Mr. Shumway wishes the tax payers to take note of the fact that the town and water district have no connection with each other and that therefore separate checks should be presented. Town taxes are payable to "Town of Belchertown" and water taxes to "Belchertown Water District."

Who Went in the Gold Rush?

In a recent conversation, W. M. Goodell of Dwight raised the question as to who went to California from Belchertown at the time of the gold rush. Possibly our readers know of such a list or know of some who went from here. If so, something might be started that would prove interesting.

Mr. Goodell says that his uncle, Nathaniel Dudley Goodell, was one of those who went from here. It seems that he was the one who erected the first wooden building in Sacramento, then only a city of tents. As in many another pioneer town, this building was a saloon.

W. M. Goodell has a daughter living in California, and on his visit to that state a few years ago, passed through Sacramento.

Currants, Gooseberries, Pine Blister, and Prohibition

We have had a call from a tree inspector. "Are there currant and gooseberry bushes on the premises?" he asked. "Yes," we answered. "I must look them over," he said. He looked them over. "I must pull them up," he informed us. He pulled them up and went his way.

What is the meaning of such dealing with currant and gooseberry bushes? Who authorizes such ruthless destruction of them? For what purpose? To protect the pine trees. Can such garden bushes do any harm to pine trees? Patiently our questions were answered and the information given upon which the state bases its right to destroy our bushes.

The leaves of our bushes were infected by a fungous growth, the spores of which when carried by the winds, as they may be, to pine trees inoculate them with the blister that is destroying those beautiful and valuable forest trees. So our garden bushes must be pulled up that our neighbors' pines may not be infected. Any incipient indignation we who lose our bushes may have over their loss will cool if we contrast their value with that of the trees, and our approval of the protection of the forests will be given more quickly if we "put ourselves in his place" who has pine trees. The man with pines has rights as well as ourselves. His rights are those for protection from the infection of our bushes. The state recog-

Bondsville Braves Win

By Noel

The Bondsville Braves defeated the Belchertown A. A. on Nutting's field last Sunday by a score of 10 to 9. It was a great game from start to finish and, although both teams played rather loose ball, the visitors held the lead practically throughout the game. The home team, fighting an uphill battle, had a great opportunity to at least tie the score in the final inning, for after a big three-run rally in the preceding inning, the crowd was hoping that the B. A. A. would come "through". But, P. Bigda, the visiting hurler, was pitching fine ball and struck out Harnish, first man up. Bissel singled. Then came the big blow! King hit a slow grounder to J. Bigda, which turned into a double play, J. Bigda to Skaza to Ostafienski, Bissel being forced at second. For a moment it appeared to the fans as though King was safe on first, but Umpire McCain's decision was "out" and thus ended the game.

Jack Fairchild, veteran hurler, started on the mound for the local team, but gave way to Paige Piper in the fifth inning, who held the visitors scoreless for the remainder of the game.

Garney Clark and Ed Harnish featured for the B. A. A., the former handling several difficult chances at third, while the latter made all kinds of put-outs at the initial sack, by either digging the ball out of the dirt or reaching over arm's length. J. Bigda furnished the fielding features for the Braves, handling eleven chances out of 13 at the middle sack, while Ostafienski, a former B. H. S. player, was the heaviest hitter of the day with three singles in four trips to the plate.

As the baseball season is fast giving way to the gridiron followers, it is doubtful if any more home games will be played, as Manager Eddie Parent has one or two out-of-town games to be played yet, and this will probably bring the curtain down on the Belchertown A. A. baseball nine for 1928.

Grange Notes

Union Grange held its regular meeting Tuesday evening. There was balloting on the applications of two candidates, who will receive the first and second degrees of the Order at the first October meeting. Plans are also under way to represent the Grange in the parade on Fair day, Oct. 12.

An invitation to neighbor with Hope grange of Hadley next Monday evening, Sept. 24, was accepted. Local members will furnish the entertainment and the Worthy Lecturer, Mrs. Clarinda Shaw, is now arranging a fine program for the evening. It is hoped that a large number will be able to go.

The program of the evening consisted of a solo by Carl Aspengren, a reading by Mrs. Amy Witt, and a talk by Sumner R. Parker of Amherst, Deputy of the Mass. State Grange, who spoke about Mass. Ag'l college, giving in full detail, the description of the college and what is done there, which was of great interest to all those present.

The Girl Scout council met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. F. E. Farrington for the first meeting of the fall. Mrs. George E. McPherson was elected chairman in place of Mrs. L. G. Warren, who has filled the position for several years and who asked to be relieved. Captain Ella A. Stebbins and Lieut. Irene M. Jackson resigned and it was voted to unite their troop with troop one under the leadership of Captain McPherson and Lieut. Farrington. The first meeting will probably be held October 3rd. A card party was planned for November 2nd.

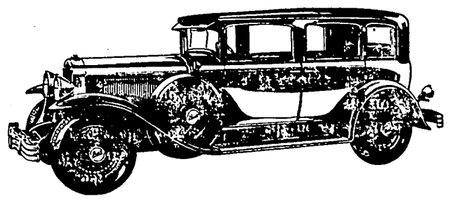
Miss Nellie Moore of Greenfield called on friends in town yesterday.

Vernon Lodge of Masons will meet next Wednesday evening for the first regular meeting this fall, the July and August meetings having been omitted.

Charles Scott, who graduated from Dartmouth college last June, has returned to Hanover to study for his degree.

W. E. Shaw has been appointed warden in Prec. A in place of A. R. Lewis who was disqualified for the office by reason of his name appearing on the ballot as candidate for representative.

The NEW BUICK is the NEW STYLE



A triumph in individual beauty ... a refreshing and radical departure from the tiresome commonplace ... a new style, a richer style, a more alluring style than the world has ever known!

THE SILVER ANNIVERSARY BUICK
With Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher

Only one completely new motor car style in the past twenty-four months—only one truly original and beautiful development in body design—and, as the whole world realizes, it is the Silver Anniversary Buick with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher!

Here is an entirely new scheme of body lines and contours—arresting new color combinations—matchless new interiors—new appointments of comfort and convenience unapproached by any other automobile of the day!

Here is a true distinction wedded to genuine good taste. Here is a new style—a richer style—a more alluring style—than the motor world has ever known. And here, too, is tremendous increase in power, in flexibility, in responsiveness—so outstanding as to amaze even those motorists who have long been familiar with Buick's superior performance.

That is why America is according the Silver Anniversary Buick the most enthusiastic reception ever enjoyed by any fine car. That is why this beautiful new Buick has already become a country-wide vogue!

"Heaven is not reached at a single bound." A. D. Moore has verified this bit of sentiment in the building and furnishing of his house car. The finishing touches were put on it this week preparatory to starting for the Eastern States, when several hours were spent in a garage, having an exhaust pipe put on it, lest he become gassed and "bound" too far.

And last but not least the banner was placed on the car. Mr. Moore expected to be obliged to go to some distant place to find a designer and seamstress to do the work, but chanced upon one right at home, and now the words, "Blue Heaven," in white on a deep sky blue background, with stars in appropriate spaces, adorn the rear of the observation platform. H. F. Putnam designed the letters and R. M. Putnam made the banner.

Mr. and Mrs. Guernsey Lauber entertained Miss Charlotte Squires and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Putnam and family at a chicken dinner Sunday in honor of Alfred Putnam's 18th birthday.

Charles Glover, formerly of this town, and Miss Clapp of Bristol, visited at J. W. Hurlburt's on Sunday.

Mrs. Emma Clifford of Greenfield is visiting Mrs. C. L. Hubbard.

Mrs. J. J. Archambault is in Brighton visiting her daughter, Lillian.

The rest of Turkey Hill are at Eastern States.

nizes his rights and by law provides that they shall be guarded for the common good since pines are of more importance to the community than currant and gooseberry bushes are.

There are times when the interest of the individual and the welfare of the many do not harmonize. The individual thinks of himself, of his own desires, purposes and rights, and if he does not recognize obligation to refrain from pressing them to the extent that they bring harm to others, the state has occasion to act to control the evil. The principle upon which it acts is "to promote the general welfare", and this, be it noted, is one of the purposes for which the constitution of the United States was ordained and established. (See the preamble of the constitution.)

We concede the right of the state to protect the pine trees and pass laws that prohibit the cultivation of bushes that are sources of infection. Why not see with equal clearness that the state and nation is justified in extending this principle to the protection of the home from the infection of the saloon and the menace of the drinking habits the saloon fosters. The sale of alcoholic liquors as a beverage in public places according to the old system of license or according to the Canadian system or any other system is a menace to the general welfare. The saloon is a source of infection. It infects business, it infects politics, it infects health, it infects morals, it infects the family. It bristles with sharp points of menace as a porcupine does with quills. If all members of a community had a keener sense of obligation to refrain from acts that bring harm to others, if they regarded personal obligations as sacred as they do personal liberty, there would be less call for the state to enact prohibitory laws. But since there are many who do not have a keen sense of obligation to others and demand personal liberty at the expense of the general welfare, we who favor prohibition must defend our right to protection from the infection of the saloon and liquor traffic.

Honored by Travelers

George F. Bell, a representative here in Belchertown of The Travelers Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., has received word from the home office of the company that he is among its agents to qualify recently for membership in the Automobile Producers' club. Last year Mr. Bell qualified for the Automobile Leaders' club, having the honor of serving as district vice-president. A recent issue of The Travelers weekly publication, going to its agents throughout the United States and Canada, featured the announcement of Mr. Bell's qualification for the 1928 club.

C. E. Snow of Worcester, formerly of this town, has won similar distinction.

Flower Society

Those interested in the forming of a flower society are asked to get in touch with Bartlett Green. We already have several men and women who are interested in this sort of a thing. As soon as there are enough to pay, we will have a meeting. This is open to anyone who enjoys the culture of flowers, either as a business or hobby. The purpose is not for profit.

Democratic Rally

Over a hundred attended the Democratic rally at Memorial hall Wednesday evening. Most of the audience were Democrats, although a few Republicans were on the fringes.

Rep. Roland D. Sawyer of Ware was the only speaker to appear of the group previously announced, but he did duty for all in his presentation of the Democratic party's case.

He said that we are coming up to the greatest day in modern life when we have the privilege of electing officers. Day before yesterday the common people were slaves, yesterday they were servants, but today they are free. He maintained that freedom meant obligation and that the ballot box is a sacred precinct.

Rep. Sawyer said that the Democratic platform is clear-cut, definite and progressive, while the Republican is evasive, dodging all the major issues.

He said that Republican promises as to Agricultural relief four and eight years ago had amounted to nothing. He maintained that the unemployment existing in England is due to the fact that that country 100 years ago forsook the farmer. The lesson he drew was that it was suicide to neglect the farming population.

The speaker said that immediately following the presidential nominations, Smith could have been elected by a large majority, but that the Republicans with immense resources are bringing great pressure to bear and "hope to turn our flank before November."

They are stressing three issues, he said:

1. Smith's election will hurt business.
2. Tammany Hall connections.
3. On wrong side of the prohibition problem.

As for the first reason, Sawyer said that since the Civil war there have been three panics, one in 1873 with Grant in office, another in 1893 as Cleveland was taking his seat following a Republican administration, and a third in 1907 under Roosevelt, so he didn't see what the Republicans had to say. He said they

Loses Again

By A. J. S.

Belchertown A. A. was defeated in their return game with the Bondsville Braves, played last Sunday on Fenton's field, Bondsville, by the score of 7 to 6. Paige Piper pitched for the home team and deserved to win as he had ten strike-outs to his credit.

The fatal fourth is what put him on the losing side. Skaza, first man up for the Braves, reached his base on an error; the next up was hit by the pitcher, and the third man given a free pass, thus filling the bases and no one out. Styspeck, left fielder for Bondsville, hit a line drive that rolled between center and left field, and before the ball was returned home, three men crossed the plate with the batter on third. Two more runs were chalked up before the inning ended, and with one count in the first the score was 6 to 0 at the beginning of the fifth. Belchertown came back strong, however, for by landing on Mazar, the opposing pitcher, for a few safe blows, five runs were scored in short order.

Bondsville got one more in the eighth, and with the score 7 to 5 against them, Belchertown entered the final frame, determined to win. Jim Lemon, first man up, hit a long fly to left field for the first put-out. Ed Harnisch, with the longest hit of the game, made three bases. With only one out and a runner on third, it appeared the score would soon be tied, at least. Clarence Robinson, who had taken Fairchild's place in center in the seventh, came through with a pretty bingle that scored Harnisch. Next came Clark who knocked a sizzling grounder to short-stop Skaza who fumbled it for the moment, dropped it, then recovered it and heaved it to first for the second out by a narrow margin. Robinson, however, rested on third. With only one run needed to tie, Frank McCain, brother of "Bullet", was sent in to bat. The outlook seemed bright but quickly faded when he poked a "rosy bounder" to the pitcher and became an easy victim for the last out.

One great feature of the game was the striking out of three men in

Five Items Which Bring Satisfaction

Things do not satisfy. All of us want money, and yet an abundance of money gives no assurance of contentment.

But there are at least five items which bring satisfaction. Nature often satisfies. There is a satisfaction in a sunset, and in the sound of a babbling brook, and in the view from a mountain top. Nature is a great physician. Nature is constantly offering life to man.

Beauty brings enduring satisfaction, whether it be the beauty of art, of painting, of sculpture, or the beauty of poetry and music, or the beauty of goodness. Beauty has a secret all her own. The heart is always content with eternal beauty.

Truth also brings satisfaction, no matter from what source truth comes. If a man can feel that he has the truth, he is not trembling because of the ground on which he stands. He knows that truth "has the universe on its side." Even though truth is attacked and at times is crushed to earth, it will surely rise again. A man has a sense of security if he is dealing with the truth.

Love brings satisfaction. If love still abides in the home, there is no discontent or unhappiness, even though the home lacks many things. What will not a soldier endure for love of country? Life seems very much worth while to him. What power there is in parental love, in mother love, in married love! Our lodges, churches, homes, would be desolate places without love.

And religion brings the crowning satisfaction. When the Moslem turns his eye towards Mecca, when the heathen falls down before his images, when the Quaker sits silently in a plain meeting house, when the Roman Catholic worships in the great cathedral, they find great peace of soul.

Nature, Beauty, Truth, Love and Religion are great realities which satisfy.

had not the genius of mentality to meet the situation.

In regard to Tammany Hall, Mr. Sawyer gave a resume of its history, stating that the organization was formed among the common people to counteract the influence of the aristocracy organized as the Society of Cincinnati, and was the means of bringing about the election of Jefferson, and had to its credit a splendid record of democratic advancement.

He said that Tammany did fall on evil days following the Civil war, when there was profiteering and senators were impeached. He attempted to give no alibi for Tweed, Kelly or Croker. But when Charles Murphy came into power, he insisted that affiliation with the police and vice must stop and turned his back on the arch conspirators.

Mr. Sawyer maintained that Tammany's selling out to unprincipaled men was no different from what high Republican officials did at the time of the oil scandals.

The speaker said that New York City government had been as a Sunday School compared with that of Chicago and Philadelphia.

As for the last issue—Smith's stand on prohibition, Sawyer asked if there was any sin in that. There is no use arguing that Andrew Volstead and his followers were infallible. Prohibition has settled some problems in some sections, he admitted, but it had opened problems in others. Smith had seen that in New York City, prohibition had been a bad thing, and in the interest of "temperance, morality and decency" desired to remedy it.

Mr. Sawyer waxed eloquent against the whispering campaign, also classified under three heads:

1. Smith drinks.
2. Mrs. Smith not a society woman.
3. They are Catholic.

He said that only one president had preached and practised total abstinence, and that person was Hayes. Smith is no more a drunkard, he said, than was Roosevelt or Wilson, or is Calvin Coolidge. He said that Smith's drinking had never been made an issue in his state campaigns.

As to the second reason, he said that Mrs. Smith had been too busy as a good wife and mother to attend to the "little frivolities" that are played up as so essential.

Referring to his being a Catholic, he went on to enumerate Catholics in England and America, who had contributed to free government, some of them laying down their lives.

The speaker said the opposition is worried a lot about the nullification of the 18th amendment, but is perfectly willing to nullify the 1st article of the bill of rights, relative to no religious test for office.

Mr. Sawyer was bitter against Mrs. Willebrandt for trying to turn Methodist churches into political centers, and said Catholics could hold their heads erect for not meeting this sally in a similar way.

In conclusion, Mr. Sawyer gave a brief sketch of Smith's life, from his birth on the East Side to the present time.

Sawyer said that Smith had captured the imagination of the common people who would elect him their next president, and that he would carry Massachusetts by a "tremendous majority." He said, however, that all that the Democrats in the small town can do is to keep the Republican majorities down.

Mr. Sawyer had not a word to say relative to his own candidacy for representative.

Thomas Hanifin, chairman of the Democratic town committee, presided, and other members of the committee were on the platform. At the close, signatures were solicited for an Al Smith Club. Buttons and campaign literature were given out.

THE NEW BUICK IS THE new style

An entirely new scheme of body lines and contours... the most costly paneling employed on any automobile in the world... and the richest upholsteries and appointments ..... distinguish Buick's new Masterpiece BODIES by FISHER

The Silver Anniversary Buick is kindling more interest—drawing more people to the display rooms—winning more praise—and creating a demand so sweeping and so insistent that Buick's vast factories have reached new levels of production in attempting to keep pace.

—all because it is not only the most brilliant performing automobile of the day, but also because it marks a new style—a thrilling new mode of car design—more beautiful, more luxurious and more graceful than any the world has known!

An entirely new scheme of body lines and contours—softly rounded steel panels, the most costly employed on any motor car—a continuous moulding, with double bead running around the body and dividing the lower from the upper structure—all impart an atmosphere of unrivaled beauty.

If you want beauty—if you want individuality—if you want up-to-the-minute smartness—there's only one choice . . . the choice of America . . . the Silver Anniversary Buick with new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher. It's the new style—the new mode—in motor cars!

The annual tri-county fair will be held at Northampton next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. This is the 110th anniversary of this fair, which belongs, in part, to Belchertown. The granges in the Pomona are putting on a pageant Tuesday and Wednesday evenings under the direction of Mrs. Clifton Johnson of Hadley. This pageant will depict the growth of the fairs through the years. Belchertown's part will be the midway of the modern fair and is in charge of Mrs. Julia Shumway.

The Home Department of the Congregational Sunday School will meet with Mrs. Hattie Taylor next week Friday afternoon at 2.30.

The Ladies' Social Union will hold a thimble party at the home of Mrs. Lillian Kelley this afternoon at 2.30.

Rev. M. H. Warren of the Methodist church concluded his work here last Sunday. Mr. Warren, although here for only a short time, made many friends and especially endeared himself to the Boy Scouts, who have had a pleasant summer by reason of his interest. Mr. Warren goes to Columbia University for further study.

At a meeting of the teachers of the Congregational Sunday school Monday evening at the parsonage, it was voted to have Rally Sunday October 7. Special exercises will be held at the Sunday school hour. It is announced that it will be a church as well as a Sunday School Rally Day.

The ladies of St. Francis parish are planning on serving a lunch in front of the church or rectory on Fair day.

Lincoln Cook is painting his house on North Main St., after having re-roofed and repaired the same by reason of the fire. He has also added a second story porch on the north side.

Meets Volunteer Committee

B. O. Moody of Amherst, chairman of the Hampshire County Republican committee, met the Hoover volunteer campaign committee of this town in Memorial building Tuesday evening. About 15 were present. Mr. Moody spoke of the progress of the campaign in this section and counseled with the workers here.

Although Mr. Moody made no pretense of giving a speech, his informal remarks concerning the Republican presidential candidate were of such a nature that one person stated afterward that it was the best speech of the campaign he'd heard, either on the radio or otherwise.

Mention was made of the research work in this and other lands of the Department of Commerce, which by its availability to business men had been the means of greatly developing export trade. Reverting to the war period, Mr. Moody spoke of the diplomatic handling of many delicate situations concerning the distri-

Another Big Fire

Belchertown may not be flooded out like Enfield, but it's liable to be burned out, instead. The second big fire of the season, not to mention several other sizable losses, occurred at 1.30 last week Friday morning, when Ryther and Warren's grist mill and grain house near the railroad station was almost totally destroyed. The south end of the building remains but the inside is in a badly charred condition and quantities of grain lie soaked and spoiled and burning. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The alarm was rung in from the State school where the night watchman had noticed the light against the sky.

When Mr. Warren arrived at the mill, the fire was between the office and stairway, but the elevator shaft helped to make short work of demolishing the building. The McCaskey register was all that was saved.

Nearly a full car of grain standing on the track near the building was hauled away to safety, but probably 15 cars of grain were either burned or destroyed. Seven cars had been unloaded in the week previous. Grain coming in the next day enabled the firm to carry on business at the north end of the new lumber shed nearby, which had been used as a garage.

Insurance adjusters were in town Wednesday and a settlement was reached, but the firm has not yet decided definitely as to the future.

The plant was an up-to-date one put up in 1922 and the firm had always maintained an excellent stock and rendered the best of service.

As far as town economics are concerned, the loss is a serious one, as the firm is one of the town's largest tax payers. Of course competition with no overhead makes them hesitate to put in an expensive service station, but it is hoped that they may see fit to rebuild along former lines.

Annual Exhibit for the Public

The annual exhibit of the Educational, Industrial, Canning and Farm Departments of the Belchertown State School will be held next week Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 10 and 11, from 2 to 9 p. m.

An invitation is cordially extended to the public to inspect the varied work of these departments which will be shown in the temporary assembly hall, located in the laundry building.

Annual Meeting of the Social Guild

At the annual meeting of the Social Guild Wednesday afternoon, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. H. F. Duncan; vice presidents, Mrs. Geo. E. Scott, Mrs. Hattie Taylor, Mrs. J. V. Cook, Mrs. W. S. Piper, Miss Maggie Hales; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Allen; directors, Mrs. Frank Rhodes, Mrs. F. C. Rolls; flower committee, Mrs. Hazel Lincoln, Miss Irene M. Jackson.

The Guild is planning to serve a dinner at the chapel on Fair day.

E. F. Shumway is painting his farm buildings, the house receiving a coat of white and the barn and outbuildings red.

Against Professional Sunday Baseball

As did many another minister throughout the state on Sunday, Rev. F. C. Rolls of the Congregational church, in his evening sermon, took a strong stand against the further commercialization of Sunday, with special allusion to the Sunday sports referendum question which will appear on the ballot at the coming election to decide whether or not professional Sunday baseball will be allowed in this state.

Mr. Rolls warned against the creeping in of the continental Sunday and while he deprecated its commercialization, laid special emphasis on the point that this intrusion on the Lord's Day does not harmonize with the fitness of things. He said that one might wear overalls at a formal dinner, or crack a joke at a funeral, or light a cigaret in the presence of the mourners before leaving the cemetery, or play pool on the grave of the unknown soldier, etc., but that it would be rank discourtesy. When he thought of Christ and Calvary, he felt that this projected program was not fitting, and said that we all would have a feeling of chagrin if we knew that professional baseball was to be played on the common on Sunday.

bution of food in Europe, while in conference with high government officials abroad. He also spoke of the confidence placed in Hoover by friend and foe at that time, enabling him to travel anywhere with baggage unmolested.

Touching upon the wet and dry aspect of the campaign, he said that in any case, it would be almost impossible to repeal the 18th amendment, but that Smith's election would have a tendency to break down constitutional government and bring about a contempt for law.

Mention was made of the workers' rally at Hotel Northampton last night, which several local Republicans attended.

Carl F. Aspengren is chairman of the local committee.

NOTICE!

WE desire to extend our sincere thanks to our many friends and customers for their many expressions of sympathy and regret at our disastrous fire of last week; also to the Belchertown Fire Department for their very efficient work in controlling the fire and preventing further damage.

For the present we are able to take care of our customers in feeds and coal, although we perhaps cannot give quite as good service as we would like. We shall endeavor to keep a stock of grain and feeds to take care of all necessary requirements and we trust our customers will take the circumstances into consideration and assist us as much as possible by placing their orders as early as possible.

We expect to be able to supply feeds made to our own formulas within a few days.

Supt. and Mrs. H. C. Knight returned last evening from attending the conference of New England educators at Crawford Notch, N. H. This is the 5th annual conference of this group whose membership, limited to 175, is a cross section of the educational leaders of New England. Among those present were Prof. and Mrs. L. Leland Dudley. Mr. Dudley, formerly of Belchertown, is now associated with the graduate work at Harvard. The conference, which began Monday night with a banquet, and closed on Wednesday, gave opportunity not only for discussion of educational problems, but for enjoyment of the wonderful autumn scenery of the White mountains which had for a background the snow-covered Presidential range.

Mrs. G. E. McPherson, Mrs. F. E. Farrington and Mrs. Dora Wesley, Girl Scout captain, lieutenant and council member, spent the weekend at Camp Bonnie Brae, East Otis.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hussey attended on Sunday the funeral of Alice Jackson Hussey, wife of their eldest son, Albert. Mrs. Hussey died at Oyster Bay, L. I. Burial was in Colchester, Ct. By reason of her visits to this town she had quite a circle of friends and acquaintances here.

The Ladies' Social Union is planning for a public supper October 24.

The prayer meeting at the chapel next week will be held on Wednesday evening instead of Thursday, by reason of the fair and at 7 p. m.

The installation of the officers of the Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans will take place Monday evening at 8 at the Congregational chapel. Sons of Veterans, their wives and anyone that is eligible to be a member is invited.

Monson White Sox Win

By Noel

It appears as though some jinx is trailing the Belchertown A. A. in losing ball games by one-run margins, for, such was the case again last Sunday, when Manager Eddie Parent's ball tossers traveled to Monson and bowed to the fast White Sox nine of that town by the score of 7 to 6. Ed Madelle, star pitcher of the Monson nine, and his mates thought they were winning the game with "hands down," and were enjoying a nice 6-2 lead, when the local team suddenly took a liking to his offerings in the eighth inning and pushed three runs across the plate. The B. A. A. were more than determined to win the game after this fine rally and, after holding the White Sox scoreless in their half of the eighth, managed to tie the score at 6 all by tallying a run in the ninth. But the Monson team was not to be outdone and scored the run which spelled defeat for the A. A. in the final frame.

The game was a heavy hitting affair, the B. A. A. gathering 14 hits off Madelle's delivery, while the White Sox garnered 13 hits off the local twirler.

Both teams scored in the first inning. Herb Smith, first man up, singled. Dewey sacrificed and Harnisch's double scored Smith. Al Bissel lined through third and Harnisch, who tried to score from second, was out at the plate, Blanchard to F. Magrone. Lanke's grounder to Dunn retired the side. The White Sox scored a run also when, with one down, Blanchard doubled and scored when Laukes erred on McMahon's grounder, which rolled into the outfield.

In the third and fourth, Monson scored two runs in each inning, two of them being the result of a little loose play on the part of the B. A. A., while another run was scored in the seventh. In the meantime, the local team was able to tally only once, that being in the fifth. Then came the big eighth inning. Harnisch flied to J. Magrone. Bissel singled and scored on Lankes' double "to the birches" in deep right. Fairchild's single scored Laukes. King flied to Coolong, but E. McCain's single placed Fairchild in position to score. The last big chance for the A. A. came in the ninth inning. Smith singled and stole second. Dewey struck out. Harnisch's second double of the game scored Smith. Bissel singled, but Harnisch was held up at third. Laukes fouled to Mills and Fairchild struck out. With the score tied, the White Sox pushed across the winning run. Blanchard, first up, struck out. Coolong singled, advanced to second and scored on McMahon's single to deep left. Thus ended one of the best games of the season for the B. A. A.

White Sox and B. A. A. To Battle Again

By Noel

As the B. A. A. and White Sox of Monson appear to be as evenly matched as any semi-pro teams in this vicinity, as a result of last Sunday's close game, Manager Eddie Parent of the association nine wishes to give local fans a fine treat before the baseball season closes and has arranged for these two teams to meet again on Nutting's Field, Sunday, at 2.30 p. m. The local manager is taking no chances on the outcome of Sunday's contest and announces that the A. A. will be represented by its best lineup of the season.

Paige Piper of Springfield college, or Eddie Laukes of the Iroquois A. C. of South Hadley Falls, one of the best pitchers in the Holyoke City League, will twirl for the home team, while "Bullet" McCain will be behind the bat, although Frank McCain, a former Cubs A. C. player, may also see service before the end of the game. Herbie Smith, star third baseman of the Iroquois A. C. and a teammate of Laukes, will hold down the hot corner. Al Bissel, former Highland A. C. player of Holyoke, will cavort in left field.

Manager Albert Coolong of the Monson nine is in hopes of making it two straight and will, no doubt, use Madelle in the box again. Although the world series game will be in play, this game, which will probably be the last of the season, should provide local fans with a "little world series" contest and should attract the greatest crowd of the season.

The probable starting lineup for the game follows:

B. A. A.	Monson
Smith, 3	Pisitello, s
Dewey, cf	Blanchard, 3

The East Side meeting of the Hampshire Association of Congregational churches will be held at Leverett next week Tuesday with an all-day session. Delegates are Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Duncan, Mrs. F. C. Rolls and Mrs. Hattie Taylor.

Mrs. Bertha Reimann, who has a position in Amherst, was very pleasantly surprised on Sunday, when ten college and library friends from that place, transported a chicken dinner to her home on Allen St., where all was in readiness on her arrival. The party remained for the afternoon.

Mrs. R. L. Bridgman, who has spent the summer at her home on Park St., left town Wednesday. She will spend the winter as usual in Northampton.

An automobile accident occurred on Sunday evening at 8, at the corner of Main and J. W. Jackson Sts., when a car driven by Mrs. E. E. Bidwell collided with a car going north. The auto of the former was damaged by the impact, the right forward wheel being taken off. The other car was able to proceed.

Vernon Lodge will receive the annual visitation of Right Worshipful D. Thomson Hastings, District Deputy Grand Master and suite of Ware, at 8 o'clock on Monday evening Oct. 8. Supper will be served by Mt. Vernon chapter at 7.

Miss Irene B. Orlando, assisted by the other teachers at the center grade schools, gave a miscellaneous shower at her home Monday evening for Miss Emma Stadler in honor of her approaching marriage to Francis Loftus of Scranton, Pa. About 40 guests were present, including school friends, grangers, fellow teachers, neighbors and out-of-town friends. Many beautiful gifts were presented to the bride-to-be. The whole affair came as a complete surprise to her. Refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Duffy of Northampton and the Misses Rhea Champagne and Bessie Thayer of Holyoke were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright.

Rev. Rockwell Smith, who preached at the Methodist church last Sunday, will be here again this Sunday. It is expected that he will fill the pulpit during the remainder of the conference year, coming here for week-ends. Mr. Smith is a student at Boston University.

Rally Day will be observed at the Congregational church on Sunday. The pastor will preach a sermon appropriate to the occasion in the morning and special exercises will be held at the Sunday School hour. In the evening, the Endeavorers will have charge of the second service which will be held in the chapel.

Mrs. Degrass, field secretary of the W. C. T. U., was in town Sunday and spoke at the session of the Congregational Sunday school. She spoke of the formation of the organization, of the women's crusade of 1873, when women knelt at curbings and prayed saloons out of business, and quoted noted people, among them J. G. Holland, as to the effects of intemperance. At the close she solicited members for this organization.

Mrs. Sarah Dunbar is in Boston for a two weeks' visit with Mrs. Cornelia Holland.

Rally Day Observance

Rally Day was celebrated at the Congregational Church on Sunday with a special sermon by the pastor and special exercises in the Sunday School. There were 79 at the latter service, including about 30 children from the primary and junior departments at the chapel, who put on their usual opening exercises. The program is appended.

The cradle roll report revealed an enrollment of 14, and that of the home department an enrollment of over 30. The latter department reported the holding of three socials with an average attendance of 16, and a public supper, the proceeds of

Entertainment and Whist Party

Patrons literally swarmed to the entertainment and whist party under the auspices of St. Francis church last Friday night. Memorial hall is usually large enough for any event, but the spacious audience room hardly sufficed for the playing of whist, every nook and corner being taken. As is usually the case with Catholic events, a large proportion of the crowd was from out of town. There was an especially large delegation from Holyoke. Fr. Rock's former parishioners taking this opportunity to greet him. Fr. McGrath of Bondsville, who ministered to this church in its mission days, was also present and received felicitations.

The Daughters of Isabella of Bondsville prefaced the evening's program with a taking one-act play which featured four snooping old ladies with vivid imaginations, on the verge of taking drastic action, finally informed that there really was an explanation.

Those in the cast were the Misses Nellie Shea, Bridget Griffin, Mary Sullivan, Alice Flaherty and Miss Austin.

What made the play doubly entertaining was the fact that local characters were rung in on the various roles.

Scouts to Sell Apples

Through the generosity of L. S. Parsons, the Girl Scouts hope to make a pretty penny today at the Fair. Instead of putting his crop of apples on the market as usual, Mr. Parsons has donated them without reservation to the girls who will sell them on his Main street lawn. There will probably be around 100 baskets, and as the product is of a fine quality, a good sum should be realized for the organization.

Apples from Anacortes

E. A. Rudd Fairchild had a happy smile on his face Wednesday afternoon, when he took out of the postoffice a package about 10 or 12 inches each way, which contained apples from his old-time friend, Fred G. Abbey of Anacortes, Wash. He knew they were coming for exhibition at the Fair, but he was afraid they would not get here in time. They came through in exactly a week and the postage was 90 cents. This thoughtfulness on the part of Mr. Abbey shows genuine interest in the old town.

Stadler-Loftus Wedding

Miss Emma Stadler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stadler of this town, and Francis Loftus of Scranton, Pa., were married Tuesday morning at 11 at the rectory at Brookfield, Rev. James A. Dunphy, former pastor of St. Francis church of this place, performing the ceremony. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Dostal of Ludlow. Mr. and Mrs. Loftus left in the afternoon for Scranton, Pa., where they will live. Mrs. Loftus was teacher here several years, resigning her position at the Center grade school this summer. Mr. Loftus is a member of the New Haven Eastern league baseball team.

Third Annual Exhibit

The third annual exhibit of the Educational, Industrial, Canning and Farm departments of the Belchertown State school was held in the temporary assembly hall Wednesday and Thursday from 2 to 9 p. m.

If one was not familiar with the exhibits at the school, he would have thought he had gotten into the wrong institution, so fine was the display. It seems almost unbelievable that people at this school can do such excellent work.

As in previous years, all the grades were represented in the exhibit, from the simple coloring, a part of the sense training of the lower grades, to the most exquisite productions in fancy work, rugs, etc., of the higher grades.

The tables carried a good showing of booklets containing samples of school work, much of which was illustrated either with pictures cut from magazines or with crayon drawings. The covers were lettered quite artistically. There were most

Wins

By Noel

With Roy Lefty Peters pitching shut-out ball, the B. A. A. easily defeated the fast Monson White Sox on Nutting's field last Sunday, 8 to 2. The home team made up for its defeat of the previous week by the same nine and therefore broke even in a two game series. Local fans who attended the game can admit that the A. A. had its best line-up of the season on the field and could, no doubt, defeat any semi-pro team in this vicinity.

Great credit is due Peters, the local twirler, who pitched a masterly game during his seven inning stay on the mound. Only two hits were garnered off his delivery, Dunn and Coolong each connecting for a single. Although his teammates erred at opportune times, Peters twirled as though he was receiving errorless support.

Madell, who was again on the mound for the visitors, was not as effective as on his home grounds, and after allowing 6 hits and 2 bases on balls in 5 innings was relieved by McMahon in the sixth. As the Monson nine could not solve the pitching of Peters and, seeing defeat before them in their last game of the season, they shifted positions during the last two innings, which brought laughter and jeers from the crowd.

Andrew J. Sears was in charge of the B. A. A. in the absence of Mgr. Eddie Parent, who was out of town on account of the death of a relative.

It is announced that positively the last game of the season will be played on Nutting's field, Sunday afternoon at 2.30, the opponents being the Brightwood Boxing Club. The battery will be Peters and Mc Cain.

A Catechism

Probably not many of our readers know that Rev. C. G. Burnham is the author of a temperance catechism, published in 1915, when he was in Hawaii. The booklet was issued under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of that territory. In view of the present interest along these lines, we shall quote from the catechism, with the author's permission, as space permits.

1. What do beer, wine, whiskey, and all such liquors contain?
   They contain alcohol.
2. When people drink sufficient quantities of any of these liquors what is the effect upon them?
   They become intoxicated or drunk.

ALCOHOL AND FOOD

1. What does the body of a child need?
   Material to cause it to grow.
2. Where does the child get this material?
   From its food.
3. What does the full-grown body of a man or woman need?
   The body, like an engine, must have something that will give it power to do its work and material to repair its parts as they wear out.
4. Where does the body get that which gives it power to do its work?
   From food.

5. How does the body wear out?
   With every step we take, with every breath, every beat of the heart, with every movement of any muscle or of any organ of the body, and with every thought we think, some cells and tissues are destroyed and must be replaced.
6. From what source does the body get material to repair this natural waste?
   From food.
7. What other important service does food do for the body?
   It gives material to keep the body warm. That is to keep the interior temperature of the body at 98.6 degrees, the point of health.
8. How is the food we eat changed into material the body can use for these purposes?
   By the wonderful process of digestion.
9. What is a true food?
   A true food is that which furnishes material for building and repairing the body, power for the body to do its work and fuel to maintain a healthful temperature.
10. What are the chief foods?
    Meat, fish, eggs, milk, the vegetables and grains. The body also requires water.
11. Is alcohol a true food?
    It is not.
12. Why is it not a true food?
    Because it does not have material for building and repairing the tissues of the body.
13. Can alcohol then support life?
    It cannot.
14. What service can alcohol do for the healthy body?
    It is the source of some energy, or power and heat.
15. Is it necessary in a healthy body as a possible source of power and heat?
    It is not. Common food is a far better and safer source, and much cheaper.
16. Does the use of alcohol give protection to one exposed to the cold?
    It does not. Alcohol causes a larger flow of the blood to the surface of the body and gives a feeling of warmth.
17. Does the feeling of warmth last?
    No, it is soon lost, and continued drinking will lower the temperature.
18. What is a better and safer source of protection against the cold?
    "Persons who are to be exposed to cold temperatures would derive more valuable effects from hot drinks, such as coffee, or cocoa, or milk, from eating fatty foods, starches, and sugars than they would from consuming any alcoholic drinks."
19. If alcohol is not a true food, why does a drink of beer or other alcoholic liquor decrease the feeling of hunger?
    Alcoholic drinks take away the feeling of hunger, not as bread and meat do by supplying a true food, but by quieting the nerves that give the feeling of hunger.
20. Since beer, wines and other alcoholic liquors are made from grains and fruits, why do they not contain real food for the body?
    Because their food material is changed when the grains and fruits are made into alcohol. "The fact that alcoholic drinks like wine, beer and cider are made from fruits and grains suggests the false idea that they are also healthful and nourishing. Knowledge of the changes which fruit must undergo to produce these liquors corrects this false idea."

true-to-life specimens of clay modelling that attracted one's attention, and the sand tables carried a timely message. On one table was a carefully wrought out Hollowe'en scene, all enclosed with a miniature fence. This creation, for such it was, showed the resourcefulness of one of the second grade pupils. Of course, the chronological age was higher.

