Folder 38 – Ledger; This appears to be an old ledger book from a Belchertown business, circa 1820-1840, which has been subsequently given new life as a scrapbook for newspaper clippings and ephemera, mostly from Granby, Mass., circa 1870-1880. The middle section of the book contains inventories and accounts related to the estate of Jonathan Dwight, who died in 1834. These appear to be itemized by William C. Dwight, his son, for the administration of his father's estate. This may indicate that this was the account book of William Courtland Dwight.