To find that individuality, as in this instance, has a place in the institution, is most pleasing. This pupil had the idea she wanted to decorate her booklet this way, and another, that, and so the story goes.

Mere man, unless he be a dry goods buyer, could hardly fittingly describe the wonderful exhibits of rugs and fancy work. Of the former there were all shapes and sizes, colors and materials, to say nothing of patterns, made and in the making—drawn-in, braided, cross-stiteh, crocheted, etc. All over the east wall and on tables adjacent were these productions. Some were made of material that was bought, but many were made from discarded clothing at the institution.

This was also a pleasing feature, that nothing goes to waste and that everything is made for a purpose. The more delicate productions adorn the employees' cottages, while the coarser and perhaps more servicable articles are used in the dormitories.

There was the usual display of children's knit caps that will find their way to the children themselves at Christmas.

In the midst of the exhibit tables was one startlingly attractive. The representation was of a doll's lawn party. The effect here was as studied as one of "Ding's" cartoons. One was continually finding something new. Hammocks (made of real goods), teeter boards, benches, a croquet set in position, were among some of the things not always found at such festivities. Of course dolls figured large in the scene, and artificial flowers lent a picturesque setting, while over all, arches gave finish to the exhibit.

The children must have been greatly interested in preparing this, but the story all through was that lack of interest is an uncommon malady at the institution. Of course, supervision, and lots of it, is necessary, and very short-sighted were any visitors who failed to visualize, as they took in the display, the teachers in the background with their day by day training which brought these miracles to pass.

The stage, as is customary, was given over to the display of products raised on the farm. Labels on the various vegetables told of the thousands of cans or quarts or bushels of that particular variety that had been put in the institution's provision houses. Not only were vegetables and canned goods on display, but corn stalks and autumn foliage lent an appropriate setting to the scene, while an improvised fountain atop a sheaf of carrots, etc., at the center of the stage was an innovation. Also there was shown in miniature a farm scene with barn, silo, livestock, etc.

But the most stiking innovation at the show was the Columbia-Kolster phonograph (just installed) which provided music for the occasion and betokened possibilities for use at many social affairs when an orchestra is not available. The instrument is a high-powered one, such as is quite in vogue at the beaches.

The boys' industrial exhibit had a table in the hall, but the work done in this department has not been so great by reason of considerable construction work outside.

To close this account of the exhibit without allusion to the photographs and lantern slides, some of them colored, and a lighted miniature stage, all the work of Dr. A. E. Westwell, would be uncomplimentary. Not only has the doctor supervised presentations of entertainments, parades, etc., at the school, but he has sought to preserve the best scenes in connection therewith for future enjoyment. His latest original venture in this sphere is the making of lantern slides from the pictures, at which he is getting to be quite an adept, as the display showed.

This "added interest", of which this is an outstanding illustration, is what keeps life at the institution from becoming drab and monotonous and is most pleasing to those who make these enlightening discoveries.

The teachers and supervisors of the school were hosts at the exhibit, and their feeling of pride in it had a warranted foundation.

Death of Mrs. Cora Lane Morse

Mrs. Cora Lane Morse, 59, widow of Charles Morse, died at the Holyoke hospital Wednesday morning after an illness of five days with pneumonia. Mrs. Morse was born in this town, the daughter of Edgar and Hannah White Lane, and had lived here nearly all her life. She was a member of the Methodist church and auxiliary societies. Her husband died Feb. 3.

Mrs. Morse leaves three brothers, Newell Lane of Springfield, Avel Lane of South Hadley Falls and Eular Lane of East Longmeadow. The funeral will be held in the vestry of the Methodist church this afternoon at 2. Rev. Theodore Bachlor of South Hadley Falls will officiate. Burial will be in South cemetery.

Nearly 100 Register

Considerable interest has been stirred up in the coming presidential election, to judge by the number who registered during the past week, especially on Wednesday. In precinct B, Saturday afternoon, 12 were signed up and in the evening at the center, 10. On Wednesday at the center, 69 new names were added and 1 reinstated. Of the 70, 47 were women and 23 were men. The total registration is now 828.

Premium Money Ready

D. F. Shumway, treasurer of the Farmers' and Mechanics' club requests all who won premiums at the Fair last week, to call at his office at once to get the awards.

71st Annual Fair

The 71st Annual Fair of the Belchertown Farmers' and Mechanics' club died a week ago, but it was a very real thing in the time of it. On that eventful late afternoon when thousands of cars were honking and screeching sometimes all at once, for a chance to get out of the maelstrom and go home, probably nine out of ten householders in the center wouldn't have cared if the town were quarantined for a month and not a car from the outside world let in—save possibly the bread trucks.

It was a tired bunch of autoists that went home. They had milled around the park, they had bumped the car in front and been rammed in the rear, till they simply didn't cringe or care. The day was somewhat responsible for it. Dame weather gave this time honored show such an affectionately hot embrace as to be almost sickish.

But of course such a day brought the whole Fair Family out. Some came to be Amused, some came to be Buncoed, some came by reason of Curiosity, some came for the Dinner (which everybody was serving), some came for the Exhibit at the hall and accompanying baby show, some came to see their Friends, and some didn't know why they did come.

THE PARADE

Of course the parade was a drawing card with many, not because of its size, but because one caught a bit of Belchertown atmosphere.

Around ten o'clock the parade entrants perambulated for position, causing the people on the sidelines to get out their binoculars in an attempt to recognize their friends and neighbors.

Marshall Eugene Flaherty, his aides, and Starrett's band of Athol needed no such scrutiny, but the float entered by the Senior class of B. H. S. did. The Misses Alice Dressel and Sylvia Damon were those in Indian attire, and Miss Anna Shuttleworth was the colonial settler. All were seated by a camp fire in front of a wigwam, smoking in turn the pipe of peace. Evergreens and pines formed a scenic setting.

The next float, that of Wm. Pranaitis, needed no announcer to unravel the plot. For from the looks of the fine vegetables aboard, the garden plot on the Pranaitis farm had been industriously tended. Evergreen and pines encompassing the display had been painstakingly arranged. Flags were in position at each of the corners.

The next float was a little more involved. This was a truck entered by Union Grange and was trimmed with blue and orange. Children attired in costume to represent the holidays of the year was something new under the sun.

A truck load of Maple Kennel pups from the Johnson farm came next, followed by a sedan decorated with pink and white streamers. This was entered by the Center Grade school and was driven by Miss Irene Orlando, one of the teachers, who also had nearly a dozen children with her. A placard at the rear read, "Health Our Motto."

Bowling Notes

By Noel

The bowling season is now under way and local bowlers are now getting the kinks out of their arms in preparation for the winter months.

A match of great interest to local sports followers was the contest between two local teams, which was rolled on the Suffolk alleys last Saturday night, the Turkey Hill All Stars defeating Fairchild's Pets in a pinfall match by a margin of five pins. It was a contest that will remain in the hearts of the players for some time, for with Jack Fairchild's team leading at the end of the 2nd

The second decorated car was driven by Rachel Randall and was trimmed with orange, pink and green.

Two other cars brought up this division, one entered by W. S. Piper, trimmed with the national colors, and the last entered by A. D. Moore. This was set with pink and white rosettes.

The "comic" part of the parade began to show up next. Henry Randall of Granby had dolled up his yellow and green Ford roadster most romantically. About everything to be found in a 5c and 10c store, and then some, was either tacked, tied, plastered or wired on Old Dobbin. Hay, kettles, gasoline cans, etc. vied for attention, while lettering ran from "T N T" to skull and crossbones. The entrant, attired as a lady, but with a boyish grin, also had plenty of room for his companions, Hector Macleod, Archibald McDonald and Sylvia Randall.

Of course the next number threw many a laugh. Atop a Ford sedan were "Herb Hoover" and "Al Smith", in the persons of Fred Holcomb and Charles Pranaitis, the latter drawing out the wet issue with every swig from two bottles of soda. Another comic feature in the parade were two hayseed comedians, afoot, entered as "Mrs. Noel and Dora".

By far the most alluring entry in the parade was "Ad" Moore's Blue Heaven house car. As this queen of the road purred quietly by, one was tempted to make "Ad" an offer for a trip to Prescott Hill for the day, in order to escape the din, but when the common had been circled twice and J. V. Cook had announced the decision of the judges, Thornton Clark of Granby, Louis Blackmer of Holyoke and Perry Dunham of Ware, there were some things yet to see, so the trip had to wait.

THE HALL EXHIBIT

The hall was attractive with color in flower, vegetable and needlework. Bouquets of wild flowers, potted plants and ferns at one table and plates upon plates of fragrant apples and pears at another table caught the eye upon entering. Then the jellies and canned fruits and vegetables, deliciously clear in the sunlight, added their note of red and yellow. The jellies and canned goods were entered mostly by members of the 4H clubs and those in the household arts department of the High school.

The two grange exhibits on the north side of the hall were colorful as well as rather ambitious. Union grange portrayed a model roadside stand in miniature with the proprietor and goods right there, all in a rural setting, even to the pond and a duck. But in spite of the interest in this exhibit, Enfield grange took first prize with a pleasing array of every product of farm and home, most attractively displayed. The background for it all consisted of a number of beautiful quilts and hand woven bedspreads, one of them, contributed by Mrs. Lyman Webber of Enfield, being 104 years old.

Quite a different exhibit, but one hardly less interesting, was that of Franklin school under the leadership of Miss Nellie Shea, and Liberty school in charge of Miss Alice Flaherty. These articles made by the boys and girls from inexpensive materials for the most part, were artistic and of considerable variety.

Grown-ups vied with one another in cookery, butter making and cheese making, besides having a goodly display of needlework. One bright bit of color here attracted notice, a lamp mat made by Mrs. Emily Gilbert of Westfield, formerly of this town, in her 91st year.

Another former resident to remember the fair was Fred G. Abbey of Anacortes, Wash., who sent fine specimens of apples from the Pacific coast, Spokane Beauty and Wolf River.

There was an interesting exhibit of vegetables at the back of the hall. Four crisp cucumbers, picked that morning, were exhibited by Prosper Hurlburt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hurburt of Ludlow.

Most of the vegetables came from C. H. Egleston's market gardens.

THE BABY SHOW

But the really most worth while exhibit in the hall was the baby show at 1.30. Here was color and life, vivid and full of promise. Nineteen youngsters (there were 19 more who tried to get by the age limit), most of them well pleased with all that came their way, played their part in the drama of the day with abandon and utter unconcern as to whether the harassed judges took notice of them or not. The day was warm, the air was close, strangers crowded around with curious eyes, but neither noise nor dust, nor heat seemed to affect them, for they were all safe at home in their mother's arms.

DRAFT HORSES

The draft horse drawing contests occupied most of the afternoon and drew the usual coterie of "fans" who banked the enclosure ten deep. Some perched themselves on trucks, wagons and fences to better view the spectacle, while the most daring of all climbed a near-by maple.

As usual the contest was fraught with tragedy and comedy—tragedy when the whiffletree broke, the harness parted and the rocks tumbled from the boat; comedy when some of the drivers struck up unintelligible incantations to spur on their horses, and when the beasts ran away with the attendants rather than the rocks—and a mixture of tragedy and comedy when pale-faced women left the harrowing scene with hands tightly clasped over their fluttering hearts.

But the fans cheered lustily when the real teams took hold and loyally stayed by to the finish. There was sharp competition in all the classes, and out of town pairs were prominent in the contests which did not close till nearly five o'clock.

There were very few animals on exhibition at the south end of the park. Five or six cows, a horse, a rabbit, a box of chickens and a few puppies were about all there was to be found in the stipulated spaces, while a truck load of rabbits from the Brookfield Rabbitry backed up to the scene.

But from the sound, the north end of the common was where the zoo was located. The music of the merry-go-round, ferris wheel and chair swing, the shouting of the concession men, the jesting of the milling multitude and the clang of bells, led one to think that it must be about feeding time and that the noise would soon cease. But it lasted well into the evening and even then died reluctantly.

Many local people and organizations are the richer for the fair, securing revenue either through the sale of dinners, lunches or fancy articles, or the checking of autos, the biggest enterprise of all.

We leave the account of the fair as we began. The honking cars are anxious to hit the highway hard, but have to drone drearily away, the owners only wishing that Henry Ford had brought out some kind of a device that would turn their cars into helicopters, enabling them to soar straight up and roar away, so as to get home in time to start again next year.

Last Game

By Noel

The Belchertown A. A. closed its baseball season last Sunday by playing a tie game with the Brightwood Boxing Club nine of Springfield on Nutting's field with a score of 12 all. It was the worst game of the season as far as playing was concerned, both teams playing wretched ball. Piper pitched good ball for the home team, but 13 errors committed by his team mates were very costly. Paige allowed only three hits, had 8 strikeouts and gave five bases on balls.

It was either team's game during the final inning. The local team had the game easily tucked away by having an 8-5 lead in the 8th inning, but when the visitors came to bat in the 9th for the last time, the home boys "blew up" and with errors popping from every direction, the Brightwoods sent seven men across the plate. With the score 12-8 in their favor, the B. A. A. also coming to bat in the final inning managed to score four times, thus tying the score. Umpire Flaherty then called the game off as it was getting dusk.

Grange Notes

The grange worked the 3rd and 4th degrees Tuesday night, Mrs. R. M. Putnam being master of the 3rd, and the regular officers the 4th.

Fair day dinner proceeds were announced as $15.58.

Refreshments were served, the committee being Mrs. C. R. Green, Mrs. Hubbard and Mrs. Newman.

The season's card parties start next Tuesday evening, the committee being Paul Aldrich, Mrs. Hurlburt, Howard Snow.

Measles seem to be getting a start among the school children and seem to be gaining ground rather than otherwise. The school authorities call attention to the fact that a child on returning to school after having been afflicted with any contagious or infectious disease should bring a certificate from his own physician, or from the school physician or from the board of health, according to Chapter 71, Section 55 of the General Laws.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Robbins of Waltham were in town last week, returning on Monday, accompanied by Mrs. Mary E. Plantiff who will spend the winter with them.

Mrs. Lucy Randolph Hill, teacher of the commercial course at the High school, and William Sampson Jangro, of Concord, N. H., formerly of Greenfield, were married at Greenfield last week Thursday evening by Rev. Arthur Garnett, pastor of the Methodist church of that place. Mr. Jangro is the son of John Jangro of Winchendon, and is foreman at the Boston & Maine car shops at Concord. Mrs. Jangro will continue her work for the present, in which she has been eminently successful.

The funeral of Loren A. Shaw, a native of Belchertown and well known here, was held yesterday morning at 10 at the Second Congregational church in Amherst. Burial was in Wildwood cemetery in Amherst.

A chimney fire at May Carmody's house on Mill Valley road Sunday afternoon, called out the fire department about 2. Damage from fire and smoke was confined to two rooms. Except for the accidental discovery of the fire in the attic, considerable damage might have resulted.

Mrs. Melvina Cutting of Federal Street suffered a shock last Saturday night.

Miss Edith Shaw has returned to her studies at North Adams Normal school, after spending the week-end and holiday with her parents.

The Misses Mary, Margaret and Catherine Power of Worcester spent the week-end and holiday with relatives in town.

The old Clark place on Federal St., where Mrs. Libbie Gutberlett lived until her death, has been sold to Edmund L. Towne of Greenwich. As soon as the repairs are completed Mr. and Mrs. Towne will move here. Their aunt, Mrs. Samuel Warren, who makes her home with them, is a former resident of Belchertown, living in the house now owned by Chas. H. Sanford.

Miss Esther Hagstrom of Pawtucket, R. I., has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Bartlett, Jr., of Providence, R. I., have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Bartlett.

Thirty-nine members of Vernon Lodge and twenty-seven of the Eastern Star attended in a body the morning service at the Congregational church last Sunday.

Fred Coombs of North Adams has returned home after a visit with his sister, Mrs. W. S. Piper.

George Chapin of New Hampshire is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Piper.

SATURDAY

To Form Men's Organization

The men of the parish of the Congregational church met at the chapel Monday evening and decided that a little more masculinity in church affairs would not be amiss. Rev. F. C. Rolls, the pastor, made a few observations concerning local church life, which were heartily seconded in the discussion which followed. It was decided, in the interests of fraternity and service, to form a men's organization, the name and definite activities to be determined later.

H. F. Peck was chosen president; J. L. Collard, vice president; Guernsey Lauber, secretary and treasurer. These with the pastor will draw up a constitution for submission at the first meeting. Regular meetings will be held the third Monday in each month.

It is expected that outside speakers will be utilized to augment local talent in making the meetings worth while. Parish visitation and bringing people to church were suggested as features of a regular service program.

Refreshments of doughnuts, cheese, coffee and apples were served by the committee in charge, E. A. Fuller, C. F. Aspengren and H. F. Peck.

"Thus Helping Belchertown"

In a nearly two-column advertisement in this week's Ware River News, there is a detailed list of endeavors and accomplishments of Rep. Roland D. Sawyer, who seeks reelection this year after 15 years of service, the opposing candidate being Alvan R. Lewis, former school superintendent, of this town. In the preamble to the list is included the statement that Sawyer was "able to flag a scheme to take the State School to Conway, thus helping Belchertown." The advertisement is signed by John Moriarty of the Democratic committee.

Hallowe'en Party

Tuesday evening, the 30th, there will be a Hallowe'en party given by the Christian Endeavor society at the chapel at 7.30. This is for all young people as well as members. All are most cordially invited. We have asked our young friends from the Enfield Christian Endeavor society to be with us and to help make this evening a pleasant one. There will be ghosts and witches, and a good time for all. Everyone please come.

School Paper Out Today

The first edition of the "Echo of B. H. S." this school year is out today and appears in a little different dress from the publication put out by the school a year or so ago, the work being executed on the mimeograph instead of being printed. This process, however, has allowed the art department to function to better advantage. The mast heads of the various pages of class news and the athletic, alumni and joke sheets are sketched appropriately. There are eleven letter size sheets in all, which are eyeletted together at the corner. The work was done by the pupils themselves, so it is truly their paper.

This issue is intended solely for school consumption, although later numbers may be available to the public. The current issue sells for five cents.

Contents include a short editorial by the editor-in-chief, Sylvia Damon; a story, "The Haunted House," by Gertrude Knight, '30; a report of field day events held two weeks ago; an alumni page telling of the whereabouts and activities of '26, '27 and '28 graduates, and a final page of jokes.

O. E. S. Inspection Wednesday

Mt. Vernon Chapter, O. E. S., will hold its inspection next Wednesday evening. Opening will be at 5, supper at 6.30, and inspection at 8. Deputy Grand Matron Mrs. Mabel White of Pittsfield will be the inspecting officer. The chapter is fortunate in having one of the officers of the Grand Chapter to come in this capacity.

The Unheralded Side of Prohibition Enforcement

One gathers the impression from much of what is said and written that Prohibition is not enforced and the Volstead Act is a farce and that there is more drinking than ever and more violation of the law than ever. The impression has gotten pretty widely abroad that the Eighteenth Amendment is not being enforced and can never be enforced, and that therefore the only reasonable thing to do is to repeal the Amendment and call this experiment in Prohibition a failure.

It is very much to be regretted that certain facts favorable to Prohibition do not get the publicity they deserve. If one man goes wrong the news of it is spread on the first page of the newspaper, but it fails to mention the good deeds of 999 persons who are living good lives. The Volstead Act, to be sure, in many quarters is not being rigorously enforced, but in multitudes of places, it is being quietly enforced. During the past year there have been 64,936 federal arrests and the fines have amounted to $5,775,225.

Here is an item, for example, which ought to be published from the housetops: "The Government has closed since the Prohibition Law went into effect, 236 Distilleries, 1,092 Breweries, and 187,000 licensed Saloons. Since that date 90 per cent of all the Keeley cures and similar institutions throughout the country have been closed. The bank deposits have jumped from nine billion dollars to twenty-four billion dollars, and the twelve million depositors have increased to forty-two million."

One ought always to bear in mind that what gets before the public eye is the non-enforcement, and the people do not learn of the many times the law is enforced. Of course, not all is being done that could be done, but there is much enforcement that never gets heralded.

The Local Y. P. B. President Says:

There is a little misunderstanding by the general public about the 18th Amendment. Misleading statements have been made concerning the dry law by those who have given only one view of the question. Following are a few statements set forth which I would answer.

1. If we prohibit whiskey and permit beer, then the drink question will be solved.

Ans.—History teaches the contrary. Drunkenness from wine and beer was common among the ancients long before distilled liquors were commonly made and used as beverages. When Massachusetts tried letting beer in and keeping whiskey out fifty years ago, drunkenness rapidly increased. England had a similar experience 90 years ago when she tried to wean the people from whiskey and gin by making beer more accessible. Alcoholism, chronic alcohol intoxication, are great social problems of wine-drinking France. A large society of medical specialists in the care of alcohol addicts has grown out of the alcoholism in beer-drinking Germany. Beer and wine do not prevent alcoholism.

2. Prohibition takes away the poor man's beer, but leaves the rich man his full wine cellar.

Ans.—All the better for the poor man and all the worse for the rich man. The object of the law is the protection of the people from a vicious social custom, and from a selfish liquor traffic. If some rich men manage to thwart the object of law, they are not to be envied, but pitied, for they are bringing upon themselves, their families and their friends whom they treat, the injuries the law seeks to abate. If the poor man is freed from the pressure of drinking customs more quickly, he is the more fortunate.

3. No one has a right to say what I shall eat or drink.

Ans.—The prohibition law does not do this. It is a public health measure like those forbidding the sale of impure milk or tainted meat. None of these laws forbid consumption. A man may, if he chooses, eat meat that he has allowed to become tainted; he may drink milk that he allows to become unclean; he can drink alcoholic liquors that he may have on hand. But for the sake of public health and the protection of the community in general, the law forbids the sale of substances which medical experience has shown are unhealthful or otherwise injurious to the average person. The individual learns to subordinate his own convenience or preference in these matters to the general public good.

I could go on with many more statements, but I have discussed what I think are perhaps the most important ones.

R. Bartlett Green

When We Were Young

"When I was young," as grandfather's stories begin, we went chestnutting about this time of year. It was a regular fall sport, just as much as football is today.

As soon as we could get home from school we hunted up a cotton salt bag, clean and folded away for this very purpose. Then out to the chestnut trees, gathering up a neighbor or two on the way, perhaps even persuading "teacher" to go along. Scuffing the brown dry leaves right and left revealed the smooth-coated, silvery tailed nuts which Jack Frost had shaken from their spiny burrs where they had lain by two's and three's.

The cool air, the glowing sunset, the bare trees against the darkening sky, the friendly rivalry, the walk home through the pasture lane are all pleasant memories, but the really rewarding hour is yet to come. Sit down on the hearth before the old fireplace. Make a bed of hot ashes and coals, not too hot and yet it must be hot enough. Put the nuts one by one in this warm bed and wait a bit. You don't have to be told when the chestnut is roasted. Pop, she goes, and then you taste the most delicious morsel of the season.

It usually is a morsel, too. The exploding nut is scattered in bits, but perhaps the next one won't pop so hard.

Next day at school children are passing around boiled chestnuts. "Yes, they are good, But did you ever roast them?"

Poor children, they don't live in a century old house with an open fireplace. The best they can do is to boil their nuts, but a cold boiled chestnut is not to be compared with a hot roasted one.

And now comes a generation that hardly knows what a chestnut looks like. A man showed us a half dozen the other day and gave us a sample of them. He had found them under a slender young tree just beginning to bear. It may be that in time chestnut trees will flourish again and the long ago joy of chestnutting will be revived. Till then we wait.

Historical Association Meeting

While jack-o-lanterns danced up and down the streets, accompanied with the usual screeching and the intermittent ringing of the church bell, eleven members of the Historical association gathered at the Stone House for the semi-annual meeting and revived memories of other days. As the company rose to part after a sumptuous surprise repast and the reading of excerpts from "Neighborhood Commissions of Stage Coach Days," by Miss M. E. Bartlett, J. W. Jackson, president of the organization, voiced the feelings of those present when he said that he had been transported to the days of long ago and had breathed the atmosphere of the 1700's and 1800's.

It was a delightful climax to the evening's program, that story of the trips on the stage coach from Northampton to Boston, which took eighteen hours. One could visualize the neighbors coming in with their errands, which ran all the way from the purchase of dresses almost to the purchase of a wife. One could hear the coach start out at one a. m. and witness the glorious sunrise as old Sol appeared over the Belchertown hills and smell the good breakfast served at the Belchertown inn (now the Moriarty place), of which the account told.

Contributions by other members were also interesting. J. W. Jackson spoke on Indian Relics and showed a book entitled, "Stone Ornaments of the American Indians," by Warren K. Moorehead. Mr. Jackson spoke of numerous Indian relics he had found around Lake Metacomet and of the belief that an Indian village was once located on the shores of this lake. Mention was made of the fact that both here and elsewhere implements made of stone unidentified with this region have been found, leading to the theory that economic wars of aggression were fought by the red men. And as Mr. Jackson told of the Amherst professor who "borrowed" Indian relics from people in this town and surrounding towns for a loan collection at the college, and who soon disappeared, bag and baggage, one wondered whether the white man's ethics were an improvement over those of the race he displaced.

Wesley M. Goodell of Dwight revived memories of the early days of

Our Great Quadriennial Day

Every four years a day is added to the calendars, but it is just a common period of twenty-four hours. There is no special sign to distinguish it from other days marked by the rising and setting of the sun. Once every four years to the citizens of our land another day comes. It is now near at hand. The whistles of shops, the bells of the mills will call the workers to their daily tasks but this day brings another task that imperatively demands attention. This great quadriennial day is November 6, Election day.

A nation of more than 100 millions of people must select its highest official and other important though lesser members of the national and state governments. The number having the right to take part in this election is impressive. More than 43 millions of citizens are registered voters. What a spectacle to watch 43 millions of freemen choose their rulers!

This quadriennial day is a high day in the civic calendar. No other day is so significant. No other day calls citizens to a higher function than to cast a ballot for the chief executive of the nation, a ballot that shall reflect in the highest degree the intelligence and conscience and loyalty of the voters to the principles of equality, liberty and justice upon which the nation is founded.

If we go to the polls not having given earnest and throrough consideration to the issues represented by the different political parties and candidates who seek our ballot, and if we allow our prejudices, political, social, religious or other kind, to determine our choice, shall we not fall short of the lofty ideals of American citizenship? The nation expects the voter to do his duty as God gives him to see it.

Thinks Differently

The claim for Rep. Roland D. Sawyer of Ware that he flagged the move to take the State school to Conway, "thus helping Belchertown," called forth the indignation of ex-senator M. A. Morse, who claims that he knows the inside and outside story of the School's coming here. Mr. Morse claims that Sawyer had nothing to do with it, or practically nothing. He says that Conway was never a serious contender, anyway; that Westfield was the more serious competitive proposition.

So sure is the ex-senator of his position that he states that in private or in public he will be glad to prove his contention and would invite a debate with Sawyer or anybody else, on the matter, in some public hall.

Further, he said that if he had been a few years younger, he would have run for representative himself, and won—and perhaps he would have. At any rate, the old-time campaigning spirit is still there.

O. E. S. Inspection

The inspection of Mt. Vernon Chapter, O. E. S., was the usual felicitious occasion and drew a very large attendance, running considerably over 150. In the dining hall, which was attractively trimmed with Hallowe'en decorations, a chicken pie supper was served under the direction of Mrs. Ninfa Collard. Other members of the committee were Mrs. Everett Geer, Mrs. Mary Jackson, Mrs. Anna Gold and Mrs. E. A. Randall. The younger Masons waited upon table.

Mrs. Mabel F. White, Grand Conductress and Deputy Grand Matron, and Mrs. Clara F. Whiting, Deputy Grand Marshal, were the inspecting officers, and were assisted by Past Grand Patron, Brother Sisson, of Pittsfield. The inspecting officers graciously commended the work of the local chapter. Others of the guests to extend felicitations were Worthy Grand Matron Affa M. Pierpont and Worthy Grand Patron George H. Potter of Rhode Island. Others present from that state were the Worthy Matron of the Queen of Sheba chapter and the Worthy Patron of the Queen Esther chapter.

After the inspection, a reception was held for the grand officers from Rhode Island, the grand conductress and the deputy grand marshal, past grand officers and deputies.

Guests were present from Ware, Worcester, Springfield, Pittsfield, Easthampton, West Springfield, Amherst, Holyoke, Indian Orchard, Shelburne Falls, East Longmeadow, Natick, Palmer, Enfield, Chicopee, Warren, Grafton, Athol, Montpelier, Ohio, Pawtucket, R. I., and North Scituate, R. I.

7. "Arrests for drunkenness increased 125 per cent in first eight months." Saskatchewan Liquor Board.

8. "As much liquor is sold by boot leggers as is sold in the Government stores." British Columbia Liquor Board.

Bowling Notes

John J. Fairchild, local bowling enthusiast, has entered a team in the Red Men's Social League of South Hadley Falls. The team is composed of home bowlers with the exception of Joe Reynolds of South Hadley, who is the anchor man. Eight teams have been entered in the circuit and all matches are rolled in the Red Men's alleys.

The league opened its season last week and Capt. Fairchild and his Belchertown team won one point and lost two in their first match. On Tuesday night the Belchertown five rolled the Ford Plumbing company, winning one point, losing one and tying one, the total pinfalls deciding the contest which was won by the Ford bowlers, 1374 to 1349. The local team will bowl the K. of C. five next Tuesday night.

The ashes of the late Rev. Dow L. Hilliard, who died last January, were deposited last Saturday in the family lot in the cemetery at Craftsbury, Vt., Mrs. Hilliard and two children, Harold Hilliard and Miss Ruth Hilliard of Hartford, with a few friends, being present for the ceremony which was conducted by Rev. Carl J. Peterson. The deceased was once a student in Craftsbury academy, while his widow, formerly Miss Belle Harriman, was a resident of that place.

Attention is again called to the Social Guild sale and supper in the chapel next Wednesday night. The sale of home-cooked food and fancy articles will start at 4, while the supper will be served at 6.30.

A bright and shining piece of fire equipment stopped in town Monday afternoon in the shape of a motorized booster pump, put out by the American LaFrance Co. Chief Cook and others of the townspeople looked over the outfit with longing eyes. The machine was of similar type to that which Amherst sent here the night the Park View burned, and which saved Park Street. The price of the apparatus displayed was given as $7,000, with the same outfit on a lighter chassis, listed at $5,000.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morris of Maple street have returned from a business and pleasure trip to New York state, Lake Champlain and Canada.

Spelling to the Fore

Correct spelling, which is generally regarded by the public as rather neglected in the schools of today, is receiving a new impetus this fall in the grade schools. Each child is given a blank book in which he writes from dictation twenty words not previously studied. This is on Monday. On Tuesday he studies the words which he misspelled the day before and takes the same test again on Wednesday. On Thursday he studies again and on Friday takes the third test. One of the schools recently reported 100 per cent perfect on the third test. A challenge to some of the old-timers and an old fashioned spelling match might be an interesting event at some time in the future.

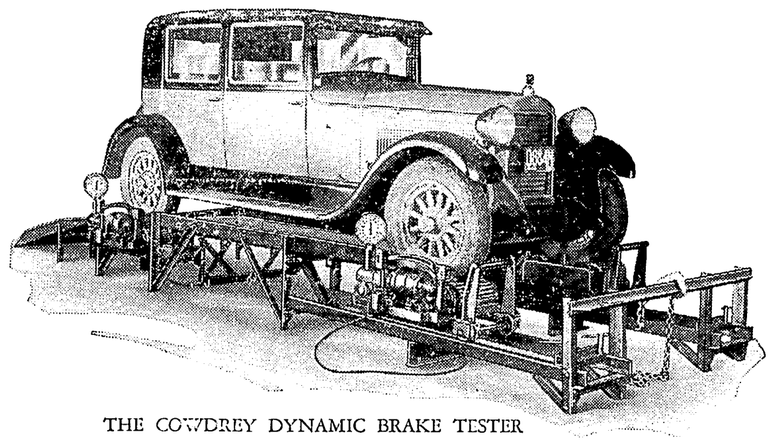
a Brake Tester to give you even greater protection from the hazards of the road



THE COWDREY DYNAMIC BRAKE TESTER

To be of even greater service to you, we have installed an accurate brake tester—an astounding device that tells you more about the true condition of your brakes than a dozen skilled mechanics or miles of road tests ever could.

THIS MACHINE detects the egg shaped drum—the warped or greasy band—measures the piston leakage of hydraulic brakes—tells you how quickly the brakes will stop your car in any emergency—provides you with information that makes it possible to eliminate uneven wear on brake lining and tires.

BRING YOUR CAR IN TODAY and have your brakes tested free. Tomorrow you may have to depend on them to save lives and property.

the Central Vermont railroad. He said that those through whose land the road passed were induced to take shares in exchange for their property which, sad to relate, were later assessed to obtain funds to complete the construction. Mr. Goodell said he had in his possession five such assessments. The fact was also brought out in his remarks that this section of road was once called the Amherst and Belchertown Railroad and was leased for a brief period to the Longleys of this town.

Mrs. Mary E. Spencer gave a vivid word picture of Lafayette's offering of his services to this country at the age of 19 and of his visit again to this country in 1824, exhibiting in connection a cup and saucer of a set which was used when Lafayette was entertained at an inn at Holland kept by her grandparents. A beautiful bright red hand woven shawl of her grandmother's was also shown.

Miss Marian Bardwell exhibited two snuff boxes, one over two hundred years old and one about 100 years old, also a fan about 100 years old, while Miss Lucy Bardwell exhibited knee buckles of Gen. Allen, her grandmother's brother.

H. F. Curtis presented a piece of old-time blacksmith equipment in the shape of a pointing horse, used in pointing horse shoe nails in the days when nails were made by hand. This was thought to be 150 years old.

Miss Ella A. Stebbins gave an interesting account of the Adams mansion in Quincy, which has been occupied by four generations of the family and is now in the hands of a corporation which maintains it as a memorial.

A few clippings figured in the program. One read by Mrs. Curtis was an advertisement for a wife, listing most exacting requirements, that would make any maiden tremble. One by Mrs. L. H. Blackmer told of the renovation of Geo. Washington's drug store, while that of L. H. Blackmer told of people actually being boiled in oil in England in 1542 as penalty, for the offense of poisoning.

Of course there was business in connection with the meeting. Mrs. Mary E. Spencer reported informally on the Longley estate, and there was discussion as to Holland glen.

As before indicated, the feast at the evening's end was a surprise. The meetings of the association always have a pleasing flavor and this added feature tended to emphasize it. The hand woven table cloth and gold-banded china helped to give the flavor of the long ago days and the atmosphere of the 1700's and 1800's.

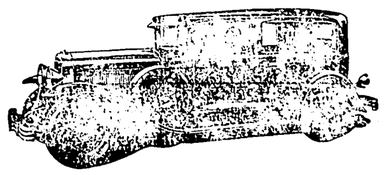
The new Buick is the new Style



Men and women on every street--in every city and town--are pronouncing the new BUICK, with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher, the most beautiful automobile of the day

Never before in the history of motor car manufacture have the motorists of America welcomed any new automobile as they are welcoming the Silver Anniversary Buick with new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher!

Sweeping into the market at a time when motor car lines were practically standardized—when imitation was destroying individuality—these epic Buick creations introduced an entirely new mode—

A mode of body-symmetry—of size and magnificence—of soft contours instead of straight lines—of embossed side and hood panels involving the most costly steel paneling work employed on any car in the world!

And as the weeks have passed—and the full significance of Buick's achievement has become apparent to the public—enthusiasm for this car has swelled and grown to unprecedented proportions!

Buick sales records have been broken! Production schedules have been increased again and again! The great Buick plants are working to the limit of their capacity to supply the demand.

The Christian Endeavor Hallowe'en party Tuesday evening was characterized by rollicking hilarity befitting the occasion. About 50 were present, including a couple of witches. The audience room was appropriately decorated with colored crepe paper. Games were played following which the usual Hallowe'en refreshments were served.

Nov. 18 to 24 being Girl Scout week, the Girl Scouts and council have been invited to attend the morning service at the Congregational church on Sunday, the 18th.

Mrs. Guy C. Allen, Mrs. E. A. Fuller, Miss Rachel Fuller and Mrs. Emma Shaw spent the week-end with Mrs. Cornelia Holland of Boston.

Miss Ruth Parker, who is teaching at Westboro this year, was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Baggs.

Mrs. A. B. Beaumont of Amherst has been engaged as teacher of music in place of Mrs. Florence Clough who has a leave of absence. Mrs. Beaumont, before coming to Amherst, was supervisor of music at an Oregon state normal school. Besides being a teacher of more than ordinary ability, she is a gifted story teller and makes use of her talents each week at the Jones library. Mrs. Beaumont began her duties here on Wednesday.

Fifteen from this town attended Pomona Grange at South Amherst yesterday. Mrs. Julia Shumway was elected lecturer and Charles Sanford re-elected assistant steward.

More than the usual number of Hallowe'en pranks were played Wednesday night. A hedge-protecting fence on Main Street was pulled up, old vehicles were run into dooryards, blinds were taken off houses and Al Smith's name chalked on the sidewalks.

The polls will be open next Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. In precinct A, the voting place is Memorial hall.

Armistice Day Observance

Edward Parent and William Kimball of the American Legion are busy in connection with the observance of Armistice Day. At 11 Sunday morning, wreaths will be placed at the honor roll at Memorial hall and on the graves of Chauncey D. Walker, John W. Jackson, Jr., and George Hannum.

During the last few days soldiers' graves in the several cemeteries have been flagged, and some three dozen markers placed in Dwight, Lake Vale, Rural and Mt. Hope to replace those missing or broken.

Four tree markers have also been ordered for the young trees that were set out on the common some time ago. The money for these items comes from the town appropriation for Memorial day, as there was a balance left.

While there will be no union evening service on Sunday, ex-service men will be welcome at the various morning church services.

The Red Cross Roll Call

Plans are being laid locally for the Red Cross Roll Call, which runs from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving. While in case of major disasters, special solicitation is made, the Red Cross depends on the annual roll call membership fees to carry on the bulk of its work, which needs no commendation of ours. Its work is too widely and too well known.

Mrs. J. L. Collard, local chairman, has secured the assistance of the following solicitors: Mrs. R. G. Shaw, Mrs. A. D. Moore, Mrs. Fred Lincoln, Miss Gertrude Riley, Mrs. Clayton Green, Mrs. H. F. Peck, Mrs. Frank Gold, Mrs. M. C. Baggs and Mrs. William Morris. Others will be appointed later.

TODAY

"Food, Faith and Friendship" supper and meeting at Methodist vestry at 6.30 p. m.

Girl Scout Card Party at Memorial hall.

Sale and Supper

The Social Guild held its sale of miscellaneous and fancy articles at the chapel at 4 p. m. Wednesday and served its first supper of the season at 6.30. The patronage was not large, due, no doubt, to sickness and election aftermath. About 75 attended the supper.

The table of fancy articles was a mecca for those who wanted to start on their Christmas shopping list early, while those more immediately concerned about feeding the inner man were enticed by the miscellaneous booth with its harvest home aspect of fruit and vegetables, augmented by home-made cooking and candy.

Colored electric lights sparkled atop the canopy of evergreen over all, while the framework was neatly trimmed with evergreen and red berries. The booth was made by a professional carpenter, L. M. Blackmer, while Mrs. Taylor, chairman in charge, assisted by Mrs. G. B. Demarest, executed the artistry. Mrs. J. V. Cook and Mrs. Mary Markham assisted at this table. Mrs. Frank Rhodes and Mrs. F. C. Rolls had charge of the fancy work table. A good share of the articles displayed found purchasers before the evening passed.

The supper committee were Mrs. W. S. Piper, Mrs. H. F. Duncan, Mrs. Guernsey Lauber, Mrs. Raymond Gould, Mrs. Clinton Hamilton and Mrs. Margaret Wilson.

The chief event after the supper was the weighing of fat and slim, tall and short, (usually with several friendly feet thrown in) at a cent a head. Mrs. Demarest was cashier.

Contract Let for New Structure

Ryther & Warren, who lost their grist mill and grain house by fire September 28, have let the contract for a new structure to the J. G. Roy company of Springfield. Some of the lumber has already arrived and work will soon begin. Plans call for a building similar to the old, only a few minor changes having been made. It is expected that the new building will be up in a month or six weeks.

"Looking Backward" Party

On next Wednesday evening the local Y. P. B. will give a "Looking Backward" party. Those who attend the party are asked to wear their clothes backward. There will be a heavy fine for not doing so.

There will be an "art gallery" with very interesting collections that the members have worked on for quite a while. "Heera Youra Dooma" direct from "Witchland" has accepted an invitation to be there and tell your "future". Pumpkin pie and coffee will be on sale during the evening. Many new games will be played.

Everyone, young and old folks, is cordially invited to be present at the M. E. church vestry at 7.30 p. m. on November 14. Everyone will have a jolly time, that is guaranteed.

Young People's Branch

Solicits Funds

Efforts are being made by the local sportsmen's club in conjunction with other clubs in this section of the state to raise money sufficient to aid in the expansion of the Amherst Fish Hatchery, such expansion to consist of making more rearing pools and rearing more adult trout for distribution.

As the rearing of more adult trout means more distribution and therefore better fishing, all of the local anglers should heartily indorse this project.

Contributions by anyone interested in the betterment of fishing conditions, even though they may not have time to enjoy the sport, will be gratefully received by the club and added to the fund. The club will endeavor to make contact with every sportsman in this locality for his aid and contribution to the fund in the near future.

The raising of the money is in the hands of the executive committee consisting of

Herbert D. Peeso
David Warner
William F. Kimball

Joy in Working

It was the writer's privilege last spring to see and to hear for the first time Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell. Every one knows of his work along the Labrador coast. Years ago he chose it because it was hard work. It has always been difficult and dangerous. Once he was adrift on an ice pan and all hope of life was gone. The thing that impressed the writer was Dr. Grenfell's joy in his work. No one need pity him. He was having a good time. He would exchange places with none. He wanted to get back to his field.

All of us know a few individuals who are happy at their work. We know a girl who loves to tend babies even though the babies may be cross, we are acquainted with a teacher who is happy when teaching despite the fact that there are troublesome pupils. We know of mothers who sing at their household duties even though burdened by them, and men who whistle though perspiring in the ditch under the hot rays of the sun. We have known of workers who were happy when the task was hard and the difficulties many and dangers were on every side. This is a miracle. Some people have found delight in their work, no matter what happened.

Yet it is true that there are hosts of people who do not find joy in their work. Some years ago the late President Eliot spoke in Faneuil hall on a Sunday afternoon to a company of workingmen and emphasized the importance of joy in one's work. The next Sunday afternoon the president of the Boston Central Labor Union ridiculed the idea and the applause given the second Sunday indicated how many workmen felt. There are hosts of people who do not look forward to the office or the schoolroom or the ditch or the kitchen with joy.

Do we give people the impression that we enjoy our work? Would we recommend our job to our son or daughter? Why not make up our minds that we will be happy at our work?

R. E. Fairchild is in receipt of a letter from Fred G. Abbey of Anacortes, Wash., acknowledging the receipt of premium money for his apple exhibit at the Fair. As was to be expected, Mr. Abbey said that he had no thought of competing for a prize and went on to say that if he is alive next year, he will send "some more evidence of our fertile soil and climate."

Mr. Abbey congratulates Mr. Fairchild on his attaining the "proud eminence of 80 years" and wishes him many happy returns, typing in connection an appropriate poem.

Also enclosed is a sketch of the life of his father, Captain Abbey, who "was a charter member of E. J. Griggs Post G. A. R., Belchertown, Mass., and served as its Commander for many years.

"He was one of the very few veterans who would not apply for a pension. 'My Country and Flag are welcome to all I have done for them' was his invariable reply when asked why he did not apply.

"In July, 1889, Captain Abbey sold the home where he was born in Belchertown, Massachusetts, and moved with his family to Skagit County, Washington, to join his sons who had preceded him.

"In his new home he at once drew around him a large circle of good people and was instrumental in organizing a new Congregational Church, and began the construction of the church building, but he never saw its completion. After a few days' illness, he died peacefully November 12th, 1889, loved and honored by all who knew him. He was the first person to be buried in the beautiful cemetery at Bow, Washington."

Grange Notes

Union grange observed "Neighbors' Night" at its regular meeting Tuesday evening. Reports of the committees for arranging the float and exhibit for Fair day, and of the previous card party were given during the business meeting.

About 120 were present and visitors came from Amherst, Feeding Hills, Enfield, Haverhill and South Amherst. There were brief remarks by Mrs. Arthur Glynn of Amherst, Mr. Wells of Feeding Hills and Irving Hendrick of South Amherst, masters of their respective granges, also by Past Master I. N. Day of Amherst.

The entertainment given by the Amherst and Feeding Hills granges consisted of a play by Amherst grange entitled "Eliza's Bonny Fodder' Offer" and another by Feeding Hills, "Courtship Under Difficulties." There were also violin selections by Miss Louise Cargle of Amherst, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Walsh. Refreshments were served and dancing followed.

The grange will hold the second of a series of whist parties in Grange hall next Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Noel and Mrs. Robert Chamberlain will be in charge.

Town Items

A "Food, Faith and Friendship" supper and meeting will be held at the Methodist church vestry tonight at 6.30. All friends of the church are welcome.

The fence at the rear of the Belchertown Motor Sales, Inc., about which there was so much controversy, has been erected.

Miss Cora Blodgett of Los Angeles, Calif., is at the home of her aunts, Miss Ellen Blodgett and Mrs. Rose Coffin, where she will spend the winter. She was the week-end guest of Mrs. Emily Gilbert of Westfield, who with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Shattuck, accompanied her to Belchertown Sunday.

Miss Marion E. Bartlett has been substituting the past week at the 7th and 8th grades in place of Miss Edith Towne who is ill at her home on Maple street.

The annual meeting of Vernon Lodge will take place next Tuesday night.

A delegation of twelve from the Sons of Veterans and Auxiliary attended the installation ceremonies at Florence last week Thursday night.

Let the SENTINEL Follow You!

"Down Eros, Up Mars"

Those who are familiar with that interesting story, Ben Hur, will recall the thrilling moment in the chariot race when this cry was heard. As the chariot of Messala and that of Ben Hur sped along side by side over the course, the Roman, abandoning honor, cried out, "Down Eros, Up Mars," and struck the horses of Ben Hur with his cruel lash and with the blow shouted again, "Down Eros, Up Mars."

That cry showed the fierce spirit that ruled the world for ages. The great empires were formed by conquest. The soldier was the ideal man. The nations paid homage to Mars more than to Eros, and wars followed, deluging the earth with blood. So blinded were men by the glare of military pursuits that love, goodwill and peace seemed the unnatural and war the natural condition to exist between nations.

We have now come to a turning point in history. A new era is dawning. A great change in the spirit of the nations has come. Its significance is rich in promise of a happier future.

Ten years ago Mars was in the ascendant. The nations were in the agony of the greatest war that ever devastated the world and threatened civilization. They became satiated with destruction, suffering and slaughter. War was stripped of its glamor and revealed in its revolting ghastliness.

On Armistice Day the wearied soldiers heard the welcome order, "Cease firing," and when the roar of the guns was stilled, a new cry was heard, "Down Mars. Up Eros." Have you failed to distinguish this change or note the increasing volume with which the reversed cry is sounded from Armistice Day to Armistice Day? If you have, you have missed one of the most inspiring signs of the times.

Centuries ago a Hebrew prophet had a vision of swords and spears beaten into plow-shares and pruning hooks, the ideal of a warless world. After many generations a modern prophet, a Victorian poet, saw the vision as a parliament of nations, and following the armistice the voice of our great president was heard calling the nations to unite in a league to exalt Eros and perpetuate peace. A warless world was no longer the dream of prophet and poet. It had become the goal of the far-seeing statesmen and during the decade that has passed since the first Armistice Day, progress has been made towards this goal.

Various events like the adoption at Geneva in 1922 by thirty nations of a resolution not to commit aggressions upon one another, and the protocol at Geneva in 1924, which binds the assembly of the League of Nations to substitute arbitration for violence in the settlement of disputes, and the agreement made at Locarno, 1925, by France, Belgium and Germany to arbitrate their disagreements, mark advances of this ideal of peace to fuller realization in Europe, while the resolution of the Pan American congress, Havana, 1927, to reject war as a means to further national policies shows that the American peoples are cherishing the same ideal.

The signing of the Pact of Paris on August 27, 1928, makes still more bright the promise for goodwill and peace to prevail in the future. Consider carefully its articles:

Art. 1. The high contracting parties solemnly declare in the names of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.

Art. 2. The high contracting parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means.

This is a notable document and it encourages the lovers of peace. The war god is condemned and renounced as an arbitrator of international controversies and policies. Fifteen nations signed this treaty. The other nations are invited to join with them. A glorious triumph it is for Eros. Rejoice in it with exceeding great joy. The dawn of the new day of goodwill and peace grows brighter.

Dies in Brockton

Mrs. Martha Woodbury, widow of Everett W. Woodbury, formerly of Belchertown, died Friday, November 2nd, at the home of her daughter in Brockton after an illness of about two months.

Mrs. Woodbury was born in Belchertown December 12, 1854, the daughter of the late George Babcock, and leaves her sister, Mrs. Nettie Nichols, and several nephews and nieces in this vicinity.

In addition she leaves one daughter, Mrs. George H. Priest of Brockton; three sons, John E. of Hopedale, Mass., Harry E. of Springfield, Vt., Charles R. of Lakeport, N. H., and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Sunday with burial in Framingham.

Attention is again called to the Girl Scout card party at Memorial hall tonight. While tickets have been sold ahead, they will also be on sale at the hall. It is hoped that there will be a good patronage so that the annual apportionment can be met.

Miss Margaret McPherson and Miss Priscilla Doan of Northfield Seminary were at the McPherson home for the week-end. Recent guests of Dr. and Mrs. McPherson also include Mrs. E. A. Forrest and Mrs. J. G. Fairbanks of Norwood, and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Parsons of New York. Mr. Parsons was called to this section by the death of his sister.

A. S. Brown and daughter, Mrs. Fred Lincoln, were called to Windsor, Vt., last week by the death of a cousin of Mr. Brown's.

The Misses Madeline and Josephine Lincoln are ill with the measles. This is the first time that the former, now in the High school, has missed school since she was in the first grade.

F. D. Fuller, whose estate at the junction of Mill Valley and Palmer roads, is a source of pride to the community, is erecting on the premises a two-story chicken house 190x24, decidedly classy as to construction. The lower floor is of cement, while the second is a double one and is finished with the best of four inch hard pine. The building will be heated by hot water. The outside will be of stucco. Seven men are working on the building now, W. D. Dunbar being in general charge. It is said that the completed structure will cost between $10,000 and $15,000. A worth-while feature in connection with Mr. Fuller's enterprises is that employment is given to many local people.

"Looking Backward" Party

The "Looking Backward" party under the auspices of the Young People's Branch Wednesday evening was largely a young people's affair. Most of those who attended either had their clothes on backward when they appeared or adjusted themselves to the situation afterward.

The M. E. vestry, where the party was held, was decorated with red, white and blue crepe paper and corn stalks. Considerable work had been put into the affair, but the party was bent more upon fun. Games figured large, and stunts like bobbing for apples were run off. A bat's nest with three bricks in it was a hilarious spot.

A playlet was given and refreshments of pie, doughnuts and coffee were sold.

The party remembered Bernard Lemon, who on account of his broken bones was unable to be present, with verses drawn up by Bartlett Green and signed by the young people. Some thirty or forty were present.

Our Baseball Team

The B. A. A. had a baseball nine,
On the playing field they sure looked fine
With brand new suits, so "spick and span"
That would win the heart of any fan.
How the people jammed the gates
To see Capt. Dewey and his mates.
With George effective on the mound,
No better pitcher could be found.
His place quite often he would yield,
And spend the day in center field,
And then to fill his shoes,
Paige Piper he would choose.
Batters now would steal no base,
For they could not hit this High school ace.
To him they all looked just the same—
He had several strike-outs every game.
And next came "Jap," the lucky chap

Pansy Park Tavern

An informal opening of the Pansy Park Tavern, the newly renovated structure on the L. W. Goodell place at Dwight, was held Monday evening, about seventy-five being present. Hamilton's orchestra of Amherst officiated. The management served a buffet lunch and dancing was enjoyed.

With the burning of the Park View and the opening of this tavern, the hospitality center of the town seems to have shifted from Belchertown village to this spot six miles to the north, that was once the mecca of those who sought Pansy Park when it was really a park of pansies and of other flowers, grown from seeds gathered almost from the four corners of the earth by the late L. W. Goodell, the noted florist.

In these later years the premises had fallen on evil days and only within the past six weeks has Time's onward march been challenged. Now as one passes by on the Amherst road, this time-honored structure in a shiny coat of green, with white trimmings, beckons one to stop and ponder on what has happened. There over the doorway is the sign, "Pansy Park Tavern," with its silent welcome to enter.

Greeting one in the lower hall is a framed picture of a large box of pansies, reminding one of happy yesterdays which made the spot famous. A hat tree nearby also speaks to one out of a past more remote.

The whole interior with its fourteen rooms savors both of the present and the past. The door casings and some of the doors emphasize the latter. The woodwork is finished in mahogany and the wall paper is rich in its appeal.

The modern aspect is emphasized by the presence of electric lights and running water installed by means of an independent system. An excellent bathroom has been fitted out on the second floor. At the north end of the second floor is the spacious dining room. Here three or four rooms were turned into one and equipped with half a dozen tables that summer and winter will beckon guests for refreshment.

Just below is the well-appointed

Half-way Achievements

We go half-way up the mountain and the view is perfectly splendid. It seems so satisfactory that we are quite content to remain there. But if we should break a trail to the top, the view would be a hundred-fold more wonderful and we would be ashamed of anyone stopping half-way up. Sometimes we cannot understand why some of those who went west took up lands where the ground was hilly and unproductive and were happy, whereas if they had only pushed farther, they would have found much better soil and more things to make one joyful.

This is illustrative of the way we do in human life. We are satisfied with the good when we might have had the better; and we are content with the better when the best is only a little farther on. We ought to live in the noblest fashion and not be satisfied with living at low levels. We have the capacity to do an extraordinary piece of work, but we are content with a piece of work just good enough to pass inspection.

It is sheer ignorance, oftentimes, which makes us content with things as they are. It is ignorance which makes an African, for example, satisfied with a low, small hut with no windows in it and the ground for a floor and a fire in the midst of the floor and the room full of smoke.

And lack of a spirit of venture prevents us from going on. We say, "Things are pretty well as they now are. Why not be sensible? Why get all worked up and move out beyond. We know not what is there." We are timid.

And we need leaders who will arouse us from our lethargy and our complacency, and who will say to us, "You have tarried here long enough. You are capable of something far better and nobler. Arise. Go on."

There is always something better farther on. We should never allow ourselves to sit down with smug complacency and be satisfied with our present achievements, no matter how noble they may be. For if we do, death has already set in.

—R.

Trip to Washington

Miss Edith Allen of Danvers has just returned from a trip to Washington, D. C., and historic points south, taken in company with friends. The party went over Storm King highway and Bear Mountain bridge, on through New Jersey to Philadelphia, then to Baltimore and Washington, D. C. She writes:

We visited the White House, going through the beautiful halls and into the ball room, beautifully lighted. We also went up into Washington monument, visited the government buildings and Smithsonian Institution, where we saw Lindy's plane, "The Spirit of St. Louis." We then went to Mt. Vernon, Virginia, to George Washington's old home, where we saw the bed on which he died, and wonderful old things in this historic mansion, situated in a most beautiful spot. We then turned back to Washington and returned by way of Atlantic City and Lakehurst, N. J., to see the zeppelin. Am now back in Boston, visiting my sister, before taking up duties again for the winter.

Town Items

Miss Minnie Squires has gone to Pelham where she has a position for the winter.

Rev. L. T. Rock, pastor of St. Francis church, was the speaker of honor at the Armistice Day service held in Ware last Saturday night.

Stefan Kopec was exhibiting Saturday a racoon, weighing 15 or 18 pounds, which his police dog had secured and brought home unaided.

Five were initiated at the meeting Monday evening of the auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans, making a total charter membership of 25, not including associate members. H. L. Hadlock, the only G. A. R. man in town, was present at this meeting.

The directors, officers and the teachers of the Congregational Sunday school met at the parsonage Wednesday evening. The pastor has called a meeting of the trustees of the church for this evening at 7.30 at the parsonage.

Miss Alice G. Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Pierce of this town, and Byron H. Capen, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Capen of Amherst, were married Saturday night by Rev. C. H. Smith of Granby. Mr. and Mrs. Capen will live for the present at Belchertown.

Miss Effie Witt and Miss Mary Hill of Stamford, Ct., spent the week-end and Armistice Day at Miss Witt's home on North Main street.

Attention is called to the new train schedule which contains changes not previously noted.

Eight tables were in play at the military whist party Tuesday night at Grange hall. The high scorers were Miss Rose Menard, Albert Menard, Robert Chamberlain and Wilfrid Noel with a total of 110 points. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge and dancing followed.

kitchen, while in the northwest room on the lower floor the office is to be located. This room is equipped with numerus cabinets with glass doors, used by the late Mr. Goodell as cases for his nature specimens. The wall paper with special ceiling design was put on forty years ago and looks as fresh as if it had been hung only yesterday. This will not be disturbed.

The improvements have all been executed personally by Joseph Tracey, the new owner, his brother, Peter Tracey, and his father. While much has been done, more is contemplated. The upper floor in the story and a half ell to the rear is to be removed and a high ceiling dance hall evolved, with a cafe in connection. There will be two entrances on both the north and the south sides.

It is expected that the pond to the rear will be stocked with swan and the banks equipped with benches.

Mrs. Tracey, who is the lady of the house, has had considerable experience with this type of work. She was former manager of the Blandford Country club of Blandford and for twelve years was head waitress at the Draper hotel, Northampton.

Steak and chicken dinners are served every day from 1 p. m. to 11 p. m., and over-night guests can be accommodated.

And so this house, once noted for its hospitality extended to itinerant ministers, has been shaken from its lethargy and bid again to attract the wayfarer.

Mrs. Tracey invites the people of Belchertown to stop at the tavern, as she will be glad to show the townspeople what has been done.

Our Baseball Team

Most any team would grab,
For no matter where he played,
He always made the grade.
Sometimes he "toed the slab".
Behind the bat in every game
Was catcher "Ern" McCain.
The man who played first sack,
In every match the ball did whack;
He knocked it to all corners of the lot—
Eddie Harnisch, our "king of swat".
The hardest corner in the park,
Third base, was played by Garney Clark;
On second, in between,
The name of "Stubby" King is seen.
There was "Al" Menard, who worked quite hard
To play the game at short;
He was quite fleet upon his feet
And many put-outs wrought.
A "sub" was "Conny" Lynch,
Who often batted in a pinch.
With "Robbie" out in right
And "Jimmy" on the other side
The team was now complete.
And, as Manager Ed has often said,
"I know they can't be beat!"
Wilfred kept the score
And found, ten times or more,
They met defeat.
They won a few and tied just two,
That's not so very bad.
But in 1929 with these same men in line
I hope to see the best we've ever had.

The "Food, Faith and Friendship" service at the M. E. church last Friday night drew a large attendance, about a hundred being present. The young people's society of the Ludlow church was the guest of the local Epworth League which had the evening in charge. Rev. Mr. Townsend, pastor of the church, was present and contributed to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The devotional service was held in the church auditorium, the social hour following in the vestry. The visitors gave a program of music and readings, while the local society gave an operetta, "Old King Cole." Rev. Rockwell Smith, pastor of the church, led off in some lively games in which a large number participated.

Union Grange Elects Officers

The annual election of officers took place at the regular meeting of Union grange Tuesday evening. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

Master	Wilfrid Noel
Overseer	Paul Aldrich
Lecturer	Mrs. Charles Sanford
Steward	George Booth
Assistant Steward	Bartlett Green
Chaplain	Mrs. Jason Hurlburt
Treasurer	Harry Putnam
Secretary	Mrs. Harry Putnam
Gate-Keeper	Howard Snow
Ceres	Priscilla Bisnette
Pomona	Esther Squires
Flora	Mrs. Howell Cook
Lady Assistant Steward	Darsa Dodge
Executive committee for three years,	Mrs. Mary Spencer
Pianist	Dorothy Blackmer

Announcements were read by Mrs. Dora Wesley, secretary of the order, of the State Grange convention to be held in Springfield next month and the following were elected delegates to attend the sessions: Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Noel and Mrs. Charles Sanford, lecturer-elect; alternate delegate, Charles Austin.

The meeting was preceded by a supper served under the direction of Mrs. Clayton R. Green, Mrs. John R. Newman and Mrs. Clarence Hubbard.

There will be a public card party in Grange hall next Tuesday evening.

Work on Building Progresses

Work is progressing on the new grain mill of Ryther & Warren, which is rising on the old foundations. The floor timbers are nearly all in place, so that the structure will soon begin to take on altitude. Half a dozen men or so are now employed but more will likely be put on soon.

As before stated, the building will be on the lines of the old structure that was burned, but with several improvements in equipment. A 24 inch grinder is to be installed instead of a 20 inch, and a modern cleaner will clean the grain as it goes to the bins.

Before the hard grain arrives at the grinder, it will pass over a magnetized belt which will remove all metallic substances. This machine will be of a much more improved type than was used formerly. Likewise the plant will be equipped with a larger and more modern batch mixer, for the convenience of those who desire feed mixed to a certain formula.

Men's Club Supper and Address

The Men's club of the Congregational church got away to a good start last Monday evening on Roy Shaw's oyster stew and Rev. John Hawley's address. Which was the better in its field would be hard to determine. The men vigorously applauded both gentlemen. Each was a single handed performance. Nothing got into the stew that Mr. Shaw didn't know about, and a little assistance in serving was all he asked. Doughnuts, pie, cheese and coffee rounded out the menu.

At the conclusion of the supper the thirty men present retired to the audience room where H. F. Peck, president, conducted a short business meeting, in the course of which the aims and purposes of the organization were stated. At present the men are interested in getting shutins to church and in parish visitation, while Sunday noons the club functions as a Sunday School class. At present there are no fees or dues and no hard and fast membership. It was decided to omit the December meeting owing to the busy Christmas season, but it was voted to put on a pageant in connection with the Christmas festivities.

Then followed the address by Rev. John A. Hawley, pastor of the First Congregational church of Am-

"As a Man Thinketh"

It was a wise man who said 2,500 years ago and more, "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." He did not say, "As a man wishes, so is he." Years before the World War came, men were longing for peace. Ministers preached eloquent sermons on peace, educators and lecturers extolled peace. Even the rulers of the world, not excluding the Kaiser of Germany, lifted up their voices, wishing peace. But the War came. It does little good to wish for peace when men are not thinking peace.

All of us wish to get on well with our neighbors and friends; our store keepers and bankers; and the leaders we have elected to rule over us. But that is not the determining factor. What determines our conduct is what we think about them. If we think they are rascals we will treat them accordingly, no matter how ardent is our wish for them to be saints. If we think a store keeper or a banker is crooked, we are likely to do our business elsewhere.

The same thing is true in international relations. Our attitude towards China is dependent upon our thinking of China. If, when we think of her, we think of a "yellow peril", we see to it that we have sufficient armaments. When we think of Russia, for example, do we think of them as possible friends or possible enemies?

We will never do away with war till we rid ourselves of thinking war. The question, after all, is, "How much faith have we in mankind the world around?" If we have faith in our next door neighbors, we will live peaceably with them. If we don't, it will be difficult to avoid friction. So, too, if we have faith in other governments, armaments are needless. But armaments are necessary if we lack faith.

For the most part people and nations are what we expect them to be. Why not try the method of thinking peace? When this is done, war will be no more.

Superintendent H. C. Knight gave a talk at Westfield Wednesday at a conference on school hygiene held under the joint auspices of the State Department of Education and the State Department of Public Health. Mr. Knight's topic was, "Nutrition in a School Program." Special stress is being placed on the value of milk as a part of the diet and the pupils in the grade schools are responding to the efforts of the teachers and the nurse. One school, Washington, has a 100 per cent. record in the use of milk as a part of the noon lunch, both for those who bring their lunch and those who go home. Miss Madeliene Orlando is the teacher in charge.

Tax Collector D. F. Shumway went to Wing Memorial hospital, Palmer, on Tuesday for an operation for the removal of cataract. He will be under the care of Dr. Moore. The tax collector's office will be closed for ten days more or less, in consequence. According to the literature sent out in connection with the drive for $25,000 for this hospital, 37 Belchertown people patronized this institution in the last five years. There are listed in connection 15 maternity cases and six emergency cases.

Miss Pozzi, home demonstrator, will meet the local leaders today and teach them the new work for the next meeting. The last work was novelty set-in pockets, and those interested met at the home of Mrs. Ruth Kempkes yesterday afternoon. Any who care to come are welcome to join the class in charge of Mrs. Kempkes. Instead of all meeting for instruction from Miss Pozzi, the new plan provides for group meetings under leaders previously taught by Miss Pozzi who holds a meeting once a month. The leaders then take her instructions to their group who find the work interesting and profitable. The leaders want everyone interested to feel free to attend. The next meeting will be announced later.

It Costs So Little to Give a Gift Worth While

So many demands are made on the bank account at this season of the year that one is inclined to think more of what one pays than of what one receives.

Sets there are that can be picked up for "less than cost", sets of doubtful origin, sets that perform today but may not perform tomorrow. But what wisdom is there in such a purchase when one may have a new model, one dial, trouble proof Radiola or Atwater Kent, the best that money can buy, for a small payment down.

Call in and see us before the rush begins. We have a selection of both Radiolas and Atwater Kents in popular models. Also a complete stock of radio accessories.

herst, on "Men and the Church," which was of general interest. He introduced the subject by stating that figures showed a growing interest in the church. In 1800 there was only one church member to 14 of the population; in 1880 the ratio was 1 to 5; in 1900 there was was one to every 4.25, while today one out of every three is a church member.

Not only are the numbers greater, but Mr. Hawley brought out the fact that it is hard to name a nationally known business organization, some of whose chief promoters are not engaged in specific Christian enterprises. He mentioned among others the names of Rosenwald of Sears, Roebuck and Company, Huyler of the Huyler Chocolate Company, Cluett of Cluett Company, and the late John Wanamaker, stating in connection with each the work in which they engaged.

Mr. Hawley passed on the statement made by the noted statistician, Roger Babson, to the effect that all the prominent business men he had known were children of praying fathers or mothers, or both.

The speaker also brought forward the fact that of 40 leading scientists questioned as to the matter, 14 out of 15 stated that they believed in religion and that science did not conflict with it.

Mr. Hawley went on to say that 23 out of 30 presidents had been church men and that the last 12 had been members of the Christian church.

In view of these facts, the speaker said that there is mighty little excuse for "us little fellows not to follow in their train."

Mr. Hawley developed the fact that freedom and liberty are directly traceable to the Christian church, and that there is a debt of allegiance we owe her for it. He said the church was the mother of our town meeting, of our educational institutions, hospitals and institutions of mercy, the Scout movement, the Y. M. C. A., etc., and its spirit called into being such organizations as the Near East Relief.

Mr. Hawley pleaded for a vital connection with the church. He told of the broken-off apple branch that bore apples the first year, but it was dead the next. He said that there are families who have torn themselves away from the tree of the church and while the effect is not noticeable now, wait until the next generation and their barrenness will be apparent.

Mr. Hawley concluded by telling of the benefits of having a men's organization and told of some things it might do. He believed that such an organization fostered fellowship and might stand for something positive. He believes in the forum idea, stating that much that is worth while comes out of the sifting process.

Following the address a social hour was enjoyed.

New and larger motors will be installed and new machinery will be put in throughout. The motors and machinery that passed through the fire are being returned to the factory for whatever salvage is possible, but no attempt will be made to use them here.

The new building is going to boast of a hard pine floor. The material to be used passed through the fire but was only damaged by smoke. It is hoped that the first of the year will find the new mill about ready to function.

Observe Armistice Day

Armistice day was at least remembered in town by several former service men. Wreaths were placed at the Soldiers' monument on the common on the 11th, in remembrance of John W. Jackson, Jr., Chauncey D. Walker and George Hannum, by Melvin Ayers, Lincoln Cook and Raymond King, while Edward Parent placed a wreath at the memorial tablet in memory of the unknown soldier. Raymond Warner of the Chelsea Navy hospital, sounded taps. Mr. Parent was in charge of the ceremonies.

Plans are under way to re-organize the local American Legion Post, and cards will be sent out announcing the next meeting. It is hoped that all ex-service men will be interested.

Hampshire County has organized for the sale of Christmas seals as an aid to the anti-tuberculosis fight. Mrs. Louise Sherman has been chosen local chairman. Following the custom of previous years the Health Seals will be sent out through the mails. Children are not authorized to sell the Health Seals, which are so well known that they need only the double-barred cross to identify their source and purpose.

Tuberculosis in the Commonwealth in 1927 was the cause of 2,729 deaths. This is a marked reduction over the mortality of twenty years ago, but it still remains a formidable figure.

By agreement with the American Red Cross, the period from Nov. 11 to Thanksgiving Day is given over to the roll call. Beginning with Thanksgiving Day and from then until Christmas throughout the country the tuberculosis workers are engaged in the work of the Annual Seal Sale. It is estimated that over the country there are 200,000 volunteer workers who participate in this annual effort to secure funds for tuberculosis work for the following year.

Dies in Norwich, Ct.

Word was received here Thanksgiving morning of the death of Priscilla Rowland, 12, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Rowland of Norwich, Ct., after a short illness. Priscilla attended Sunday School last Sunday but was taken sick Monday. She was operated on for appendicitis Tuesday morning and died Wednesday.

Priscilla was the youngest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Rowland, who made their home at the State school, where Dr. Rowland was senior associate physician for three years, leaving two years ago for a similar position at the hospital for the insane at Norwich, Ct.

Priscilla was born June 28, 1916, and immediately following her 10th birthday became a member of the Girl Scout troop, having completed her tenderfoot work and most of her second-class work before attaining the minimum age for Scout membership. She was elected a patrol leader that fall, but soon after moved to Norwich. She retained her membership in the local troop, renewing it each year. She attended the grade schools where she made many friends. She was also beloved at the Congregational church which she attended. She was a child of unusual promise, having entered the Norwich High school this fall.

She leaves besides her parents, two sisters, Joan and Barbara, and a brother, Edward G. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon with burial at Norwich.

Thanksgiving Dance

The Thanksgiving dance at Memorial hall Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Junior class of the High school was well attended, the event attracting a number of graduates who are away at school. The hall was colorful with its decorations of orange and yellow crepe paper streamers, while on the stage was a golden "horn of plenty" overflowing with fruits and vegetables. Corn stalks and baskets of fruit also added to the decorations which were in charge of Miss Jane Shumway. Ice cream and punch were on sale during the evening, which with the checking of coats at the selectmen's room brought the net proceeds to a good amount. Goodnow's orchestra of Orange furnished music. Miss Louise R. Hawley is the class teacher and to her is credited much of the success of the undertaking.

Poultry Clinic at Grange Hall

An interested group of poultrymen and women attended the poultry clinic sponsored by Ryther & Warren at Grange hall Monday evening. Mr. West, who is connected with the Barker, Moore & Main company, was introduced by H. L. Ryther and easily held the attention of his audience for an hour and a half or two hours.

Preceding his "posting" of two birds brought in by local men, Mr. West spoke of four essentials in the poultry business, viz: ventilation, sanitation, good feed and good birds. He laid especial stress on the first, declaring that many poultry ills result from the lack of it. He favored the shed type roof and said that ventilation should always be provided for at the highest point in any building. Air should be admitted in volume and not as a draft, he said. He said that air affects the fowl's liver and went on to state that the heart of that animal beats 300 times per minute, the fastest of any animal. Instead of allowing a certain number of chicks to a certain amount of floor space, he maintained that the number of cubic feet of air should be the determining factor. A poultry house which he particularly fancied was one 26 feet deep, six feet high at the rear and ten feet in front. He had no use for cello-glass, stating that white feed sacks were much better.

Next to ventilation, Mr. West put sanitation and stated that contamination outside a chicken house is more liable than inside. He spoke of the coccidiosis germs that survive almost anything and said that whereas lime alone would not kill them, lime and disinfectant would. He also spoke of the danger from barnyard seepage.

Regarding good feed, he said that

Belief in Man

When we think of the great beliefs of the world, our minds turn to some great creed like the Apostles' creed. Instantly everyone of us would say that the greatest of all beliefs was a belief in God and in Jesus Christ, His Son. All the great creeds start with a statement of such belief.

Belief in man does not find a conspicuous place at all in any of the great creeds. If I were writing a creed I would want one article to be, "I believe in man," and I would wish it to occupy an important position. It may be true that what we believe about man depends upon our belief about God. It is also true that our idea of God is dependent upon our idea of man.

Our attitude towards many of the greatest problems before the world today depends upon our idea of man. Take democracy. Do we have faith in democracy, a government by the people? It all depends upon our thought of man, whether he is good enough and wise enough to run a government successfully.

One of the greatest problems our nation faces is the problem of race. Our attitude toward the races depends upon our conception of man. It makes a deal of difference whether we think of a race as inferior or backward. If we think of one race as inferior, we increase race prejudice. If we think of a race as backward, we probably will be brotherly.

War is one of our greatest problems. Our attitude toward war depends upon our attitude toward man. If we think of man as a fighting animal, grasping, selfish, inhuman, we will not banish war. If we think of man as brotherly and unselfish, we will conclude war is unnecessary. It is well to consider what our belief is about man.

It Costs So Little to Give a Gift Worth While

So many demands are made on the bank account at this season of the year that one is inclined to think more of what one pays than of what one receives.

Sets there are that can be picked up for "less than cost", sets of doubtful origin, sets that perform today but may not perform tomorrow. But what wisdom is there in such a purchase when one may have a new model, one dial, trouble proof Radiola or Atwater Kent, the best that money can buy, for a small payment down.

Call in and see us before the rush begins. We have a selection of both Radiolas and Atwater Kents in popular models. Also a complete stock of radio accessories.

mouldy feed does much damage and that oat hull fibre is objectionable. He especially warned against feeds too high in protein being fed to birds that have coccidiosis. In fact, he said that while some flocks can get away with rich feed, it taxes the system of those less strong and is liable to make them go wrong.

Lastly Mr. West stressed good birds. He said they can't be bought for eight or ten cents, as probably many of his hearers knew. He gave simple directions for determining healthy adult fowls and said that some of the finger tests for selecting good producers had gone by the board. He said the best method of culling is to take out the birds that go to roost first at night and get off the latest in the morning. Culling, he said, can't satisfactorily be done all at one time.

Mr. West's knowledge of a bird's digestive organs was apparent when he posted the two birds brought in. He explained to a nicety the functions of the various organs and showed what results disease had brought about.

At the close the speaker alluded to some of the remedies put out by his concern, referring especially to treatment for coccidiosis conditions and worms. He said that tobacco dust would expel worms but not kill them. In all cases he did not boast complete eradication of disease, but maintained that losses could be greatly minimized.

This feature of the program was not stressed, however, and no samples were passed out or sales attempted.

Throughout the course of the speaker's remarks and the examination of the fowls, the group asked many questions, showing a good deal of interest in this type of clinic.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

It pays to advertise. Just broadcast it that you like chestnuts and bemoan their passing, and lo, from across the ocean, from Italy's sunny clime, the very nuts you wanted are dropped into your lap.

And talk about your good old days! The chestnuts of your youth however fine cannot compare in size with these husky specimens from abroad.

And so the good old days may be past, but better days are here, and "the best is yet to be."

Grange Notes

There was a large attendance at Pomona grange yesterday, about 100 partaking of the excellent dinner served in the chapel at noon. The address of welcome was given by Charles H. Sanford, Mrs. Allyn of Easthampton responding. The address was by Rev. C. H. Smith of Granby who spoke on "By-Products of the Grange." A discussion followed in which M. A. Morse, Mrs. Johnson of Hadley and Mrs. Clary of Williamsburg participated.

Union Grange held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening. Officers of the grange gave interesting items from the National Grange Monthly, while Mrs. Jason W. Hurlburt told of a recent trip to Washington, D. C. It was voted to hold a public dance in the hall at a date to be mentioned later, and the following committee was appointed to be in charge: J. Howell Cook, Charles Sanford and Howard Snow. The master, Wilfrid Noel, reported a profit of $8.25 from the last card party. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 18, and the program will be in charge of the Graces.

There were nine tables at play at the military whist party held in Grange hall last Friday night. The affair, which had been previously announced to take place earlier in the week was later postponed to the latter night. First prizes were given to Mr. and Mrs. Jason W. Hurl-

Announcement

Almost continuously for more than fifty years the voters of Belchertown have elected me to one or more official positions within the gift of the people. For this manifestation of confidence I wish to tender sincere thanks to Republicans and Democrats alike. Before the end of this month I will have passed my eighty-third birthday, and because of deafness and other physical disabilities, I feel that a younger person can render better service to the town than I.

Therefore I take this occasion to announce that at the expiration of my present term of office I will not be a candidate for re-election.

Geo. H. B. Green
Town Clerk

Belchertown, Dec. 4, 1928

Basketball Season to Open

By Noel

Local basket ball supporters who have been waiting for the indoor game to open, will, no doubt, be pleased to hear that the High school will be represented on the court this season. Coach Foster is now busy drilling the candidates for the team and, at the end of the week, will probably know who will see action in the opening clash, which will take place in the old town hall next Monday night with Warren High as the opponents.

The candidates are working hard to be retained as regulars on the team and Coach Foster is in hopes of turning out a fast quintet. The schedule for the winter is practically completed and will be announced later.

The main game will be preceded by a preliminary between the B. H. S. girls' team and the Warren High girls' team, which is scheduled to get under way at 8.

The Belchertown bowling team will resume its schedule, after a week's lay-off. Capt. J. J. Fairchild and his mates are eager to topple the pins. The Wonders will furnish the opposition tonight.

Annual Meeting and Roll Call

Good fellowship ran high at the annual meeting and roll call of the Congregational church, Wednesday evening. The tables, arranged in folksy fashion, in both the dining room and chapel auditorium, provided just the right seating capacity for the large attendance, estimated at 150. Aside from the glow of friendly feeling, there was the glow from candles at the several tables. A meat pie supper, replete with ice cream and cake, was served by a committee headed by the wives of the trustees, Mrs. G. E. Scott being chairman. Trustees and their wives assisted by others, were hosts and hostesses at the different tables.

Following the repast, the warrant was read by the clerk, Miss Marion E. Bartlett, whereupon Thomas Allen was chosen moderator. Prayer was offered by the pastor, Rev. F. C. Rolls.

Reports of officers were then received. The clerk's report showed that there have been during the past year 20 accessions, 12 on confession and eight by letter, one dismissal, seven baptisms, three deaths. The present membership is 193.

The treasurer reported all bills paid and the treasury in a healthy condition.

C. F. Aspengren reported for the trustees, stating that money in hand for the redecoration is sufficient to warrant a start along this line. However, he said that reshingling needs to be attended to first, whereupon G. E. Scott of the investigating committee of the trustees was called upon to report upon the type of shingle recommended and their cost.

Rev. F. C. Rolls, the pastor, in his report added his word of hope and expectation that the church would be no announced candidacies.

With the laying down of this office, Mr. Green rounds out a career in public life that the townspeople do well to honor. When for over half a century a man receives the good will and the ballots of his fellow townsmen, the record challenges attention.

Mr. Green first responded to the call of the people of the town in 1876 when they elected him to the school committee, a position which he held for 33 years. About 1884 he was elected assessor, holding the office for eight years, when he resigned to take up the larger responsibility of representing this district in the state legislature. He served in the House for one year and in the Senate two years.

Also Mr. Green rendered a major service to the town in the capacity of moderator. Some time ago he went over the records and found that he had presided at exactly 50 town meetings.

He was elected in 1921 to the office of town clerk, which he has held continuously.

In addition to filling these distinctly elective town offices, Mr. Green has served the townspeople in various other public ways. His teaching 14 winter terms, 7 in this town and 7 in Ludlow, undoubtedly paved the way for larger responsibility. He was secretary of the Belchertown Farmers' and Mechanics' Club for 25 years and clerk of the Belchertown Creamery Association during most of its existence. He was also treasurer of the Methodist church and of the Federated church for a time.

While Mr. Green has had much to do with civic affairs, he is not one of those who believe the former days were better than these. He is relinquishing office with full confidence that others will carry on in just as acceptable fashion. Perhaps his confidence is greater than that of those who deign to take up his tasks. At any rate the record is such that further words of commendation are unnecessary.

burt. Herbert F. Curtis and Charles Austin, who were high scorers with 89 points. Consolation prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Shumway and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hubbard. Refreshments were served and dancing followed. The committee in charge was Mrs. Wilfrid Noel, Priscilla Bisnette and John Pranaitis.

STATE GRANGE MEETING

The fifty-sixth annual session of the Mass. State Grange will take place in the Municipal Auditorium, Springfield, on Dec. 11, 12 and 13. The sixth degree will be conferred on a class of candidates at the evening session on Wednesday, and it is hoped that local grangers will take advantage of this fine opportunity to become members of the state grange. An address by His Excellency, Alvan T. Fuller, governor of Massachusetts, will follow the conferring of the degree.

Other speakers during the session will be Roscoe W. Thatcher, president of M. A. C. and Rev. George B. Gilbert of Middletown, Conn. The well known Weber quartette will furnish music as occasion permits.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Jackson returned Saturday from Meriden, Ct., where they were Thanksgiving guests in the newly built home of their son, Harry P. Jackson. Mr. and Mrs. James Peck were also present for the "opening".

Miss Sylvia Randall of Granby has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Randall.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Bond and son, David, of Buffalo, N. Y., were holiday and week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bond. Miss Helen Bond of Newton, who has been visiting her grandparents for two weeks, returned Tuesday.

The special meeting of Mt. Vernon Chapter, O. E. S., planned for Dec. 12, has been called off, the work which was to have been done at this meeting having been put over till the regular meeting Jan. 2.

J. Howell Cook, fire chief, was summoned to a chimney fire at L. G. Cressman's on Blue Meadow road at about six Wednesday night. No damage was done.

The Hampshire County Extension Service's second sewing class will be held with Mrs. J. J. Kempkes next Tuesday. An afternoon meeting will be held at 2 and the evening meeting at 7.

It Costs So Little to Give a Gift Worth While

So many demands are made on the bank account at this season of the year that one is inclined to think more of what one pays than of what one receives.

Sets there are that can be picked up for "less than cost", sets of doubtful origin, sets that perform today but may not perform tomorrow. But what wisdom is there in such a purchase when one may have a new model, one dial, trouble proof Radiola or Atwater Kent, the best that money can buy, for a small payment down.

Call in and see us before the rush begins. We have a selection of both Radiolas and Atwater Kents in popular models. Also a complete stock of radio accessories.

heartily carry out the above program during the present year. The pastor very happily alluded to the new "baby" of the church, the men's club, which has started off vigorously.

Miss Dorothy Blackmer, secretary and treasurer of the Sunday school, reported an average attendance of 72 and gifts to benevolent enterprises.

The report of the primary department was given by Mrs. F. C. Rolls who gave the enrollment as 31 with an average attendance of 18.

Mrs. Hattie Taylor read the Home Department report. Three socials were held with an average attendance of 16, a public supper was given, the proceeds of which went to buy 30 chairs for the chapel dining room, and an annual dinner given June 25. Thirty-nine are enrolled.

The report of the Cradle Roll superintendent, Mrs. J. Howell Cook, showed an enrollment of 14, six having been added during the year.

Mrs. Thos. Allen reported for the Social Guild, of which she is secretary and treasurer. Ten regular sewing meetings have been held, besides two special ones. A Fair day dinner was served to 250 people, an Old Folks concert was given here, also in Granby and Ludlow, and a play by 14 ladies. Social functions included a Valentine party, a lawn party and a silver tea. Thirty-nine members are enrolled. Funds are in hand to go towards the redecoration of the church.

Miss Jane Shumway gave the secretary's report of the Christian Endeavor society, which has had an average attendance of 15. Four socials have been held, also a lawn party and other functions. Additional song books have been purchased.

The treasurer's report of the C. E. society was given by Miss Dorothy Blackmer.

The nominating committee, J. D. Shuttleworth chairman, brought in its nominations for the ensuing year at this point. Then followed the election, the officers chosen being given below.

"In Memoriam", compiled and read by Mrs. Leila Curtis, recorded the passing of Mrs. Sarah Eliza Sanford, Fred D. Walker, and Rev. D. L. Hilliard, who died in the service of the local church. In conclusion, Mrs. Curtis presented to the chairman of the trustees on behalf of Mrs. Hilliard, a framed picture of her late husband. It was announced that this was purchased with the gold piece presented to Mr. Hilliard as a Christmas gift last year.

When the roll was called, 133 responded to their names either in person or by letter. Out of town members also responded generously with checks toward reshingling the church. An offering was taken at the close of the meeting to augment these funds. The meeting closed with high expectations for the future.

B. H. S. Quintet Wins

By Noel

The B. H. S. basketball team won its opening game of the season last Monday night by defeating the Warren High school five on the town hall floor by the close score of 14 to 11. Coach Foster's charges displayed a fine brand of basketball in this first encounter and their supporters are looking forward to a successful season. The game was interesting from start to finish, and the defense of both teams was greatly responsible for the low score, each team scoring four goals from the floor.

As nice a game as I've seen this fall
Was rolled last week at Red Men's hall,
When Capt. "Jack" and his bowling crew
Took two points and the pinfall, too.
They showed the "Wonders" in every frame
That "pins" can drop as fast as rain.
Ernie Orcutt had the highest score,
With easy "spares" and "strikes" galore;
And close behind him in the fun
Was Sears, Green, Fairchild and son.

Board of Trade Meeting

The way the members of the Board of Trade entered into the discussion Monday night at their quarterly meeting, one would have thought that each one had been marooned on a Robinson Crusoe island for the past three months. One thing is sure—if the will to do is as persistent as was the will to talk, the community Christmas tree will be up before night and the skating rink will be running full tilt the 4th of next July. The meeting started at about 8 with a sort of grand offensive, but soon developed into a man-to-man combat of words. When the firing sort of let up a bit, an early comer or two would leave in weariness, but their places were taken by late arrivals, who charged the meeting afresh. Some who left early returned after due recuperation. The meeting finally petered out, but it was 11.30 when the last ones left the door and later than that when the last sidewalk "confab" ceased.

New subjects were considered and old ones revitalized. The community Christmas tree was a foregone conclusion. The committee appointed were Roy G. Shaw, J. Howell Cook, H. E. Sessions and E. A. Fuller.

A gravel barrier that wouldn't blow over the ice and a non-leaking catch basin were the worst bug-bears in connection with the skating rink. The committee which functioned so persistently last season was reappointed: H. C. Knight, J. C. Bothwell, J. L. Collard, Henry R. Gould, M. C. Baggs and J. J. Kempkes.

The need of a new location for a public dump was noted. It was thought that some arrangement might be made with Thomas Austin for such facilities.

The meeting warmed up over the matter of the old town hall. It was generally conceded that the property is running down and that supervision is sadly needed. Some thought the town should vote to put the property in shape and turn all supervisory authority over to the school committee. Some suggested that the hall is admirably suited to putting in shape for community and recreational activities and that some sort of town-school co-operative scheme could be devised. The following committee were appointed to bring in some workable plan for the building and report at a special Board of Trade meeting to be held previous to the annual town meeting: H. B. Ketchen, G. E. Scott, H. F. Peck, H. C. Knight and W. E. Shaw.

The idea which has been brewing in town for some time, that engine house hall be turned into a tenement for the occupancy of the assistant fire chief or some member of the department, was viewed in a favorable light. It was pointed out that this is the way the situation is handled in Amherst and the opinion was that

Mr. Blackmer
Belchertown, Mass.
Dear Sir:

Please allow me a small space in your paper to thank all my friends for the many pleasant words of cheer and wishes for a pleasant trip south.

I left New York Saturday, Dec. 1, at 2 p. m. From start to finish it was the best trip of the three I have made—on a Clyde line steamer, the Cherokee: perfect weather and smooth sailing all the way, arriving in Jacksonville at 9 a. m., Tuesday. At 9.30 was on the train for the last leg of my journey. Arrived at Kissimee at 1.52 p. m. and found L. W. Lincoln and Mrs. B. G. Mann waiting for me.

It was only 80 degrees in the shade and today we have all doors and windows open. Tell anyone you know coming south to come by the Clyde line instead of by rail. Fine boats, best of food and service.

Sincerely yours

valuable moments would be saved in case of fire. To find out the approximate cost of putting the quarters in suitable shape, the following committee was appointed: J. C. Bothwell, L. G. Warren, J. J. Kempkes, M. C. Baggs, H. E. Sessions.

The meeting waxed warm over the matter of snow removal. It was pointed out that the town has no equipment for such use, neither has it any motorized machinery to put on the roads in summer. It was stated that in only one other town in this district does this condition prevail. It seems that state engineers are favorable at the present time to one-man graders. These can be used to push plows in winter or smooth roads in summer. As under gereral road work, Chapter 81, the state allows $12 a day for such a machine, it was felt that it would pay for itself in two years and that if purchased under the deferred payment plan, no money need actually be raised. Used in connection with work under chapter 81, the state would bear a large proportion of the expense. The cost would be between $2,500 and $3,500. Some thought it should be bought outright and interest charges saved.

In connection with snow removal it was pointed out that the state pays the full cost of opening the Holyoke road and one-half of the expense of the Amherst and Enfield roads. Other main roads of the town are mostly termed country roads.

There was some last-minute discussion as to the wisdom of completing the Turkey Hill road next year. It was estimated by E. F. Shumway, who has had charge of previous work on this road, that the cost for this last stretch would be $17,000 or $18,000. As a recent ruling of the state is that jobs over $10,000 must be contracted, it was thought that the town might save money by doing only part in 1929. Mr. Shumway, it seems, has charged nothing above his day's pay for supervision.

In this connection it was stated that the state authorities plan to straighten the Holyoke road next season, so local work would have to be begun early else it would be inconvenient to get the trap rock.

As before stated, the Board refused to let some of its previous projects die. Committees having in charge improved mail service, a second beacon light, and cheaper street lighting rates were asked to see these things through.

As several matters have to do with the coming town meeting, the Board meeting was adjourned to the call of the president, E. A. Fuller.

pened the scoring with a floor basket and with this small lead to their advantage, the home boys managed to keep in front during the remainder of the game. At half time the local team was leading 11 to 9.

Dorey and Rhodes featured for the home team, the former scoring 10 points on two field goals and six free tries, while the latter played a wonderful game in the back court. Wood and Whittle excelled for the losers.

In the preliminary game the Warren High school girls' team defeated the local High school maidens by a score of 16 to 11.

The B. H. S. Five will play its second game at the town hall tonight with the Western Union quintet of Springfield furnishing the opposition. Coach Foster has reduced his squad to ten players and, no doubt, those who took part in Monday's game will be retained as regulars for the remainder of the season.

The first game was witnessed by a large crowd and it is expected that local rooters will again turn out in large numbers tonight.

Town Items

The men of the Congregational church expect to put on the pageant, "At the Door of the Inn", a week from Sunday night at the church. There are over 25 people in the cast. The production is in pantomime.

Vernon Lodge will hold its installation next Tuesday evening at 8. Edwin L. Davis will be the installing officer. Mt. Vernon chapter, O. E. S., will serve supper at 6.30. Masons and their families and members of the Eastern Star and their families are invited.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans will hold a food sale next Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 4 at L. W. Ayers's store.

Robert Chamberlain, formerly employed by R. O. Baggs, has a similar position with The Durant Co. of Granby.

The supper of the "Food, Faith and Friendship" program at the M. E. church last week Friday evening was in charge of the girls of Mrs. French's Sunday school class and was attended as usual not only by adherents of the local church but by the community at large as well. Following the usual "sing" and devotional meeting the girls put on several "stunts", and then the young people played games until they had to be sent home, in spite of their pleas for "just five minutes more".

C. H. Sanford was injured Tuesday morning when he was thrown back onto a circular saw as he was starting the engine. Rib bones were bared and stitches were necessary to close the gash. Dr. Collard attended him.

A number of the Girl Scout council members attended the Western Division meeting at Springfield on Monday.

D. F. Shumway, who returned to Wing Memorial hospital this week, is expected home tomorrow.

Mrs. Rufus Pierce of Federal St., who has been in a critical condition, is somewhat improved.

Mrs. Walter Wadsworth of Maple street returned home Sunday after a stay of two weeks at the Holyoke City hospital where she underwent an operation.

The fire department was called to several chimney fires this week, one at Dwight Station on Sunday, another at A. R. Ketchen's on Monday, and a third at Eugene Flaherty's on Wednesday. No damage resulted from any of the fires although the latter two were "hot ones".

Mrs. Kittie P. Spellman left town Tuesday to visit her son, Clark P. Spellman of El Paso, Texas. She will also visit other relatives in the west.

Miss Marian Bardwell spent the week-end in Springfield.

Attention is again called to the bean and salad supper at the Methodist church tonight. The entertainment following in charge of Mrs. H. H. Witt, will consist of a play, "They Say," by five ladies. Aprons and fancy work will be on sale.

It is expected that the Epworth League will arrange for carol singing on Christmas eve.

The Christmas entertainment of B. H. S. will be held Wednesday evening at Memorial hall. Outside of parents and members of the school, admission will be by ticket, which graduates and former members can procure from the faculty.

Lincoln Cook has re-opened his meat market on North Main Street. He opened this department yesterday.

B. H. S. Wins and Loses

By Noel

The B. H. S. basket ball team broke even in the two games played within the past week. Last Friday night the local team took the Western Union five of Springfield into camp by a score of 27 to 19, while the Warren High quintet turned the tables on the B. H. S. hoopsters in a return game played on the Warren town hall floor Tuesday night by a 29-14 score. Rivalry between the Belchertown - Warren high school teams has thus ended in a tie, each quintet winning on its own floor.

The game with Western Union was really an easy victory for the home team and not much can be said of the playing of the visitors. Mistakes can be excused, but it appears as though the losing quintet was rather a pick-up team, for they did not show a bit of teamwork during the contest. The home boys easily outplayed their opponents and had the game well in hand from start to finish. Al Menard and McLean, the local forwards, had a great night, scoring 25 points between them. Gollenbusch played a fine game at center, while Rhodes and Barry performed well in the back court. Walsh and Roys played best for the losers.

In the Warren game, the local team did not play as well as in its first two contests, perhaps due to the slippery floor, but, nevertheless, the B. H. S. quintet certainly made a good showing in its first out-of-town game of the seasn. The winners played fine basket ball, their teamwork being still better than when they appeared here recently. Whittle, the diminutive Warren forward, featured with seven baskets from the floor, while Wood played a hard game at the pivotal position. Capt. Dorey excelled for B. H. S. and was high scorer with seven points on two floor goals and three free tries, although Barry worked hard on the defense, breaking up many of the winner's formations.

The B. H. S. girls' team furnished the opposition for the Warren High maids in the preliminary and suffered their second straight set-

The Supreme Word

The Christmas narratives of the First and Third Gospels have delighted many, many people for generations and have been accepted by many devout minds as veritable history. The Fourth Gospel connects no wonder with the birth of Jesus. The manifestation of God to the world does not begin with a babe in a manger but as a thought, a word in the mind of God. "In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God." These are words seemingly as full of mystery as the narratives of the other Gospels are of marvel; and various interpretations of their meaning have been attempted. Some have sought to explain them in terms of philosophy and others in terms of theology. It seems evident that they should not be taken literally. Figurative terms are not confined in the Bible to poetic books like the Psalms where they abound. In the Gospels Jesus is "The Lamb of God", "The Vine", and in this beginning of the Fourth Gospel he is "The Word", and although we may not understand the full significance of this figure of speech, we can get some of its rich meaning.

A word is a medium for the communication of thought or sentiment or purpose from one mind to another mind. It may reveal not only the mind of one person to others but the character of a person. There have been various ways by which God has been made known to the world. Prophets and holy men have used tongue and pen. Though there is no speech nor language,

"The heavens declare the glory of God."

But the most luminous declaration of Him came not from a spoken or written word, but from the life of the wonderful person John says was The Word "made flesh". "The excellency of this Word," said an English reformer of the sixteenth century, "is so great and of so high dignity that there is no earthly thing to be compared unto it."

At the Christmas season we more frequently read the New Testament narratives about the star and the shepherds and the wise men. Turn also to the introductory verses of the Fourth Gospel and see if the writer's figurative language is not plain; read on through the book and its pages will unfold to you

"The sweetest story ever told."

B. H. S. Christmas Party

Seats and dancing space were both at a premium at the High school Christmas party Wednesday evening. The program consisted of a play entitled, "Red and the Christmas Whoppers". Red certainly told lies of all colors, much to the chagrin of the household, but there was equal consternation when he started in telling the truth about remarks made by his forbears before the Christmas guests arrived. The spoiled little city girl told about the biggest whopper of anybody and the play closed with Aunt Susan administering a good, old-fashioned spanking.

Christmas presents were then taken from the tree, following which the floor was cleared for dancing. Hamilton's four-piece orchestra officiated.

L. S. U. Supper and Play

The Ladies' Social Union public supper that was postponed several times for one reason or another, finally materialized last Friday night. Some 60 or 70 partook of the sumptuous repast, in which beans and salads featured.

Nearly everyone made it a point to remain for the play, "They Say," put on by five ladies. It was a caution what the players saw out of that north vestry window. Lights in certain houses proved conclusively that awful events were transpiring, but of course at the end there was an explanation.

Following is the cast of characters:

Mrs. Bascom, with a keen imagination Mrs. Conkey
Mrs. Sneitzlar, a meek little woman trying to keep up with the Romans Mrs. Kempkes

Mrs. Chamberlain
Mrs. Henley, born a plain woman and will die a plain woman
Mrs. Witt
Blanche, a neighbor's daughter
Mrs. Sanford
Time Just before 8 p. m.
Scene Mrs. Henley's kitchen

The play, replete with local hits, surely gave the newly constructed vestry platform a real christening.

Betwixt events, the ladies present were attracted to the utility and fancy work table, where fancy articles were fondly handled and fitted into the Christmas list.

The supper committee was Mrs. R. A. French, Mrs. C. E. Booth, Mrs. R. E. Chamberlain and Mrs. George Kelley.

M. E. Church Notes

Christmas is the Christian's own festival and yet no day of the year has been more thoroughly robbed of its sacred associations by the commercialization of our age. Sunday, December 23, will be devoted at the Methodist church to a celebration of the real Christmas. At the morning worship service the pastor will preach a Christmas sermon on the subject, "What Have We Got?" Worshippers and choir will join in the singing of Christmas carols.

The League will have charge of the evening service at 7. It is putting on a pageant symbolic in a very simple way of the Christmas spirit. Special lighting effects are to be used. After the pageant a candle-light consecration service for new League members will be held. The League invites the general community to be its guest Sunday evening. Those taking part in the pageant are as follows:

Mary Madeline Lemon
1st Angel Alberta Grindle
2nd Angel Lillian Upham
Leader Alfred Putnam
Shepherd George Booth
A Wise Man Howard Snow

The Leaguers and Christian Endeaverors will sing carols Monday evening and would like to know of all shut-ins and invalids that they may call and sing to them. If the names of such people are handed to George Booth or the pastor, the young people will be greatly helped in spreading their message of Christmas cheer. All interested in rendering this service are asked to meet at the vestry at 7.30. Transportation will be furnished.

Friday evening, December 21, the usual Food, Faith and Friendship Night will be held in the church vestry. The Ladies Sunday School class is in charge of the supper. Mrs. Putnam will furnish the games and stunts. All welcome.

A Christmas party for the children of the Methodist church was held at the vestry Wednesday afternoon. About thirty were present. Games were played and refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and cocoa were served. There was a Christmas tree but no program was attempted due to the prevalence of measles. The committee in charge was Mrs. Anna Witt, Mrs. R. A. French and Mrs. R. E. Chamberlain.

The Congregational Sunday school will hold its Christmas tree and exercises for the whole church family at the chapel at 7 tonight. Santa Claus has promised to be present. Refreshments will be served by the ladies class of the Sunday school. A rehearsal for the pageant Sunday night willl be held after the exercises.

Much interest is being shown in the rehearsals for the pageant Sunday night which is being put on by the men's class of the Sunday school. There are about 25 in the cast of characters. The pageant bids fair to be an impressive presentation of the Christmas story.

The installation of officers of Vernon lodge of Masons was held Tuesday night at Masonic hall, the installing officer being Edwin L. Davis of Chicopee Falls, assisted by Frank Beardsell as marshal. Supper was served at 6.30 by Mt. Vernon chapter, O. E. S., in the dining hall to about 125.

Mrs. A. R. Ketchen has gone to Florida to spend the winter. She is now at Ocall, Orange county.

Mrs. Arthur Ward of Dayton, O., was the guest last week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Ward.

Henry Foster of the B. H. S. faculty will spend the holidays at his home in Belmont.

St. Francis church will hold high mass at midnight Christmas eve and there will also be mass at 9.30 Christmas morning.

The Girl Scouts enjoyed a Christmas tree at their meeting Wednesday afternoon with gifts for each Scout from the captain and lieutenant, Mrs. G. E. McPherson and Mrs. F. E. Farrington, accompanied by bits of appropriate verse. A social hour with refreshments followed.

The B. H. S. five will enjoy a rest during the holidays. Then, according to schedule, they will get into harness again and play three games within a week.

Gollenbusch, who is playing such a fine game at center, has solved a problem which confronted Coach Foster for some time. The mentor had a hard position to fill, which was left vacant by Paige Piper, who graduated last June. "Gollie" is only a freshman and this is his first year at the hoop game.

McLean is manager of this season's quintet and has arranged a fine schedule.

Malcolm Dorey has been elected captain of the team and is, at present, the highest scorer with 17 points. An infected finger prevented him from taking part in the B. H. S.—W. U. game.

Williamsburg High will be the attraction at the town hall on Friday, Jan. 4, 1929.

The girls' team, which has yet to register a victory, has plenty of material to form a strong five, the most promising candidates of whom are the Misses Dressel, Hussey, Shuttleworth, Sears and Lemon.

To Organize Basket Ball Team

Edward B. Parent, local sports promoter, announces that he is planning to organize a fast semi-pro basket ball team to represent this town on the court this season. The hoop game has been on the "quiet" here during the last few years and it is hoped to have a great revival of interest for those who like the indoor game, by forming a quintet which will be as strong as any that ever played on the local court. The first practise session will take place in the town hall next Monday night at 7.30 and all those interested are requested to report to Manager Parent at that time.

Holiday Season Activities at State School

Announcements of Holiday Season activities at the State school have recently been issued by the local institution. The booklets are printed in red and green and contain a Christmas message from Gov. Fuller and greetings from the superintendent, Dr. G. E. McPherson, "To the Relatives and Friends of our Boys and Girls". Dr. McPherson says in part:

"For many weeks there have been in the making, many and varied articles which will be given to the children for Christmas gifts. This School will see to it that every child in the institution receives some gift on Christmas Day."

Then follows the week's program:

Sunday Special Sunday services; Catholic Services at 8.30 A. M. Protestant Services at 2.30 P. M.

Monday Special entertainment, "The Christmas Story," a pageant.

Tuesday Visits by Santa Claus. Ward Christmas trees. Distribution of gifts. Christmas dinner.

Thursday Special entertainment. Provided by employees as Christmas gift to the children.

Saturday Special movies.

Monday New Year Costume party and dance.

Bowling Notes

By Noel

The Belchertown bowling team suffered a set-back in its league match with the Nash Five on the Red Men's alleys last week Thursday night by losing two points and the pinfall. George Harrison, who rolled auchor for the winners and who is also a member of the Suffolk's five of Holyoke, was probably the main cause for the local team's defeat by rolling the high total of 316. The result is as follows:

Death of David Warner

David Warner, 59, died last week Friday night at the home of his brother, Arthur E. Warner of Warner St. He was in his usual health in the morning and went to chop wood in his lot, where he suffered a stroke of apoplexy. He was found by his brother and died without recovering consciousness.

He was born in this town, a son of George and Eura (Cushman) Warner. For 29 years he was employed as a machinist in the round house of the Boston & Maine Railroad at Northampton. He returned here nine years ago and had since made his home with his brother. He was a member of Northampton Chapter, Royal Arch Masons and Jerusalem Lodge, A. F. & A. M. of Northampton. He was also a member of the Metacomet Fox, Rod & Gun Club, being on the executive committee, and of the Pautapoag club, which has a camp at Dana. He was often on hand for trap shoots and was a loyal supporter of enterprises sponsored by sportsmen. The trout ponds which were built and maintained, largely through his efforts, on the home premises, bear testimony to the fact that he was a constructive sportsman.

He leaves three brothers, Arthur of this town and Fred and Frank of Worcester. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 2 at the home, Rev. F. C. Rolls, officiating. The bearers were Herbert Peeso, Frank Peeso, Martin Crowe and William Kimball. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Entertainment and Pageant at State School

Christmas day at the State school was preceded the night before by a special Christmas entertainment and pageant, mostly religious in nature. The program opened with selections on the Columbia-Kolster, following which Dr. A. E. Westwell read a Christmas story entitled, "St. Nicholas Discovers America." Then came the pageant of the Bethlehem story, appealingly presented. Costuming and colored lights lent atmosphere to the presentation. There was the announcement to the shepherds, the appearance of the star and the visits of the wise men and shepherds to the manger at Bethlehem.

There was singing by the school and by a special chorus somewhat depleted by reason of the fact that 40 children in one hall were kept in by the measles.

In closing Dr. McPherson made a few happy remarks about Santa Claus and Christmas, during which he announced that the American Legion of Amherst, of which he is a member, had contributed a barrel of candy to the school for the Christmas festivities.

Free Bed at Massachusetts General Hospital

Understanding that a bequest by Mrs. Susan M. D. Bridgman had recently become available to the Massachusetts General hospital, whereby special privileges were made possible to natives of this town, we wrote to the director of the institution, Dr. Frederic A. Washburn, concerning the matter and have received the following reply which will be of interest:

Dear Mr. Blackmer:

In reply to your letter of December 8th, I would say that the hospital has received a gift from Susan M. D. Bridgman of $5,440.00 for a free bed to be known as the Calvin Bridgman Free Bed. The income from this fund would approximate $272.00 a year. The cost per patient per day at the hospital is about six dollars. We would, therefore, have from this gift money to pay for about forty-five days for a suitable patient coming to the Bridgman Free Bed.

The following is an extract from the will:

"And I wish any poor and deserving native born American citizen and whose parents were also native born American citizens and who are inhabitants of the said town of Belchertown and who has not become a permanent charge upon the said town of Belchertown, to have the benefit of the said bed."

Yours very sincerely,
(Signed) F. A. Washburn
Director

Gasoline Licenses

In accordance with a letter received from Henry F. Long, commissioner of corporations and taxation, the selectmen give notice that "all people who sell and store gasoline will be obliged to obtain a license from the board of selectmen on or before January 1, in order to comply with the present laws."

Pageant at Congregational Church

The pageant, "At the Door of the Inn," was presented at the Congregational church Sunday evening under the auspices of the men of the church, and drew a large house.

The inn keeper was H. F. Peck; Bethlehem woman, Helen Shuttleworth; Bethlehem boy, Gould Ketchen; Roman guards, George McPherson, Louis Fuller; first guests, Fred Underwood, Edward Schmidt, Barbara Baggs. The symbolic guests were:

The needy (beggar)	J. V. Cook
Love of Wealth	Guy C. Allen
Attendants	James Collard, Harold Cook
Love of Power	Roy G. Shaw
Love of Peasure	Gertrude Knight
	Maxine Fuller, Edith Atwood

The gay entry of guests, the refusal of hospitality to Joseph and Mary, the unwillingness of the symbolic guests to give place, the timely help of the beggar, the appearance of the Bethlehem star, the entry of the shepherds, the adoration of the wise men and the final admission of Christ's messengers were realistically portrayed. Music by the choir was rendered in synchronism.

The local bowlers meet stiff opposition tonight on the Red Men's alleys when they topple the pins against Arthur Pease's Woodlawn team who are the present League leaders. Several members of the Woodlawns are well known in this town, there being besides Capt. Pease, the Legrand brothers, Phil and Henry. Al Germain and Moffat round up the remainder of the team and some heavy bowling is surely to be seen by the large crowd which is expected to witness the match.

Town Items

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright of Maple St. entertained a large party at dinner Christmas day, including guests from Northampton, Holyoke, Athol and Vermont.

The Stone House will not be opened regularly on Wednesday for the rest of the season.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans will hold its postponed meeting Monday evening.

Four cars of Epworth League members and Christian Endeavorers went to all parts of the town Christmas eve and sang carols at the homes of invalids and shut-ins The party returned about 11 and were served refreshments in the M. E. vestry under the auspices of the League.

A dance will be held in Grange hall Friday evening, January 4. Hamilton's orchestra will officiate.

Lewis Parker, who is employed at Peter Hanifin's, contributed to the Christmas observance in town by making three wreaths for St. Francis church and three wreaths and a string of swinging pine for the Congregational church.

The community Christmas tree was put in place last week by a committee of the Board of Trade and is being lighted each evening during the holiday season.

Edward Parent, who is in hopes of organizing a basket ball team, announces that only a few candidates reported to him Monday night. The promoter has decided to call another practice session next Wednesday night and this will be the last call for those who wish to try out for the team.

Installation of officers will take place at the meeting of Union grange Tuesday evening and will be open to the public. Lawrence H. Beeman, former deputy of the Massachusetts State grange, assisted by Mrs. Beeman, will install. Refreshments will be served under the direction of Mrs. E. F. Shumway and Mrs. Wilfrid Noel.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Alden and son and Mrs. Fred Carr and son, Richard, of Springfield were Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Demarest.

Congregational Christmas Tree

About 150 gathered at the chapel Friday night for the Christmas tree exercises of the Congregational Sunday school. The dining room and audience room were thrown together, with the tree in the center of the dining room. The little folks of the primary department were seated in their small chairs in a circle around the tree, the older pupils back of them and the grownups mostly in the audience room.

After an opening song the pastor, Rev. F. C. Rolls, entertained the children by telling the story of "The Shepherd Who Didn't Go." The children then rendered the following program:

Song, "Holy Night" Junior Dept.
Recitation, "Pa Did It"
James Collard
Song, "Away in a Manger"
Primary and Junior Departments
Recitation, "The Bells of Joy"
Miss Madeline Lincoln
Song, "The Christmas Tree"
Junior Department

During the singing of the last song Santa appeared, to the delight of the small folks and distributed the gifts from the tree.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and cocoa were served by the ladies' class of the Sunday school, Miss Marian E. Bardwell, chairman. The tree was provided by the boys' class while the girls' class did the decorating.

A watch-night service will be held in the M. E. vestry next Monday evening at 8.30.

The Next Town Clerk

Who will be the next town clerk? That is the occasional question asked. In the ordinary run of things little time is given at the caucuses to filling this office, but this year it is liable to be different. But whose names will be submitted to the caucuses? Evidently now is the time for nominations.

There are, if one senses the situation correctly, two schools of opinion in town. One believes in distributing the plums and the other believes in centralizing authority. The latter school points to Amherst as an example, where Thomas Smith has for some years held several town offices, enabling him to give himself unreservedly to town affairs. It is said that if anyone wishes to know about Amherst town business, Mr. Smith has the data at his finger tips. The combined salary of the various offices enables him to do this.

Locally there have been suggestions of combining the town clerk's office with that of treasurer, or with that of town accountant.

Some think that this is one of the jobs that a woman could very well undertake. In this connection some have wished that Mrs. Green might be tendered the position as she is familiar with the work and would have available Mr. Green's able counsel. By so doing, the town would return the courtesy of Mr. Green in retiring from office, an act which many sympathetically appreciate.

W. E. Shaw held the office for a brief period prior to Mr. Green's election and is fully qualified to undertake its duties. Other persons "nominated" for the position whose names have come to our attention are Guy C. Allen, Carl F. Aspengren, Mrs. Louise Sherman and Miss Ella Stebbins. The possibility of an office at Memorial hall has been suggested in connection with the names of those not living around the common.

It is well, in any case, to put the right person in at this time, as it always creates a delicate situation to make a change.

$85 Received

Belchertown people have responded well to the Christmas seal sale. Out of about 180 letters with stamp enclosures sent out, there have been returns of $85. Only about 30 have failed to make return of either stamps or money. In accordance with campaign plans, Mrs. Sherman, local chairman, is now sending out "reminder" cards to those who have overlooked the matter. It is hoped that there will be 100 per cent. response.

The Story of 1928

The year 1928 has gone into history, and as is our custom, we review some of the major happenings in town during that period.

The annual town meeting was a noteworthy occasion. It was at this meeting that the town farm was sold to the state, also the town refused to lease a right of way to the Belchertown Motor Sales, Inc., after a heated controversy. The beacon light, installed on approval, was purchased at this meeting. Money was voted for further work on the Turkey Hill road, $1000 was designated to the Three Rivers road, and it was voted to construct a sidewalk at South Belchertown.

The Board of Trade has held quarterly meetings during the year, bringing to the fore many matters of civic interest. It provided a skating rink during the first months of the year, it cooperated with the Park Association in its rejuvenation, and provided a community Christmas tree during the holiday season.

As far as business is concerned, there have been some changes. L. W. Ayers bought the grocery store of Mrs. May Quinn on North Main Street, Mrs. Melvin Ayers took over the Wayside Inn lunch room and George Kelley sold Holland Glen Pavilion to an Easthampton party. Only recently Roy O. Baggs liquidated his grocery business which he had conducted in the Dillon block. The remainder of the stock was taken over by the Belchertown Motor Sales, Inc., and a new department established in their garage.

L. A. Cook's dwelling and store was gutted by fire May 8. He has since repaired and improved the structure and is again doing business. Ryther & Warren lost their grain mill by fire Sept. 28. Their new building, practically a duplicate of the old, is nearing completion. C. H. Egleston lost his greenhouse by fire Mar. 5, but still got into action for the 1928 season.

The biggest fire of the year occurred May 13, when the Park View hotel, the hostelry known over a wide area, burned to the ground. Other buildings caught fire and were saved only by the hard work of the local fire department and the valued assistance of the Amherst department. The Park View ruins still remain.

Other fires of the year included the loss of the Nelson Barrett house in February, the Frank King place at Dwight in May, a house and two barns at the Lewis Lyons farm at South Belchertown and the Theodore Johnson barn on Federal St. in August.

New construction not noted above include a residence on North Washington St., built by H. Morgan Ryther of Enfield, and a mammoth poultry house by Frank Fuller.

During the last months of the year the Goodell house at Pansy Park was sold to Joseph Tracey, who remodelled it into The Pansy Park Tavern. The town and state school standpipes were repainted this last year with aluminum paint.

The schools have sponsored the usual number of social functions. A May Day program was given on the park and a fashion show was put on the 29th of the same month. On the 25th the annual exhibit of the Junior Extension club was held

Howard - Gay Wedding

Miss Alice Hotchkin Howard, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Howard of State street, and Edward Ernest Gay, son of Selectman Edward E. Gay of Turkey Hill district were married on New Year's Day at Warren by Rev. Walter O. Terry, former pastor of the local M. E. church. Members of the immediate families were present. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gay left for a wedding trip to Chicago and vicinity.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gay are graduates of the High school here, Mrs. Gay afterward studying at the Deaconess hospital at Boston and Mr. Gay at the Massachusetts Agricultural college where he graduated two years ago. Mr. Gay has been a dairyman at the state school at Waverly, Mrs. Gay also having been employed at the Walter Fernald school at that place.

Shot in Eye

Gould Ketchen, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Ketchen of Jabish street, had the misfortune to be shot in the eye Saturday morning by an air rifle in the hands of a playmate. He is at the Wing Memorial hospital at Palmer where he is under the care of Dr. Moore. An X-ray examination revealed that no shot is in the eye, giving hope that there will be partial recovery of eyesight, although not total. Several doctors were called into consultation on the case.

Neglect Spells Problem

The seven-lettered word "neglect" may be spelled by another seven-lettered word "problem". A boy who is neglected becomes a problem. Let a father and mother neglect their child and it will not be long before they find that their child is a problem, and not simply a problem to the home, but to the neighbors and to the community. A husband does not need to beat his wife or the wife chastise her husband with cruel words to cause trouble. A home becomes a problem when the husband neglects his wife, and the wife neglects the husband. Simple neglect has caused couples to go to the divorce court for help.

A Lodge or an Order or a Church becomes a problem when it is neglected. What will kill an institution quicker than neglect? A service or a meeting becomes a problem when people neglect to attend.

Neglect a building, and in time it falls to pieces. Neglect machinery, and the first we know the machinery is useless. Neglect to use the muscles of the arm and the muscles become powerless. Neglect of the laws of health spells a problem for the body.

The coal miner has become a problem because he has been neglected for so long. If we neglect other nations, there is bound to be trouble sooner or later.

One of our greatest sins is that of neglect. We must be continually alert and not be guilty of falling into this error.

—R.

at Franklin school. 25 graduated from B. H. S. in June. That school also featured field day events, base ball and basketball games. A school paper, done on the mimeograph, was revived the last of the year.

The churches made good use of 1928. A strange coincidence is that not a single pastor now officiating was here a year ago. Rev. D. L. Hilliard of the Congregational church died Jan. 1, and was succeeded by Rev. F. C. Rolls of Hudson, N. H.; Rev. J. A. Dunphy of St. Francis church was assigned to Brookfield and Rev. L. T. Rock of Holyoke took his place; Rev. Cato Dick of the Methodist church was not returned. The charge was taken by Rev. M. H. Warren during the summer and at the present time Rev. Rockwell Smith of Greenfield is serving as student pastor.

St. Mary's chapel at the St. Francis rectory was fitted out the first of the year and the church building was painted during the summer. Card parties, food sales, a minstrel and a Grand Revue have been held under the church's auspices.

The Methodist church has specialized in church nights, and the ladies' organizations have been very active, securing revenue from fairs, food and fancy work sales and from entertainments. The men figured in a men's supper. A stage platform in the vestry was completed recently.

The usual number of social functions have been put on by the Congregational church. The Christian Endeavor society held a lawn party and the Social Guild gave suppers, plays and parties. The Home department of the Sunday school, by means of the proceeds of a supper, purchased 30 chairs for the chapel. The men of the church recently organized for service and on Christmas Sunday a pageant was given under their auspices.

The Park association, after years of leadership under the late F. D. Walker and H. A. Hopkins, reorganized and cleaned the common and adjacent public properties.

The Stone House was still the Mecca during the year of those interested in historical collections. The grounds were improved during the summer and much interior work was done at the Ford annex.

The Grange had things doing all through the year. Card parties were provided during the social season, and a float, an exhibit and a dinner were put on in connection with the Fair. The order also participated in outside programs.

The Masons and the Eastern Star each put on a ball and the latter held a lawn party, also a supper and play.

The Girl Scouts moved to their new quarters at the library the last of the year. Troops I and II have been united. Apples were sold Fair day and some community service has been done. The Girl Scout council has raised money by means of card parties, etc., and assisted the girls in various ways.

The Boy Scouts had a lease of life during the summer when the supplying pastor of the M. E. church, Rev. M. H. Warren, gave them liberally of his time.

Some new organizations came into being during the year, conspicuous among them being the Sons of Union Veterans and the Auxiliary. Both got away to a good start. The athletic association was formed during the summer and staged quite a base ball season. The Noah's Ark club sailed out into the deep the first of March and has occasionally been heard from.

The W. C. T. U. and the Y. P. B. each functioned in their spheres.

Among those prominent in our community life who have died during the year were Rev. D. L. Hilliard, pastor of the Congregational church, and Fred D. Walker, former postmaster.

Geo. H. B. Green announced in December his decision to retire to private life after a half century of public service.

The work of restoring the memorial windows at Clapp Memorial library was completed the first of the year. During 1928 the library was presented with the Hilliard collection of books.

Extension service work has been carried on in town. A poultry meeting was held and the ladies have been carrying on domestic science classes.

Chief among benevolent enterprises of the year were the Red Cross Roll Call and the sale of Christmas seals.

So run the events of 1928. The picture may be incomplete, but these are the high points that stand out prominently. As we have said before, however, Belchertown's history can no longer be written without allusion to the State school, where Massachusetts is carrying out her humanitarian policies.

We find there that the population has increased to 875, the boys' dormitory, opened in February, providing for additional quotas. The State school holdings were increased during the year by 103 acres, due to the purchase of the town farm and other property.

There have been constructed by contractors a girls' dormitory, a schoolhouse and an employees' cottage, all of which are well along.

Construction and other work by State school labor included a second story to the farm storage plant, a dairy barn for 60 head, a dairy, a six-pen cow hospital, a two-car garage and a one car garage. Also 1,600 feet of tunnel was completed and lines run. There was also installed a new boiler and generator, installing new electric service to the farm group.

Much grading, road building, clearing land of trees, rocks and old stone walls was done, and land tile put in.

These represent the mechanical equipment that has been added. The activities at the school during 1928 represent also an investment equally significant. The Fourth of July celebration with a grand parade, and Christmas with a whole week of events, were red-letter days at the school. Good things indoors and out have been put on in abundance.

The every-day work done at the institution was revealed by the demonstration of the music and physical education classes in June and the annual exhibit October 10 and 11.

And so Belchertown faces the future with a measure of pride in its past but with the hope that the "best is yet to be."

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Lofland on Saturday.

M. C. Baggs is ill at his home on Main street.

Attention is again called to the dance at Grange hall tonight under the auspices of Union grange. Hamilton's orchestra of Amherst will furnish music.

The south end of the common is being flooded and the weather man gives promise of doing his part toward helping the Board of Trade in their efforts to make a skating rink for the young people.

The committee on by-laws and the directors of the Congregational Sunday school met at the parsonage Monday evening. Lewis H. Blackmer was chosen assistant superintendent in place of Mrs. Leila S. Curtis, resigned.

TOMORROW

Death of Harry H. Ward

Harry H. Ward, 69, died at his home on North Main street at noon last Friday after a short illness. Mr. Ward was born in this town October 30, 1859, the son of Alfred and Eliza (Randall) Ward. With the exception of 20 years when he was employed by the George H. Gilbert Manufacturing company at Gilbertville, he always made his home here.

Mr. Ward was chairman of the board of registrars for many years and was a member of the board of selectmen in 1921 and 1922. He served the town as a member of the building committee while the school buildings were under construction in 1922 and 1923. During the World war Mr. Ward held a federal commission for which he received $1.00 a year, being known as one of the "dollar a year" men. He has been a member of Union grange for 27 years and was master of Vernon Lodge of Masons in 1911 and 1912, and was a past patron of Mt. Vernon chapter, O. E. S. Mr. Ward was president of the Farmers' and Mechanics' club for six years and for a long time officiated at the town hall on Fair days.

On February 1, 1885, he married Miss Evelyn Randall of Enfield, who survives him. Two daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Ward; the older, Mrs. Mildred Shumway, died in 1918. Besides his younger daughter, Mrs. Arthur Ward of Dayton, Ohio, he leaves six grandchildren, Mrs. Herbert Kennon of Rutland, Louis, Jane and Eva Shumway of this town, and Mildred and Forest Ward of Dayton, O. He also leaves a brother, Myron G. Ward, of this town.

Mr. Ward always maintained a vital interest in civic affairs and whenever called to public service, gave of his best. His friendly approach in social contacts made him many friends.

The funeral was held at the Congregational church Sunday afternoon at 3 and was largely attended by relatives and friends, by members of Mt. Vernon chapter, O. E. S., who sat in a body, and by Vernon Lodge of Masons, who conducted the last rites. Rev. F. C. Rolls officiated and paid tribute to his uprightness and the esteem in which he was held. Miss M. L. Allen presided at the organ. The bearers were Guy C. Allen, E. A. R. Fairchild, D. D. Hazen, John W. Jackson, Edward L. Schmidt, and Roswell Allen of Springfield. Burial was in Mount Hope cemetery.

Social Guild Supper and Entertainment

Everybody seemed to feel that on account of the threatening "flu" and the cold weather, the supper at the chapel Wednesday evening would be rather slimly attended, and accordingly everybody who could go, made a special effort to be present. At least that is one way of accounting for the large crowd which turned out for the Social Guild supper and entertainment this week.

One table in the dining room was reserved for Mrs. Thomas Allen's Sunday school class of girls, 12 of whom were her guests. The table was lighted with pink candles, matching the favors at each plate, and candy and nuts were special additions to the regular menu of escalloped potato, baked beans, salad, relishes, brown bread, rolls, pie and coffee.

The program following the supper was received heartily by the audience who repeatedly called back the performers for an encore. The readings by Mrs. A. D. Moore were of special interest, both being poems by Belchertown people. The first was by Charles Washburn Nichols, written in 1907 and entitled, "Belchertown". The second was by Belding F. Jackson, "The Birds' Overture".

The program, arranged by Mrs. Frank Rhodes, was announced by Thomas Allen as follows: Piano duet, Mrs. Marion K. Shaw and Miss Evelyn Smith; selection by the Misses Nellie Rhodes and Harriet Squires, accompanied at the piano by Miss Louise R. Hawley; readings, Mrs. Frances Moore; cornet solo, Miss Madeline Lincoln, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Maude B. Aspengren; vocal solo, Thomas Allen, who gave in repsonse to the demand for an encore, "When earth's last picture is painted". Vocal solos by Mrs. Margaret Baggs closed the program.

The committee in charge of the supper were Mrs. J. V. Cook, Miss Maggie Hales, Mrs. Harry Sessions, Mrs. Ruth Baggs, Mrs. Belle Peck and Miss Grace Towne.

Will Not Be a Candidate

On account of my critical condition, I have decided that I will not be a candidate for the office of tax collector at the annual election February 4, 1929.

D. F. Shumway

In making the above announcement, Mr. Shumway follows similar action taken by his colleague, G. H. B. Green, in December. Probably few realize the courage necessary to such action. Mr. Shumway has served the town as collector almost continuously for 25 years. He was always a friend to the "hard-put", but to the obdurate he brought to bear the full extent of the law.

Mr. Shumway says he was elected to the office for the first time in 1900. Except for the brief regimes of A. E. Pease, W. D. E. Morse and George Warner, he has held the position up to the present time. From 1916 he has served continuously.

Mr. Shumway recalls that in 1899, the year previous to his first term as collector, the total tax was about $13,000. Now it is around $57,000. The rate then hung around $15. Last year it was $36.80

Besides holding this major office, Mr. Shumway has been truant officer for some 35 years and also constable for a long period. He has attained wide publicity by reason of his presidency of the Farmers' and Mechanics' club, in which he has been a moving spirit.

For a considerable term of years

Speed!

This generation is greatly interested in speed. We are anxious to speed up verything. The faster we move, the greater the thrill, and the more we enjoy it. We are quite apt to judge the worth of a thing by the amount of speed it can produce.

But there is a much more important question to ask than "How fast are you going?" It is "In which direction are you going?" For if we are going in the wrong direction, the faster we move the quicker we arrive at our destruction. Are we going up or down? Are we traveling to the right or to the left? Are we journeying forward or backward?

What avails it to be always on the move unless we are headed towards some worth while goal? Would it not be well sometimes to bring ourselves to a halt and interrogate ourselves as to "whither bound?" Are we headed for the precipice and the rocks? Or are we on the way to the high road?

Mere speed may mean we travel in a circle and come back to the point whence we started. It may mean that every second we get farther away from our true home.

In what direction are our thoughts moving? The kind of books we read may help us to answer this question. What about our habits and our interests? What kind of thing are we tuning on increasingly over the radio?

For if we chance to be moving in the wrong direction, it is little consolation to know that we are going a mile a minute.

—R.

The selectmen give notice that all articles for the town warrant should be in their hands by January 18th.

Grange Notes

The program of Union grange for Tuesday evening is a roll call of members who will respond to the question, "What would you do if you were 21 again and know what you know now?" All under 21 are to answer to the question, "What was your favorite poem in school?" Ladies are requested to bring a box lunch for two.

A dance under the auspices of the grange will be given at grange hall the 18th of January. Hamilton's five-piece orchestra will furnish music.

Adelbert Potter of East Orange, N. J., is making a surprise visit on friends in this vicinity, with headquarters at Geo. E. Williams in Amherst.

Mrs. Geo. E. Williams is in the Chapin Memorial hospital, Springfield, for an operation. Her many friends will be glad to know that she is apparently on the way to a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Leon E. Williams is in Pelham, helping to care for her sister, Mrs. Guy Reed, who has an attack of bronchitis.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gay, Jr., who went to Chicago last week on their wedding journey, expect to locate there as Mr. Gay has taken a position similar to the one he had at Waverly.

C. R. Green and Bartlett Green went to Worcester Thursday to attend the M. F. G. A. meeting and Fruit show.

News was received by relatives on Tuesday of the death of Erwin C. Roach, a life-long resident of Hubbardton, Vt. His wife, formerly Miss Myra E. Olds of this town, and one son, Raymond D. Roach of Palmer, survive him. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon from Hubbardton Congregational church with burial in the family lot in Castleton, Vt.

H. F. Putnam and Leland Olds of Palmer went to Hubbardton Wednesday to attend the funeral and will remain for the rest of the week.

Town Items

Those who remember Miss Grace Chapin, former assistant principal of the Belchertown High school, will be interested in the news of the recent death at the age of 92 of her father, who for 38 years was pastor of the Congregational church at Saxtons River, Vt., of which he remained pastor emeritus, being succeeded actively by Rev. Walter R. Blackmer of this place.

In a recent report of the Mary Lane hospital at Ware, three patients are represented as coming from Belchertown.

The W. C. T. U. met Wednesday evening and voted to disband.

Rev. Harold W. Curtis of Waltham was the guest this week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Curtis.

Raymond Goodell, who conducts an A. H. Phillips store at Amherst, has been confined to his home on East Walnut street this week by illness.

Frank D. Fuller of Springfield has bought the D. P. Spencer place which he will use as a chicken farm.

The result of the efforts of the Board of Trade at the south end of the common seems to be a seesaw between a skating rink and a swimming pool, with the odds in favor of the latter—somewhat the same story as it was last year.

There Are Two Seas

By Bruce Barton

(Clipping sent by a subscriber)

There are two seas in Palestine.

One is fresh and there are fish in it. Splashes of green adorn its banks. Trees spread their branches over it, and stretch out their thirsty roots to sip of its healing water.

Along its shores the children play, as children played when He was there. He loved it. He could look across its silver surface when He spoke His parables. And on a rolling plain not far away He fed five thousand people.

The river Jordan makes this sea with sparkling water from the hills. So it laughs in the sunshine. And men build their houses near to it, and birds their nests; and every kind of life is happier because it is there.

The river Jordan flows on south into another sea.

Here is no splash of fish, no fluttering leaf, no song of birds, no children's laughter. Travelers choose another route, unless on urgent business. The air hangs heavy above its waters and neither man nor beast nor fowl will drink.

What makes this mighty difference in these neighbor seas?

Not the river Jordan. It empties the same good water into both. Not the soil in which they lie; not the country round about.

This is the difference. The Sea of Galilee receives but does not keep the Jordan. For every drop that flows into it another drop flows out. The giving and receiving go on in equal measure.

The other sea is shrewder, hoarding its income jealously.

It will not be tempted into any generous impulse. Every drop it gets it keeps.

The Sea of Galilee gives and lives. This other sea gives nothing. It is named The Dead.

There are two kinds of people in the world.

There are two seas in Palestine.

Will Not Be a Candidate

he has been an influential member of the Republican town committee, which he has served as treasurer. He is still a member of this committee.

Mr. Shumway recently underwent an operation for the removal of cataract, but the results are not such as to warrant his continuing in such an important office as collector. The will to serve is still there, but the flesh rebels.

So far as known there are no candidates as yet for the position Mr. Shumway is relinquishing.

Lost!

"B—— Junction! B—— Junction!" shouted the conductor, as the train slowed down and he jumped off to set the switch. Then the "donkey" train slowly got under way again while the engineer chatted with his young friend who was on his way home for the week-end.

As they neared the next station, the young fellow went back among the passengers, but almost immediately appeared at the engineer's side again.

"Where's your conductor?" he shouted."

"Conductor! Isn't he there?"

"No, he isn't," stated the young chap, conclusively.

The train brayed its way into the station where the aforesaid engineer was told that there was a call waiting for him on the telephone. Boy-fashion, the youngster followed to see what was going to happen next.

"And a madder conductor you never heard," he declared, in telling about it at home that night. "Left there at that junction with no shelter and had to find his way in the dark to the nearest house with a telephone. It was colder than the dickens, too, snow blowing and all. The engineer told him to keep his shirt on, he'd come back for him, and then he wanted to know what to do with his passengers, dump them, or give them a free ride back. They told him to take the passengers along, on that road they wouldn't know whether they were going or coming."

And so the passengers on the gas-electric train that night had their money's worth in travel, whether they knew it or not.

Grange Notes

Union grange held a regular meeting in grange hall Tuesday evening. The charter was draped in memory of the late Harry H. Ward, who had been a member of the order for many years. The local grange has been invited by the Ludlow chapter to attend the Grange Sunday services in the Congregational church at Ludlow Center January 27. William N. Howard of North Easton, Master of the Massachusetts State grange, and Charles M. Gardner of Westfield, High Priest of Demeter, are among those who will take part in the services.

Charles H. Sanford gave a report of the recent dance.

The following refreshment committee was appointed: Mrs. A. D. Moore, Mrs. Ora Davis and Charles Austin.

The roll call was well responded to. Mrs. George Davis read an original poem, and Rudyard Kipling's war poem, "Boots," was well rendered by Bartlett Green. Miss Esther Squires gave violin selections. The box social was enjoyed by all.

Union Grange will hold a card party next week Friday night at Grange hall. Miss Darsa Dodge is chairman of the committee in charge. This event, originally planned for Tuesday evening, was postponed to Friday evening.

Men's Organization's Supper

The men's organization of the Congregational church will have a supper at the chapel Monday night, which all men of the church are expected to attend. Donald Hazen is chairman of the supper committee and promises a first-class oyster stew. The suppers are served at cost. Rev. C. F. Luther of Amherst will be present and will give an interesting talk on a live subject.

O. E. S. Installation

The officers of Mt. Vernon chapter, O. E. S., were installed Wednesday evening by Mrs. Eunice Loomis, of Easthampton, installing matron, assisted by Mrs. Katherine Smith of Easthampton as marshal, with Carl F. Aspengren as acting patron and Miss Irene M. Jackson as installing chaplain.

About 100 partook of the supper at 6.30 in charge of Mrs. Gertrude Randall and Mrs. Annie Austin, the younger Masons assisting in the serving. Guests were present from several nearby towns.

Mrs. Emma Shaw, retiring matron, was presented with a jewel by Dr. Collard and a letter of thanks was read from Mrs. Maria S. Barton of Athol, past matron, who unable to be present, had received her ring by mail. Mrs. Shaw was also presented with a wrist watch by members of the chapter in appreciation of her services, Mrs. Collard making the presentation.

Following is a list of the officers installed:

Worthy Matron	Miss Irene Orlando
Worthy Patron	George E. Scott
Associate Matron	Mrs. Beatrice Scott
Secretary	Mrs. Louise Sherman
Treasurer	Mrs. Geraldine Howard
Conductress	Mrs. Julia Shumway
Associate Conductress	Mrs. Dora Duncan

Marshal	Mrs. Nettie Allen
Organist	Mrs. Maude Aspengren
Adah	Mrs. Anna Gold
Ruth	Miss Maxine Fuller
Esther	Mrs. Ninfa G. Collard
Martha	Mrs. Hazel Lincoln
Electa	Miss Madeleine Orlando
Warder	Mrs. Gertrude Randall
Sentinel	Dr. J. L. Collard

Registration Dates

The registrars announce that they will be at Bondsville, Saturday, Jan. 19, from 2 to 4 p. m., and on Saturday, January 23, at Mr. Green's office from 12 m. to 10 p. m. This last meeting affords the last opportunity to register for the coming election.

Democratic Town Committee Organizes

The Democratic town committee has organized with Raymond J. Sullivan, chairman; Cornelius Lynch, secretary; and Eugene F. Flaherty, treasurer. Anyone desiring to have his name considered as a candidate on the caucus ballot is requested to notify the Democratic committee before Monday night, Jan. 21 The Democratic caucus will be held Wednesday evening, Jan. 23, at 7.30, at Memorial hall.

Independent Basketball

Mgr. Eddie Parent's Ind. basketball team is fast rounding into form and will probably open its season within a week. At least two veterans, Charlie Austin and John Fairchild, are planning to return to the hoop game after a few years' lay-off. Several new faces will appear in the lineup, and among the most promising candidates are Walter Jensen, June Shumway and Harold Allen. Another outstanding player, who will be available for week-end games, is Paige Piper of Springfield college.

PROBATE COURT

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Harry H. Ward, late of Belchertown in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for Probate, by Evelyn R. Ward of said Belchertown, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the Executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Northampton in said County of Hampshire on the fifth day of February, A. D. 1929, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Belchertown Sentinel, a newspaper published in Belchertown, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the Estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Henry P. Field, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eighth day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine.

A Novel Way of Putting It

The giant dirigible "Stocko" was flying low over Ipswich about eight o'clock last Wednesday morning (Jan. 9) when it suddenly developed engine trouble. The cap'n decided to let go a little of the ballast. It so happened that at that particular moment the ship was directly over the Cable Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Wilder (my wife, y'know) was visiting there at the time, and she ran and picked up said ballast, thinking perhaps it was an infernal machine dropped by an enemy ship, because it was making considerable noise. Her idea was, of course, to save the personnel and patients of the hospital from destruction.

Unfolding it with deft but rather nervous fingers, to her surprise she discovered a baby girl. She decided to take charge of it, and upon the termination of her visit to bring it home. Strange to relate, not a nurse there objected to the plan. Since that time the cobblers I meet on the street smile very broadly. I certainly can't keep them all busy tapping my bedroom slippers.

In other words: Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Wilder are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Patricia Nason.

—Fred'k C. Wilder

Dr. Wilder also states in an added note his appreciation of the Sentinel and says, "I am enjoying Gold's sheet. Has anybody bought Grandfather's Ford?"

Bowling Notes

By Noel

The Belchertown Bowling team, which has not been heard from recently in these columns, is still rolling its weekly matches on the Red Men's alleys in South Hadley Falls. At least one night a week, a certain Chevrolet touring car or a Dodge truck may be seen "speeding" its way toward Holyoke, carrying the "boys" who are enjoying one of the best indoor games of the season.

The local five has managed to hold its own during the last few contests, taking two points from Art Pease's league-leading Woodlawns, which was one of the most important matches of the season, while Jim Long's strong K. of C. team took all three points from the Belchertown bowlers in another encounter.

Last Friday night, however, Capt John J. Fairchild's team, rolling its highest team total as yet, took two points from Frank Roberts and his Willimansett five. Some fine rolling by Andrew Sears and Ernie Orcutt of the local team was the main reason for their opponents' downfall. Score:

Belchertown 2
Orcutt	105	82	115	302
J. R. Fairchild	77	74	89	240
Noel	101	77	104	282
J. J. Fairchild	82	75	83	240
Sears	98	113	99	310
	463	421	490	1374
Willimansett 1
Dunleavy	114	80	92	286
Leverault	66	92	78	236
Laurin	77	96	74	247
Roberts	82	74	118	274
Sampson	82	112	93	287
	421	454	455	1330

The local team is at present in 7th place. The league standing is as follows: Woodlawns, K. of C., Legrand Ice, Ford Plumbing Co., Nash Five, Wonders, BELCHERTOWN, Willimansett.

Andrew Sears appeared in the role of anchor man in last week's match and toppled the pins for the nice total of 310. "Andy" is one of the most popular bowlers at the alleys.

Capt. Fairchild can't understand his tough breaks. If he could "spare 'em" the way he does in practice, there would be nothing to it.

The averages of the local bowlers, who have taken part in at least five matches, is as follows: Orcutt 97, 14-21; Sears 93, 17-27; Reynolds 87, 7-24; Green 86, 16-21; J. J. Fairchild 85, 29-30; J. R. Fairchild 85, 4-27.

Belchertown and Legrand Ice last night. Results will be published next week.

Echoes of Yuletide

Christmas has come and gone. On Christmas eve night Bobbie called out, "Look at the Christmas tree!" And we looked. A rainbow of beauty it was. Then a step on the stairway greeted us, with the annual gift of "two little girls so true", Marion and Marjorie Shaw, always a lovely red basket filled with good things.

A little while afterwards Son and Bobbie cried out, "Do you hear the singers in our driveway?" Oh, how good it all was, the windows all around us filled with listeners to those sweet voices. Then came the young people's offering. Voices from down stairs invited us to the family tree and our name was so often called that we wished for lots of money.

Gifts from far off California, greater on Christmas, from Minnesota, Maine, New York, all such dear friends; Christmas dinner with the family down stairs, all so cheerful, all so loving to us. Only one blot on the happy hour, Gould Ketchen's accident. We remember how last year he brought us some of Grandpa's own ham.

Then some one came in and told us "Happy" Allen had helped chop and place the community tree and we knew why it was unusually bright.

And again in spring "our own" besides. We had a sore spot, but we kept it silent. And as we went to bed, we knew all the world was akin.

The Belchertown High School basketball team defeated the Powers Institute quintet of Bernardston on the town hall floor last Friday night, by a score of 27 to 15. Powers Institute was the first to score and for a moment it looked bad for the High School. The local boys were soon started, however, and by the end of the first half had piled up a lead of 6 points. In the third quarter both teams held their own, but the High School had things their own way toward the last and the game ended with a score of 27 to 15.

The work of the High School team showed a decided improvement over that of a week ago. Passing was better and the shooting of the forwards was somewhat improved. We ought to say, though, that there is still room for further improvement in this last respect.

This game is the first in which the local five used the "five man defense" and it proved to be superior to the "standing guard" type of protection previously used. Camp played his first entire game this season as a guard and performed his duties well. McLean, with 14 points, led the local attack. Willis was best for Powers Institute.

The Turkey Hill members of the Ladies' Social Union met at Mrs. J. R. Newman's on Thursday to sew. This is the second meeting, the first being at Mrs. E. E. Gay's. There will be no meeting next week because of the regular thimble party. Plans are being made for a quilting party the next week after to tie the last of several quilts made by the late Mrs. Olds, Mrs. Putnam's mother.

The funeral of Mrs. Morris Williams of Gilbertville was held in that town Tuesday. Several from Belchertown attended.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Green and Bartlett Green, by invitation of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Moore, took a trip in the "Blue Heaven" recently, visiting several adjacent towns.

Result of Recount

As a result of the recount last night of the votes for selectmen at the Republican caucus Tuesday night, Frank L. Gold received 92 votes instead of 89, while Bothwell's vote remains the same, 90. Thus the Republican candidates are Edward A. Fuller, Edward E. Gay and Frank L. Gold. Joseph Bothwell's name, however, will also appear on the ballot, as he had taken out nomination papers.

Political Pot Perturbed

January is usually an exciting month due to politics, and this year it is proving especially so. Consternation reigned Friday when it was discovered that the Democratic caucus called for this week Wednesday was going to be too late to allow for filing of candidates with the town clerk. As another call could not be issued, there was a general scurrying to get out nomination papers, as it was discovered that they had to be filed by 5 o'clock of that day.

C. G. Bartlett filed papers for the offices of town clerk, tax collector and town treasurer. Papers for the first two were thrown out by the Board of Registrars, due to an insufficient number of certified names.

Joseph Bothwell, Edward A. Fuller and Edward E. Gay took out papers for the office of selectmen; Daniel F. Shea for school committee; Eugene F. Flaherty for assessor; G. C. Allen for cemetery commissioner and Wilfrid Noel for tax collector.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

Due to the fact that the Democratic caucus had to be cancelled, there was a general attendance at the Republican caucus in Memorial hall Tuesday evening. A number of Democrats passed around, voting to their hearts content, but the expected happened when one of their number was challenged. Moderator Allen, anticipating this exigency, was ready to administer the required oath.

Most of the contests were exceedingly close. Frank L. Gold has demanded a recount of the votes for selectmen, in which contest he ran only one vote behind the third man. Three candidates were chosen.

Everett A. Geer withdrew from the race for assessor, thereby leaving only one other candidate.

Men's Supper at Chapel

Men of the Congregational church gathered over twenty strong at the chapel Monday evening for their monthly meeting and supper. While at the tables the speaker, Rev. C. F. Luther, pastor of the Second Congregational church of Amherst, was introduced and spoke on Trees. The topic proved as live as advertised, Mr. Luther having the happy faculty of imparting reverence for these friends of humanity.

Quite a fund of information concerning trees was divulged. He said there were 1,177 varieties of trees in this country. He spoke of distinctive trees in this vicinity, the sycamore tree at Sunderland, the white birch, five or six feet through, the largest in the world, farther up the valley, and the "largest" elm tree at Wethersfield, Ct. Mention was made of the giant eucalyptus of Australia with specimens 25 to 30 feet thick and 470 feet high, also the cedars of Lebanon, of which about 400 are left, and the olive trees of the Garden of Gethsemane, claimed to have witnessed the agony of the Saviour.

Mr. Luther had a friendly way of alluding to trees wherever found. He spoke of some specimens as "old and decrepit", as if they were members of the human family. He spoke of certain trees that had probably lived through the period of all recorded history. He went back to the days of the Caesars when trees were used in road building, and told of the wood that had been preserved so marvelously.

Mr. Luther spoke of the cocoanut palm whose products, he said, were sufficiently diverse to satisfy all the wants of primitive man.

Attention was called to the rubber trees that have helped bring in the motorized age, and to trees that produce turpentine, rosin, varnish and the main element in chewing gum. The contribution to medicine of certain trees was also emphasized. Wood as a necessity in the cheap paper industry also received mention.

Mr. Luther called the oak, of which there are 53 varieties in this country and 300 in the world, the typical American tree. He called to

Food, Faith, and Friendship Night

Your attention is called to the Community program put on at the Methodist church vestry each Friday evening. A supper is served at 6.30. Expenses are paid by a collection taken after the meal. You pay what you think the meal is worth.

A service of song and prayer follows. This week the pastor will speak briefly on "The Mechanics of Prayer." This service is followed by stunts and games. Youngsters are not the only ones who enjoy them. Come and watch your dignified neighbor play as gaily as any two-year-old. You will be surprised as to how foolish and happy you can still be.

This is a community service. It is your service. You miss when you fail to attend. Ask those who have been going whether they are interested or not. Each newcomer is changed to a loyal booster. Come and let us help you take wrinkles out of your forehead and put them at the corners of your mouth where they belong. Food, Faith, and Friendship Night is a Belchertown institution.

Next week a spectacular play with local color will be on the program. No one will want to miss it. We both lose when you do not take advantage of the opportunity for fellowship which this night offers. A program so varied has something to interest everyone. We miss you and you don't know what you are missing.

There was a fair attendance at the Grange dance last week Friday night, in spite of the unfavorable weather. Another dance is planned for February 8, with Hamilton's orchestra again officiating. The committee in charge is J. Howell Cook, Charles Sanford and Howard Snow.

The Misses Irene and Madeleine Orlando spent the week-end in New York City.

The home department of the Congregational Sunday-school met at the home of Mrs. J. Howell Cook last week Friday afternoon. Mrs. Hattie Taylor conducted the devotional service and gave a reading. A social hour followed, Mrs. Cook serving luncheon to the 12 guests. Mrs. Winslow Piper was elected to have charge of the floral department of the organization.

The first 1929 rainbow was observed last Saturday morning at about 9.

Union grange will hold a military whist party at Grange hall this evening. The committee in charge is Miss Darsa Dodge and Mrs. Wilfrid Noel.

Gould Ketchen returned home Tuesday after a stay of 24 days at Wing Memorial hospital, Palmer.

mind the days when ink was made from oak galls ,and tin pedlars dispensed the product. This ink was said to be very permanent.

The speaker, in the course of his remarks, said that the size, age, uses and beauty of trees all challenge our attention, and few present that evening will pass a tree by now without a bit more of friendly feeling, because of the address.

A business meeting followed, which was conducted by the president, H. F. Peck. Further offers of cars for transporting people to church were made. All desiring to take advantage of this service are asked to call J. Howell Cook.

Plans were made for the next meeting and a supper committee appointed.

It was voted to install more modern electric lighting fixtures in the chapel auditorium.

Dies in Southampton

Mrs. Rosa May (Sturtevant) Chamberlain, 57, wife of Frederick D. Chamberlain, died Sunday morning of pneumonia at her home on East street, Southampton. She was born at Athol, the daughter of Henry and Alretta Sturtevant, and was married September 15, 1891. Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain and family lived here for many years, the home being the place where Herbert R. Blackmer now lives. Afterward they made their home in Prescott, and a year ago last fall they moved to Southampton, having sold out to the Metropolitan Water Commission.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock at the home with burial in Hardwick. Besides her husband she leaves three daughters, Mrs. Howard White of Greenwich, Mrs. Richard Johnston of Springfield and Mrs. Frederick C. Hart of Blandford, also three grandchildren.

Bowling Notes

By Noel

The Legrand Ice company took three points from the Belchertown Bowling team on the Red Men's alleys, South Hadley, last week Thursday night. The Legrand Ice total of 1465 broke the record in the league, as did also "Juby's" individual score of 336. The feature of the game was the rolling of "Juby" against Orcutt, who was only two pins behind.

The Battle of the Ballots

Next Monday will be staged the battle of the ballots, as far as town officers are concerned. The registrars of voters saved the election from being a somewhat tame affair by finding that Frank L. Gold was entitled to a place on the ballot. As Gold had not taken out nomination papers, there would have been no contest for selectmen, and could anyone imagine a decent election without a little excitement in that area?

Last year there was too much excitement, if anything, around election time. Letters, articles and flyers followed one upon the other in rapid succession. While the cruisers are not in sight this year, probably the submarines are busy and the vote will appear on the surface Monday.

The town clerk contest fizzled out with the throwing out of C. G. Bartlett's petition for nomination papers, leaving as the only nominee Mrs. Emma Green, who has the distinction of being the first woman candidate for that office in this town. Mr. Bartlett has the treasurer's office clinched again with no opposition.

The constable fight is all over, as only five names appear on the ballot, with five to be elected.

A contest exists in the office of tax collector. C. G. Bartlett bids for the honor on the basis of his seven years' record as treasurer of the town and several terms as treasurer of the water district. No one questions his integrity and his location is ideal. Wilfrid Noel also asks for a chance to serve the town as its collector. His friends point to his record as master of Union grange, his untiring interest in the promotion of clean sport in town and school, his record as town warden and his friendly approach to any task. Mr. Noel's only statement is that, if elected, he will plan to have an office in the center.

J. Howell Cook has the office of tree warden clinched, having no op-

Choosing the State Bird

Mr. Thornton W. Burgess is suggesting to his "neighbors and kiddies" of the state, who listen in to his interesting broadcastings at the Nature League hour, Wednesdays 7.30 p. m., the choice of a state bird. Massachusetts has no state bird. Why not? Because the friends of the birds have not been interested in the matter. The birds themselves are unconcerned about it. They do not hold primaries and make nominations. All unconsciously they are in the hands of their friends, and if there is to be a state bird, the choice must be made by human, not by feathered, bipeds. Mr. Burgess is urging Massachusetts bird lovers to send in their votes.

I vote for the American Goldfinch and will give my reasons for doing so.

1. Because the Goldfinch has not been chosen by any other state.
2. Because I have known him a long time and have confidence in his character.
3. Because he is a permanent resident and a useful citizen.
4. Because with his brilliant plumage, his sweet singing and his pleasant ways he is an interesting and desirable bird neighbor.

Belchertown bird lovers who are interested in this matter may send their ballot with the name of their favorite bird to the Sentinel. The editor will tabulate the vote and forward the result to Mr. Burgess. The polls are open. There are no restrictions to voting on account of age, sex or precincts. Mr. Burgess especially hopes that the school children will participate in the voting.

Grange Notes

Union grange will hold a regular meeting in grange hall Tuesday evening. The program of the evening will be in charge of the young members and will consist of a valentine party with George Booth, chairman.

On account of the extremely cold weather, there was no card party in grange hall Tuesday evening.

Pomona grange will meet at Easthampton next Thursday.

Death of Edward M. Bisnette

Edward M. Bisnette, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bisnette of Blue Meadow road, died Saturday morning of pneumonia. Besides his parents he leaves two brothers, George and Clarence, also four sisters, Mrs. Jesse Wood and Mrs. Clarence Williamson of Ludlow, Mrs. Wilfrid Noel and Miss Priscilla Bisnette of this town. The funeral was held Tuesday morning at 9 at St. Francis church, Rev. L. T. Rock officiating. The bearers were Walter McKillop, Cornelius Lyuch, Eugene Flaherty, Patrick Menard, Wilfrid Noel and John Morrell of Harriman, N. Y. Burial was at St. Ann's cemetery at Three Rivers.

Independents at Easthampton

By Noel

The Belchertown Independents, after several weeks of practise, are ready to open their basket ball season tomorrow night in Easthampton against the Lucky Strikes of that town. The local players have practised twice this week in preparation for this contest and are in fine shape for their opening encounter.

The team, which is composed mainly of former high school stars, should develop into a fast quintet and ought to be a fine drawing card when playing on its home court. The following well-known players make up the team: Paige Piper, June Shumway, "Hap" Allen, Walter Camp, "Bud" Dorey, and Al Menard, while it is possible to say that the veterans, Charlie Austin and Jack Fairchild, will probably take part in several games.

Bowling Notes

By Noel

The bowling match, scheduled for last Monday night, between the Belchertown five and Nash five on the Red Men's alleys in South Hadley Falls did not take place, but will be rolled off at a later date to be announced.

Do You Vote?

(Clipping sent by a subscriber)

You say that taxes are too high,
But do you vote?
About extravagance you sigh,
But do you vote?
"How long," you wail, "must we endure
This state of things that keeps us poor?"
How long? I do not know, I'm sure!
But do you vote?

The lights are bad, the street's a mess,
But do you vote?
Your indignation you express,
But do you vote?
You say that bosses rule the show,
That graft is reaching high and low,
And, doubtless, all you say is so,
But do you vote?

You growl at rotten politics,
But do you vote?
You howl at bosses and their tricks,
But do you vote?
You say, O Decent Citizen,
We've heard you time and time again,
We want things run by business men,
But do you vote?

Unless you do (I wonder do you?)
You've got just what is coming to you.

THE WORLD NEEDS

(Clipping sent by a subscriber)

A little more kindness and a little less creed,
A little more giving and a little less greed;
A little more smile and a little less frown,
A little less kicking a man when he's down;
A little more "we" and a little less "I,"
A little more laugh and a little less cry;
A few more flowers on the pathway of life,
And fewer on graves at the end of the strife.

position.

Mrs. Etta B. Randolph, who has served the town as a member of the school committee for several terms, seeks re-election. She is opposed by Daniel F. Shea who ran against G. E. Scott and R. O. Baggs last year. In that contest Scott received 231 votes, Baggs 220, and Shea 142.

The last contest of the ballot is that of assessor. C. H. Sanford, Republican, is opposed by Eugene Flaherty, who took out nomination papers. Sanford is also an ex-town warden and master of the grange, while Eugene Flaherty is a prominent member of the Democratic party and has served the town in several capacities.

G. C. Allen is unopposed as cemetery commissioner.

For the first time in our remembrance the word Democratic does not appear against any name on the ballot, due to the ill timing of the Democratic caucus, and of the 17 different names on the sheet, hardly a half dozen are affiliated with that party.

And so to sum it up: Will Gold crash the selectmen's gate? Will Noel knock down enough pins in the case of tax collector, or will town offices be centralized? Will the tried and true come through in school committee, and who'll assess the taxes so that ours will be lower and the other fellow's higher? The battle of the ballots will tell.

M. E. Church Night Well Attended

The Food, Faith and Friendship night at the Methodist church last week Friday evening drew a larger attendance than usual. Rev. Rockwell Smith presided, assisted by a classmate from Boston University. Other guests from Greenfield were present, five in all. Mr. Smith's talk on "The Mechanics of Prayer," proved to be of special interest, while the young people entered with hearty enthusiasm into the games and songs. Mrs. H. F. Putnam has had charge of the suppers during the month of January.

Young People's Party

Twenty-seven young people of the Congregational church were entertained at the parsonage Monday evening at a young people's party. Games were played, Helen Shuttleworth receiving first prize by reason of securing the highest number of points. Harold Cook came in for the booby prize. Refreshments were served, Mrs. Rolls, the hostess, being assisted by Miss Maggie Hales.

Another party will be held for a different group next week.

A Personal Invitation

WARNING. If you prefer to be unhappy, stay out and away.

If you welcome the "flu" and the measles and think that wife-beating is the latest in indoor sports, stay away from the Food, Faith, and Friendship night this evening in the Methodist church basement. If you think that your neighbors are all thieves and rascals and that the town is hopelessly corrupt, and if you are contemplating hanging yourself, don't let us disturb you. But if you are one of the happy souls who enjoy good food, good fellowship, and good fun, be there tonight at 6.30. This is a personal invitation. We have you in mind. This is the meeting for Belchertown folks. It is one place and time when we stop calling ourselves and other people names and begin to be happy together.

At 6.30 we will sit down to a supper served by some of the ladies under the leadership of Mrs. Grindle. Do the chores up in a hurry and get there. If you are a bit late, we will keep a dish on the back of the stove warm just for you. Don't let your work spoil your happiness this once. At the end of the meal you drop into a cup what you think the meal was worth. If you feel badly, take out enough for some peppermint.

At 7.30 we will join in an old-fashioned prayer service. We are still old-fashioned enough to pray. Come and try it. We sing the old hymns that you remember from your childhood. Wouldn't you like to have the kiddies learn them? Bring them. They enjoy it too. We will talk about, "What Does Religion Mean?"

At 8.15 the Snappy Players will present a minstrel play. Advance press notices indicate a production of surpassing merit. If you are behind with the current gossip, come and learn things about your neighbors of which they even are ignorant. The Players have something doing every minute. When questioned, the production manager said that the leading lady went into hysterics laughing at her own lines. A reward is offered for anyone who can sit through the play without smiling.

If the atmosphere at the Methodist vestry tonight is to be a forecast for February, we will have a month of sunshine and happiness. You won't know what you've been missing until you've attended once. We want you and you want us. Let's get together tonight.

Death of Helen M. Shuttleworth

The town was deeply moved this past week by the death last Saturday night of Helen M. Shuttleworth, youngest daughter of John D. and Ellen (Karlson) Shuttleworth. Stricken with the flu only a few days previous, her passing was very sudden. Miss Shuttleworth was a member of the Junior class of B. H. S. and attended school last Wednesday as usual. She was born in Belchertown, February 16, 1913.

Miss Shuttleworth was interested in athletics and had the position of sub on the basketball team. She was a member of the Congregational church and Sunday school and was a willing helper in the church's activities. In the Christmas pageant, "At the Door of the Inn," she not only took the part of the Bethlehem woman, but also at the eleventh hour substituted as "Mary".

Besides her parents she leaves a brother, Edward K., of the International college at Springfield, and two sisters, Miss Ruth Shuttleworth of Springfield and Miss Anna Shuttleworth, a Senior in the local High school.

The funeral was held at the Congregational church Tuesday afternoon at 1. Members of B. H. S. with the faculty and school officials attended in a body and occupied the entire east side of the center aisle. Rev. F. C. Rolls officiated, conducting a most appropriate service. Miss M. L. Allen presided at the organ. Mrs. Clarinda Shaw sang, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and "Sometime We'll Understand." The bearers were George E. McPherson, Jr., Louis Fuller, Stanley Rhodes and Lawrence Dunbar, classmates of the deceased. The body was placed in the tomb at Mt. Hope, the funeral party passing between split ranks of members of the school.

Downy woodpecker	3

The "returns" will be duly sent to Mr. Burgess.

Death of Mrs. D. F. Shumway

Mrs. Jane (Baggs) Shumway, 81, wife of Belchertown's veteran tax collector, D. F. Shumway, died at her home on Main street last week Friday afternoon. Her last illness was of short duration, although she had been in ill health since the shock she suffered five years ago. In spite of her disability, however, she had been able to help her husband considerably in his town work.

Mrs. Shumway was the daughter of Amasa and Ann (Alexander) Baggs and was born on the C. P. Baggs place in the Turkey Hill district Dec. 7, 1847. She was married to Mr. Shumway in 1867. For 33 years they lived in Turkey Hill, moving to the center in 1899. She joined the Congregational church 61 years ago and was also a member of Union grange and of the Pomona grange. Her life centered largely in her home where children and grandchildren ever delighted to

The "best seller" of the year is about to come from the press. Its authorship and contents are alike various. It is a dictionary of facts and a compendium of "Who's who"; it gives statistics and sermons; it pictures the past and looks toward the future; in brief, it is the universally desired Town Report.

"Who's who" is noted in the first of the book, all the town officers, elected or appointed.

Then the history of the year be-

Death of Mrs. C. H. Egleston

Mrs. Chloe Lucretia (Baker) Egleston, 87, wife of Charles H. Egleston died at 3.15 Sunday morning. She broke her hip about five years ago and her arm two years later and since then had been in failing health.

She was born at Andover, Ct., the daughter of John and Rebecca (Williams) Baker. She came to Massachusetts 40 years ago and with Mr. Egleston, to whom she was married in June, 1897, she came to Belchertown from Northampton 22 years ago. She was a member of the Methodist church of this place and of the Ladies' Social Union, being active in the work of the organization until her ill health confined her to a quiet home life.

Besides her husband she leaves a brother, Adelbert Baker of Amherst, one daughter, Mrs. Charles Lomer of Orlando, Fla., and six grandchildren, Mrs. Charles Rhodes and Frederick Lincoln of this town; Charles Lincoln of St. Cloud, Fla.; Miss Alice Lincoln of Rockville, Ct., and Misses Geraldine and Mabel Lincoln of Meriden, Ct. There are also 12 great grandchildren.

The funeral was held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the home, Rev. Rockwell Smith officiating. Mrs. Clarinda Shaw sang, "Abide with Me," and "Lead, Kindly Light." The bearers were Frederick Lincoln, J. Howell Cook, Fred Baker and Albert Bosworth. Burial was in the Bridge street cemetery at Northampton.

Tested 100 Per Cent.

Nelson C. Holland and the caretaker of his farm, Guernsey Lauber, are receiving congratulations on the fact that the herd of ten Guernseys on that place was tested for tuberculosis by the state last week and came through 100 per cent. perfect. Mr. Holland had anticipated considerable "weeding," but was determined to have a quality herd. The result therefore was very gratifying.

All ten animals were raised on the place during the last seven years. Three fine thoroughbred Guernseys were added to the herd by purchase yesterday.

gather. Here the couple received their friends a year ago last summer at the time of their 60th wedding anniversary.

She leaves besides her husband, a sister, Mrs. Warren G. Fuller of Ludlow, four children, Henry C. Shumway of Amherst, Mrs. Stella J. Sauer of South Amhert, Edwin F. Shumway of this town. and Louis Shumway, who is away. There are also eight grandchildren.

The funeral was held at the home Sunday afternoon at 2 and was largely attended. Rev. F. C. Rolls officiated, being assisted by Rev. C. H. Smith of Granby. Mrs. Clarinda Shaw sang, "Under His Wings," and, "Lead, Kindly Light." The bearers were Henry C. Shumway of Amherst, W. A. Sauer of South Amherst, and Edwin F. Shumway and Edgar Shumway of this town. Burial was in the family lot in Mt. Hope cemetery.

gins, starting with the warrant for the last annual town meeting, giving the result of the election and the action taken on each article.

The town clerk continues with the vital statisites, 27 births, 54 deaths and 37 marriages, together with the number of dog licenses issued, 337, and sporting and trapping licenses, 182.

The treasurer's report shows cash on hand Dec. 31, 1928, $6,475.64, and expenditures amounting to $143,143.77.

The assessors' report shows a decrease from last year in the number of acres of land assessed, in the number of horses, in the number of "neat cattle other than cows," while the one lone sheep of last year has entirely disappeared. The 47 swine of last year have become 97 hogs, while the fowls have increased from 13,490 to 32,211. There are also a few more cows assessed this year.

The report of the tax collector shows he has collected $38,575.40 of the 1928 tax, with a balance of $18,967.35 still due on last year's assessment.

The sealer of weights and measures gives a list of work done and incidentally notes 159 stops in sealing 29 gas pumps, 5 oil pumps and 4 kerosene pumps.

The itemized report of receipts and expenditures follows with its usual clear statement of facts. Statisticians may delve here to their hearts' content. It is also a directory of the laborers of the town, although they are not arranged in alphabetical order.

The cemetery commissioners report the expenditure of all of the $375 appropriated except $1.65, while the unexpended interest on invested funds amounts to $157.88.

The balance sheet of the town accountant, the summary of appropriations, transfers, expenditures and balances, the list of bills outstanding Dec. 31, 1928, the town debt statemen and the reserve fund transfers provide further statistical material for one with leisure mind.

The selectmen report that the work of the year included perambulating the town lines between Belchertown, Amherst, Enfield, Pelham and Ludlow, and marking the boundary stones; the disposal of the town farm property and the placing of the inmates elsewhere, the work on the Ludlow road with completion of a little more than a mile of macadam surface; and the present effort to have the state take over the expense of filling in or oherwise removing the bridge over the Hampden R. R. near the Bowler farm on the Ludlow road. It has been estimated "that it will cost about three thousand dollars to remove the bridge and restore the highway to its former course." It would seem logical that neither Belchertown nor Ludlow should be burdened with this expense but that it should be met by the state which granted a franchise to the now defunct Hamp-

News has been received in town of the death of Mrs. Julia Walker in Maynard. She was the widow of the late Emory Walker and a native of this town. She retained her membership in the local Congregational church until her death, being one of the two oldest members.

Emory Munsell, who underwent an operation on his eye recently, is confined to his bed at the home of his brother-in-law, Arthur Barnes of Feeding Hills.

Miss Ella Nelson of the Shriners' hospital, Springfield, spent the week-end with Mrs. J. R. Newman, with whom she formerly made her home.

Joseph Noel has received news of the death of a cousin, Mrs. Philias Demers of Saskatchewan.

Miss Alice Putnam of Southampton is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Putnam.

Several in the families of C. L. Hubbard and Eugene Eaton are sick with grip. Mrs. Eaton is sick in Fairview where she went to care for members of her son's family.

Ice of extra quality is being gathered from Isaac's pond by ten farmers of the Turkey Hill district.

Another great event for Turkey Hill has come and passed. J. W. Hurlburt has taken his annual ice water bath. Yea, verily, the wicked do stand in slippery places. The sensation is rather startling as one begins to sink with the thermometer several degrees below. We have this straight from Jason and we do not doubt his words.

Sermons in Song

By Rev. Rockwell Smith

Lincoln held continents upon his shoulders,
Lincoln held states together in his heart;
Lincoln had hours of toil and ceaseless worry,
Yet he had time to play the "better part."

Lincoln had time to stroke the hair
Of soldiers who were dying,
Lincoln had time for smiles and prayer,
Lincoln had time for crying.
Still we run to and fro in selfish scurry,
We think that wealth and pleasure are sublime.
When next you see a tattered youngster crying,
Remember as you pass—Lincoln had time.

Food, Faith and Friendship Night

Last Friday evening over 70 people from Belchertown, Boston, Granby, Greenfield, Ludlow, and West Springfield enjoyed the Food, Faith and Friendship Night at the Methodist church vestry. About 700 others spent the evening and the subsequent two days vainly wishing that they had gone.

Now just because you weren't there, we don't want you to feel utterly ruined and cast down. Remember there is always another Friday ahead. Sell those extra cows, or buy a milking machine so that you can be there this Friday evening. You'll never regret it.

Another good supper will be served, an Old Fashioned ——— Supper. Mystery is in the air and will be on the tables. After the supper, remember the "sing". Come and sing those songs that you learned in Sunday School years ago. Bring the youngsters. The pastor will answer the question, "When does a man begin to live?"

This week we will have a big game period under the guidance and direction of Mr. Harold Peck. He will teach some of our 70-year old youngsters how to play. You don't want to miss this. You don't need to. Be there at 6.30, or if you can't come to supper, drop in for the rest of the evening. We give you "Fun for the Full Family."

Program at the M. E. Church

There was an attendance of about 75 at the Food, Faith and Friendship night at the Methodist church last week Friday evening. The play, put on by both local and out of town talent, provided much merriment for the audience who found it difficult to recognize their best friends disguised in their Negro make-up.

Harry Grindle of Springfield was "Uncle Eben," the play being entitled "Uncle Eben's Surprise Party." William French of Granby took the leading part and introduced the characters in turn. Others in the cast were: "Aunt Dinah," Mrs. Ada Metska of North Amherst; "Miss Toogood," Miss Eleanor Metska; "Mr. Highbinder," Harlan Davis; "Mrs. Highbinder," Miss Irene Metska; "Mr. Corncob," Alfred Putnam; Miss Caroline Lillybud," Miss Alberta Grindle; "Mr. and Mrs. Absolum Meeker," Mr. and Mrs. Harry Putnam; "Mr. Whitefoot," Wallace Metska; "Mrs. Whitefoot," Mrs. Harry Grindle. two little dancers, Arlene Metska and Edith Putnam. Considerable music, both vocal and instrumental, formed a part of the program at the "surprise party."

Mrs. Grindle was in charge of the roast pork supper served at 6.30. At the devotional service following, Rev. Rockwell Smith spoke on "What Does Religion Mean?" while Mr. Smith, Sr., led the singing.

Sporting Notes

The Belchertown Idependents opened their basketball season Wednesday night in Northampton, playing the Y. M. C. A. of that city, who defeated them by the score of 37 to 25. The local players scored as follows: A. Dorey, 10 points, Camp 7, Shumway 2, Allen 2, and Rhodes 4.

The Easthampton game scheduled for last Saturday night was called off on account of sickness among the players on the Easthampton team.

Tonight the Independents will meet the U. S. Veterans' Hospital basketball team at the local town hall at 8 p. m. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance at this game.

Grange Notes

There was a good attendance at Union grange Tuesday evening. A farce, "A Disturbance in the Brown Family," was given and refreshments of cocoa and cake were served by the young people who had the evening in charge. George Booth was assisted by an able committee. Seven visitors were present.

The grange voted to accept the invitation to attend the morning service at the M. E. church Sunday, Feb. 24.

Town Items

New lighting fixtures of a modern type have been installed in the chapel auditorium. There are three ceiling lights, and two wall lights to the rear of the pulpit. The effect is very pleasing. These improvements were brought about as a result of action taken by the men of the church at their last monthly supper.

Among out of town relatives present for the funeral of Miss Helen Shuttleworth were Mrs. John Sherberg and son, Victor, and Mrs. Stark of Providence, R. I., and Mrs. Nylen of Worcester.

The first regular monthly combined service of the Y. P. S. C. E. and the church was held in the chapel Sunday evening. Miss Esther Squires presided and was assisted by Miss Marie Baggs who offered prayer and Louis Fuller who read the scripture. Rev. F. C. Rolls gave a sermon of special interest to young people.

Mrs. Fred Hillman and Mrs. Walter Pike of Dalton are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy M. Blackmer of East Walnut street, caring for Mrs. Blackmer, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Blackmer and son, Howard, all of whom have been ill this week with the flu.

The recount of the vote for selectmen last night failed to change the result.

den R. R. The selectmen close their report with a recommendation for the purchase of suitable road machinery.

The trustees of Clapp Memorial library express appreciation for the 1928 appropriation of $500 which was used to purchase a furnace for the building. They are not asking for an appropriation for 1929.

The school report takes up most of the remainder of the book. We reprint here a few significant paragraphs.

FROM SUPT. KNIGHT:

During the year there has come to the attention of the superintendent many things which have given him cause for being encouraged in the work. Some of them are these: The improvement in punctuality in the High school during the fall term; the work on the school paper which the pupils are putting out under the direction of Miss Inman, with the assistance of the teacher and pupils in the commercial department; the school lunch, which is a real success, due to Miss Conklin's planning and general supervision.

In the elmentary schools: The improvement in attendance at the Union school is particularly noticeable; at Washington, Miss Madeleine Orlando has been instrumental in having a 100 per cent. participation in milk consumption at lunch time; at Franklin, Liberty and Center schools, correct personal habits, which have to do with having a handerchief, clean face, hands and finger nails, hair combed and brushed, have been emphasized. The participation in 4-H club work, under the leadership of their teachers, is forming an important part of the training of the pupils at Cold Spring, Liberty and Franklin schools. At the latter school, the work is greatly varied, and the exhibits, given by the club members, deserve especial mention. At the Center schools, work in the Palmer system of writing has been stressed, and in all the schools, the interest in spelling is worthy of special commendation.

FROM PRIN. ALLEN:

The school activities of a social and athletic nature have been well directed and maintained. Last spring our ball team performed creditably. So far the basketball team is doing well. We do not expect to win every game. We do hope to play to our limit a clean, fast, hard game, ever keeping in view good sportsmanship.

The home and its training are, after all, vital in the pupil's life. On the home rests in greatest measure training in appreciation of the virtues, reliability, honesty, truth, sobriety, consideration of the rights and property of others, respect and veneration of their elders and superiors. In short the future civic, moral and spiritual life of the individual centers in the home.

The support and co-operation of all engaged with me in the daily duties of school are much appreciated.

FROM MISS CONKLIN:

The foods work has included a variety of activities that are the practical tests of knowledge gained in class. Among these are the class luncheons that summarize the class lessons in a well-rounded meal, the serving of formal dinners to the Belchertown and Enfield school committees and superintendent and the Greenwich school committee and superintendent, and the serving of the first senior class banquet. This banquet was entirely a class project in which the Household Arts department featured as a community unit. The exhibit of foods canned in school received a substantial gratuity at the town fair.

The Annual Town Meeting

Shortly before 7.30 p. m. Monday night, Town Clerk Mrs. Emma Green ascended the platform at Memorial hall and at the appointed hour read the warrant to the assembled audience, an act heretofore reserved for men only.

Art. 1

Thomas Allen was chosen moderator and in accordance with custom immemorial desired to open the meeting with prayer. Apparently it was no place for a minister to be, and messengers dispatched in search of two different clergymen reported one absent from home and the other unable to leave. Accordingly the meeting opened with the recital of the Lord's prayer in unison.

Art. 2

Mrs. Lillian Kelley and Mrs. Amy Witt were re-elected almoners of the Whiting Street and the Mrs. Susan M. D. Bridgman funds, each for one year, while Myron H. Ward was chosen to succeed the late Harry H. Ward as trustee of the Calvin Bridgman fund for three years.

Art. 3

The reports of the officers of the town and any committees appointed were accepted as printed, the chair ruling that the motion did not include the last report in the book, that of the finance committee.

Art. 4

H. B. Ketchen, chairman of the finance committee, obtained the floor and, referring to the town by-laws which require that a motion containing an appropriation be presented in writing, spoke of the difficulty experienced in other years in obtaining these written motions quickly enough not to delay matters overmuch and as a possible way out of the difficulty he made the motion that the amounts as recommended by the finance committee and printed in the town reports be considered as written motions, but that each amount be acted upon separately. This motion was carried.

The 40, more or less, recommendations of the finance committee as printed on pages 108 and 109 of the town report were then taken up, one by one. Nearly all of these recom-

Leeds Noses Out Belchertown

By Noel

The Belchertown Independents epened their home season last Friday night by losing to the Leeds Hospital five in one of the closest games ever witnessed on the local court, by a score of 36 to 35. From whistle to whistle, both teams played hard and fast, and the few spectators certainly got their money's worth. Victory for the Independents would have been assured if more supporters had turned out to cheer them on in the waning moments of the game.

Bostic led the visitors' offense by scoring seven floor baskets. "Bud" Dorey and Rhodes featured for the home team by caging nine points each. The remainder of the team played a wonderfully strong defensive game. Summary:

The management of the Independent basket ball team is planning to play its home games during the latter nights of the week. Although they have yet to win a game, the local team, which is made up entirely of home talent, has certainly made a fine showing in its first two starts. It is expected that supporters of the team will turn out in large numbers at future games, which is a great asset in urging the home "boys" on to victory.

Power of Silence

It is our habit to associate power with noise. Our English word "power" comes from the Greek word "dunamis" from which we get our word "dynamite", and dynamite suggests noise. We are apt to conclude that the greater the power, the greater the noise.

But sometimes there is greater power in silence. The power of silence was brought home very vividly to us the first time the period of silence was observed on Armistice Day. The most impressive part of the day, many declared, was not the speaking nor the singing, but the period of silence when not a wheel turned, nor a sound could be heard save the beating of one's own heart. We seemed to be living in a new world when all sounds were hushed.

In some of the greatest moments of our lives we are quiet. Silence is more powerful than words. We know, too, that group silence is more powerful than individual silence.

One reason why silence is so powerful is because then we can meditate. It is hard to meditate. That is why we do it so little. It is easier to converse with people or to read a book. If one would meditate, there must be no disturbance about him. No person's mind can be thoroughly active and forth putting in the midst of a hubbub.

Another reason why silence is so powerful is that in silence we can listen. Who can hear the beautiful chimes on a busy street corner where literally a thousand sounds ring in the ear? In the quiet forest we can hear the hum of the bees and the song of the birds.

There is a power in silence. That was one of the things which made our president a power.

—R.

Sermons in Song

By Rev. Rockwell Smith

When February comes around,
It brings to us a day
We all delight to celebrate
In a peculiar way.

Each bashful beau presents to her
Who reigns queen of his heart,
A picture of that organ with
A bit of rhymster's art.

Each lovely lady in the land
Blushes when she has seen
Thus anatomically displayed
The realm where she is queen.

Now Jesus loves each one of us;
Friend? would it not be fine
To give our hearts anew to Him,
To be His Valentine?

mendations were carried, although there was a determined effort to reduce many of the appropriations.

The first one to be cut down was the salary of the selectmen. This has been $100 each for many years, and the finance committee recommended that it be placed at $200 each, which including expenses, would amount to $775 in all, but the meeting turned it down and accepted the motion of Frank L. Gold to raise $475, the former amount.

When it came to voting upon the salary of the tax collector, Courtland G. Bartlett, he asked that $575 be appropriated instead of $510 as formerly. He explained that because of the excise tax on automobiles there would be 400 extra tax bills this year, and also called their attention to the extra work involved in collecting $20,000 on last year's taxes in addition to the levy of the present year. The meeting voted 53 to nine to raise the $575 asked for, $400 for salary and $175 for expenses.

In regard to the appropriation for the fire department, the finance committee explained that following the hotel and the mill fires, considerable new hose had to be bought and since there were outstanding bills of around $600, they were recommending $1,050 to be raised for this purpose instead of the $400 of last year, which was also an increase over their printed recommendation of $800. Although this appropriation of $1,050 evoked some opposition, it was finally carried.

The appropriation of $400 for moth suppression was argued pro and con, as at last year's meeting. A letter received from the forestry division last summer was read, which stated that although the town could be required to pay $814.75, yet the state had been satisfied with the work done in previous years under a smaller appropriation, but that the sum of $100 as voted at the last town meeting could not be accepted.

The first of a series of Pastor's Lenten Instruction classes, under the leadership of Rev. F. C. Rolls was held at the chapel directly after school yesterday. The plan is to hold meetings each Thursday at the same hour.

The men's organization of the Congregational church will hold their regular monthly meeting Monday evening at the chapel. Supper will be served at 6.30, with a program of fun to follow. This is Ladies' Night, each gentleman having the privilege of bringing one lady.

The selectmen have arranged with Thomas Austin for a public dump, located on the first cart road to the right below the South cemetery.

In answer to the question as to the amount of work really accomplished, G. C. Allen said that 4,280 egg clusters were found. Evidently the meeting considered the moth work worth $400 and voted that amount.

The recommendation of $1,000 for "streets and snow removal" caused Thomas Hanifin to ask, "What streets are to be removed?"

STREET LIGHTS

Perhaps the amount to be raised for street lights was as much a bone of contention as any. Mr. Ketchen told of the meeting with a representative of the electric light company in an effort to secure better lighting and lower rates. They found that $2.50 additional for each light, or $200 more in all, would give the center, (including Federal St.) all night lighting for the year. He also called attention to the new light at the post office corner which had been put there for the people's examination. If $100 more was appropriated it would give the center four of these lights, in addition to the all night lighting, and accordingly they recommended raising $2,120 for street lights. Mr. Gold spoke in opposition and made the motion that the sum of $1,822.50 be raised, the same as last year. E. C. Witt seconded the effort being made to reduce the amount of appropriations, saying that although we are the richest country in the world, we are one of the poorest towns in the commonwealth, and quoted Gov. Fuller as to some towns going bankrupt. He said, "We don't need it. $20,000 of last year's taxes remains unpaid. We ought to go mighty slow." Accordingly the recommendation of $2,120 was lost, likewise that for $2,020, and the motion for $1,822.50 was carried.

But almost immediately there was a motion to reconsider, the argument being that there were only two towns in our district which did not have all night lighting and that part of our town, Bondsville, already had it. A rising vote of 79 to 60 carried the motion to reconsider, and this time the motion for $1,822.50 was lost by a vote of 81 to 66, while the motion for $2,050 was carried by a vote of 83 to 35.

The $1,000 recommended for bridges was cut to $750, the amount raised last year, Mr. Gold arguing that that amount would "buy a lot of plank and supply a lot of labor."

The appropriations for public welfare, for schools, unclassified, public dump, and insurance all brought forth questions and discussion, but were finally passed as recommended by the finance committee.

Art. 5

Peter Hanifin was elected director of the Hampshire Trustees for County Aid to Agriculture and the sum of $150 was appropriated.

Art. 6 and 7

Both were carried without debate, the latter being a unamimous vote of 120 to 0, in accordance with the expressed desires of the state in this case.

Art. 8

The proposed expenditure of $2,000 to continue the work on the Turkey Hill road moved Mr. Gold to expostulate against "these wild appropriations" and he asked for indefinite postponement on this article. Immediately Mr. Ketchen was on his feet to explain that this year we have an unusually good offer from the state. In other years when the town raises $2,000 and the county $2,000, the state matches it with $4,000, but this year Mr. Lyman of Easthampton is head of this department and being friendly toward Belchertown, we have a promise of $6,000 instead of the usual $4,000, making a total of $10,000 to be spent on the Turkey Hill road this year. Accordingly the motion for in definite postponement was turned down and the article was carried.

Art. 9

The sum of $100 was voted to install five lights on Federal street, thus extending the lighting system to W. H. Ballou's.

Art. 10

M. C. Baggs took the floor on this article and put before the company two propositions in regard to the purchase of a siren. He said that one with a single head would cost $500, $350 for the siren and $150 for installation and would be effective for a radius of one mile. For $100 more one with a double head could be bought which would have an effective radius of two miles and the cost of installation would be the same in either case. The plan would be to place it on Memorial hall with a button at the telephone office and another on the street, if it was desired. After some argument, it was voted to raise and appropriate the sum of $600 for a fire alarm signal.

Art. 11

An attempt was made to indefinitely postpone action on the purchase of road machinery, but the article came to its end along other lines, due to several reasons. First, there seemed to be no very definite conviction in any one's mind as to whether a truck, a tractor, or a one-man grader would best fit the town's needs. Secondly, there seemed to be no clear cut plan for financing the proposition. It was proposed to raise $600 and pay the balance of the $2,500 out of the earnings of the tractor or other piece of machinery, but no one seemed to be able to state just how the selectmen could arrange a time payment plan under this article as it stood at present. And thirdly, it was questioned whether it was good economy to purchase so expensive a piece of machinery and run the risk of its not being properly cared for and properly housed. Thus the article met defeat.

Art. 12

The question of a fence at the rear of Memorial hall came very near being indefinitely postponed, the first vote on the motion being a tie, 52 to 52, but on a second vote the meeting decided to face the issue. One faction felt that a fence was not only unnecessary but a positive "disgrace", but when it was explained that the fence would not be in front or even reach to the street, but would simply continue the present fence along the east and south boundary to the rear of Martin Crowe's house and after it had been stated by Mr. Scott that almost every school yard was enclosed by a fence, thus providing protection to both pupils and abuttors, the meeting finally voted to raise $230 for the fence.

Art. 13

This was a lost art. Unlucky, as its number signified. The argument in favor of reducing the number of constables from five to two was that with a chief of police appointed by the selectmen, the court fines would revert to Belchertown and also that the special police under the chief of police would have pay for their services. As it is now, a constable might be called out several times and yet receive no compensation. The opposition argued that the new plan placed too much power in the hands of the selectmen, that it was far more democratic that they be chosen by the people and advocated a larger rather than a smaller number. In fact the motion was amended to change the number from five to nine. Amendment and motion were both lost.

Art. 14

The selectmen announced the reappointment of Carl F. Aspengren and Daniel F. O'Connor to the finance committee. The meeting then adjourned, most of the audience being already halfway to the exit.

Food, Faith and Friendship Night

A scientific census recently taken among the agriculturally inclined inhabitants of the town of Belchertown indicates a surprising majority of individuals who prefer the fellowhip of cows and chickens to that of human beings. When interviewed as to this singular phenomena, Hiram Vendersmaher made the following statement: "My experience has been that fellowship and communion with cows is the only final basis for that ultimate sublimation of the intellect which we know as genius. Cows possess a singular spiritual element of character. A good cow is all a good man needs to be perfectly happy."

In contrast to Mr. Vendersmacher's radical position we have the liberals who enjoy human companionship. They will meet Friday evening at the Methodist church for the usual Food, Faith, and Friendship Night. Mrs. Metska will have charge of the supper. This is a community institution and everyone is welcome. Come, eat a good supper, meet some good friends, learn something good, have a good time.

Entertainment at State School

No picture in black and white could adequately depict the minstrel show and entertainment at the State school Wednesday evening. Black and white you would have to have, for there were some forty of those darkies with rolling eyes, but you'd want to sprinkle it liberally with yellow and red and blue to bring out their brilliant attire. And after the colors had all been woven in, you'd have to inject life into the picture somehow, to turn that impassive company into a swaying, beckoning, bantering bunch. Then finally you'd have to turn on the "talkies" and hear them sing their songs and crack their jokes. What a wealth of them there were and how perfectly they were synchronized.

The minstrel show was a show in itself, but part two with ten specialty numbers was thrown in for good measure.

There was the dignified, yet ridiculous court scene, the moonlight waltz with the moon and its shadow deftly put into the picture, the winning presentation of Sonny Boy, the eight steppers who appeared in novelty dances, the five irresistible harmonica boys, the skaters, the Apaches, and a scene on the battlefields of France where doughboys, automatics and an aeroplance, bombs and shrapnel combined to make a scene with a sizzling climax. This presentation lent itself to the ingenuity of the management in its presentation.

At the conclusion of the show movies of state school activities were shown, in which the feature section was the Fourth of July celebration that concluded with that never-to-be-forgotten pie eating contest.

The grand finale was a miscella-

Dies in Rockville Center, L. I.

Word has been received of the death Sunday of Mrs. Marie Munson (Davis) Thobaben, 35, at her home at Rockville Center, L. I., after an illness of ten years. She was the daughter of Robert A. and Libbie Porter Davis and was a descendant of one of the oldest families in town. She spent all her early life here, graduating from the local High school in 1911, and afterwards studying at a business school at Boston.

She worked for several years in an attorney's office in Springfield and was a member of St. Peter's church of that place. In August, 1922, she was married to George H. Thobaben, who survives her. She also leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Davis of Rockville Center, L. I., and a brother, Lawrence of Albany, N. Y. Mrs. Davis is also seriously ill at the home. The funeral was held Wednesday at Rockville Center. The body was cremated.

Mr. Burgess Acknowledges

Belchertown Sentinel
Belchertown, Mass.
Dear Mr. Blackmer:

Thank you much for the clippings in regard to the choosing of the state birds. I note by today's paper that an attempt to have the Goldfinch chosen through legislative action failed.

At the time I started this radio vote I was not aware that such a measure was contemplated. I think it would be a fine thing if all the papers in the state would take the matter up and so get a reasonably fair expression of opinion.

It may interest you to know that, while the Robin started off well in the lead, Bob-white has jumped away into the lead now.

Thank you for boosting the idea along by publishing the Burnham letter. I shall be glad to have the results as they come in from time to time.

Cordially yours,
Thornton W. Burgess

25 Years With the Town Reports

It hardly seems possible that for 25 years Belchertown's annual town reports have borne the imprint of this office. In 1905 we had the audacity to ask the town fathers for the opportunity of printing this document, and strange to say, the request was granted. There was much trepidation in the inquiry, and there was some straight looking in the eye with its granting. But the late Dea. Nelson Randall, town father of town fathers, was benevolently kind in the matter. He took a venture with youth, and to our knowledge, never regretted it.

But the actual printing of the book was found to be an entirely different proposition from doing it theoretically. A 7 by 11 press allowed for the printing of only one page at a time, so each single fold of paper had to be fed through the press four times. It is a wonder that the paper stood up under the treatment, to say nothing of the poor leg that had to dance four times to each

The New Grain Mill

Belchertown people can well point with pride to the grain mill of Ryther & Warren that has arisen so speedily on the foundations of the structure that was burned last Sept. 28. Speedily hardly seems the word to those who have watched the work day by day, but considering the season of the year when the construction had to be carried on, and the necessary precision of machinery adjustments, the record has not been so bad.

Too often the story has been that the town has possessed one more cellar hole, which is little consolation save to those who live entirely in other days.

Now the machinery of the new mill drives merrily on, proud of the fact that it is the best in its class, even superceding that of the previous installation, and that is saying considerable.

The grinder and batch mixer are both of larger size than before, while

Food, Faith and Friendship Night

Man is a social animal. Solitary men are sick men. The only place where a man can be natural and solitary at the same time is the graveyard and the grave. Man was meant for his fellows and he finds his best self-expression among them. That is one of the many good reasons for your acceptance of the general invitation extended to you and your family to attend the Food, Faith and Friendship night in the Methodist vestry Friday evening.

Last Friday part of the folks had to wait for a second table. We are ordering another table this time that there may be room for everyone at once. Mrs. Booth will have charge of the supper and promises a repast worthy of the investment of a half hour's time. When you get up from the table you'll wonder why you haven't attended these suppers previously.

The prayer service will be devoted to a consideration of "Great Men and Good Men." This is particularly your religious service. Come and sing, pray, or offer your testimony. It is inspiring to think that here we may be God's guests and learn to serve Him in His Business.

The recreational period will be in charge of George Booth. Advance notices indicate that a play will be given. You won't want to miss this. Belchertown's budding actors and actresses will present another triumph. You will want to be there to enjoy the acting and applaud the actors.

We have missed you for the last few weeks but we have gotten along without you and have had splendid times. How have you gotten along without us? Better make attendance Friday evening a habit. Then you won't miss anything.

Sermons in Song

By Rev. Rockwell Smith

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

The Father of His Country,
We call him in these days;
We render tribute to his deeds
In many thousand ways.
But we forget the sleepless nights
And cruel work he had
When he was trying, oh so hard,
To be His Country's Dad.

How many nights he walked the floor
When this, his child, was crying,
How much of self he sacrificed
To keep Life's flame from dying,
How many times he risked his own
To save His Country's life,
How much of endless work he bore,
How much of ceaseless strife!

He camped in muddy ditches,
He fought with cakes of ice,
He took the Hell of things that were
And built a paradise;
He showed all fathers how to live,
He fought, he never ran;
He showed how much of grit it takes
To make a family man.

neous presentation in which "Old Amherst" was sung lustily in deference to the Amherst Rotary club and their wives who were guests of the evening.

It was the same old story over again. The guests were at first amused, but they went away amazed at what they had seen and heard. Dr. McPherson in a few preliminary remarks, told of the 884 pupils at the institution and spoke of their chief lack being buildings for proper accommodations. The doctor said the institution is essentially a school wherein play and work are emphasized. He called attention to the fact that the scenery and costumes were made at the school.

The show Wednesday evening was but another tribute to the ability and resourcefulness of Dr. Westwell, the master mind in the entertainment sphere at the school, and the musical department. It seems that as was the case with a previous production, this show will be given at the Northampton State hospital tonight.

Guests Wednesday evening were liberally supplied with original programs gotten up at the school. These were tied with red worsted and had hand decorated covers.

25 Years With the Town Reports

impression.

The town meetings were held the first Monday in March in those days, the books closing February 15.

But considerably before that, the town fathers lit up the fire in their den in the old town hall and trial balances were begun. Many a town official has taken a sweat of more than one kind in those friendly surroundings. There was no town accountant on the landscape 25 years ago, and the town fathers had to wrest out the right answers some way.

The copy came in seemingly slowly. Most of it was snatched from hesitant fingers at headquarters, the poor printer legging it at top speed to the dining room-printing office where each letter and figure was separately set into a form, later to be taken down for the next page or two of copy.

It was a laborious process, and although the number of pages was fewer than today (less than half), no more precious morsel ever went from the local shop than the town report of 1905.

The ballots for town elections have also been printed in the local shop for 25 years. We shall never forget how typically nervous Arthur Bridgman, the town clerk, was that first year or two. At every appearance up street, he would come out of the old brick store with, "You'll be sure and make it, won't you, 'Louis'." And each time some new constellation would fall in case we didn't.

Ballots have been printed in quantities varying from 500 to 1,000, while town reports started off at 500, rose to 850 with the advent of woman suffrage, and have now gone back to the modest sum of 600.

Probably no such record can be maintained in the future. We are simply writing of the past.

the cleaning devices are more highly developed. The product of the plant is veritably as clean as a whistle, no matter what the size or kind of ingredient, and as for a cow or chicken ever getting a dose of raw iron, that is impossible. Up in the elevator shaft a magnetized plate stretches a thousand invisible fingers into the product as it goes to the grinders, and nothing metallic escapes. It is most interesting to see what an assortment of bolts and screws this device turns up. Incidentally it saves the grinders, which could stomach no such fodder. Screeners grade the corn products to a nicety and blowers eliminate even a film of dust from the hard grains.

Those who inspect the plant get the biggest thrill when they go to the top of the elevator shaft and look down those nine yawning bins, any one of which holds a car and a half of grain. As one looks into the depth of an empty bin, he gets some faint idea of what solitary confinement might be.

The grain can be shunted into any one of the bins by manipulating ropes below, but one has got to know what he's up to when he's trying to pull off such a stunt. Likewise to tap the reservoir of power, one must know the combinations.

Spouting runs here, there and everywhere, the construction of which was the work of a highly specialized carpenter. The varying angles, and they surely vary—were brought together with amazing precision, while the inside was lined with galvanized iron.

Now everything in the mill is about ready for business and work will now begin on the shelving in the office. The office is the same width as before, but will extend the whole width of the building. Hardware and paints will be carried in greater variety than heretofore.

Not only is the new mill a monument as to what capital can do, but it throws into prominent relief the improvements that have been made in the industry. In the not remote past, a mill carried only a few staple grains, whereas today they are obtainable in great variety and are mixed with the skill of the apothecary.

It is to be hoped that the lease of life of this new building will be longer than that of its predecessor, and that the owners builded well for the future.

Safe-Cracking

If there is any safe-cracking in this vicinity in the coming days, H. H. Witt and C. H. Sanford will have to have some pretty good alibis ready. They admit breaking into the safe at the old town hall, but goodness knows they wanted to. For some reason the combination had repeatedly failed to respond and more kinds of remedies were thought up for the situation than were ever dreamed of for a balky horse. Hot applications and cold logic were thought of. What finally solved the riddle was one of the gentlemen adjusting the facial expression of the dial, while with a block of wood the other kept delivering the solar plexus.

Grange Notes

Union grange held its semi-monthly meeting Tuesday evening, which was observed as Patriots' Night. The program was in charge of Mrs. Myron G. Ward. The pageant, "Sacrificial Gardens," was interestingly presented, the following taking part: Mrs. Edwin F. Shumway as Mary Chilton in the Pilgrim period; Mrs. Leila S. Curtis as Abigail Adams in the Revolutionary period; Mrs. Harry W. Conkey as Julia Ward Howe in the Civil War period; Mrs. Harry Putnam as a Red Cross nurse; Mrs. Henry Witt in the modern period. Mrs. Ada C. Goodell and Mrs. Frances Moore were the readers and after each episode special music was rendered by Mrs. Ellen Sanford and Mrs. Pearl Green, the songs being appropriate to the period represented. Following the pageant, Mrs. Moore gave a reading, "When Grandma Danced the Minuet," illustrated by Miss Rachel Randall in costume. A reading by Mrs. Ada Goodell and solos by Mrs. Pearl Green completed the evening's entertainment.

The grange will join in the service of the Methodist church next Sunday morning. Former members of the organization will also be welcome. It has been requested that all meet at the vestry five minutes before the prelude and march in together.

There will be no card party next week, but the next in the series of dances will be held Friday evening at Grange hall.

Town Items

The nearness of Valentine's day colored the activities of the food, faith and friendship night at the M. E. church last Friday evening, beginning with the heart-shaped cookies which with ice cream formed the desert at the hash supper, and ending with a Valentine day game, in which William French won first prize for pinning on a heart in the correct place, and Miss Marie Baggs the booby prize.

The entertainment also included a reading in Negro dialect by Mrs. Grindle, and a play, "One House Too Many," in which Alfred Putnam took the part of the professor who trained the ghosts, the Misses Eleanor and Irene Metska and Miss Alberta Grindle, while William French and Wallace Metska were two Negros with a quite normal fear of the "ghosts." Games followed the program, the "Man, crab and monkey" stunt furnishing considerable diversion, Miss Metska featuring as a crab. Rev. Rockwell Smith spoke on "Smiles and Laughter" during the devotional service. Mrs. Metska was in charge of the supper.

The postponed Social Guild supper will be held next Wednesday evening at the chapel with the same committee in charge. An entertainment will follow the supper.

Eight tables were in play at the military whist party held at Memorial hall Monday evening under the auspices of the auxiliary to the Sons of Union Veterans. High scorers were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grindle, Mrs. Archie Bishop and Herbert F. Curtis. Low scorers were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ayers, Mrs. Sarah Dunbar and J. Howell Cook. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served. The committee in charge were Mrs. L. E. Williams, Mrs. L. W. Ayers, Mrs. Robert E. Chamberlain and Mrs. W. S. Piper.

The Doric club held its annual meeting Wednesday evening and elected the following officers: President, Everett A. Geer; vice president, Guy C. Allen; secretary, L. W. Ayers; treasurer, Dr. James L. Collard; trustees, Milton C. Baggs, Roy G. Shaw and Wiliam E. Shaw.

The Ladies' Social Union thimble party will meet at the home of Mrs. E. E. Gay Wednesday, February 27. Mr. Gay will meet the bus at Shumway's corner.

Under the leadership of the new chief of the fire department, M. C. Baggs, renewed interest is being taken in that organization. Last week a clean-up was staged at the engine house.

Ladies' Night

It was Ladies' Night at the regular monthly meeting and supper of the men's organization of the Congregational church Monday evening. The ladies came at the first pop of the question, never doubting but what "pop" could prepare potatoes and other products pleasing to the palate and put on a program permeated with punch.

The heroes of the evening, crowned with sawed-off paper bag hats, beneath which springs of sweat soon started, were dimly discernable in their kitchen den. At the close of the feast, for it was such—roast beef, mashed potatoes, turnip, cake, ice cream—the audience demanded that the committee be brought out. They were finally lured from their lair, revealing M. C. Baggs, E. L. Schmidt and J. L. Collard, who were given three cheers, following which the ladies received an equal number.

Social Guild Supper

The Social Guild went serenely ahead with their supper of Wednesday evening, 48 hours after the men had done so gloriously. Probably the attendance was some less by reason of the crowded calendar, but there was a good number present. The supper featured American chop suey, salads and delicious accessories. The committee in charge was Mrs. Frank Rhodes, Mrs. H. C. Knight, Mrs. G. E. Scott and Mrs. J. Howell Cook.

Following the supper an entertainment in charge of Mrs. Hattie Taylor was rendered as follows:

Firemen Organize

M. C. Baggs, newly appointed fire chief, has organized a Firemen's Association for social purposes and a Fire Department for business.

Three meetings have been held, and some time each evening has been spent in repairing, cleaning and polishing equipment. The building has been locked and 18 keys have been given to the firemen. Previously, equipment has been borrowed or gasoline stolen from the fire trucks. The new plan is to have only firemen drive trucks or handle equipment, except by order of the chief.

Our chief has visited near-by stations, and by information gained from trained firemen, is endeavoring to make 18 men of more value in an emergency when team work is needed than individuals working out their own ideas.

A dance will be held March 18th, the proceeds to go towards the purchase of hats and coats.

Regular meetings of the Firemen's Association will be held the last Monday of the month.

Fife Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. George Fife of Bay Road celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last week Saturday. A special mass was held at St. Froncis church at 9 a. m., following which the party went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fife's son, Joseph Fife of Federal St. Here an elaborate buffet lunch was served and a general good time enjoyed, which lasted into the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fife were very pleasantly surprised by the gift of $150 in gold, presented on behalf of the company by Emile Mengel of Holyoke, a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Fife.

The couple were married in Malone, N. Y., and later moved to Holyoke, Mass., where for 14 years Mr. Fife was employed as a steam fitter. The family moved to Belchertown about 13 years ago to the farm on the Bay road, where they have since lived and worked.

Mr. and Mrs. Fife are both 70 years of age, and on this their 50th wedding anniversary, find themselves in very good health.

Mr. and Mrs. Fife have four children, Mrs. Adelard Dusette of Holyoke, George Fife of Maywood, Ill.; Mrs. Oscar Mengel of Holyoke and Joseph Fife of this town. All but the son in Illinois were present for the celebration.

Many called during the day to tender congratulations, probably between 60 and 75 being present for the festivities.

Sermons in Song

By Rev. Rockwell Smith

One day as I was fishing
The waters of a brook,
I felt a most amazing tug
Upon my hook.

I thought that a Leviathan
Was there and pulled with zeal.
Out of the water came my catch,
A wriggling eel.

He wriggled when I caught him,
He wriggled as he died.
He wriggled when I cut him up,
He wriggled as he fried.

He never thought of giving up,
He wriggled in the pan.
In all life's strife I want to be
An eel-like man.

Food, Faith and Friendship Night

Last week Friday evening some of the best examples of plain and fancy eating ever offered in Belchertown were presented at the tables in the Methodist vestry. The all-time champions were there and did some vigorous eating. Records were hung up which will not be matched for a long time. In spite of this fact you are invited to the Food, Faith and Friendship night at the Methodist church Friday evening at 6.30. Here you will all be given a chance to challenge the record holders.

The men of the church are giving this supper and promise that they will guarantee to make up in quantity any temporary lapses in quality. They will of course be amateurish and experimental, but they expect some startling developments. Come and eat and be surprised at the results. Who knows what may happen?

The usual prayer meeting will follow the supper. You will want to be there. It is a fine place to talk over your problems and to get religion in on the ground floor of your life. This is peculiarly your religious service. We worship together the Christ, our common Master. With Him everyone can feel at home. Friday evening the pastor will discuss "The Tree Climbing Christian."

Mr. Dick French will have charge of the games and promises all the usual pep and fun. Ask anyone who attends if they enjoy the games. Everyone acts as if they did. The entertainment will be a story of the vigorous days of the west. You won't want to miss any of this service; don't.

America, the Beautiful

Two people, one a woman, the other a man, have given me recently a vision of our country that thrills by its beauty. The woman showed the beauty of America in the measured lines of a hymn, each stanza of which sketches a feature of our landscape or history that is inspiring because of its beauty and reality, and each stanza closes with a refrain that reflects the high idealism of our most earnest prayers for our beloved land.

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

O beautiful for pilgrim feet,
Whose stern, impassioned stress
A thoroughfare for freedom beat
Across the wilderness!
America! America!
God mend thy every flaw,
Confirm thy soul in self-control,
Thy liberty in law.

O beautiful for heroes proved
In liberating strife,
Who more than self their country loved,
And mercy more than life!
America! America!
May God thy gold refine
Till all success be nobleness,
And every gain divine!

O beautiful for patriot dream
That sees beyond the years
Thine Alabaster cities gleam
Undimmed by human tears!
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

Katharine Lee Bates

In the prose of a campaign speech the man showed me a picture of the beauty of America that thrills me also.

"My conception of America is a land where men and women may walk in ordered freedom in the independent conduct of their occupations; where they may enjoy the advantages of wealth, not concentrated in the hands of the few but spread through the lives of all, where they build and safeguard their homes, and give to their children the fullest advantages and opportunities of American life; where every man shall be respected in the faith that his conscience and his heart direct him to follow; where a contented and happy people, secure in their liberties, free from poverty and fear, shall have the leisure and impulse to seek a fuller life. It is to these higher ideals and for these purposes that I pledge myself and the Republican Party."

Herbert Hoover

Now do not allow the divergent forms of these conceptions of America to conceal their agreement in testimony to the beauty of America. Emerson once said, "If we look wider, all things are alike." It is the wider look that discovers unity in apparent diversity. The beauty of our country as the "land of liberty" is expressed by the lines:

"A thoroughfare for freedom beat
Across the wilderness."

He who takes the wider look finds a like appreciation of beauty in the conception of America as "a land where men and women may walk in ordered freedom in the independent conduct of their occupations." Ponder the sources of my vision and you will feel its beauty and inspiration. The closing of hymn and speech are impressive. The refrain:

"America! America!
God send his grace on thee" is like a church bell sounding the hour of prayer, and the speaker's earnest words: "It is to these higher ideals and purposes that I pledge myself" is a trumpet call to rally to his support as in his high office he seeks to guard and increase the beauty of America.

February 22nd Program

Mrs. Melvin Ayers has received word that her brother, Earl H. Bard, who returned from France ten years ago, has just been honored with a medal from the battle of Verdun. Mr. Bard is at the National Soldiers' Home in Maine.

A holiday crowd of over 100 attended the Food, Faith and Friendship night at the Methodist church last week Friday evening. Mrs. C. E. Booth was in charge of the fine supper which began with escalloped oysters and ended with cakes decorated with the Washington cherry tree fruit.

The program following opened with a community sing, led by Rev. Rockwell Smith, who was assisted by his brother, Esmond Smith of Greenfield. The subject of the devotional talk was "Great Men and Good Men," Mr. Smith stating that the common denominator of all real greatness is goodness; that no one has a corner on goodness, for even an idiot can be a good idiot. The Bible used in the service was one printed in 1864, just 64 years old.

The social hour opened with a play, "A Disturbance in the Brown Family." The cast was as follows:

"Mr. Brown" George Booth
"Mrs. Brown" Miss Eleanor Matska
"George Brown," their son Howard Snow
"Bridget," the Irish maid Miss Alberta Grindle
Fireman Harlan Davis
Policeman Alfred Putnam

A series of lively games closed the evening's program, the young people leaving off with great reluctance when it was announced, "Time to go home."

Guests were present from Springfield, Greenfield, Pelham, Enfield, Granby, Salem, North Amherst, West Springfield, Boston, Hatfield, Barre, Williamsburg, and Stamford, Conn.

4-H Sewing Club

A 4-H sewing club has been formed under the leadership of Miss Esther Squires, a graduate of the B. H. S. from the Household Arts department. The first meeting was held Wednesday afternoon and the following officers elected:

President Myrtle Greene
Vice President Helen Aldrich
Secretary Eva Ward

The club was started through the efforts of Miss Blanche Spurr of the County Extension Service.

Belchertown Trounces Leeds A. C.

The Belchertown Independents journeyed to Leeds on Friday evening and overthrew the crack Leeds A. C. by the score of 41-29. The Leedsmen were off at the first whistle and rolled up a commanding lead of 14 points before the Independents had a chance to score. Belchertown called time and after a brief rest came back "rarin' to go." Through Shumway's good tapping at center and the fast pass work of his running mates, the home-towners were able to chalk up 21 points before the half ended. Only once again did Leeds threaten, when Clevin missed a free try which would have tied the score. Belchertown again hit their stride and caged 20 points while Leeds had to be content with 15.

So far this season Camp and A. Dorey are tied for high scoring honors with 33 points each. Menard and Rhodes are close on their heels.

The management wishes to announce that a game will be played this Friday in the town hall with Ware. Watch the advertising posters and support your home-town boys!

On Board "Blue Heaven"

Dear Lewis:

I want to give you a few experiences, beginning back at Belchertown.

I had some difficulty in finding a congenial pal. I talked with many people who would liked to have gone. They had so many "don'ts" and "can'ts" that I decided to buy a quantity of excuse books at the ten cent store to hand the other ones. Finally I advertised for a companion to tour Florida. I got a quantity of replies from a lot of cripples and several antique people. One very interesting one was from a nurse about 35 years old. She said she could cook and drive, and if I was sick, could cure me. She did not smoke or chew. I have not yet found out whether she was wet or dry.

At this point a gentleman near by offered me free advice. He said we had one loud speaker in our car, connected with the radio, which could be shut off simply by turning the switch and advised me against getting something beyond our control. We might get hold of the wrong switch and turn it on instead of off.

However, I found a young man from Ludlow with no question about the wet or dry issue. We started last Thursday and got as far as Meriden, Conn. Parked at a fine, up-to-date filling station without any cost. Had fine roads with very little snow.

Next day we parked near Newark, N. J. The snow was entirely gone there. The third day we parked in Oxford, Pa. The next day we started out and saw the first turkey buzzards around Baltimore, Md., also a quantity of white wood trees. The fourth day we made Alexandria, Va. Next we put up at Petersburg, Va., also parking free for the night at a fine filling station.

The following day we went 25 miles out of our way to get our mail in Oxford, N. C. Then we went to Raleigh, N. C., and parked for the night at a filling station on a farm. A mighty fine old Southerner ran it. He was much pleased when we showed him the house car. He said we had a right smart trick. He runs a little canning factory and he sent his little girl in for a two quart can of peaches, which he said was a free sample. He told us about selling a crop of sweet potatoes for twenty-five cents a bushel.

These Southern people are very kind and courteous. One man we hired to fix our radio. He worked for two hours and charged us only fifty cents. And when we told him how pleased we were, he said, "You all come over and have a drink with me." Which we did.

Next morning for breakfast we had grapefruit, and dropped eggs on toast. At noon we had potatoes, steak, lettuce and pie. For supper we had prunes, cereal and pie.

We saw the first palm tree outside of Charleston, S. C. The peas are about four inches up out of the ground. The cotton fields started outside of Virginia and we are still going through them. We went through a large peanut growing section in Virginia and North Carolina. We ran into the long leaf pine in Raleigh, N. C., and the long gray moss about thirty miles north of Charleston, S. C. Have not had a frost for sixty days.

Now we are camping in Charleston, S. C., right on the water's edge which is only about ten feet from our wheels. The soft balmy breezes come in from the ocean. We slept till ten o'clock the next morning without a hitch. We saw something like a chicken running around in the grass. We asked the colored fellow if they were any good and he said, "Dem was marsh hens. They are mighty fine if you can catch them."

So far it has cost us three cents per mile for gas. oil and tires, and sixty cents a day each for living expenses.

The roads are closed for repairs for two days. Meanwhile we are taking in the sights in Charleston, S. C. The lawns are very green and there are plenty of early flowers in blossom.

Cordially yours,
Add.

P. S. We are on the last quarter of Fannie's apple pies.

Ladies' Night

ble, calling for reports from the secretary, D. Donald Hazen; the treasurer, Guernsey Lauber; the chairman of the transportation committee, J. Howell Cook; and the chairman of the committee on new lights for the chapel auditorium, C. F. Aspengren.

The men decided to serve the March Social Guild supper on the 18th of that month, their regular meeting night, and Thomas Allen, Wiliam Shaw and C. F. Aspengren were appointed to be in charge. Supt. H. C. Knight has since been chosen to have charge of the program. It was also voted to name the organization, and Rev. F. C. Rolls, L. H. Blackmer and E. A. Randall were entrusted with this responsibility.

Following the business meeting, stunts were started. These were in charge of H. F. Peck. The male score keeper had the humiliating task of continuously tabulating victories for the ladies—in mouth action, in the talk fest; in accuracy in the ball throw; in mental acumen, in matching names with namesakes; in the memory test, after handling articles in the dark; in helping to write poetry, in the fruit contest; and in knocking down the pins. If they had gone home after the first game of the latter, all honors would have been theirs, but they kindly stayed and threw a sop or two to their opponents, for they probably wanted to come again.

The folks were certainly enticed by the pins. After the best two out of three games, the high scorers remaining ran off the finals. This developed a tie in the men's line-up between the parson, the doctor and the fish pedler, the latter finally carrying off the bacon.

It was quarter of eleven before the party broke up. It started with a sing and it closed with the music of the pins. Passers-by might well have thought that staid Congregationalists had turned into Holy Rollers.

During the evening contributions of $35 were received toward the new lighting fixtures, leaving only $9 remaining unpaid. Now the sum is $5. Some not present may desire to come in on this, the first financial frolic of the men. About 50 were present.

Water District Meeting

There was water, water, everywhere last Monday night, which probably accounted for the drop in attendance at the annual water district meeting. Another reason was that there were no controversial articles in the warrant. About a score of folks gathered to make the wheels go round.

Thomas Allen was chosen moderator. After the opening of the polls, H. B. Ketchen read the annual report of the commissioners, which is printed in this issue. This report was accepted.

The district authorized the treasurer to borrow money in anticipation of taxes under article 4.

Under the articles relative to salaries, the district voted $50 for the tax collector with $10 for expenses; $30 for the assessors, ($10 each) and $150 for the commissioners ($50 each).

The meeting voted to accept the act known as Chap. 391 of the Acts of 1923, including all amendments. This act relates to the collection of water rents. The amendments to the act make it applicable to water districts as well as to towns.

E. C. Witt called the attention of the meeting to the fact that while there are 111 actual water takers, the excess water used by some makes the total equivalent to 126 takers.

At 10 p. m. the result of the annual district election was announced as follows:

F F F Night Program

The men's class of the M. E. church Sunday school, Harold Booth, chairman, shouldered the supper at the F. F. F. Night program last week and killed the fatted calf for their guests—or pig, rather, for they served roast pork. It was a sumptuous menu, including mashed potato, apple sauce and pie, and there were no fatalities. The men held sway. Occasionally a woman worker appeared on the landscape, but her kind were few. Some of the men appeared a bit worried over their responsibilities, but most of them looked hopeful.

In the limbering-up song fest, the pastor saw that the men got a good hand for their endeavors, and incidentally the women for their "advice." After the devotional service, the singing for which was led by the pastor's father, Rev. Mr. Smith put on a dashing impersonation of a thrilling love story in the wild and woolly West, using only a few hats for his varied characters, including villain and clergyman.

Stunts and games were in charge of Miss Eleanor Matska. East-siders and west-siders vied for points in debates, apple eating, mimicry, etc. Some 75 or 80 enjoyed the evening.

Triple Signs of Spring

Isolated reports of signs of approaching spring sometimes trickle into this office during the early months of the year, but to have triple evidences of it, all reported by one subscriber thus early, is a bit unusual.

Mrs. Abbie Walker of No. Main street informed us on Wednesday that through her south window she could look out on a hyacinth budded, a tulip up, and a crocus in bloom. In contrast, only four feet away is a snow bank, which probably wears a worried look, as it knows full well it will never live to see these harbingers grow up.

Belchertown Defeats Ware A. C.

By Noel

The Belchertown basketball team annexed another victory to its win column last Friday night by defeating the Ware A. C. in a close game, 23 to 19. Capt. Robert Camp and his mates played a classy hoop game and they certainly had to do their best to win the contest, for the visiting quintet was a dangerous outfit from start to finish.

Although "Bud" Dorey opened the scoring with a gift toss, the Ware five immediately took the lead when Capt. Gould dropped in two floor goals in quick succession and managed to hold the lead during the first period, which ended in their favor, 10 to 9. The home team took the lead in the second period and held it for the remainder of the game.

The following play by play account of the contest fully describes how interesting the game was during those 40 minutes of play.

Bowling Notes

By Noel

Manager J. J. Fairchild's Belchertown bowling team created a great upset in the Social League last Thursday night by copping two matches rolled on the same night at the Red Men's alleys in South Hadley Falls. In the first contest Willimansett A. C. met defeat by taking only the last point, the total pinfall being, Belcherown 1,384, and W. A. C. 1,311.

The second contest, which was the Nash Five, was anybody's until the end. Each team had taken a point and both worked hard for the other point, the local bowlers taking it by 18 pins and also the pinfall by four pins, the total being: Belchertown 1,337; Nash Five 1,333.

Manager Clayton R. Green's All-Star bowling team took two points from Leland Olds' Palmer Five in the first of a series of matches rolled on the Midura alleys in Palmer last Monday night. The following bowlers make up the All-Star Five: C. R. Green, A. J. Sears, L. E. Williams, W. L. Noel, P. Smola.

Sermons in Song

By Rev. Rockwell Smith

One day I passed a preacher's house,
Hungry I asked for bread.
He never gave to tramps, I learned,
He prayed for them instead.

Next door lived a poor old lady,
I came to her with a sigh.
No words were said, she prayed instead
With a piece of beef-steak pie.

I've listened to lots of praying,
But I know that this is true:
The prayers that you say don't count halfway
As much as the prayers you do.

Lyman Hubbard, who was operated on at the House of Mercy hospital, Springfield, last Tuesday, is improving rapidly and hopes soon to be at his home.

Forrest O. Reed of Pelham has returned to his home after spending his vacation with his aunt, Mrs. L. E. Williams.

It has long been the desire of one of Turkey Hill's citizens to own and drive a car. In conversation with a friend not long ago he remembered that he was investigating the merits of certain makes of cars, but not wishing to show his ignorance, had never ventured to inquire just how fast the new Ford could travel. His curiosity was satisfied, however, when he heard that they could go so fast on all four that on some cars they disconnected one spark plug. He is still investigating.

Town Items

The Social Guild will meet at the chapel Wednesday afternoon at 2.30.

There will be a double header basketball game at the town hall tonight, the Belchertown Independent girls playing the Ware town team, and the Independent boys playing the Gilbertville team.—Mgr. Parent

WHY NOT?

Why shouldn't the water district appropriate money for a few interesting games for its election officers to play while waiting for the zero hour of 10. Of course they could play Jenkins, but there might not always be a quarter handy.

One reason why some of the faithful hang around till 10 is to make sure of H. B. Ketchen's annual piano recital.

REPORT OF COMMISSIONERS

The commissioners respectfully submit their seventh annual report.

At the present time there are 111 actual water takers and ten services installed. During the past year the standpipe was painted inside and out, the outside being given two coats of aluminum paint, which has greatly added to its appearance and to the appearance of the surrounding property.

The efficiency of the water system and its value to the district was put to a rigid test on May 13th, 1928, when the Park View hotel burned down. The property loss in the center of the town which was threatened during this fire and which was confined to the loss of this building alone, in our opinion, more than justifies the expense in creating and establishing a suitable water supply in the center of the town; without this water supply, there is no question that the property loss would have been one from which the town would be a long time in recovering. Another bad fire was that of Ryther & Warren's, whose grain mill burned down on September 28th, 1928. At both of these fires a sufficient water supply was available and adequate pressure maintained.

The system continues to prove satisfactory and the maintenance economical.

Grange Notes

"Resolved: That the Farmer is a greater benefit to the country than the manufacturer" was the subject of a debate at the meeting of Union grange Tuesday evening. J. V. Cook and Miss Alice Randall took the affirmative and Clayton R. Green and Mrs. Frances Moore the negative. Some of the debaters had time to spare, while "J. V." barely got up steam.

The award was given the negative side, the judges being Worthy Master Raymond Moore of Ludlow grange, Edward Fuller of Ludlow, and Mrs. Edward A. Randall of this town. Preceding the debate, Mrs. Clarinda Shaw gave a vocal solo.

It was voted to hold a card party next Tuesday evening, the committee in charge being Miss Dorothy Kimball, Mrs. Jeanette Chamberlain and Mrs. Wilfrid Noel.

Applications for membership may be received at the next meeting.

Wilfrid Noel, who is serving his third term as master, was absent Tuesday evening for the first time since his election to that office.

Those of our subscribers who heard "America, the Beautiful" over the radio Monday in connection with the inaugural celebration must have recalled the article in last week's issue by "Belcher Towne," on the significance of this hymn.

Among those who went to Northampton to greet ex-president and Mrs. Coolidge were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright and sons, Merritt and Bobby. Northampton is the home city of Mrs. Wright's sister, Mrs. Oliver Duffy.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trade will be held in Memorial hall, next Monday evening at 8.

Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Rolls entertained the primary department of the Congregational Sunday school at the parsonage last week Friday afternoon, from 3 to 5. There were 22 present, besides the teachers who assisted in the program and the serving of refreshments.

Food, Faith and Friendship Night

Habit is a peculiar thing. It may enslave a man or it may save him countless troubles and worry. Habit ties your shoe strings in the morning and washes your teeth. It does all the little tasks about which you haven't the time to think. On the other hand habit drives the drug fiend to commit all kinds of crime that he may purchase his drugs. We hope that it will drive you to attend the Food, Faith, and Friendship Night at the Methodist vestry Friday evening. Attendance Friday evenings is a good habit to get into. It's a family habit. Everyone is doing it. We don't cure your diseases but we make you so happy that you forget about them.

Supper will be served about 6.30 and is a big event. We want all the champion and near-champion eaters there. Even if you're late, we'll try to save you some supper, but don't be late. It's a bad habit.

After the supper comes the prayer service. An increasing number of individuals are discovering that this is a religious service which belongs to them. It is your service to enjoy in your way. Come and worship with us. This week the pastor will speak on the subject: "Be Good."

The usual game period will be had after the prayer service. All the youngsters from the seven- to the seventy-year olds delight in the games. You've missed a lot if you haven't played with us. We've missed a lot, too, in not having you with us. Come and make us both happy.

Death of Mrs. D. Louise Bridgman

Mrs. D. Louise Bridgman, 87, died at her home on Park street at 6 p. m. Tuesday. She was born Aug. 8, 1841, at Whitingham, Vermont, the daughter of Dr. John W. and Susan Roberts Bement. While she was a young girl the family came to Belchertown where her father was a practising physician. June 1,1866, she married Edward S. Bridgman, who conducted a grocery business at the brick store for many years. He died May 30, 1906.

Mrs. Bridgman was a member of the Congregational church and a charter member of Mt. Vernon chapter, O. E. S., where her work and worth were greatly prized.

She leaves one son, Harry Bridgman of Worcester, and one daughter, Mrs. Maude B. Aspengren of this town; a grand daughter, Mrs. Cary A. Thayer of Worcester, and three great grand children; also one sister, Mrs. J. L. Crockett of Worcester.

The funeral was held at the Congregational church yesterday afternoon at 2, Rev. F. C. Rolls officiating. The Eastern Star attended in a body. Mrs. Clarinda Shaw sang, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and "When the Mists Have Rolled Away." Miss M. L. Allen presided at the organ. The bearers were Herbert Bridgman of Springfield, Edward Church of South Vernon, Harry E. Sessions and George E. Scott. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery. An abundance of flowers testified to the beauty of her life.

Board of Trade Meeting

The annual Board of Trade meeting was held in the selectmen's room Monday evening, an even dozen being present. It was not as exciting as some meetings, due, no doubt, to the fact that new officers were chosen and it was left to them to lead off on new projects. E. A. Fuller, the retiring president, who did not choose to run again, presided.

Most of the committees appointed at the previous meeting, gave brief reports. Supt. H. C. Knight called to mind the work the skating rink committee had done, H. B. Ketchen reported for the committee on putting the old town hall in shape, and H. E. Sessions for the community Christmas tree committee.

H. B. Ketchen stated that as an ultimate result of the recommendations of his committee, the town voted $300 for the hall. Some of this money will be used to repair the chimneys and install two cabinet heaters. The matter of proper supervision of the hall again came up. One of the members was strongly of the opinion that the town had at one of its annual meetings 15 or 20 years ago, granted to the young people of the community the privilege of using the hall under certain conditions, which would still be operative.

It was the opinion of those present that, in any case, responsible, recognized groups should have the use of the hall. The selectmen and the school committee, it was stated, expect shortly to confer regarding the matter.

Some new bulbs will have to be purchased for the community Christmas tree before another season, was the gist of the report of that committee, but the enterprise was thought most worth while.

In this connection it was suggested that an evergreen tree be set in front of Memorial hall, thus obviating the necessity of cutting down and transporting a large tree each year. It was voted to request the board of directors to investigate the proposition.

Full Social Program

Belchertown will fare sumptuously in the social line the next few days. Tonight the Young People's Society of the M. E. church of Fairview puts on a play entitled, "Civil Service," in Memorial hall, under the auspices of the Epworth League. Prices are 35c and 25c.

GRANGE DANCE

Union Grange holds another of its regular dances in Grange hall tonight.

MEN'S SUPPER

The men of the Congregational church will serve their annual public supper in the chapel, Monday evening at 6.30. The menu includes baked ham, mashed potato, turnip, pie, coffee, rolls, (Etc. ?). The price of the supper will be 50 cents.

Owing to the Firemen's ball following, the program in charge of Supt. H. C. Knight, has been postponed.

FIREMEN'S BALL

The Firemen's Association hopes that all the patrons of the men's supper will round out the evening by attending the ball in Memorial hall, and incidentally furnish funds to purchase needed equipment for the firemen.

SURPRISE FEATURE

It is expected that in connection with the ball, an entirely new surprise feature will be put on by out of town parties.

Dies in Feeding Hills

Emory Munsell, 78, died yesterday morning at 6 o'clock at the home of Arthur Barnes of Feeding Hills, where he had been ill for several months.

He was born in Belchertown, the son of Reddington and Rebecca (Jenks) Munsell and spent practically all of his life here. His wife, Nellie Barnes, died a number of years ago, and since then he had been away from town more or less, although this was still his home. He carried on a farm for many years, owning the place on Federal St., which H. H. Witt bought. He

The bowling match between the Belchertown-Legrand Ice teams scheduled for last Thursday night on the Red Men's alleys in South Hadley Falls was postponed to a later date.

Food, Faith and Friendship Night

A meat-pie supper was served by Mrs. Ruth Kempkes and Mrs. Harry Grindle at the F. F. F. meeting last Friday night. Rev. Rockwell Smith was the recipient of a large birthday cake with 21 candles, which he shared with the 75 people present. The cake was made by Mrs. Matska. Another birthday observed in a similar way was that of H. F. Putnam, whose anniversary came on Thursday.

The entertainment of the evening consisted of: Piano duet, Misses Eleanor and Irene Matska; vocal trio, Misses Matska and Miss Alberta Grindle; reading, Miss Ruth Hunt; duet, Miss Ruth Chamberlain and Miss June Sanford, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ellen Sanford; reading, Miss Irene Matska. The games and stunts following the program were in charge of Mrs. Ruth Kempkes, who awarded first prizes in the "Blot 'em" contest to Miss Lillian Upham and Miss Phyllis Hathaway. An official board meeting was held at the close

By Rev. Rockwell Smith

I know a man who never went
To church or Sunday school,
He said that they were places
For the hyprocrite and fool.

He prayed God in the morning
And again when lights were dim,
And then he wondered why his God
Just didn't stay with him.

Unless you call on God at church
It's very plain to all,
No matter what you ask of Him,
He can't return the call.

was an interesting personality and friendly to all with whom he came in contact. He is the last of the family to bear the Munsell name.

He leaves one nephew, George Blair of Springfield, and two nieces, Mrs. Charles Newcomb of Northampton and Mrs. J. W. Hurlburt of this town.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the vestry of the Methodist church, and burial will be at the South cemetery.

With Our Subscribers

Belchertown, March 13

Editor of the Sentinel:

On Tuesday we had a birthday; long ago we lost count of them, but we do know that there is a seven in it. First we got a letter with an enclosure from our nearest and dearest. Then came the ever welcome voices from below, "A happy birthday, and many of them." Then Son and Bobbie, up the stair-way, "A happy birthday and many of them." Then over the phone the voice that for three years has never failed, "A happy birthday and many of them."

Oh, such a shower of beautiful cards from Northampton, Amherst, Holyoke and old Belchertown. In the afternoon callers, among them Mr. and Mrs. Rolls, always cheery and bright. And such beautiful gifts! Then at dinner the birthday cake, seventeen candles; of course one to grow on. All the day the sun shone, too.

But as into each life "some rain must fall," so in the twilight hour Mrs. Lou Bridgman "Crossed the Bar". Twenty years seems and is a long period, but for that term of years, each Wednesday and Saturday found us guests at that home, and always welcome. Handsome, bright, cheery, "the crown is hers today" and "somewhere the birds are singing", but God is still in his Heaven.

Spring flowers may be blooming up street, but ice is still being harvested in these regions. Only Wednesday James Isaac was cutting cakes 15 inches thick on his pond and the quality was equal to any of the season.

But spring is bound to come and it's probably just as well for post-office corner post bracers. At least, a stranger to local folks reported a woman twitting a couple of huskies on their hard task and suggested a job of sawing wood, to which one replied that he'd freeze to death first.

Ladies' Social Union Officers

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Social Union was held last week Friday afternoon at the vestry of the Methodist church and the following officers elected: President, Mrs. Clara French; first vice president, Mrs. Ruth Kempkes; second vice president, Mrs. Harry C. Grindle; treasurer, Mrs. Mabel Stebbins; secretary, Mrs. Ora Davis; work committee, Mrs. Lillian Kelley, Mrs. Ora Davis, Mrs. Ethelyn Grindle, Mrs. Ruth Kempkes, Mrs. Bertha Conkey, Mrs. Myrtle Williams; flower committee, Mrs. Elizabeth Booth; entertainment committee in charge of the officers.

Interviews Former Slave

Melbourne, Fla.
March 2, 1929

Dear Lewis:

All is well on board the Blue Heaven. When we arrived in Savannah, Georgia, we found summer coming fast and had to put on lighter clothes. Instead of buying wood for our heater, we started in buying ice for our refrigerator.

Fresh hens' eggs are 28 cents a dozen and celery five cents a bunch. We bought some nice oranges for 75 cents a bushel and drank the juice of twenty before breakfast, in place of water.

The sunrise was fine. Through our open windows the soft, balmy, nerve-resting breezes come in, with the odor of pine and flowers and the songs of robins who also seem to be enjoying it. But our radio tells us of a big snow storm not far north of us.

Near the pine grove where we camped was some kind of a mission. Down the line we met several people who saw us parked near the mission and connected the Blue Heaven with it, accusing me of the honor of being a preacher. However, they were shy and careful, as they thought I was going to bone them for a donation, so we simply exchanged greetings.

Had a nice long talk with an old colored man who had been a slave when a boy and sold for $350 at auction. I wonder if any white boy in our town, seven years old, would sell for that. The owner, who was also his father's master, had a bad luck year on cotton and was forced to sell the father at 19 years of age to get cash to tide them over until better times. He was a 220-pound, well-built man, the only one he had that would sell in those hard times. He was put up at auction and brought $1,600. This man's mother at that time was his sweetheart, raised on the same plantation. She went to the slave market to wait on her master and mistress and with a sad, aching heart saw her lover put up at auction and struck off to the highest bidder, at the highest price paid for a man in those times.

During the sale this sweetheart of the slave overheard the dealer telling some other dealers that he intended to ship that bunch of niggars up to some town on the Mississippi River where prices were a lot higher, so she thought she would never see him again. However, about a year later they had to raise more money and she was sent to the market and sold, being shipped to a place about 25 miles from the river.

Her new master worked her very hard. She decided she would chance running away in the direction of the river. She made her plans and secretly put up a bag of food. She was over six weeks planning and getting ready. Finally one dark night after all were abed, she stole out, got her bag of food from its hiding place and departed. She would sleep day times in the swamps where horse back riders could not go and would walk a long ways in a creek or river before entering the swamp to sleep, so that the grayhounds could not track her. She could not read or write and had no maps to go by, having to go by the stars, and as the old man said, "It's a little hard to see a black nigger on a very black night."

She did not know whether her lover's abode was up the river or down the river, and she did not dare ask anyone, black or white. Some nights she did not dare to move on, as it would not be dark enough. After a week of going through swamps and fording rivers she rested one day in some thick underbrush. While there she thought she heard a boat whistle. She also saw horsemen with grayhounds at a near-by house. She did not know just what to do, but decided to steal on to one of the river boats and then pretend not to know anything, playing the part of a fool. She had to go several miles down the river to where the boats docked. She had run out of food and was all cut up by walking in the woods. She was footsore, wet and hungry. She got to the dock and hid under it one full day. Two boats stopped but there was no chance to get on. But on the third boat they loaded on a lot of slaves and she got mixed up with them and went aboard. They were all crying and taking on, but her own heart was aching also. She ate one big dinner with them, then at night she hid in between some bales of cotton. She stayed in her hiding place for a long time—until they started to unload the cotton, and came upon her. She pretended she did not know who she was or who owned her, but wanted to become a slave on the boat.

There was a big fine on anyone stealing a slave, but they allowed her to stay until they found her owner. The old man told me she was a wonderful worker, and said, "Captain, I don't reckon they tried very hard to find her owner." Every little while the old man would break down and I had to talk about something else for a while, then he would go on again.

Weeks and months went by and she had given up finding her lover. However, one beautiful moonlight night, the most beautiful she ever knew, the boat was in dock and she lay in her bunk listening to the slaves loading cotton on the boat and singing as they worked. Once in a while she heard a voice that sounded a little like her lover's. She called his name in a low voice through a window in a partition on the dark side of the boat and the poor man dropped his truck and was called down by the overseer with a long-lashed whip that cracked near the slave's ear. He thought it was her ghost. The next few times in and out of that boat he talked to her and told her who then owned him and how to get there. She stole off that boat in the darkness and that master had a new slave without paying for her.

This old colored man told me a lot more, about what happened later on, but I cannot remember it.

Cordially yours,
A. D. Moore

P. S. I understand that the name "Georgia Crackers" came from the overseer cracking his whip at the slaves.

Independent Hoopmen Lose, 42 to 35

By Noel

Local basketball fans were furnished with a splendid attraction at the town hall last Friday night, when two close contests featured the evening's entertainment. The Independents lost a hard-fought game to the Gilbertville five by seven points, while in the preliminary the Belchertown girls' team met defeat at the hands of the Ware maidens' quintet by the small margin of two points, 10 to 8.

The main game was a thriller all the way through, with the lead seesawing from one team to the other until the close of the third period, when the visitors took the lead which brought them victory. The local team presented its strongest lineup of the season, with Paige Piper of Springfield college at right forward and Don Rhodes, star B. H. S. player at left guard. The Gilbertville five was composed mostly of the best players in Ware, including such stars as Rohan, Killian and Kozek.

The Independents opened the scoring soon after play began, when the veteran, Jack Fairchild, caged a twin counter and was followed with two similar shots by Rhodes. Stewart broke the ice for the visitors with a double decker. The elusive Piper then found time enough to evade his opponents by hooping one from under the basket, the result of a pass from Fairchild. With the home team leading, 8 to 2, Gilbertville called time out and substituted Rohan and Killian for Cummings and Sambor. Play was resumed and the period ended, 10 to 6, in favor of the Independents.

In the second period, both teams played about even, scoring the same number of points as in the preceding period, thus making the score at half time, 20 to 12, with the home team leading.

Kozek replaced Gould in the visitors' lineup for the third period and this move later proved to bring defeat for the Independents. Killian of Gilbertville had a keen eye for the hoop during this period and tossed them in from all directions, giving his team a four point lead at the rest period, 30 to 26.

The final ten minutes of play saw the home team make a great attempt to regain the lead, but it was of no avail, as the visitors easily kept ahead.

The winners featured the game with their fine playing, both on the offense and defense, while Killian and Rohan were the individual stars, scoring 28 points between them. The entire home team deserves great credit for its splendid showing against its opponents. Piper was easily the leading individual star for the losers, scoring eleven points, and he also paired up well in the front court with Al Menard. Bud Dorey played a fine game at the pivotal position. The stellar work of Fairchild and Rhodes in the back court was responsible for breaking up many of the visitors' formations. Other features of the contest were Fairchild's pretty one-hand toss from the center of the court in the first period, and Dorey's long heave from three-fourths the length of the hall in the third period.

Preceding the main game was the contest between the local girls' team and the Ware maidens' quintet, which was interesting from whistle to whistle, so close was the score at all times. Both quintets, especially the home team, missed many opportunities to score from the floor to win their own game. Evelyn Clain and Helen Gould were the high scorers of their respective teams with six and eight points. Summary:

Grange Notes

There were six tables at play at the military whist party held in Grange hall Tuesday evening under the auspices of Union grange. High score prizes were given to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sanford, Mrs. Margarett Hassann and Herbert F. Curtis, who had a total of 102 points, while consolation prizes were given to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chamberlain and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Kimball. Refreshments were served and dancing followed. The committee in charge was Miss Dorothy Kimball, Mrs. Robert Chamberlain and Mrs. Wilfrid Noel.

The meeting next Tuesday evening will be in the form of a St. Patrick's Day party in charge of Miss Gertrude Riley, Mrs. Aubrey Lapolice, Mrs. J. C. Bothwell and Miss Priscilla Bisnette.

All applications for membership are requested to be handed in at this time.

Town Items

Mrs. Elizabeth M. (Clark) Thayer, 68, widow of Marshall Thayer, died Tuesday at the home of her son, Lewis Thayer of Springfield. The family were residents of this town for many years, living at East Hill about 25 years ago and later moving to the place on Jabish street now owned by C. C. Clark. The funeral will be held this afternoon at the parlors of the Dickinson-Streeter company, State street, Springfield. Burial will be in Hillcrest cemetery.

A poultry meeting under the auspices of the Extension Service will be held in Grange hall Monday afternoon, March 25, at 1.30. Prof. Monahan will speak on Brooding, and Prof. Mills on Rat Control. Local poultrymen are always attracted by the poultry meeting, and according to farmers hereabouts, rats are getting to be a real problem.

Theodore Hazen of New York was at home for the week-end.

Frank H. Hadlock of Brattleboro, Vt., was the week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hadlock.

Word has been received of the death of Rev. Frank H. Wheeler near Orlando, Fla. He had been in ill health for some months. Rev. Mr. Wheeler was pastor of the local Methodist church in 1916.

Rev. F. C. Rolls presented the case of the China famine sufferers at the morning service of the Congregational church last Sunday. Envelopes were distributed which can be put on the plates Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Blackmer and daughter, Muriel, arrived Wednesday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy M. Blackmer, after spending five years in Florida. They made the trip by auto. His sister, Dora Blackmer Pike, and husband, of Dalton, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Blackmer and son, Howard, of this town, were there for the home coming.

The Home Department of the Congregational Sunday school enjoyed a covered dish dinner at the parsonage last week Friday afternoon. Seventeen sat down to dinner and enjoyed the social hour. At the business meeting, plans were made for a public supper to be held April 17, the proceeds of which will go toward the piano fund for the church.

Firemen's Ball

The Firemen's ball at Memorial hall last Monday evening drew a good patronage. With out of town guests and loyal local patrons, the floor space was well utilized for most of the dances. Hamilton's 6-piece orchestra officiated. During the intermission, ice cream was sold. Following this, a couple of harmonica and vaudeville artists of microphone fame, who came with the Williams Motor Sales people from Springfield, put on a group of popular numbers.

About $100 was cleared on the evening's enterprise. This money, with $92.70 available to the organization from the old department that has not functioned since 1921, will make it possible to purchase equipment immediately needed. The plan is to buy 18 rubber coats, six helmets, and 12 rubber hats. The expense will be between $150 and $160.

In using the money of the previous organization, it is an interesting matter of record that that organization, which came into being in 1919, inherited $68.12 from the earlier department which came into existence in 1904. In the present instance the bank is willing to constitute the existing organization the legal heir.

Men's Supper

The men's supper in the chapel Monday evening created no great furore of excitement, but over a hundred came out to take in the annual event, the proceeds of which go to the Social Guild. The men plied their trade vigorously. Some wore aprons and some did not. Some brought their own and some didn't. One woman patron found she had on just such an accessory, when she took off her coat, and it was a pity more didn't do likewise. Most of the waiters were plain clothes men.

It was an A A A supper committee—Allen (Thos.), Allen (Guy) and Aspengren (C. F.), and it was an A 1 supper they served—baked ham and mashed potato on one end and ice cream on apple pie at the other.

The women folks marvelled at the dexterity of the men and took a few mental notes in connection, while the men admitted that they wouldn't be through yet if a woman or two hadn't joined the kitchen squad.

The local patrons were augmented by seventeen employees of the Williams Motor Sales Co. of Springfield, the Dodge Bros. distributing agency.

Owing to the Firemen's ball at Memorial hall, the entertainment was postponed.

Canine Sympathy and Intelligence

CHAPTER ONE

Mr. B., a farmer living on State street in this town, was working about his premises last Tuesday forenoon when his dog, a Collie, approached him, barking and manifesting considerable excitement, and finally taking hold of his clothing. he told his master as plainly as he could that he wanted him to go with him into the woods at a little distance from the house.

Mr. B. interpreted the actions of his dog as an invitation to go hunting with him, but as he was very busy, he declined the invitation and ordered the dog to go about his business.

CHAPTER TWO

In mid afternoon of the same day another dog appeared upon the scene, another Collie, but a stranger; he, too, manifested the same anxiety for Mr. B. to accompany him to the woods. The farmer, much surprised at this second appeal for aid, left his work and, guided by the Collies, was soon informed of the cause of the dogs' anxiety. In a clump of bushes he found a small dog with a collar to which was attached a chain which had become entangled in the bushes in such a manner as to prevent his escape.

Great appeared to be the joy of the trio of dogs when the good Samaritan had completed the liberation of the prisoner.

Play at Memorial Hall

The Young People's Society of the M. E. church of Fairview gave people their money's worth at Memorial hall last Friday night when they presented the 3-act play. "Civil Service."

Comedy crystallized in "Ike," the red-haired awkward youth, whose chief desire was to get back to the farm, while pathos was personified in R. F., the fatherly, rural mail carrier, who had seen much of life and had been mellowed by it. There was the youth wavering in temptation, and the "princess," with the halo of hope.

The play presented strong moral lessons, but hilarity was served in good measure. Home-made candy was served between the acts. There was a good attendance.

Grade School Moving Pictures

The center grade schools will sponsor a two-hour moving picture entertainment tonight at 7.30 at Memorial hall. The program, which is given through the courtesy of the Springfield Union, will include both comic and educational features. Admission is 10 and 25 cents.

The Rise of "Belchertown Farms"

Some enterprises spring up in a night and perish equally as quick, while others grow up with the years, and suddenly we realize the extent of the transformation. This latter type of evolutionary process has been typical of "Belchertown Farms." Belchertown farms in its general meaning we have always had, but to our knowledge, F. D. Fuller of Belchertown and Springfield is the first to call an estate by that name.

And the name truly has its basis in fact. Although not a co-operative enterprise, as the term might

Suggestions for Community Betterment

One of our citizens who was quite prominent in the old Board of Trade but who has not aligned himself with the new organization, is, nevertheless, a sort of Board of Trade all by himself. He has the welfare of the community on his mind and occasionally broadcasts his ideas.

In a conversation the other morning, he spoke of the trees around the park needing attention, many of them surgical treatment, and then went on to advocate a state road to —Pelham. He said that some 20 places on this road would be benefited thereby, that buildings have burned down which will never be replaced unless something is done, and that it all synchronizes with the trend to relieve congested trunk lines. It is true that the number of houses is diminishing (one burned only a month or so ago) but this method of reclamation was a bit unexpected.

But considering the fact that ex-Senator Morse probably put through the legislature more than one bill that people laughed at originally, makes one defer judgment.

We are always glad to pass on ideas. We have full confidence that the worthy ones will survive the years and some day come to fruition, while the foolish ones will finally fizzle.

We are glad that so many have the town on their mind. Recently we ran into a group who were lamenting the fact that the young folks were careless about strewing papers and luncheon left-overs around in public places.

All of which leads us to conclude that the better Belchertown will not arrive unless all ages lend a willing hand. When everybody has the town on his mind, it will be a mighty fine community to live in.

Sermons in Song

By Rev. Rockwell Smith

One day as I sat drifting
In my boat upon the creek,
I saw a sight such as I hadn't
Seen for many a week.
Upon the surface of the creek,
Right underneath my eyes,
There floated a pluperfect fish
Of a gigantic size.

With care I reached to get him,
I grabbed him by the head.
Imagine my chagrin to find
That fine, fat fish was dead,
As dead as fishes ever get.
I tossed him from the boat
And remembered as I did so,
Only dead fish float.

Each one of us is sailing
On this river we call Life,
And some of us are rowing up
The stream through toil and strife,
While others are contented
To drift. I pray you note
When you're tempted to try drifting
Only dead fish float.

Turkey Hill Items

Mr. Boomhower, who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Ray Plumley of Monson, and two sisters in Danielson, Ct., for the past three weeks, has returned to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edward Isaac.

Mrs. Wilfrid Noel and two children have returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Clarence Williamson of Ludlow.

Mrs. Jennie Munsell, who came to Belchertown to attend the funeral of Emory Munsell, spent the day with Mrs. J. W. Hurlburt, Tuesday. She has returned to her home in Orange. Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Williams of Amherst were also guests at Mr. Hurlburt's.

Mrs. J. J. Archambault is spending the week in New Haven, Ct.

R. Bartlett Green entertained over the week-end Allen M. Ross of North Belchertown, with whom he will spend the coming week-end.

Did winter leave Wednesday? A load of fine ice went by.

Food, Faith and Friendship Night

Now everyone is wishing that he "was back on the farm". We may not have a farm to return to, but we are coming back with the same enthusiasm to our regular Food, Faith, and Friendship Night at the Methodist church vestry, Friday evening, 6.30. Everyone is getting the Friday night habit. It's contagious and seems to be spreading fast. We hope that you come down with it. There isn't any cure.

Mrs. Gladys Ayers, Mrs. Chamberlain and Mrs. Hathaway are jointly responsible for the supper and program this week and they promise some surprises, both culinary and artistic. You want to be here early this time. We expect a capacity crowd, but there's always room for more.

In the prayer service the subject will be, "Christian Brimstone". This is peculiarly your own religious service. Bring your problems and questions. There is always time for discussion. Bring your suggestions for topics and programs to the minister. He will be glad to put on a service for you especially. Come and let us sing the old and the newer hymns together.

The entertainment and games this week promise to be of high order. It is miscellaneous in character and in appeal. Come and laugh and learn. In one evening you can forget more troubles than a whole lifetime can present. Come and try the really sound way to happiness. You'll make us all happy.

indicate, the purchase of near-by farm properties, in whole or in part, has brought into single ownership these various holdings. The original plot comprised about 27 acres, then the adjoining land of Mrs. Dora Bardwell was added, and recently the 68 acre Spencer farm has been purchased.

But Mr. Fuller had been busy with the land he had, before his later purchases. The beautiful orchard to the south, comprising 300 apple trees, which have come into bearing, testify to that, while ever since the original purchase some ten years ago, improvements have constantly been made.

And now, near the junction of the Palmer and old Springfield roads, stands a mammoth new poultry house, the business center of the business end of the enterprise.

One wonders, beholding the stucco finish and the copper eavestroughs, whether this is the place, but the shape of the building (190x24), and the nine huge ventilators, give it away as a chicken house. And when one opens the door and 6000 chickens greet him, the proof is sufficient. Just now some are in their teens as far as days old is concerned, while the oldest ones came in with the new year and have graduated. For when those six hot water pipes running the length of the building under an almost continuous metal hover, have weaned the youngsters, they are permitted to go up stairs to sleep where there is no heat. This is why that in a few weeks some 2500 more of these interesting bipeds will be able to join the company, enjoy the screen floor sun porches that open on the south side, like their predecessors, and also pass on and up. But up-stairs or down, the pens (some 16 double ones to the floor), are finished in Celotex, the moisture proof wall board, and have Cello-glass windows. On the floor is the modern litter material, peat moss, impervious to moisture.

Not only do water pipes and hovers run the length of the building, but overhead, in both lower and upper stories, litter, feed and water carrier tracks run from end to end, and extend outside to the loading platform. This labor saving feature is quite indispensable, for when 6,000 chickens are waiting for their lunch, a Mason jar and a quart measure are not in it. The supply room at the east end of the building testifies to the quantities consumed—bags upon bags of grain, and semi-solid buttermilk by the ten or dozen barrels.

Beneath the stock room is the boiler room, which boasts a mammoth sectional Shenandoah boiler that makes the chicks sleep warm, and the huge hot water tank that supplies that necessary commodity, where cleanliness is vital.

Opening out of the boiler room, east, is the large incubator cellar, with cement floor and walls, and Celotex ceiling. While this year, day-old chicks have been purchased, the ultimate goal is to start with the golden egg and work up. To this end some chicks from pedigreed stock were bought, chicks that spoiled the looks of a two-dollar bill. These will be mated with others highly bred, in order to build up a good strain. Barred Plmouth Rocks and Rhode Island Reds are the varieties.

On the top story of the building on the northeast corner, is the snug little office. Not every hen coup boasts an office, but this one deserves it. A desk, a safe, a filing cabinet, a telephone, and a bed for the night watchman—all are there, and a fresh supply of egg cartons for eggs from "Belchertown Farms."

For when 3,000 hens get to laying—that is the big idea—something has got to go to market. The output will also include broilers and capons. The plan is to utilize the Springfield market.

This poultry house, large though it is, is not sufficient for such a big program, as above mentioned. For this reason Mr. Fuller purchased the Spencer farm for a sort of Continuation school. There, laying hens, and pullets on range, will find ample acreage, where the modern three-year rotation program can be carried out. New buildings and chick shelters will be constructed there.

Not only is the enterprise called "Belchertown Farms," but Belchertown boys are running it. Alfred Squires, who has been with Mr. Fuller for some years and has had practical experience in poultry raising, is farm manager, while Harold Davis, who took the poultry course at M. A. C., is helper. Mr. Fuller's brother, E. A. Fuller, of large business experience, has general financial oversight, and is buyer and sales manager of the enterprise, a duty which will increase as months go by.

To the rear of the new poultry house is the barn which now boasts a quartet of cows and five young stock of Guernsey and Jersey breed.

It's a long story and not everything appears on the surface. Stones that once basked in the sunny fields, repose happily beneath the tennis court, rocks in the Bardwell tract bought two years ago, sleep in mammoth ditches dug for drainage, and stones more flat, lay serenely in an aristocratic wall extending from the house down Mill Valley road.

In fact the aesthetic side of the place received attention first. The house was remodelled, the barn converted into a garage, concrete walks and driveways put in, shrubbery set out and grading done.

And the owner is a Belchertown boy too. He sat across the aisle from us at school and his budding business ability was then apparent. Now, having achieved distinction in the Moore Drop Forge organization, in which he controls 51 per cent. of the stock, he treks back to his country villa for week-ends, and in the summer time comes here with his family for longer periods. Verily he has made an enlarging spot on Belchertown's hillsides to blossom as the rose.

Bowling Notes

By Noel

The Belchertown bowling team broke even in its two matches rolled on the Red Men's alleys in South Hadley Falls in the Social League during the last week. The Wonders took the honors last Thursday night by taking two points, but the local bowlers came back strong on Monday night and won one point and the pinfall from Jim Bain's Nash Five. The summary:

Green's All Stars won the deciding match of a three-game series with the Socony Five of Palmer on Midura's alley in the latter town on Monday night. Capt. C. R. Green and his mates had a grand night in toppling the pins, winning the pinfall by the large margin of 84 pins. On account of the league game in South Hadley Falls, two of the All Stars' bowlers were absent, but the local management was able to secure two other prominent bowlers to fill their places, they being Art Pease of the league-leading Woodlawns of South Hadley Falls and Fred Upham of Hillcrest Farm and Wilbraham. These two men proved to be the "high lights" of the contest with strings of 321 and 313, respectively. The summary:

ECHOES, ETC.

The bowling season will soon be a thing of the past. Baseball is next on the map.

Although the Belchertown team is not enjoying a successful season, it has the honor of having the league's best average roller in Ernie Orcutt.

George Harrison, star bowler of the Suffolks of Holyoke, rolled anchor for the Nash Five Monday night. The best George could do, though, was 270.

Remarks at the alleys:

"Wot in time?" —C. R. Green

"Razzing opponents on sidelines." —J. R. Fairchild

"Keeping an eye on scorekeeper (?)" —W. L. Noel

"One pin—two pins." —A. J. Sears

"No pity on the pin boys." —E. Orcutt

"Working hard for victory." —J. J. Fairchild

The two "Lee's", Williams and Olds, have finally had it out on the alleys. The latter was victorious, however.

Rumors have it that a Green All Stars-Belchertown contest would be a big attraction. How about it?

Grange Notes

Union grange observed St. Patrick's night Tuesday evening with a reading by Mrs. Frances Moore, "Sons of St. Patrick;" a reading in custume by Miss Priscilla Bisnette, entitled, "Neighbors;" and a poem by Mrs. Dwight C Randall, "The Skeptic and the Acorn." Arthur Pease, an out of town member, was present and gave a few remarks.

The order has been invited to So. Amherst on Monday, the 25th, and will present a play at that time.

There will be a military whist party in Grange hall next Tuesday evening.

Another grange dance will be held April 5th.

Town Items

Plans are materializing for the annual O. E. S. Easter ball to be held in Memorial hall April 1. Jacobs' orchestra of Springfield will furnish music for the concert from 8 to 9 and for dancing from 9 to 1.

The Ladies' Social Union will hold a Thimble party at Mrs. Lillian Kelley's next Wednesday afternoon.

The date of the Congregational Sunday School Home department supper has been set a week earlier, due to its proximity to Men's club night with its special public appeal program.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hadlock will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary next Friday, March 29th, and on April 1, Mr. Hadlock will observe his 85th birthday. Mr. Hadlock still lives in the old Civil War days and has found that two of his ancestors were in the Revolutionary war. He served his country from '61 to '65 and was present at the surrender of Lee. Mr. Hadlock finds he is in direct line with the first settler of Charlestown, settled in 1636, being of the 8th generation. Mr. and Mrs. Hadlock came to Belchertown 18 years ago in June and have always kept their residence here, although they lived in Vermont for a time.

Attention is again called to the poultry meeeting in Grange hall next Monday afternoon at 1.30. Profs. W. C. Monahan and E. M. Mills are the speakers. Both talks will be accompanied by moving pictures.

Francis S. Allen of Providence, R. I., has been at his home in town for the past week on account of illness.

Mrs. Carrie Bishop MacLaughlin of Stafford Springs, Ct., was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Myron G. Ward.

Mrs. E. W. Beach is ill with the grip at her home on Maple street.

Girl Scout Notes

The Girl Scout committee will meet at the home of Mrs. G. E. McPherson Tuesday evening at 7.30. Further plans for the rally April 12 will be presented by the committee in charge.

Mrs. Fred Lincoln, chairman of the local Court of Awards, Mrs. F. E. Farrington and Mrs. G. E. McPherson attended the Western Division conference of standards for awards at Amherst Wednesday. Mrs. McPherson led the discussion in regard to signalling requirements.

Besides the rally at Memorial hall April 12, the Girl Scouts are looking forward to the Western Division rally at the Eastern States Exposition grounds on Saturday, May 4th, at 2 p. m. All tickets must be ordered in advance and must be accompanied by the money. The prices are ten cents for captains, lieutenants and Girl Scouts; 25 cents for all others. These orders must be in by April 6th, or earlier if possible. Parents and friends may order tickets through the Girl Scouts.

The program will include demonstrations by all Western Division drum and bugle corps, the Scout color ceremony, a home making demonstration, retreat and taps. Some of the national officers are expected to be present and a gala day is looked forward to.

Dies in Newburgh, N. Y.

News has been received of the death in Newburgh, N. Y., of Mrs. Jennie Leach, 89, widow of Lorenzo Leach, formerly of this town. Mrs. Leach's first husband was the late J. Wesley Sadler. Her body will be brought here for burial on Saturday. Rev. C. H. Smith of Granby will officiate.

Miss Mary Tracey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tracey of Pansy Park tavern, entertained 21 of her schoolmates Tuesday afternoon in honor of her seventh birthday. Luncheon was served and games enjoyed.

The funeral of Emory Munsell was held Saturday afternoon at 2 at the vestry of the Methodist church. The pastor, Rev. Rockwell C. Smith, officiated. The bearers were a nephew, George Blair of Springfield, and his three sons Chauncey, Carl and Everett Blair. Burial was in South cemetery.

"Uncle Eben's Birthday," a M. E. Church night presentation, was given at the Congregational church in North Amherst last evening by the same cast.

Next week there will be a special Good Friday service at the Congregational church. This will take the place of the regular Thursday evening meeting. It is expected that there will be special music by the choir. In view of the importance of this day in Christ's passion, it is hoped that a large number will be constrained to come out.

The Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans held a progressive whist party at the home of Mrs. Archie Bishop Wednesday evening. Seven tables were in play. First prize was won by Mrs. Della Greene, while the "booby" prize went to Douglas Rhodes. The proceeds will be used to send the president to the encampment at Boston April 15, 16 and 17.

"More Truth Than Poetry"

Years past, from time to time
I've amused myself, composing a rhyme;
But late years, oil, gold and copper mines
Have made me forget my robin lines
It's strange how one's brain will shrink
If money is all of which we think.
In others I've noted the same many times,
The more worship of money, the weaker their minds.
And in all thought of oil, gold and copper I've spent,
I've yet to receive the first measly cent.
So I've decided to stick to my rhymes,
And forget oil wells, gold and copper mines.

Buildings Burn

The house and barn of John Brown on North Washington street burned to the ground Tuesday night about 12. There was no one at home, the parents being out of town, while the boys, returning from the center, saw the blaze and telephoned an alarm. The fire department responded but the buildings were gutted on their arrival. Fourteen of the 18 members of the department answered their first call since the formation of the department.

Pomona Grange

Pomona grange will meet in Belchertown next week Thursday. There will be an exhibit of ten small household utensils from each grange that the women find most useful. Prizes will be given. The roll call will be responded to by the men with their favorite kind of pie, while the women will give their favorite recipe.

In the afternoon there will be a Home Economics play in charge of Mrs. Lawrence Beaman, an address by L. P. Townsend of Ludlow, and music by the local grange.

Appreciate Patronage

The Firemen's Association, at their meeting Monday evening, expressed sincere appreciation to the townspeople for their patronage at the recent dance, enabling them to clear $102.65. The rubber hats and coats have arrived and were tried on Monday night. The bill is for a few cents less than $100, so that they still have clear the funds from the former company. It was finally decided to buy 18 rubber hats instead of six helmets and 12 hats.

Paints House and Gets Married at 83

Not everyone has "gumption" enough to paint a house and get married at 83. But that is what Henry Woods of North Main street has done. He has been painting the house for some days back, but his latest venture was consummated Wednesday afternoon when he was married to Mrs. Eliza Robinson, sister of Mrs. G. H. B. Green, who only a year and eight months ago came from England to be with her family.

But Mr. Woods isn't 83 years old. He says so, but he doesn't look it or act it. He stands more erect, talks more chipper and gets away with more work than lots of youngsters younger. He doesn't mind climbing 35 feet to do the painting, and he has made the house—the Rufus Shumway house, to brighten up inside as well as out, by the use of paint and wall paper. He has also cut doorways through where generations have been contented to walk around.

And this isn't a passing spasm he's had. He has owned 55 houses in the last 25 years. He hasn't lived in all of them, but he has in many, and has made them look years younger.

It doesn't seem possible, to talk with this man, that he was in the Civil war and that he saw the immortal Lincoln after Antietam. He says the beloved president was on horseback and that his long legs reached nearly to the ground.

The editor of some health journal might well interview Mr. Woods, to ascertain the reason for his spryness at 83. He attributes much of it to good habits, getting to bed early and rising early.

He admits that the doctor told his former wife at the time of a serious illness some years ago when he had only one chance in a hundred, that his health habits permitted the medicine to take immediate effect. Young folks in town might well ponder this testimony. All this past winter when the flu was raging, he came through without a cold.

Mr. Woods was born in Enfield, and says he has lived all the way

Poultry Meeting

The poultry meeting at Grange hall Monday afternoon was not as well attended as some that had preceded it, but those who did come out —about 20—thought it quite worth while.

Several reels of pictures were run off, the first showing co-operative methods of marketing eggs on the Pacific coast, and the entrance of the product into the New York market. Then the ravages of the rat were revealed on the silver screen, and methods of capturing him.

Prof. Mills suplemented the moving pictures with a few stereopticon slides and a brief talk on rat control. Traps were mentioned as a part of the program, but to really catch them in quantities, poison was advocated. Four ounces was known to have killed as many as 578. Red Squill was recommended as best, as that is less harmful than barium carbonate to domestic animals. In discussing control of rats at dumps, there was little respect, however, for the type of cats and dogs that frequent such places.

Some present stated that they had found hard work geting red squill. It was stated in reply that it is obtainable at Adams in Amherst, and at Brewers in Springfield. Rats, it seems, are getting to be a real problem locally. Representatives from the State School, present, stated that there are altogether too many there.

Prof. Monahan had his usual satchel full of ideas. He described the battery brooder, a sort of skyscraper outfit, which is all right for a while, but crowded conditions must not obtain. The story of one man's sure cure for cannibalism was related—each fowl was cooped off by herself, necessitating no trap nesting, and making individual records possible. To all intents, the hen lived and died standing up in her solitary, crate-like affair.

Coming down to ordinary brooding, Prof. Monahan advocated dim lights in brooder houses—a lantern is O. K.—after chicks are 10 days to 2 weeks old, so that they will be less apt to colonize to one side of the hover. Regarding the feeding of cod liver oil, he stressed "better oil and less of it." He advocated semi-solid buttermilk for the male young stock, even though there is milk content in the mash.

The professor said he still had "nerve" enough to throw on the screen that large cask for watering purposes, as some still persisted in making drudgery by lugging water. As to summer shelters, he spoke a good word for the new covering, from New Hampshire to Nebraska. But wherever he roams, he likes a home, with some one to talk to when the day's work is done, and he is happy, as he has reason to be, in this latest venture.

Regarding a "honeymoon", both laughingly agree that the house is to be finished first and then they'll probably be contented to settle down without going away.

Justice of the Peace George H. B. Green very appropriately by reason of the relation, performed the ceremony that brought these passing ships together.

Food, Faith and Friendship Night

There will be no Food, Faith, and Friendship Night at the Methodist church this evening. Instead there will be a special Good Friday service at 7.30 p. m. In the Christian calendar no day is more replete with poignant memories than the day on which our Saviour was crucified. The pastor urges you to attend this service of spiritual growth and power. A lifetime is not too long to spend in fathoming the meaning of Calvary. Dedicate this hour to Jesus.

O. E. S. Easter Ball

The annual O. E. S. Easter concert and ball was given in Lawrence Memorial hall Monday evening. The concert by Jacobs' orchestra of Springfield was very meritorious and much appreciated by those present. Music for the dancing was more classical than that usually presented. W. A. Kimball was prompter for the quadrilles. Ice cream was served by the order during the evening. The dance was well attended and proved to be the usual elite social occasion of the season.

New Siren Arrives

The new siren, voted by the town at the last annual meeting has arrived and is being installed on the roof of the Memorial building at the rear. It will be elevated on a framework some seven or eight feet high. The siren will be operated by a switch at the telephone office. When the installation is complete there will probably be considerable testing, of which the citizens perhaps need to be warned.

The company securing the contract, sent here for temporary use a small outfit that is connected up at the Engine house and has screeched with considerable volume for its size, the last few days.

Girl Scout Rally

The local Girls Scouts have not had a rally for two years, and have never had one with so many attractive numbers on the program as that scheduled for Friday, April 12th, at Memorial hall at 7.30 p. m. Twenty-five girls of the Holyoke Drum and Bugle corps will be here that night and demonstrate several times. Miss Kimball, Western Division director, is to be here also and give a ten-minute talk. This will be Miss Kimball's first visit in Belchertown.

Besides these out of town attractions, the local troop is rehearsing for a short play written by Dr. A. E. Westwell for the Girl Scouts. The girls are also practising camp songs for the rally and there will be in addition a reading and presentation of badges.

Altogether the rally would seem to be an attraction which anyone interested in young people could not afford to miss, especially at the price asked for admisssion, 25 cents. Tickets are being sold by the committee members, but they can also be purchased at the hall the night of the rally.

Church Supper

The Methodist church has definitely set for itself a program of community service. It believes that the church has a responsibility to the community at large as well as to its particular constituency. It desires to make religion available to the community and to make its contribution to the cultural life of the people. Such a program of broad service demands a larger financial outlay than an ordinary church program.

The end of our fiscal year is at hand and in order to finish a successful financial year, we appeal to the community at large to attend a chicken pie supper in the church vestry Friday evening. The proceeds of this supper go directly into the church treasury. Mr. Grindle is chairman of the supper committee and promises nothing short of a feast. After the supper an entertainment is to be put on. The committee promises you a rare treat in the food that you will eat and the fun that you will share.

If you have enjoyed the Food, Faith and Friendship nights in the past and wish us to include them in our future policy, come out and give us your support Friday evening.

Park Association Meeting

The annual meeting of the Park association was held in the selectmen's room at Memorial building Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Guy C. Allen, president, presided. After the reports, the election of officers took place, resulting as follows:

President Guy C. Allen
Vice President M. C. Baggs
Secretary and Treasurer
L. H. Blackmer
Executive committee, E. C. Howard, J. L. Collard, L. G. Warren, H. F. Peck, J. J. Kempkes.

The association voted to contribute $25 toward the improvement of the park the coming year, this money to be used in conjunction with sums which it was thought other organizations would be glad to contribute.

It was the opinion of those present that the ultimate solution in the matter of keeping the common mowed lay in paid help rather than in spasmodic volunteer efforts. If a sizeable fund can be raised, the

Grange Notes

The first and second degrees were worked on a class of three candidates at the regular meeting Tuesday evening. Mrs. Clarinda Shaw contributed a vocal solo to the program of the evening.

The third and fourth degrees will be conferred at a special meeting next Tuesday evening.

There will be a rehearsal of the fourth degree in Grange hall Monday evening at 7.30 p. m. and all regular officers are requested to be present.

The order was invited to Enfield last night to hear Charles M. Gardner, High Priest of Demeter.

Tomorrow night there will be an exemplification meeting at the old drill hall at M. A. C. at 2.30 p. m. Supper will be served at 6.30, followed by a literary program in the evening.

Another of the popular grange dances will be given at grange hall this evening.
